HIGH COURT NOTICE.

Circular Order.

Issued by authority of the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal.

CIVIL.

No. 1 of 1919.

I. Insert the following after Rule 95, Chapter I, page 34, Volume I of the High Court's General Rules and Circular Orders, Civil :—

Receipt by peon for money realised in execution of decrees.

95A. (a) Each peon entrusted with a warrant for execution of a decree for money shall be given by the Nazir a cheque-book bearing a distinguishing number, containing a number of counterfoils and cheques serially numbered and preceded by the Book No. (Form No. C. P. 76A), the total number being certified on the cover by the Judge in charge of accounts.

(b) The Nazir shall keep a register, in which he shall enter all cheque-books received by him, showing the date of receipt, the serial number of each book and the number of cheques it contains, the name of the peon to whom the book is issued, the date of issue, the peon's signature for it, and the date of return. A separate cheque-book is to be issued to each peon, and no new book shall be issued to him until the one already issued is exhausted and returned. The Nazir shall keep all blank or exhausted books under lock and key.

(c) The peon receiving payment shall give a cheque receipt therefor, and, whenever possible, he shall take on the counterfoil the declaration of the payer of the amount he has paid. He shall also sign legibly the entry in the counterfoil. The amount realised by the peon must be paid into court, and a carbon counterfoil attached to the process concerned. The Nazir shall, on the return of any process (for the recovery of money) by a peon, whether executed or not, examine the peon's endorsement on the process with the cheque-book, and, if accurate, initial the counterfoils, and shall not make over any other process to such peon till he has done so. Defects or suspicious circumstances should be at once reported to the Court.

II. Insert the following after Civil Process Form No. 76, page 344, Volume II, ibid :—

BOARD OF REVENUE, BENGAL.

NOTIFICATION.

No. 394S.R.—The 13th February 1919.—In exercise of the powers conferred by section 9 of the Sea Customs Act, 1878 (VIII of 1878), the Board of Revenue, Bengal, makes the following amendments in the rules published at pages 31-32 of Part I of the Calcutta Gazette of the 14th January 1885, as subsequently amended, namely :—

Omit rules 10, 11 and 11A of the said rules and insert the following rules as rules 10, 11, 11A and 11B, in order :—

"10. To officers of Customs below the rank of Assistant Collector, or other persons, who are instrumental in detecting and bringing to notice infringements and evasions of the provisions of the Sea Customs Act, 1878, or of the Indian Merchandise Marks Act, 1889, rewards may, when it is considered that they are merited, be given in the following cases in which goods may be confiscated or a penalty or fine imposed :—

(a) Smuggling or attempted importations of articles contrary to the provisions of section 18 or 19 of the Sea Customs Act, 1878.

(b) Breaches or attempted breaches of the provisions of the Sea Customs Act, 1878, or of rules made thereunder, when such breaches were probably intended to facilitate the importation or exportation of dutiable goods, or the removal of goods from bond without payment of full duty thereon.

(c) Breaches of the provisions of the Indian Merchandise Marks Act, 1889.

(d) False declaration of the contents of packages in regard to sort, quality, quantity, value or other conditions.

(e) Undervaluation in a bill of entry, or understatement of quantity in a shipping bill, affecting the amount of duty chargeable where such undervaluation or understatement is solely the result of accident or error.

11. (a) In each case the reward shall not exceed one-half of the realised value of the confiscated goods (if any) and of the penalty or fine imposed, and shall be so restricted that the balance shall suffice to cover all outstanding Government dues (if any), and any incidental charges incurred in consequence of the seizure of the goods.

(b) If, however, in any case the value of the confiscated goods, or the penalty or fine imposed, is not realised, or is only realised in part, and if the aggregate sum realised appears to be insufficient for the purpose of rewarding the officer of Customs and other person or persons who have been instrumental in detecting and bringing to light the case, the Chief Customs authority, on the recommendation of the Customs Collector, may grant such reward or rewards not exceeding in the aggregate one-half of the estimated value of the confiscated goods (if any) and of the penalty or fine as he may think reasonable.

11A. The Chief Customs officer may also grant rewards, up to a maximum of Rs. 500 in each case, to officers of the Customs Department or other persons who are instrumental in detecting and bringing to notice cases of unlicensed importation of arms or ammunition, irrespective of the value of the arms or ammunition confiscated or the fine imposed. Further, in cases in which convictions are obtained under Acts other than the Sea Customs Act, 1878, or the Indian Merchandise Marks Act, 1889, but in which the facts proved constitute offences under either of those Acts, the Chief Customs officer may grant rewards, up to half the estimated value of the goods in respect of which such offence may have been committed and of the fine (if any) imposed, to officers of the Customs Department or other persons who are instrumental in detecting and bringing to notice such offences.

11B. The adjudication of rewards shall, in all cases, be made by the Chief Customs officer. No reward shall be paid until three months have elapsed from the date of the confiscation of the goods (if any) or infliction of the penalty with reference to which it is to be paid. or from the date on which a conviction has been obtained in a Court of law. The payment to any person or persons in any case of a reward or rewards under these rules exceeding in the aggregate Rs. 500 shall require the previous sanction of the Local Government."

NOTIFICATION.

WITH reference to the Resolutions of the Government of India in the Finance Department, No. 1251, dated 30th September 1914, No. 1363F.E., dated 27th September 1915, and No. 1559F.E., dated 23rd December 1918, prescribing revised rules and revised schedules respectively for the examination of candidates in India for admission to the General List of the Indian Finance Department (copies may be obtained from the undersigned), it is hereby notified that candidates for nomination from the province of Bengal, including Native States under the Government of Bengal, should submit their applications together with the necessary documents, through the Principals of their colleges, in strict accordance with the rules, so as to reach this office on or before the 1st of March 1919.

The applications should, in addition to the information called for by the rules, be accompanied by a statement of particulars under the heads detailed below—

(a) Date of birth.
(b) Father's name and profession.
(c) Where educated—particulars from the fourteenth year of age.
(d) The nature of the candidate's employment, if any.
(e) Two optional subjects in which the candidate would, if nominated, offer himself for examination.

Nominations will be restricted to Natives of India within the meaning of the Statute 33 Vict., Chap. 3, section 6, including the subjects of Native States. The possession of high educational qualifications is essential.

J. W. GUNN,

Asst. Director of Public Instruction, Bengal.

CALCUTTA, the 30th January 1919.

EDUCATION DEPARTMENT, BENGAL.

NOTIFICATION.

THE Government of Bengal have sanctioned the grant of the following concessions for the education of the children (boys or girls) of Indian soldiers of whatever rank, whether combatants, or non-combatants, who have, since 4th August 1914, died while on the active list duty or become permanently incapacitated owing to wounds or disease contracted while on the active list :—

(a) In primary schools as well as in classes I and II of middle English and high schools the children of Indian soldiers will be given a monthly stipend of Re. 1 which will cover the cost of fees and incidental expenses.

(b) In classes III to VI of high and middle English schools the stipends will be given at the rate of Rs. 2-8 a month and in classes VII to X of high schools at the rate of Rs. 4 a month. In these classes the stipend-holders should also be allowed to read free, these free-studentships being included within the limits admissible under the rules.

(c) In colleges the children of Indian soldiers will be granted stipends at the rate of Rs. 10 a month, but they should as usual pay the college fees.

2. In the case of European or Anglo-Indian children similarly circumstanced, the amount of stipend to be paid will be determined by the Director of Public Instruction, in each case on the recommendation of the Inspector of European Schools, Bengal. In respect of European children, however, the Inspector of European Schools, Bengal, shall, in the first place, ascertain whether arrangements can be made for their education in any one of the existing institutions for the children of European soldiers.

3. The necessary action will be taken promptly by the Educational authorities concerned in the matter of the award of the stipends as soon as the prescribed certificate is received from the Collector of the respective districts in which the children are resident.

Sheriff's sale proclamation.

TO be peremptorily sold pursuant to an order of the High Court of Calcutta in its Ordinary Original Civil Jurisdiction, dated the 31st day of August 1917, made in the execution case No. 18 of 1917 (wherein the Corporation of Calcutta is the plaintiff and Shaik Makram Hossain and another are the defendants) by the Sheriff of Calcutta in his sale-room in the Court-house on Friday, the 21st day of March 1919, at 12 o'clock the following property belonging to the estate of Hafiz Abdullah, deceased.

All that piece or parcel of land together with the building standing thereon containing by estimation one kotta be the same a little more or less situate lying at and being premises No. 88, Collin Street, in holding No. 54, block No. 15, in the south division of the town of Calcutta and bounded on the north by No. 86, Collin Street, on the south by No. 87, Collin Street, on the east by Municipal land and on the west by the tenanted house of Shaik Makram Hossain and Shaik Jaffer Hossain. The annual Government revenue payable in respect of the entire holding is Rupee 1-0-7 pies.

The amount for the recovery of which the above property is to be sold is Rs. 861-11-9 being the amount of the claim and costs under the decree but not including subsequent costs incurred in this Honourable Court.

The above property has also been attached in execution case No. 19 of 1917. The amount payable in the said Execution Case No. 19 of 1917 is Rs. 885-10-6 besides the costs of execution.

From the searches made in the office of the Registrar of Assurances it appears that the above property is mortgaged for the sum of Rs. 4,000 in favour of Bistopodo Bose under mortgage, dated 10th September 1913, and also Rs. 300 in favour of Anthony Michael David under mortgage, dated the 1st day of April 1915.

The conditions of sale may be seen at the office of the Sheriff of Calcutta or at the Municipal Office, Law Department, at No. 5, Corporation Street, on any day before the sale and will be placed at the sale.

AKRAM HOSSAIN, Sheriff.

Mani Lal Sen, Plaintiff's attorney.

THE INDIAN LAW REPORTS.

Published in FOUR SERIES, viz.,

CALCUTTA, MADRAS, BOMBAY AND ALLAHABAD.

THE Indian Law Reports, published under the authority of the Governor-General in Council, are printed in monthly Parts, which are issued, as soon as possible, after the first of each month, at Calcutta, Madras, Bombay and Allahabad, respectively.

The Reports comprise four Series—one for the Calcutta High Court, a second for the Madras High Court, a third for the Bombay High Court, and a fourth for the Allahabad High Court.

The cases heard by the Privy Council on appeal from each High Court are reported in the Series for that High Court. Cases heard by the Privy Council on appeal from Provinces in India not subject to any High Court are reported in the Calcutta Series.

The Calcutta Series is distributed by the Bengal Secretariat Book Depôt: and the Madras, Bombay and Allahabad Series are distributed direct from Madras, Bombay and Allahabad, respectively.

Persons desiring to subscribe for or purchase the Reports should apply to—the Officer in charge, Bengal Secretariat Book Depôt, Calcutta, or the Superintendent, Government Press, Madras, or the Superintendent, Government Central Press, Bombay, or the Curator of Government Books, United Provinces of Agra and Oudh, Allahabad.

NOTIFICATION.

No. 291L., dated the 19th February, 1919.—The following Act, passed by the Legislative Council of the Governor of Bengal, received the assent of His Excellency the Governor on the 28th January, 1919, and, having been assented to by His Excellency the Viceroy and Governor General on the 13th February, 1919, is hereby published for general information :—

BENGAL ACT No. III OF 1919.

[THE BENGAL TENANCY (AMENDMENT) ACT, 1919.]

An Act further to amend the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885.

WHEREAS it is expedient further to amend the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885, in the manner hereinafter appearing ; VIII of 1885.

And whereas the previous sanction of the Governor General has been obtained under section 79, sub-section (2), of the Government of India Act, 1915, to the passing of this Act ; 5 & 6 Geo. 5, c. 61.

It is hereby enacted as follows :—

Short title. 1. This Act may be called the Bengal Tenancy (Amendment) Act, 1919.

Amendment of section 74 of Act VIII of 1885.

2. Section 74 of the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885 (hereinafter called the said Act), shall be renumbered as sub-section (1) of section 74, and after the said sub-section the following shall be added, namely:— VIII of 1885.

"(2) All impositions upon tenants of road cess or public works cess, or of both,—

(a) in excess of the net amount prescribed by clause (2) of section 41 of the Cess Act, 1880, or Ben. Act IX of 1880.

(b) on any scale in excess of that prescribed by clause (3) of that section, levied in addition to the actual rent, shall be illegal, and all stipulations and reservations for payment of any such excess contained in any contract made between a landlord and a tenant on or after the 13th day of October, 1880, shall be void:

Provided that nothing in this sub-section shall affect the terms of a written contract registered before the commencement of the Bengal Tenancy (Amendment) Act, 1919:

Provided also that, subject to the provisions of section 72 of the Indian Contract Act, 1872, no suit shall lie for the recovery of anything paid before the commencement of the Bengal Tenancy (Amendment) Act, 1919, on account of the impositions referred to in sub-section (2). IX of 1872.

(3) Nothing in this section shall be deemed to affect the terms of a permanent mukarrari lease granted by a proprietor or holder of a permanent tenure in a permanently settled area."

Amendment of section 75.

RESOLUTION ON THE RECOMMENDATIONS OF THE PUBLIC SERVICES COMMISSION REGARDING THE EXCISE AND SALT DEPARTMENT.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL.

FINANCE AND COMMERCE DEPARTMENT.

Separate Revenue.
Excise.

CALCUTTA, THE 15TH FEBRUARY 1919.

RESOLUTION—No. 417S.R.

READ—

Report of the Royal Commission on the Public Services in India.

THE various recommendations of the Royal Commission on the Public Services in India with regard to the Excise and Salt Departments have lately been under the consideration of the Local Government. The Bengal Excise Department, with which was amalgamated the Salt Department, was reorganised in 1915, and the combined department, after this reorganisation, conforms in the main to the suggestions of the Public Services Commission, thus leaving little scope for further change. There are, however, some points in the recommendations of the Commission on which the Governor in Council would like to give the public an opportunity of expressing an opinion before committing himself to a final decision.

2. Distillery Expert.—The present distillery expert in this province was recruited in Europe. It has been observed by the Public Services Commission that such recruitment is not justified on any grounds of policy. The Commission recommend that suitable steps should be taken to train up statutory natives of India for this work, and as Superintendents and Inspectors of Excise and Salt with sufficient scientific grounding are becoming increasingly available, it seems possible in future to give effect to this suggestion.

3. Appointment of statutory natives of India in the Excise and Salt Department and their recruitment.—The Commission advise, as an absolute rule for the Excise and Salt Department, that appointments (with the possible exception of that of the distillery expert) should be made in India from amongst statutory natives of that country. The Public Services Commission approve of the selection of candidates by nomination, but suggest the creation of selection committees to advise the local authorities. It is suggested that such committees might consist of three officials and two non-officials, including two Indians. With regard to the educational qualifications of candidates the Commission recommend that they should either have taken a university degree or have passed the examination of a corresponding standard prescribed by Government for European schools. The existing regulations provide that the candidate must be a graduate, while in the case of a European candidate he must possess at least the recognised school-leaving examination certificate of a secondary school for Europeans.

4. Salaries of superintendents of Excise and Salt.—The present scale of salaries of Superintendents of Excise and Salt is as follows :—

		Rs.
1st grade	... ...	700 a month.
2nd ,,	... ...	600 ,,
3rd ,, (time scale of pay) Rs. 250—15—400—25—500		,,

The first two grades are selection grades, promotion to which does not follow as a matter of course but is dependent on merit, ability and activity and the Public Services Commission are in favour of retaining these two grades. For the time scale of pay the Commission would, however, substitute the scale of Rs. 250—$\frac{40}{3}$—450—$\frac{50}{3}$—500 a month, which they have recommended for Indian graduates or members of the domiciled community for other departments.

5. The other matters dealt with in the Commission's report affecting the Excise and Salt services are mainly of departmental interest only. As the Government of India desire to be furnished with the views of the Local Government at as early a date as possible, it is requested that any criticisms or remarks which any person or public bodies interested may desire to offer, may be forwarded to the Secretary to the Government of Bengal in the Finance and Commerce Department not later than the 21st March 1919.

ORDER.—Ordered that a copy of the Resolution be published in the Calcutta Gazette for general information.

By order of the Governor in Council,

J. DONALD,

Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

RESOLUTION REVIEWING THE REPORTS ON THE WORKING OF DISTRICT BOARDS IN BENGAL DURING 1917-18.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL.

MUNICIPAL DEPARTMENT.

Local Self-Government.

CALCUTTA, THE 17TH FEBRUARY 1919.

RESOLUTION No. 506L.S.-G.

READ—

The Reports from the Commissioners of Divisions on the working of District Boards in Bengal during the year 1917-18.

District Boards.—During the year under review five District Boards, or one-fifth of the total number, were given the privilege of electing a Chairman from among the non-official members. The districts in question were Burdwan, the 24-Parganas, Jessore, Bakarganj and Murshidabad. The Murshidabad Board elected the non-official Chairman appointed by Government in the previous year, who consequently held office throughout the year. In the other four District Boards the Chairmen were elected two and three months respectively before the year came to a close.

Enquiry made after the close of the year showed that the amount of touring in the interior done by some of the non-official Chairmen was small. The Chairman of the Murshidabad District Board spent only nine days on tour during the year, while the Chairmen of the Boards of the 24-Parganas and Jessore toured only six and five days, respectively, in the six months ending in June 1918. It was therefore necessary to remind them that widely extended travelling is essential if the work of the Boards is to be satisfactorily carried out.

2. Local Boards.—The elective system was introduced in the Local Boards of the Noakhali district. General elections were held in six districts: they failed in 13 thanas owing to the non-attendance of the prescribed number (10 per cent.) of registered voters. One Local Board election failed because the number of voters presenting themselves before the presiding officer was far in excess of the number whose votes it was humanly possible for him to record in one day, and he broke down under the strain. The result of this election has drawn attention to defects in the existing rules, under which the election has to be held at the headquarters of each thana under one presiding officer at one sitting. A revision of the rules has been undertaken so as to provide additional polling centres and polling officers and so obviate the possibility of such a failure.

3. Union Committees—(a) Constitution.—The number of Union Committees actually at work at the end of the year increased from 156 to 174 (86 in West Bengal and 88 in East Bengal) with a population of over one million and a half. In addition to these, 53 Union Committees, of which 47 were in Rangpur, were sanctioned but had not been constituted before the end of the year. The District Board of Murshidabad resolved to form 20 new Union Committees and a scheme was prepared for the establishment of Union Committees throughout the Sadar subdivision of Howrah as well as in the Uluberia subdivision. The elective system has gradually been extended and will be introduced in all the existing Union Committees on the expiry of the term of office of the present members.

4. (b) Income.—The total income of Union Committees (excluding opening balances) increased from Rs. 1,68,505 to Rs. 2,00,043, of which

Rs. 1,12,954 was contributed by District Boards. The number of Committees imposing Union rates rose from 67 to 86 and the amount realised from Rs. 39,801 to Rs. 52,093. In the Dacca district alone, where the Committees have considerable vitality and enterprise, 14 more Unions taxed themselves, and the receipts were doubled. In this district all but three raise some income by self-taxation and the Union rates now represent nearly a third of their income—facts which justify the claim of the Commissioner that people will not object to pay taxes when they can see the money spent on useful objects at their doors.

In Birbhum, again, Union rates are levied in all the Unions and account for two-thirds of their total receipts : one indeed (Paikar) obtained nearly its whole income in this way and was entirely independent of the assistance of the District Board. The Committees in Rangpur, though not imposing taxation under the Local Self-Government Act, succeeded in raising considerable local contributions to supplement the grants received from the District Board. On the other hand, there was a noticeable lack of initiative in this respect in the Bankura, Bogra, Tippera and the 24-Parganas, where none of the Committees impose Union rates.

5. (c) Expenditure.—Expenditure on roads amounted to Rs. 86,224, while sanitation and water-supply claimed about one-third of the total expenditure. Out of the total amount of Rs. 3,944 spent on education, seven Union Committees in Jessore spent Rs. 2,229, the balance being shared between a Committee in Birbhum, two in Murshidabad and 14 in Dacca. The Union Committees in the 24-Parganas and a few of those in Birbhum, Jessore and Dacca devoted part of their funds to dispensaries, while those in Birbhum, Hooghly, Murshidabad, Dacca, Noakhali, Rangpur and Bogra spent a considerable share of their income on water-supply.

6. (d) Balances.—Altogether 23 Union Committees disposed of the whole of their funds and 15 were left with balances of Rs. 9 or less. The Rampur Hât Union spent more than Rs. 7,000 out of its income of Rs. 8,668, Manikganj over Rs. 6,000, Bolpur over Rs. 4,000, eight unions over Rs. 3,000 each and six others over Rs. 2,000 each. The Rajbari Union spent Rs. 4,690 out of its income of Rs. 10,448, which included a grant of Rs. 2,000 from Government for water-works : a large part of the balance is presumably earmarked for expenditure on these works. The Unions of the 24-Parganas, whose incomes consist almost entirely of contributions from the District Board, spent nearly the whole of their receipts. On the other hand, the three unions established in Bankura with a paltry income of Rs. 349 closed the year with a balance of Rs. 138, those of Nadia and Bogra retained balances almost equal to their expenditure, while the balances of those in Midnapore and Hooghly amounted very nearly to half their expenditure. One in Rangpur, which received the large contribution of Rs. 2,240 from the District Board and raised Rs. 46 from other sources, spent only Rs. 853, one in Faridpur spent only Re. 1 out of its income of Rs. 316, and another in Bankura never utilised its grant of Rs. 100 made by the Board for fear that it should be required to supplement it by local contributions. It consequently opened and closed the year with a balance of Rs. 100.

7. (e) General remarks.—Although the increase in the number of Union Committees in the year under review has not been quite so rapid as in the previous year and the reports of the public spirit displayed by them are not always favourable, there is good reason for looking forward to steady progress and improvement in this branch of local self-government.

Reports from Birbhum and Hooghly testify to the continued good work done by the Union Committees of these districts. In Birbhum, where the receipts from taxation have risen from Rs. 450 to Rs. 15,000 in 5 years, six new unions being constituted in that period, their expanding resources have enabled the Committees to appoint a separate overseer for the supervision of works undertaken by them. The Chairman of the Birbhum District Board reports :—" The Union Committees in this district have displayed commendable readiness to tax themselves and much vitality and energy in carrying on works of sanitation, water-supply and improvement of communications. With their record of good work and their example in submitting cheerfully to self-taxation they will serve as good models for the Union Committees which will before long spring up all over the district after the new Bengal Village Self-Government Bill passes into law."

In Dacca the Committees are showing commendable zeal and enthusiasm, and evidence is not wanting of their capacity to benefit by each other's experience. In this district it is the custom for the Chairmen and members to meet with the chaukidari panchayats at an annual Conference held at the Dacca Government farm, where questions of village administration are debated and the work carried on at the farm is studied with keen interest. The Conference during the year under review was attended by about 1,000 members of these village authorities, whose keenness was stimulated by the presence of His Excellency the Governor. The Governor in Council joins with the Commissioner in congratulating the Chairman of the District Board, Mr. S. G. Hart, I.C.S., on the able and sympathetic manner in which he has guided the development of village self-government in his district.

The other side of the picture is presented in the report of the Chairman of the Bankura District Board, who found the working of the Union Committees most disappointing. "Neither threat nor persuasion," he remarks, "has availed to arouse the slumbering instinct of self-help and patriotism." The non-official Chairman of the Burdwan District Board complains that the majority of the Union Committees want to have doles from the District Board without exerting themselves. In other districts also the aversion to local taxation is noticeable. At the same time, Committees which have failed to introduce local taxation have not always been marked by lack of vitality or initiative: the people of Rangpur, though they do not assess themselves, raise considerable sums from voluntary contributions. Many Committees moreover are of recent creation, and it is hoped that, with greater experience and with an expansion of their work, the advantages of self-taxation will be more widely recognized. An encouraging instance of the readiness of villagers to manage and pay for village needs is furnished by the existence of 89 informal Committees in the Rangpur district, which spent Rs. 27,640 on roads, Rs. 7,854 on wells and Rs. 3,959 on other heads.

8. District Board receipts.—The total receipts from all sources (excluding opening balances) increased from Rs. 1,06,09,964 to Rs. 1,10,22,117 and the total disbursements decreased from Rs. 1,10,04,449 to Rs. 1,08,12,415. The fluctuations cannot be assigned to any general causes. The largest decreases were Rs. 1,13,000 under local rates, a result due mainly to bad collections, Rs. 33,000 under police, Rs. 52,000 under miscellaneous and Rs. 12,000 under railways. On the other hand, receipts from education rose from Rs. 10,68,263 to Rs. 12,53,689 owing to an increase in the educational grants made by Government; receipts from medical increased from Rs. 90,482 to Rs. 1,44,201 mainly on account of larger contributions from private sources; and receipts from civil works rose from Rs. 10,37,235 to Rs. 12,37,066 chiefly as a result of larger contributions from Government.

9. Incidence of taxation.—The incidence of taxation varied from 2 annas per head in the Dacca Division to 3¼ annas per head in the Burdwan Division, and averaged 2½ annas for the whole Presidency.

10. District Board expenditure.—In contrast with the previous three years when expenditure exceeded current income by 5½, 7½ and 2⅓ lakhs, respectively, the expenditure in the year under review exceeded current income by less than Rs. 5,000. Many District Boards have incurred additional recurring expenditure which has absorbed the greater part of the enhanced income due to the transfer by Government of the receipts from the public works cess, and they have therefore little or nothing to spend on original works of any magnitude. In Bankura, for instance, a district with small resources, an inelastic income and growing needs, where the whole of the increased income is absorbed by recurring expenditure, the Board spent less on original works than before it received the public works cess receipts. Others, however, still have large surpluses, which were available for capital expenditure, but which remained unspent owing to the restrictions placed on the construction of new works by war conditions, and more particularly the prohibitive price of materials and the difficulty of obtaining them consequent on the dislocation of railway traffic. The year closed with an aggregate balance of 20 lakhs or approximately one-fifth of the total expenditure.

11. Education.—The expenditure on education amounted to approximately 25 lakhs, of which nearly half consisted of Government grants. The total number of upper and lower primary schools maintained and aided by District Boards rose from 34,020 to 35,278, of which 27,863 were boys' schools and 7,415 girls' schools: those actually maintained by the Boards numbered 2,842. Village opinion still seems to consider the education of girls a luxury rather than a necessity and the progress of female education is consequently slow, there being an addition of only 6,700 in the number of girls attending schools maintained and aided by the Boards. The education of small and backward communities received some attention. The District Boards of Birbhum and Midnapore helped in the education of the Santhals, while in Chittagong two special schools for the Arakanese Maghs were maintained at Cox's Bazar and Ramoo. In Birbhum a feature of the year's work was the starting of night schools, at which free education was given to the children of labourers, cultivators and artizans.

12. Medical.—There was an increase of nearly Rs. 80,000 in the provision of medical relief. In view of the inadequacy of medical relief available in rural areas Government urged the Boards to prepare programmes for the establishment of additional dispensaries, so that in course of time there might be a network of dispensaries in each district and every village might be within reach of one. Altogether 23 new dispensaries were established in the year under review, and the Governor in Council is pleased to observe that almost all the District Boards outside the Chittagong Division have adopted programmes of extension. Jessore, Howrah and Dacca have decided to introduce a system of endowed medical aid for rural areas, under which localities, where medical aid is not procurable and there is not sufficient local support to justify the establishment of a dispensary, are selected and medical men induced to settle and practise in them by the grant of a subsidy. Four such centres were selected in Howrah and ten in Jessore. The experiment was tried elsewhere some years ago but proved a failure; and it remains to be seen with what success it will now meet. The Rajshahi District Board appointed a supernumerary doctor specially to treat cases of malaria in primary schools in the vicinity of the town of Rampur-Boalia. The experiment having proved a success, steps are being taken to make similar arrangements for schools in other centres. The Governor in Council would draw the attention of other District Boards to this interesting development of practical school hygiene.

13. Sanitation.—There was an increased outlay of over Rs. 23,000 on sanitary measures, a large part of the expenditure being incurred, as in previous years, on village works carried out through the agency of Local Boards and Union Committees. The sanitary staff of some of the Boards was usefully employed in delivering lantern lectures in villages and instructing villagers in the main principles of hygiene and their application. It is interesting to note, as an instance of growing interest in questions of public health, that the non-official Chairman of the District Board of Jessore composed and distributed a leaflet on cholera and malaria, which was approved by the Sanitary Commissioner.

It has been felt for some time that without an adequate public health organization under each District Board, the problems of public health and the prevention of disease in rural areas cannot receive proper attention. The fact that none of the District Boards in the Chittagong Division has appointed a Sanitary Inspector, as required by the Local Self-Government Act, shows how little this important responsibility is realized by some Boards. Orders have recently issued requiring each District Board to appoint a properly qualified District Health Officer, and an officer of this class has already been appointed in Burdwan. The Chittagong District Board resolved during the year to appoint one, and the question of making a similar appointment has been taken up by the Midnapore District Board.

14. Vaccination.—The decision of the District Boards of Burdwan and Chittagong to introduce free vaccination throughout those districts—a measure which involves the entertainment of a considerable staff—is also an encouraging sign of growing interest in the campaign against disease. A system of free vaccination which was adopted in the Faridpur district as an experimental measure was found to be unsatisfactory and was discontinued during the year. The results of an experiment in the Sadar subdivision of the Bakarganj district, however, proved satisfactory and the Board decided that the scheme should be extended to the three remaining subdivisions of the district. The Governor in Council agrees with the Commissioner that in view of the successful results attained in Bakarganj the causes of failure in Faridpur require investigation.

15. Civil works.—The prevalence of war conditions is mainly responsible for the decrease of Rs. 1,73,540 under this head, which includes water-supply and drainage. The outlay on original works on buildings fell by nearly half a lakh and that on communications by over three lakhs, but on the other hand, 1½ lakh more was spent on the improvement of the water-supply in rural areas. Work was especially hampered by the difficulties of railway transport, which often rendered it impossible to obtain either metal for the roads or coal for burning bricks. As was to be expected under these conditions, there were large lapses, amounting in Noakhali to nearly one-third of the total allotment for civil works. The District Boards of Burdwan, Hooghly and Nadia allowed over 20 per cent. of their allotments to lapse, and five other Boards, viz., Midnapore, 24-Parganas, Dacca, Bogra and Chittagong had lapses of over 10 per cent. Taking the figures for the Province, as a whole, the proportion of lapses rose from 9 to 11 per cent.

16. Water-supply.—Expenditure on the improvement of the sources of water-supply showed a satisfactory increase of 1½ lakh and accounted for nearly one quarter of the net public works cess receipts. The Governor in Council is pleased to observe that Midnapore, which was noticed last year as having spent only 2·2 per cent. of its public works cess receipts on water-supply, increased its outlay to 34·4 per cent. Nadia and Dacca spent over 43 per cent. of their receipts from the cess, while five other Boards spent over 30 per cent. On the other hand, expenditure by the District Board of Chittagong was only one-third of that of the previous year, and the explanation of the reduced expenditure given by the Chairman is not convincing. In Howrah there was a decrease, which was due to the fact that the Board had to give up its programme of excavating tanks in the open country so as to avoid risks of pollution. The result was that many of the tanks were not used except by a few persons living in the vicinity, and the Board realizing its mistake has had to adopt another scheme.

17. Arboriculture.—There was an increase of Rs. 3,442 in the expenditure under this head. Nearly half of the provincial expenditure was incurred in the Burdwan Division, where the District Boards pay more attention to the planting and maintenance of road-side trees than those elsewhere. The Asansol Local Board alone spent more than any other division in the Presidency. The District Boards of Jessore, Dacca and Bakarganj appear to have little interest in this matter, the first Board spending only Re. 1 and the latter two, nothing on their trees.

18. Veterinary charges.—Expenditure under this head, which includes charges on account of veterinary dispensaries, contributions towards the pay of veterinary assistants, and scholarships tenable at the Belgachia College, increased from Rs. 88,716 to Rs. 1,00,513. Jalpaiguri shows the largest expenditure, mainly owing to the construction of a veterinary hospital and dispensary, which is nearing completion. The veterinary assistants continued to do useful work on the outbreak of epidemics and their work appears to have met with growing appreciation. It is regrettable to observe that the posts of veterinary assistants at Nadia and Bakarganj could not be filled up for want of qualified candidates.

19. Closing balances.—Five years have now passed since the public works cess was made over by Government to the District Boards. At first the District Boards, for want of prepared programmes and schemes, were unable to spend the whole of the large sums placed at their disposal aggregating 29 lakhs: the receipts from this source have since risen to over 32 lakhs. Large balances accumulated which have been gradually reduced; but owing largely to the dislocation of railway goods traffic and the consequent difficulty of obtaining materials this process was suspended during the year under review and the actual balance remained practically the same. Some District Boards, it is true, have cleared off the accumulations and in four districts viz., Dacca, Faridpur, Bakarganj and Rangpur, the balance is now below the minimum working balance necessary. Rangpur, with an ordinary expenditure of over five lakhs, closed the year with an actual balance of Rs. 5,110 against the prescribed minimum of Rs. 19,787. On the other hand, the District Boards of Burdwan, Noakhali and Tippera retained disproportionately large balances (Rs. 3,67,566, Rs. 1,15,000, and Rs. 1,55,864, respectively), approximating in the first two cases to half or more of the current expenditure and in the third case to over 15 times the minimum working balance. Other District Boards with a closing balance of over one lakh are Mymensingh, Midnapore and the 24-Parganas.

The suspension of works due to war conditions is the explanation generally given for the accumulation of balances, but in Midnapore, even after allowing for the lapse under civil works, the result is not satisfactory, and in Mymensingh the balance increased by nearly six thousand. The explanation is also inadequate in the case of Tippera, where the lapse under civil works represented only Rs. 19,000. For Burdwan a somewhat different explanation is given, viz., an underestimate of one lakh in the cess receipts, which depend on the profits and royalties from collieries and are therefore difficult to estimate properly, and the incompetence of the Assistant Engineer of the Asansol Local Board which resulted in a saving of 1½ lakh allotted for civil works. As a contrast to this, may be mentioned the Bakarganj District Board, which, with an ordinary expenditure of over Rs. six lakhs, had a balance of only Rs. 42,000 owing to the expeditious way in which the District Engineer and the District Board office checked and passed the bills for works.

20. The Governor in Council desires to express his appreciation of the good work done by the following gentlemen :—

Third and Final Report on the Winter Rice Crop of Bengal, 1918-19.

(Note.—On the average of the five years ending 1916-17, the area under winter rice crop in Bengal has represented some 19·2 per cent. of the total area under rice in British India.)

Character of the Season.—As explained in the Second Forecast of this crop the season opened in a promising fashion but, owing to the failure of the rains after September, finished badly. The period covered by this Forecast is that of the harvest, during which the weather conditions have been favourable for field operations.

Acreage.—The area figures are now returned at 15,895,800 acres as against 15,962,100 of the Second Forecast and 15,515,500 of the Final Forecast of last year. The decrease of 66,300 acres from the figures of the Second Forecast is due mainly to a reduction on the estimates from Malda district. The increase of area as compared with last year is, as was explained in the First Forecast, mainly due to large increases in the Rangpur and Dinajpur districts where transplanting difficulties, owing to favourable weather conditions, were met with in the previous season.

Outturn.—District figures of outturn have been in many cases considerably modified since the publication of the Second Forecast owing to results obtained by a large number of crop weighments. While the figures for some districts have been increased the balance is on the other side and a reduction of 5 per cent. has to be recorded, the Provincial average being now returned at 72 per cent. as against 77 per cent. in the Second Forecast and 100 per cent. in the Final Forecast of last year.

According to the latest returns in only one district, viz., Bakarganj, has a crop above the Provincial normal figure been returned. Crops over 80 per cent. are returned from six districts, twelve districts estimate crops between 60 and 80 per cent., and six between 50 and 59 per cent., while the figure for Bogra falls as low as 44 per cent. The estimate for the Chittagong Hill Tracts has been returned at 100 per cent. in spite of a not too favourable season as the average crop in that locality greatly exceeds the accepted Provincial normal.

Taking 12½ maunds as the normal yield of cleaned rice per acre, the gross outturn for the Province is estimated at 105,106,900 cwts. against 136,789,700 cwts. reported in the Final Forecast of last year, or a decrease of about 23 per cent.

APPENDIX I.

Third and Final Report on the Winter Rice Crop of Bengal, 1918-19.

District.	Estimated normal area under winter rice.	Estimated area under winter rice.		Estimated outturn as a percentage of the normal yield per unit of area.		Date by which the harvesting generally commenced this year, and whether that date was early, normal or late.	Remarks by District Officers.
		Last year (1917-18).	This year (1918-19).	Last year.	This year.
	Acres.	Acres.	Acres.
24-Parganas ...	899,700	880,400	893,200	117	83	November. Normal.	Since the submission of the second forecast, the weather was favourable in Sadar but unfavourable elsewhere. Damage by drought to the extent of 17 per cent. is reported from Basirhat. Some damage is also reported from Barasat subdivision. The outturn is below the normal owing to deficient rainfall.
Nadia ...	186,800	128,800	125,600	83	58	November and December. Normal.	The weather was not favourable. Some damage was done owing to want of rain. The outturn is much below the normal for want of rain.
Murshidabad ...	345,600	312,100	326,300	92	58	November. Normal.	The increase in area as compared with last year was due to early and favourable rainfall at sowing season and that with the second forecast was due to revision of figures for thana Jellunghi and for Jangipur and Lalbag subdivisions. The weather was not favourable. Want of rain affected the growth. Damage caused by flood at the beginning and by drought afterwards was about 42 per cent.
Jessore ...	568,100	463,000	462,500	96	67	November. Normal.	The weather was not favourable for want of rain and the growth of the crop not good. Damage to the extent of about 33 per cent. was done by drought.
Khulna ...	745,300	750,000	734,100	108	85	Beginning of December.	The decrease in area was due to heavy rainfall which retarded the transplantation. The weather was favourable in the Sadar and Satkhira subdivisions. A shower of rain was needed in October and early in November when the paddy was in ears. Hence the outturn was below the normal.
Burdwan ...	874,800	716,000	700,000	108	66*	......	The weather was favourable at sowing time, but thereafter heavy rainfall and drought at the end, when the crops were flowering, affected the growth as well as the outturn of the crop. The outturn is based on the figures reported from several subdivisions, but I do not think that the outturn of the district as a whole is less than two-thirds of a normal crop.
Birbhum ...	604,600	601,500	601,500	100	67	Beginning of December. Normal.	The weather was not favourable. About 33 per cent. of the crop was damaged by drought.
Bankura ...	510,600	520,000	520,000	117	62·5	Beginning of December; Normal in Bishnupur and somewhat early in the Sadar subdivision.	Since the submission of the second forecast the weather conditions were uniformly dry. The growth of the crops was retarded for want of rain which destroyed about half the crop. Hence the outturn is much below the normal.
Midnapore ...	1,579,400	1,637,000	1,648,000	110	60	Second week of November. Early.	The increase in area was due to corresponding decrease in jute cultivation. Want of rain affected the growth of the crop and resulted in the outturn falling below the normal.
Hooghly ...	276,700	198,000	196,800	100	73*	First week of December. Early.	The decrease in area was due to want of timely rainfall at sowing time. The weather was unfavourable and considerable damage was done by drought.
Howrah ...	125,200	119,300	114,400	87	79*	Middle of November. Normal.	The weather was not favourable and some damage was caused by drought.
Rajshahi ...	697,000	582,600	620,000	80	53	Second week of December. A little earlier than usual.	The weather was hotter and drier than usual and was unfavourable to the growth of the crop. Floods in August and drought in October and November damaged the transplanted paddy and caused the outturn to fall by about 47 per cent.
Dinajpur ...	1,120,800	749,800	1,019,100	80	57·3	By the third week of November. Normal.	The weather was not favourable. The flood in August damaged the crop to a considerable extent and the failure of rain in October retarded the growth of the crop. Hence the large decrease in outturn this year.

Jalpaiguri ...	551,800	484,000	497,400	100	85	Beginning of December. Normal.	The weather was not favourable. Some damage was done by drought.
Darjeeling ...	65,200	26,100	25,900	100	92	November. Normal.	The weather was not favourable. The outturn is below the normal owing to insufficient rainfall.
Rangpur ...	822,300	585,000	674,000	80	59	End of November. Normal.	The increase in area was due to low prices of jute which prevailed during last year. The weather was generally favourable at sowing time, but subsequently the crop suffered from flood in July and August and from drought since October. The percentage outturn has been revised on the basis of crop-cutting experiments.
Bogra	303,000	445,500	450,000	80	44	First week of December. Normal.	Owing to continued drought since the submission of the second forecast, the outturn has fallen below the estimate previously made.
Pabna	566,000	508,700	520,000	100	50	End of November. Normal.	The weather conditions at sowing time and afterwards were not favourable. About 12½ per cent. of the crop was destroyed by floods and 37½ per cent. by drought and insects.
Malda	326,200	320,000	220,000	110	60	Latter part of November. Normal.	The decrease in area as compared with the estimate in the second forecast and with the area of last year is due to the fact that in some parts of the district, many lands could not either be sown or transplanted on account of flood as elicited on a further careful enquiry into the matter. The former figures based on Police reports were found to be inaccurate. The weather was favourable till September, but since then there was very little rain and this has seriously interfered with the growth of the crop. In fact paddy was withered in places for want of rain. About 40 per cent. of the crop is estimated to have been damaged by drought.
Dacca	647,900	645,000	649,000	110	75	November. Normal.	The weather was favourable at the beginning, but want of sufficient rain stunted the growth of the transplanted crop. High floods and ufra disease and other insect pests caused slight damage to the broadcast crop. Hence the outturn is below the normal.
Mymensingh ...	1,126,700	969,700	969,700	100	75	Middle of November. Normal.	The weather was not favourable. Damage of about 30 per cent. was reported owing to flood in the beginning and to want of rain subsequently.
Faridpur ...	770,100	787,900	740,000	100	69	Middle of November. Normal.	The decrease in area is mainly due to increase in area under jute and sugarcane. Since the submission of the second forecast, the weather was sometimes cloudy and was not favourable. Damage done to the crop by heavy rain, high water and insects was about 31 per cent.
Bakarganj ...	1,200,000	1,267,000	1,340,000	105	120	November to December. Normal.	The increase in area over that of last year is due to reclamation of some lands in the Sunderban area. Untimely rainfall and cloudy weather in December affected the yield to a certain extent. The outturn was above the normal. The favourable condition of the crop was due to favourable weather at the time of transplanting and plentiful rain later up to the middle of October.
Chittagong ...	418,400	426,100	426,100	100	95	December. Normal.	Since the submission of the second forecast the weather was fair. Owing to insufficient moisture in some parts the outturn was below the normal.
Tippera ...	724,800	780,000	780,600	100	60	Middle of November. Normal.	The weather was not favourable. The outturn was much below the normal owing to damage caused by flood, insects and want of rain.
Noakhali ...	610,000	600,000	600,000	100	85	November. Normal.	The actual percentage outturn has been ascertained to be 85 from the result of a considerable number of crop weighments. About 15 per cent. of the crop was damaged by ufra in parts of the Sadar subdivision and by flood in parts of the Feni subdivision.
Chittagong Hill Tracts.	47,500	42,000	41,600	75	100*	First week of December. Normal.	The weather was not favourable. Some damage was done by flood.

DISTRICT REPORTS ON WEATHER AND CROPS.

For the week ending on the 13th February 1919.

Summary.—Light rain fell in a number of places. More rain is urgently wanted all over the province. Rabi sowings are practically over. Harvesting of oilseeds, pulses and potatoes continues. The outturn is reported to be fair. Preparation of lands for the next autumn crops is in progress. Drought is hampering the operations. Distress prevails in Bankura and in the Bramhanbaria subdivision of Tippera. Gratuitous relief and agriculturist loans are being distributed. Test works have also opened. The average price of rice for the province has fallen by about 0·3 per cent. as compared with the previous week.

M. C. McALPIN,
Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

MEMORANDUM OF AGREEMENT made this 25th day of February one thousand nine hundred and nineteen, BETWEEN MARSHALL SONS AND COMPANY LIMITED of Gainsborough England a Company (registered under the English Companies Act) and having its registered office at Gainsborough aforesaid and a Branch Office at No. 99, Clive Street in the town of Calcutta (hereinafter called "the Company") of the one part and THE SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA IN COUNCIL (hereinafter called "the Secretary of State") of the other part WHEREAS for the purpose of the manufacture of tea machinery and its adjuncts in India the Company has applied to the Government of Bengal for the acquisition under the provisions of the Land Acquisition Act, 1894, of the piece or parcel of land containing 29·752 acres or thereabout situate in the village of Agarpara in the district of the Twenty-four Parganas and more particularly described in the Schedule hereto and delineated in the plan* hereunto annexed AND WHEREAS the said Government of Bengal, being satisfied by an enquiry held under section 40 of the said Act that the proposed acquisition is needed for the aforesaid purpose and that the said work is likely to prove useful to the public, has consented to acquire on behalf of the Company the piece or parcel of land hereinbefore described AND WHEREAS the said Government of Bengal has required the Company under the provisions of section 41 of the abovementioned Act to enter into the Agreement with the Secretary of State hereinafter contained. NOW THIS INDENTURE WITNESSETH that IT IS HEREBY AGREED AND DECLARED as follows :—

1. On demand the Company shall and will pay to the said Government of Bengal all and every compensation in respect of the said land tendered, paid or awarded or to be tendered, paid or awarded by the Collector under the Land Acquisition Act, 1894, or by the Court to which a reference under Part III of the said Act may be made, or by the Court or Courts to which an appeal from the award of the said Court may be preferred and all costs, charges and expenses of the proceedings in the aforesaid Courts, or otherwise incidental to the proposed acquisition or payable in respect thereof under the provisions of the said Act.

2. On demand made by the said Collector the obligation of the Company under the last preceding clause not being thereby limited the Company shall and will deposit with the said Collector such sum or sums of money as in his discretion the said Collector may in anticipation estimate to be necessary for the purposes mentioned in the last preceding clause.

3. On payment by the Company of all demands under the foregoing first clause, or in the discretion of the said Government of Bengal (on deposit by the Company of all estimated amounts as provided in the second clause) but not before possession shall have been taken under the provisions of the abovementioned Act, the Secretary of State shall make over possession of the said land to the Company and shall execute and do all such acts and deeds as may be necessary and proper for effectually vesting the same in the Company.

4. The said land shall be held by the Company for the purpose of such manufacture as is hereinbefore mentioned and without the sanction in writing of the said Government of Bengal first had and obtained for no other purpose whatsoever.

5. The necessary buildings and plant for the said manufacture of tea machinery shall be completed (and fully equipped in all respects ready for use) within three years from the date on which possession of the said land shall have been given to the Company.

6. Should the said buildings and plant not be completed (and fully equipped in all respects ready for use) within the period stated in the last preceding clause or within such further period as in its discretion may be prescribed or allowed by the said Government of Bengal or should the said land at any time thereafter cease for a period of twelve consecutive months to be held and used or cease to be required for the purpose or purposes provided for in the foregoing fourth clause then and in any such case, the said Government may summarily re-enter upon and take possession of the said land, and thereupon the interest of the Company in the said land shall absolutely cease and determine.

7. On taking such possession the said Government may sell or otherwise deal with the said land as it may think proper. Should the said Government sell the said land the said Government after deducting the expenses incurred in connection with the said taking of possession and with such sale shall pay the proceeds to the Company. Should the said Government on taking possession decide not to sell the land it shall repay to the Company all sums received from the Company in respect of all and every compensation as provided in the foregoing first clause (less the statutory allowance of 15 per cent.) but will not repay any sums paid and received on account of costs, charges and expenses.

8. The public shall be entitled to use the said land on the following terms :—

The public shall have all reasonable access to that portion of the said land and buildings on or in which the tea machinery manufactured is exposed for sale and reasonable liberty to inspect such manufactured machinery free of charge and to purchase the same at such prices as may hereafter be fixed by the Company.

9. The Company shall be at liberty to transfer all or any of their rights under this agreement to a limited liability Company in India now in the course of promotion to take over the Company's existing interests in India and to be promoted under the name of Marshall Sons & Co. India Ld. when such promotion has been completed provided always that such Company shall not be a "foreign controlled company" as defined in the Government of India Notification No. 11917, dated 6th October 1917, and the Company shall therefore be deemed to be acquiring the said land as Trustees for the said Marshall Sons & Co India Ltd., who shall take such land subject to all the liabilities which otherwise would attach to and be binding on the Company.

10. Should any dispute or difference arise touching or concerning the subject matter of this agreement or any covenant clause or thing herein contained the same shall be referred to the said Government of Bengal and the opinion and decision of the said Government upon such dispute or difference shall be final and conclusive and binding on the parties hereto.

ESTABLISHMENTS.

Delhi, the 21st February 1919.

No. 1368-C.—The following provisional rules, dated the 7th January 1919, have been passed by His Majesty's Secretary of State for India in Council to come into operation forthwith for the appointment to the Indian Civil Service otherwise than by the annual Open Competition (which will still continue to be held) of British subjects who have during the war served in His Majesty's Navy, Army, or Air Forces. It will rest with the Civil Service Commissioners to determine whether candidates are qualified in respect of nationality, age, character, education, and war service as defined in the following Regulations:—

1. (a) Every candidate must be either a British subject or a ruler or subject of any State in India in respect of whom the Governor-General in Council has made a declaration under section 96 (a) of the Government of India Act, 1915, as amended by section 3 of the Government of India (Amendment) Act, 1916.

(b) If the candidate (being a British subject) or his father or his mother was not born within His Majesty's Dominion and allegiance, the father must at the time of the candidate's birth have been a British subject or the subject of a State in India and still be (or have continued to be until his death) a British subject or a subject of such State.

2. Every candidate for appointment to be made under these Rules must have served in His Majesty's Naval, Military, or Air Forces during the war for at least one year, or, if his service be less than one year, have been retired or discharged on account of wounds or sickness resulting from such service.

3. Every candidate must have been born on or after the 2nd August 1891, and on or before the 1st August 1899.

4. Every candidate must be of good character in civil and military life.

5. Every candidate must have received continuous and systematic education of a high type until at least the age of 18, and must produce satisfactory evidence that if he has not received University education, he would have been justified in proceeding from school to a University with a view to taking high honours.

6. Candidates must submit to the Civil Service Commissioners an application in the form prescribed by them, and pay on application such fee as is appointed by them.

7. Candidates who appear from their forms of application to be prima facie eligible for appointment to the Indian Civil Service will be subject to such test as the Civil Service Commission may prescribe in the way of (a) a qualifying examination, written or oral; (b) the production of written evidence including school record, university record (if any), military record, and personal references; (c) interview by selection Board; (d) medical examination.

8. Candidates recommended by the Civil Service Commissioners will be accepted by the Secretary of State for India in Council as Selected Candidates for the Indian Civil Service, subject to any further enquiries that he may find it necessary to institute, and will be required to undergo such period of probation as may be hereafter prescribed. At the end of this period of probation they will be tested by the Civil Service Commissioners, or by an authority in India specially empowered in this behalf, in Indian Law and Languages, and in any other subjects which may be prescribed, and in riding. They will not be appointed to the Civil Service of India until they have been certified to have fulfilled these tests.

9. In pursuance of section 2 of the Rules Publication Act, 1893 (56 and 57 Vict. c. 66) the Secretary of State for India in Council certifies that on account of urgency the foregoing rules are made as provisional rules to come into operation forthwith.

Note.—Candidates are cautioned that applications should not be sent to the Civil Service Commission until forms are available.

The following notice issued by the Civil Service Commission is also published for general information:—

CIVIL SERVICE COMMISSION.

RECONSTRUCTION SCHEME OF SELECTION FOR CLASS I OF THE HOME CIVIL SERVICE, INDIAN CIVIL SERVICE, EASTERN CADETSHIPS, JUNIOR APPOINTMENTS, OFFICERSHIPS OF CUSTOMS AND EXCISE.

The Civil Service Commissioners announce that the holding of competitive examinations for appointments to the higher division (class I), and to certain other classes of the Civil Service will not be resumed for at least two years after the cessation of hostilities, and that vacancies in these classes will be filled in the meantime by a process of selection by a Board, the principle of open competition being maintained so far as practicable.

This decision has been reached by the Government in accordance with the recommendations of Viscount Gladstone's Committee on recruitment for the Civil Service after the war. While it is considered to be essential that the intellectual standard of candidates for class I of the Home Civil Service, to which so much importance was attached by the Royal Commission on the Civil Service, should not be lowered, it is manifest that owing to the general interruption of academic studies during the war there will be comparatively few persons of suitable age during the two or three years following the termination of hostilities who will have received a complete university education. On the other hand it is clearly the duty of the State temporarily to adapt its system of selecting candidates for the public Service so as to give the fullest opportunity of securing appointments to those who have served during the war in the naval, military, or air forces of the Crown. Such candidates would be at a serious disadvantage in any competitive examination approaching the standard required for class I appointments and indeed no examination could be imposed upon them which aimed at more than a qualifying test of their proficiency in such subjects as they ought all to have learned before the war, and ought not to have forgotten.

Class I.

It is estimated that there will be at least 100 vacancies in class I to be filled during the two years following the cessation of hostilities, to cover wastage during the period since the last appointments were made by open competition, viz., in 1914. The filling of these vacancies (otherwise than by promotion from other grades of the service) will be spread as evenly as possible over the two years, in view of the claims of those whose demobilization is deferred. All persons will be eligible to compete for them who satisfy the following conditions:—

The applicant must—

(i) Have been born on or after the 2nd August 1891;

(ii) Have attained the age of 22 on the date fixed for his qualifying examination:

(iii) Have served in His Majesty's naval, military, or air forces during the war, provided that under certain conditions men may be treated as eligible who, having been pronounced unfit on grounds of health for general service, have been temporarily employed in Government Departments during the war;

(iv) Submit an application in the form prescribed by the Civil Service Commissioners accompanied by a fee stamp of ten shillings;

(v) Be of good character in civil and military life;

(vi) Have received continuous and systematic education of a high type until at least the age of 18;

(vii) Be in a position to produce satisfactory evidence, in the absence of a university record, that but for the war he would have been justified in expecting to attain a first or second class in a University Honours School.

Candidates who appear from their forms of application and the resulting inquiries, including the scrutiny of their school record, university record (if any), military record, and personal references, to be prima facie eligible for appointment will be subjected to a qualifying examination in Arithmetic, English (including essay and precis-writing and other tests), and in general knowledge, historical, political, social, economic, scientific and geographical.

Candidates who satisfy the Civil Service Commissioners with regard to the qualifying examination and their age, health, and character, will be admitted to an interview by the Selection Board charged with the duty of selecting men for appointment.

Any candidate will also be permitted to produce evidence of special proficiency in any particular subject or subjects of study, and this will be weighed by the Selection Board with the other factors.

Preference will be given by the Selection Board, ceteris paribus, to candidates who are debarred from active employment by some physical impairment arising out of the war, and not likely to interfere with the discharge of ordinary administrative duties.

Any attempt on the part of a candidate to enlist support for his application through Members of Parliament, or other influential persons, will disqualify him for appointment. The Selection Board will disregard spontaneous recommendations from persons who are not personally acquainted with the candidate's work whether at school or university, in the forces, or otherwise.

Separate competitions will be held at intervals during the period while this scheme is in force. Candidates will be divided into three groups:—

(a) Those who have taken a full university course;

(b) Those who have spent at least two years at a university, but not taken a full course;

(c) Those who entered the forces direct from school or spent less than two years at a university; and so far as practicable a certain proportion of vacancies will be allotted to each group. Candidates who are judged by the Selection Board to be suitable for appointment but are not posted to vacancies as the result of that competition may be allowed to compete on a second occasion without taking the qualifying examination again. Subject to this, no candidate may compete more than once under this scheme. No candidate will be obliged to take the qualifying examination within three months from the date of leaving the forces, as attested by his "dispersal certificate."

Candidates who under this scheme enter the Service at an age above the normal maximum of 24 years will be allowed one increment of salary for each year of their age above 24 at the date of their qualifying examination.

Indian Civil Service and Eastern Cadetships.

From a hundred to two hundred vacancies in the Indian Civil Service will be filled concurrently with vacancies in Class I of the Home Civil Service, and by a similar process,* subject to such conditions as to age, physical fitness, and other qualifications of candidature as may be laid down for that Service.

Eastern cadetships under the Colonial Office will be awarded by a like procedure: the number of vacancies cannot at present be announced.

One fee of ten shillings will cover applications for Class I of the Home Civil Service, Indian Civil Service and Eastern Cadetships. Successful candidates will have their choice of the situations offered for competition according to the order in which they may be placed in the list prepared for each Service by the Selection Board.

* A few vacancies will be filled in each year by means of the usual Open Competitive Examination.

"Junior Appointments" "and Officers of Customs and Excise."

Such vacancies as it may be necessary to fill, otherwise than by promotion from other grades of the Service, during a period following the termination of hostilities, which will be defined later, to the various classes of "Junior Appointments," commonly known as Intermediate Posts, will be filled by a similar process of selection from candidates between the ages of 18 and 22 who comply with the conditions (iii), (v) and (vi) laid down with respect to Class I posts, and make application in the form prescribed by the Civil Service Commissioners, accompanied by a fee stamp of seven shillings and six pence. Successful candidates will be allowed one increment of salary for each year of their age above 19 at the date of their qualifying examination. Men who have served in His Majesty's forces during the war and are appointed to one of these posts may subsequently compete for Class I, if they so desire, on attaining the requisite age.

Vacancies in the class of "Officers of Customs and Excise" will be filled in a similar way by selection from candidates who were born on or after the 2nd September, 1893, and have attained the age of 19. The entrance fee for this competition will be five shillings. One increment will be allowed for each year of age above 21.

The qualifying examination, both for "Junior appointments" and for the class of "Officers of Customs and Excise" will be similar in character and scope to that for Class I, but of lower standard.

The Regulations for the several Services are under consideration by the Civil Service Commissioners and the Departments concerned. It is hoped that they will be ready early in the new year, and intending candidates should write after the 15th of January to the Secretary, Civil Service Commission, 6, Burlington Gardens, London, W. 1, for the Regulations and Application Form for the class or classes of appointments for which they desire to compete.

All intending candidates should apply as soon as possible after the date stated in the preceding paragraph. The qualifying examination of those who are at present under age will be fixed for a date when they are of age. Those who wish to postpone their examination for the purpose of university study or other reason will be given an opportunity to apply for sanction for the postponement 16th December, 1918.

NOTES ON THE SALARIES, ETC., OF SOME OF THE SITUATIONS TO BE FILLED BY THE RECONSTRUCTION SCHEME OF SELECTION.

Higher Division (Class I).

The salary† begins at £200, and rises by annual increments of £20 to £500. Most of the superior administrative posts in the Service are normally filled by promotion from this class.

Colonial Service, Eastern Cadetships.

(a) Ceylon: Commencing salary £300 per annum, rising to £350 after necessary examinations have been passed in native languages, etc. After three years Cadets who have passed their examinations but have not received substantive appointments are placed on a scale of £400—£500.—(b) Straits Settlements* and Federated Malay States*: £250, with free furnished quarters, rising to £300 after examinations have been passed. After three years £400—£500, with duty allowance of £100.—(c) Hongkong†: £225, with house allowance, rising to £300, after examinations have been passed. After three years £350, with duty allowance of £100. The limits of age are under consideration.

Junior Appointments (Intermediate Class).

Salary† £100, after two years £120, then rising by £10 annually to £200, thence by £15 annually to £350. A large number of superior posts, especially in the Accounting and Audit Departments, are normally filled by promotion from this class.

* The normal salaries quoted have been temporarily supplemented by war bonuses.

† The salaries quoted in each case are on the pre-war scale. They are now supplemented by war bonuses in consideration of the higher cost of living, at rates varying according to salary, with a minimum of nearly £60 per annum for men of 21 years and upwards; of about £44 per annum for those under 21 and over 18.

Officers of Customs and Excise.

Salary† £80, by £7 10s. annually to £160, thence by £10 to £300. Vacancies in the Survey and in superior grades in the Customs and Excise Department are normally filled by promotion from this class.

GOVERNMENT NOTICES AFFECTING TRADE.

EXPORT AND IMPORT SECTION.

Relaxation of export prohibitions.

The Board of Trade announce that the following relaxation of the existing prohibitions of export will be brought into force as from to day. Further relaxations will be announced in subsequent issues of the "Journal."

A. EXPORT PROHIBITIONS.

The following is a list of the articles affected and of the changes made in the nature of the prohibitions applicable to each. In explanation of the changes it should be noted that goods on List A are prohibited to all destinations, and goods on List B to all destinations outside the British Empire, while goods on List C are prohibited only to countries neighbouring enemy countries.*

It will of course be understood that the existing position regarding trading with enemy countries is in no way affected by these modifications.

[NOTE.—Attention is called to the fact that by the Proclamation of the 1st October, 1918, all goods, whether mentioned by name or not (except printed matter and accompanied personal effects), are prohibited on List C.]

London Gazette, dated the 3rd December 1918, pages 14333 and 14334.

War Office,
3rd December, 1918.

THE TERRITORIAL OFFICERS' DECORATION AMENDING WARRANT (1918).

GEORGE R. I.

Whereas His late Majesty, Our Beloved Father King Edward VII, by a Warrant dated the 17th day of August, 1908, did institute and create a new Decoration to be designated "The Territorial Decoration ;"

And whereas it was ordained by the said Royal Warrant what persons should be eligible for this Decoration ;

And whereas by a Warrant dated the 3rd day of May, 1912, We did ordain that the said Royal Warrant dated the 17th day of August, 1908, should be amended for the purpose of defining more strictly what persons should be eligible for this Decoration ;

And whereas We desire to recognise specially the meritorious service of Officers of Our Territorial Force during the present war ;

Now therefore We do by these Presents for Us, Our Heirs and Successors ordain that Our said Royal Warrant dated the 3rd day of May, 1912, shall be revoked and that the following Ordinance shall be substituted for the corresponding Ordinance in the Royal Warrant dated the 17th day of August, 1908, and shall henceforth be construed and have the same effect as if it formed part of the said Royal Warrant :—

Fourthly :—It is ordained that no person shall be eligible for this Decoration who is in possession of the Volunteer Officers' Decoration nor shall he be nominated thereto unless he—

(1) Is or was a Commissioned Officer and has served for twenty years on the Active List of our Territorial Force, including commissioned service in the Senior and Junior Divisions of Our Officers Training Corps ; previous commissioned service in our Yeomanry Cavalry, Imperial Yeomanry or Volunteer Force ; previous service qualifying for the Colonial Auxiliary Forces' or Royal Naval Volunteer Reserve Officers' Decoration ; and all service, while holding a Volunteer Officers' Commission, as an acting or honorary officer of a Cadet Corps, or Cadet Battalion, after attaining the age of seventeen years ;

(2) Is recommended by the Commanding Officer of the Unit in which he has served ; and,

(3) Is duly certified by the District Military Authorities in which the Unit is located as having been an efficient and thoroughly capable Officer in every way deserving of such a Decoration:

Provided nevertheless and We do hereby declare that any time during which an Officer of our Territorial Force may have served as an Officer on the Active List of that Force (or of Our Royal Navy, Our Regular Army, Our Special Reserve, or Our Royal Air Force) or, if an Officer of the Territorial Force Reserve has been recalled to active military service during embodiment in the present War shall reckon twofold as qualifying service towards the twenty years required as aforesaid, subject always to the proviso that such Officer was serving in Our Territorial Force on the 4th day of August 1914, and either before or after that date had signed an agreement to serve outside the United Kingdom.

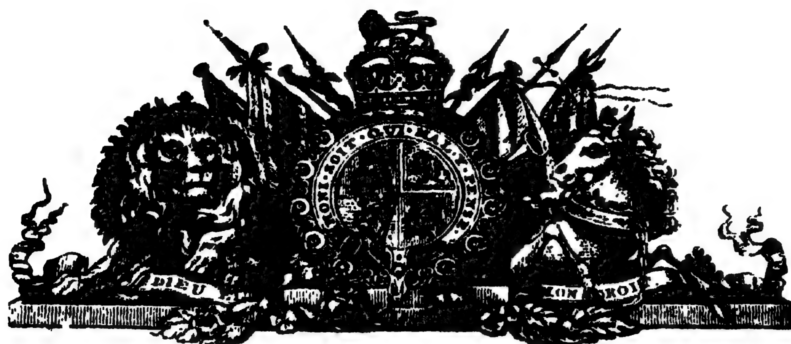
Provided also and We do further declare that any time during which an Officer of Our Territorial Force may have served on the Active List in the ranks of that Force (or of Our Royal Navy, Our Regular Army or Our Royal Air Force) during embodiment in the present War shall reckon as full qualifying service towards the twenty years required as aforesaid, subject always to the proviso that such officer was serving in Our Territorial Force on the 4th day of August, 1914, and either before or after that date had signed an agreement to serve outside the United Kingdom.

Provided also and We do further declare that half of any time other than the period of embodiment of Our said Force in the present War during which an Officer of Our said Force may have served on the Active List in the ranks of Our said Force, or in the ranks of Our Yeomanry Cavalry, Imperial Yeomanry, or Volunteer Force, after attaining the age of seventeen years; or in the ranks of a Cadet Corps, or Cadet Battalion, which belonged to the organization existing before the 21st May, 1910, or as a Cadet in the Senior Division of Our Officers Training Corps, after attaining the age of seventeen years; shall reckon as qualifying service towards the twenty years required as aforesaid.

Provided also and We do further declare that commissioned service shall not reckon as qualifying service towards the twenty years required as aforesaid, in the case of—

(i) A university candidate for a commission in Our Regular Army, except for the period or periods of service with a Contingent of our Officers Training Corps;

(ii) An Officer transferred to the Unattached List after the 31st March, 1911, except one who is transferred for duty with our Officers Training Crops;



(iii) An Officer whose military services are available only on mobilization, except for the period or periods or mobilized service.

Given at Our Court at Saint James, this eleventh day of November, in the ninth year of Our Reign, and in the year of Our Lord one thousand nine hundred and eighteen.

By His Majesty's Command.

2. In exercise of the power conferred by section 41 of the same Act, the Governor in Council is pleased to direct, in order to ensure the representation of all important interests and the inclusion of members of the Chaukidari Panchayat in the Committee of the said Union, that three of the members of the Committee shall be appointed by the Commissioner of the Dacca Division, and six of them shall be elected as prescribed by section 39 of the said Act.

No. 612L.S.-G.—The 25th February 1919.—In exercise of the powers conferred by clause (a) of section 138 of the Bengal Local Self-Government Act of 1885 (Bengal Act III of 1885), the Governor in Council is pleased to direct that the following amendments be made in the rules made under the said clause and published with the notification, dated the 15th December 1885, at page 100 of Part IB of the Calcutta Gazette of the 16th idem, namely :—

(1) Insert the following clause in rule 1 :—

(c) The term "thana" as used in Part II of these rules means a revenue thana or a police-station or a combination of two or more police-stations in the same subdivision.

(2) Substitute the following for rules 33 and 34 :—

Rule 33.—The election for each thana shall be held at such place or places within the jurisdiction of the thana as the Magistrate of the district may fix. The time and place or places of election shall be notified at least one month before the date fixed for election and shall be stated in the notice issued under the next following rule.

Rule 34.—The date and hour and the place or places fixed for the thana election shall be duly notified at such places within the thana as appear suitable to the Magistrate at least one month beforehand.

A vernacular notice in the following form shall also, at least a fortnight before the date fixed for the election, be despatched by post, or by such other mode as may be found convenient, to every elector whose name appears in the register :—

"You are hereby informed that you are registered as a voter for the thana, that you will be entitled to vote at the election of (state number) members of the Local Board to be held at (name place or places) on the between the hours of and and that the result of the election shall be notified at (name place) on the at A.M./P.M.

(4) Substitute the following for rules 37, 38 40, 41, 42 and 43 :—

Rule 37.—The Magistrate of the district, or other fit and proper person, not being himself a candidate for election, deputed by the Magistrate of the district for the purpose, shall be the presiding officer for the election for each thana. The Magistrate of the district may appoint such assistant presiding officers as he may think proper.

Rule 38.—The proceedings shall commence by the presiding officer or the assistant presiding officer, as the case may be, explaining the nature and objects of the meeting to the assembled voters. He shall then read out the list of candidates and state the number of vacancies.

Rule 40.—In the case of the number of candidates duly proposed and seconded not being greater than the number of vacancies the presiding officer shall at once declare such candidates to be duly elected.

Rule 41.—If the number of candidates duly proposed and seconded exceeds the number of vacancies the presiding officer or the assistant presiding officer, as the case may be, shall proceed to take a poll for each candidate, the votes being recorded by himself and his assistant presiding officers, if any.

Rule 42.—All objections to voters shall, if possible, be summarily decided by the presiding officer or the assistant presiding officer, as the case may be, after reference to the register. No objection shall be entertained, other than objections arising out of matters subsequent to registration under rule 26.

Rule 43.—Where there is only one polling centre, the presiding officer shall declare such candidates as have received the largest number of votes to be duly elected as soon as the poll is finally closed.

(5) After rule 43 insert the following as rule 43A :—

Rule 43A.—Where there is more than one polling centre, the presiding officer or the assistant presiding officer, as the case may be, shall, on the conclusion of the poll, seal up the records of the votes prepared by him and prepare a report stating the number of voters who attended and the number of votes cast in favour of each candidate. Any record sealed and report prepared by an assistant presiding officer shall be forwarded without delay to the presiding officer. When the presiding officer has received all the records and reports, he shall, after checking the records with the reports, record a note in his own hand stating which candidates have received the largest number of votes, and shall declare such candidates to be duly elected at the place and time previously mentioned in the vernacular notices despatched under rule 34.

(6) After new rule 43A, insert the following as rule 43B :—

Rule 43B.—No candidate shall be decla ed to be duly elected under rules 43 and 43A unless at least 10 per cent of the registered voters of the thana have appeared and recorded their votes.

CALCUTTA UNIVERSITY.

NOTICE.

APPLICATIONS are invited from candidates for the Maharaja of Darbhanga Scholarship for 1919. Such applications are to reach the undersigned not later than the 30th April 1919.

The value of the scholarship is Rs. 50 per month. The scholarship is tenable for one year only from July 1919 to June 1920.

All graduates and licentiates in Medicine of the Calcutta University are eligible to compete for the scholarship.

Every candidate is required to state in his application the special subject or branch of medical science in which he proposes to carry on investigation or research work and also to state in what respects his investigations appear to him to tend to the advancement of medical studies. He is also required to state in his application the place where he intends to carry on his research work. If in a recognized laboratory or hospital, a recommendation from the head of such laboratory or hospital as to the fitness of the candidate to conduct such work, and the probable value of such work must accompany the application. If the candidate intends to carry on investigations privately, his application must be supported by a certificate to the above effect from a Member of the Faculty of Medicine.

The scholar will be appointed by the Syndicate on the recommendation of the Faculty of Medicine.

During the tenure of his scholarship the scholar will be required to devote at least four hours a day, Sundays and holidays excepted, to research work in the special branch of medical science selected by him and approved by the Board of Studies in Medicine, and his work will be open to inspection by a Member of the Faculty of Medicine to be specially deputed by the Faculty in that behalf.

During the tenure of his scholarship, every Research scholar will be required to submit short quarterly reports of his work to the Member of the Faculty of Medicine who may be deputed to inspect his work and upon whose favourable report the continuance of his scholarship will depend.

Each scholar will also be required to submit, at the end of his tenure of scholarship, a complete statement which must be typewritten and otherwise ready for publication and which will be laid before the Faculty of Medicine, who, if publication be deemed advisable, will decide all questions in connection therewith.

RESOLUTION ON THE REPORT OF THE PUBLIC SERVICES COMMISSION.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT.

Miscellaneous.

CALCUTTA, THE 24TH FEBRUARY 1919.

RESOLUTION—No. 1857.

READ—

The Report of the Royal Commission on the Public Services in India.

Report on Indian Constitutional Reforms.

THE Governor in Council has had under consideration the recommendations of the Public Services Commission made in annexure VIII concerning the Forest Department, and this Resolution is published in order to give the public interested an opportunity of expressing their views on the more important questions involved.

2. The three main problems which require consideration are the following :—

(1) The percentage of recruitment of Indians for the Imperial Forest Service,

(2) The methods of training of Indians and Europeans for that service, and

(3) The pay of that service.

These problems are dealt with briefly below.

3. The Forest Service is divided into two branches, the Imperial and the Provincial Service. It was proposed by the Commission that all the posts of major charges at present held by Provincial officers should be transferred to the Imperial Service; but that ultimately, after the interests of the present members of the Provincial Service have been satisfied, the number of such posts, which for present convenience can be called "listed posts," should be reduced by one-half. At the same time it was proposed that not less than one-half of the direct recruitment for the Imperial Service should be made in India. The effect of this proposal is that out of a total number of 270 posts, 28 would ultimately, though not immediately, be listed posts and for the remaining 242 posts at least one-half would be recruited from Indians every year.

4. The Commissioners were not, however, unanimous in their recommendations. It was pointed out that the Forest Service was not popular with Indians, that it was premature to recruit Indians at such a pace until a higher grade Forest School in India had been established and its efficacy proved, and that the interests involved were too immense to warrant far-reaching experiments without a cautious trial. It has accordingly been suggested that a more cautious rate of recruitment should be adopted and that the initial recruitment of Indians should be fixed at 25 per cent. of the direct requirements with an annual increase of 1½ per cent. until the subject is re-examined. The result of the adoption of such standards, provided the present number of listed posts remained the same, would be that 33 per cent. of the Imperial Service would be filled by Indians at the end of ten years. This it has been suggested is a sufficiently rapid advance.

A further suggestion has also been made that, in view of the two sources of recruitment of Indians for the Imperial Service (a) through the listed posts and (b) by direct recruitment, it is at present impracticable to lay down what should be on the one hand the total number of listed posts, and what on the other the percentage of direct recruitment of Indians. Fully qualified Indians may not be forthcoming by direct recruitment even to make up for a reduction in the number of listed posts. Therefore, whilst it may not be wise to look forward to more than 33 per cent. of the service being filled by Indians from both services in ten years, it may not be possible, until experience shows to what extent Indians will come forward to undergo in India the higher course of instruction to fit them for the Imperial Service, to lay down what part of that 33 per cent. should be filled by Indians directly recruited on the one hand or promoted from the Provincial Service on the other. In other words, until experience has been gained in untried methods of recruitment, it may not be wise to adopt too rigid rules at the outset in the Forest Department.

5. As to the methods of recruitment of Indians and Europeans for the Imperial Service, the Public Services Commission have recommended that, in cases where it is necessary to resort to recruitment in Europe, the Secretary of State should continue to select recruits in England between the ages of 19 and 22 from Science graduates of the Universities of the United Kingdom and to train them in Europe, with some modifications, as at present. Later, ready-trained foresters might be available as the present schools of Great Britain develop. For recruitment in India they recommended the selection of the best candidates possessing the degree of Bachelor of Science, who had completed an advanced course of training at Dehra Dun.

6. An alternative suggestion is that recruitment should be made both in England and in India at the school-leaving age by competitive examination and that both sets of recruits should be trained together at the proposed higher grade Dehra Dun College for about 2½ years : they could then visit England and the continent of Europe, partly on a tour to selected continental forests.

In support of the latter alternative it is urged—

(1) that, if Indians are to be given the same chances as Europeans and if the two classes are subsequently to work together harmoniously in one service, they should be trained together under identical conditions ;

(2) the cost of opening a higher grade school at Dehra Dun would be unjustifiably high, unless Provincial and Imperial recruits are trained together, which for reasons of discipline and the different class of training required appears undesirable ; and

(3) whilst it is considered impracticable to arrange for the joint training in England under present conditions, it should be possible to make the necessary arrangements at Dehra Dun for such a higher grade school.

The objections to training Europeans at the school are—

(1) that such a higher grade college cannot possibly be developed sufficiently quickly up to the highest European standard, and therefore that until the school has proved its efficacy no experiment should be made in the training of Europeans at it when sounder methods of training are available ;

(2) that it jettisons a method of selection of Europeans, which is securing a good type of officer, and the best training available in the forest schools of Great Britain ; and

(3) that in view of the strides taken in afforestation in Europe and in particular owing to the deforestation caused by the war, the demand for foresters in Europe will become greater and the forest schools in Britain in consequence so more efficient that there should be no difficulty in obtaining the ready-trained foresters contemplated by the Public Services Commission.

On the other hand the establishment of a higher grade school for the training of Indians appears to be in every way desirable and it is questionable whether any considerations of expense should stand in its way.

7. The Public Services Commission propose to retain the salaries of Imperial officers on the present scale of Rs. 380-40-700-50-1,250, but to increase the pay of Conservators to Rs. 1,500-100-2,000. It has however been represented by these officers that as compared with other services containing officers of the same class and education they are underpaid and that their life is harder and more unhealthy than that of other officers. This claim can be supported by a reference to the Reforms Report, in paragraph 318 of which His Excellency the Viceroy and the Secretary of State have recognised the need for improving the conditions of the European services generally, if they are to attract the type of men required. It has accordingly been suggested that Forest officers below the rank of Conservator and who have an overseas domicile should be given an adequate "overseas allowance" in addition to the pay fixed for Indian recruits Rs. 300—$\frac{50}{2}$—500—50—1,050 a month, and that a further increase should be made in the pay of Conservators.

8. His Excellency in Council does not propose to deal specifically with the other matters dealt with in the Commission's Report, so far as the Forest services are concerned. It is requested that any remarks or criticisms, which any person or body of persons interested may desire to offer, may be forwarded to the Revenue Secretary to the Government of Bengal, not later than the 15th March 1919.

ORDER.—Ordered that a copy of the Resolution be published in the Calcutta Gazette for general information and a copy sent to the leading associations in Bengal.

REPORT ON THE STATE OF THE SALT MARKET FOR THE THIRD QUARTER OF THE YEAR 1918-19.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL.

FINANCIAL DEPARTMENT.

Separate Revenue Branch (Salt).

No. 480S.R.

Dated Calcutta, the 24th February 1919.

THE following report on the state of the salt market for the third quarter of the year 1918-19, comprising the months of October, November and December 1918, in the Presidency of Bengal, is published for general information.

2. The quantity of salt of every description cleared during the quarter amounted to 1,723,634 maunds (including 1,251,101 maunds issued under the credit system), as compared with 3,017,605 maunds (including 2,388,658 maunds issued under the credit system) in the previous quarter and 1,689,788 maunds (including 1,347,076 maunds issued under the credit system) in the corresponding quarter of the previous year. The net amount of duty levied was Rs. 15,67,559 (including Rs. 9,84,751 adjusted under the credit system), as against Rs. 31,87,150 (including Rs. 23,82,659 adjusted under the credit system) in the previous quarter, and Rs. 21,85,729 (including Rs. 17,90,621 adjusted under the credit system) in the corresponding quarter of the previous year.

3. The subjoined Table I shows in detail the importations into the Port of Calcutta and the total clearances of sea-imported salt during the quarter, compared with the figures of the corresponding quarters of the two previous years :—

* Inclusive of 1,251,101 maunds of salt issued under the credit system. Besides this quantity 3,069 maunds of salt were issued under the credit system to inland bonded warehouses.

Compared with the corresponding quarter of the previous year and the same quarter of 1916-17, importations were less by 34·3 and 19·8 per cent., respectively, and clearances were less by 6·0 and 48·6 per cent., respectively. As compared with the corresponding period of the previous year, the decreased imports from the United Kingdom, Spain, Aden and Massowah and the increased imports from Port Said are noticeable.

4. Table II shows the quantity of sea-imported salt remaining in the warehouses at the close of the quarter as compared with the preceding four quarters :—

As compared with the corresponding quarter of the previous year, the quantities admitted into bond and cleared from bond and shipboard were less by 46·1 and more by 69·9 per cent., respectively.

By order of the Governor in Council,

J. DONALD,

Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

MONTHLY WEATHER AND CROP REPORT OF BENGAL FOR JANUARY 1919.

I. Character of the Season.—Light to moderate rain fell during the last two weeks of the month. The fall was above the normal everywhere excepting in Khulna, Jalpaiguri, Bakarganj, Chittagong, Tippera and Noakhali. The usual rainfall statement is appended.

II. Progress of Agricultural Operations.—Reaping of winter paddy was completed. Threshing also was well advanced. Preparatory tillage for the next autumn crops commenced. Rainfall during the last two weeks favoured the operations. Transplanting of summer paddy, cutting and pressing of sugarcane and harvesting of potatoes, pulses and early oilseeds were also progressing.

III. State of Standing Crops.—Owing to the rainfall the standing spring crops somewhat recovered from the effects of continued drought.

IV. Prospects and probable outturn.—The prospects of the spring crops are reported as on the whole fair.

V. Damage to Standing Crops.—No further report of damage to the standing crops was received during the month from any district.

VI. Condition of Agricultural Stock.—Condition of the live-stock was fair. Cattle-disease was found to be prevalent in parts of the districts of Jessore, Burdwan, Bankura, Midnapore, Darjeeling, Malda, Dacca and Noakhali.

VII. Failure of Pasturage and Fodder.—The fodder supply continued deficient in Bankura, Dinajpur, Bogra and in Brahmanbaria subdivision of Tippera.

VIII. Prices of Food Grains.—During the second fortnight of the month under review the price of rice rose in fourteen districts, fell in four and remained stationary in the rest, prices varying from 6 seers and 8 chitaks at Birbhum to 9 seers 8 chitaks at Rangpur.

IX.—Condition of Agricultural People.—The general condition of the agricultural population continued fair. Distress was, however, apprehended in Bankura owing to partial failure of winter paddy. Preliminary measures of relief were arranged for.

DISTRICT REPORTS ON WEATHER AND CROPS.

For the week ending on the 20th February 1919.

Summary.—During the week rainfall was general all over the western districts, but elsewhere the fall was light. The recent rain has improved the prospects of standing crops, especially in the western districts, and has facilitated preparatory tillage for autumn crops. Sowing of jute, autumn paddy and millet has commenced in some districts of Eastern Bengal. Harvesting of oilseeds, potatoes and other spring crops continues. The average price of common rice for the province has risen by 1·63 per cent. as compared with that of the previous week. Distress continues to prevail in Bankura and in the Brahmanbaria subdivision of Tippera where 1,549 and 238 persons, respectively, resorted to test-works. Agricultural loans are also being distributed. Gratuitous relief is being given to 1,021 persons in Bankura only.

PART VI.

Bills introduced in the Indian Legislative Council, Reports of Select Committees presented to the Council and Bills published under Rule 23.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

The following Bill was introduced in the Indian Legislative Council on the 19th February, 1919 :—

No. 5 of 1919.

[The bracketted figures in the margin refer to the corresponding sections of the existing Act.

A Bill to consolidate and amend the law regulating the importation, possession and sale of poisons throughout British India.

WHEREAS it is expedient to consolidate and amend the law regulating the importation, possession and sale of poisons throughout British India ; It is hereby enacted as follows :—

Short title and extent.

1. (1) This Act may be called the Poisons Act, 191 .

(2) It extends to the whole of British India, including British Baluchistan and the Sonthal Parganas.

Power of the Local Government to regulate possession for sale and sale of any poison.

2. (1) Subject to the control of the Governor General in Council, the Local Government may by rule regulate within the whole or any part of the territories under its administration the possession for sale and the sale, whether wholesale or retail, of any specified poison.

(2) In particular, and without prejudice to the generality of the foregoing power, such rules may provide for—

(a) the grant of licenses to possess any specified poison for sale, wholesale or retail, and the fixing of the fee (if any) to be charged for such licenses ;

(b) the classes of persons to whom alone such licenses may be granted ;

(c) the classes of persons to whom alone any such poison may be sold ;

(d) the maximum quantity of any such poison which may be sold to any one person ;

(e) the maintenance by vendors of any such poison of registers of sales, the particulars to be entered in such registers, and the inspection of the same ;

(f) the safe custody of such poisons and the labelling of the vessels, packages or coverings in which any such poison is sold or possessed for sale ; and

(g) the inspection and examination of any such poison when possessed for sale by any such vendor.

[4.] 3. The Governor General in Council may, by notification in the Gazette of India, prohibit except under and in accordance with the conditions of a license the importation into British India of any specified poison, and may by rule regulate the grant of licenses.

Power to prohibit importation into British India of any poison except under license.

[5.] 4. (1) The Local Government, with the previous sanction of the Governor General in Council, may by rule regulate the possession of any specified poison in any local area in which the use of such poison for the purpose of committing murder or mischief by poisoning cattle appears to it to be of such frequent occurrence as to render restrictions on the possession thereof desirable.

Power to regulate possession of any poison in certain areas.

(2) In making any rule under sub-section (1), the Local Government may direct that any breach thereof shall be punishable with imprisonment for a term which may extend to one year, or with fine which may extend to one thousand rupees, or with both, together with confiscation of the poison in respect of which the breach has been committed, and of the vessels, packages or coverings in which the same is found.

[2 (3) and 6 (2).] 5. Any substance specified as a poison in a rule made or notification issued under this Act shall be deemed to be a poison for the purposes of this Act.

Presumption as to specified poisons.

[7.] 6. (1) Whoever—

Penalty for unlawful importation, etc.

(a) commits a breach of any rule made under section 2, or

(b) imports into British India without a license any poison the importation of which is for the time being restricted under section 3, or

(c) breaks any condition of a license for the importation of any poison granted to him under section 3, shall be punishable,—

(ii) on a second or subsequent conviction, with imprisonment for a term which may extend to six months, or with fine which may extend to one thousand rupees, or with both.

(2) Any poison in respect of which an offence has been committed under this section, together with the vessels, packages or coverings in which the same is found, shall be liable to confiscation.

7. (1) The District Magistrate, the Sub-divisional Magistrate and, in a Presidency-town, the Commissioner of Police, may issue a warrant for the search of any place in which he has reason to believe or to suspect that any poison is possessed or sold in contravention of this Act or any rule thereunder, or that any poison liable to confiscation under this Act is kept or concealed. [8.]

Power to issue search warrants.

(2) The person to whom the warrant is directed may enter and search the place in accordance therewith, and the provisions of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898, relating to search-warrants shall, as far as may be, be deemed to apply to the execution of the warrant. V of 1898.

8. (1) In addition to any other power to make rules hereinbefore conferred, the Governor General in Council, or, subject to the control of the Governor General in Council, the Local Government, may make rules generally to carry out the purposes and objects of this Act. [9.]

Rules.

(2) Every power to make rules conferred by this Act shall be subject to the condition of the rule being made after previous publication.

(3) All rules made by the Governor General in Council or by the Local Government under this Act shall be published in the Gazette of India or the local official Gazette, as the case may be, and on such publication shall have effect as if enacted in this Act.

9. (1) Nothing in this Act or in any license granted or rule made thereunder shall extend to or interfere with anything done in good faith in the exercise of his profession as such by a medical or veterinary practitioner. [10.]

Savings.

(2) Notwithstanding anything hereinbefore contained, the Local Government may in its discretion by general or special order declare that all or any of the provisions of this Act shall be deemed not to apply to any article or class of articles of commerce specified in such order or to any poison or class of poisons used for any purpose so specified.

(3) The authority on which any power to make rules under this Act is conferred may, by general or special order, either wholly or partially—

(a) exempt from the operation of any such rules, or any person or class of persons either generally or in respect of any poisons specified in the order.

(b) exclude from the scope of the exemption provided by sub-section (1)

10. The Poisons Act, 1904, is hereby repealed. I of 1904.

Repeal of Act I of 1904.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

THE Poisons Act of 1904 was intentionally limited in scope so as to restrict interference with legitimate industries as much as possible. As the result of these limitations, however, the control afforded by the Act over the traffic in poisons has been proved by experience to be inadequate. In 1910 and 1914, the Government of the United Provinces suggested certain radical amendments in the Act to remedy this defect. The suggestions were referred to Local Governments and Administrations for opinion. The replies received showed a general agreement in favour of the suggestions of the Government of the United Provinces.

2. A new Bill has accordingly been prepared which will repeal the Poisons Act of 1904. The more important features of the Bill are :—

(1) The substitution of a single clause (clause 2) for sections 2, 4 and 6 of the existing Act with the object of empowering Local Governments to regulate the possession for sale and the sale, whether wholesale or retail, of any specified poison anywhere within their respective territories, instead of in municipalities and cantonments only.

(2) An expansion of the provisions of sections 3 and 5 of the Act so as to make them cover, not only white arsenic, but any poison specified in notifications or rules issued in accordance with those sections. (Clauses 3 and 4.)

(3) The exclusion of the classes (b), (c) and (d) mentioned in section 10 (1) of the Act with the effect of reducing the number of exempted classes to one, viz., medical and veterinary practitioners.

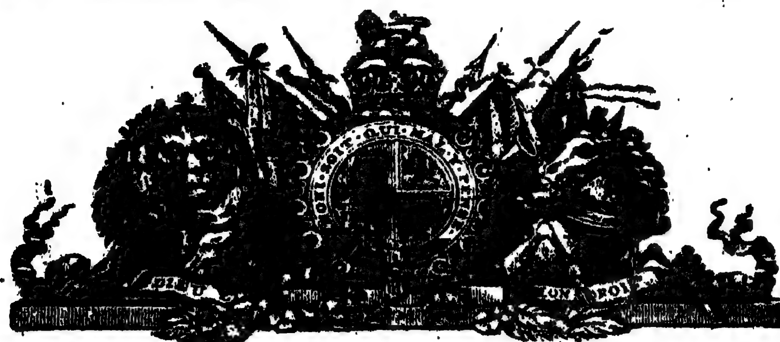
(4) The addition of a clause [clause 9 (3) (b)] empowering Government to exclude individual members of the exempted class (i.e., medical and veterinary practitioners) from the benefit of the exemption conferred by section 10 (1) of the Act.



The opportunity has also been taken to make some verbal alterations in the Act; and section 11, which is spent, has been omitted.

To—The Commissioner of the Burdwan Division.

WITH reference to your letter No. 57T—J.E., dated the 22nd January 1919, reporting that Babu Hari Kissen Rathi and Babu Narmal Bajoria of the town of Bankura have jointly contributed Rs. 17,000 towards the construction of a Dharamsala in that town, I am directed to request that you will be so good as to convey to the donors the thanks of Government for their liberality and public spirit.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, BENGAL.

Second Forecast of the Wheat Crop of Bengal, 1918-19.

(Note.—On an average of the five years ending 1916-17, the area under wheat in Bengal has represented some 0·4 per cent. of the total area under wheat in India. The ratio of irrigated wheat acreage to total wheat acreage in (a) British India and (b) in the territory now reported on, has in the five years ending 1916-17, averaged (a) 41·1 and (b) 16·7 per cent., respectively.)

Character of the season.—The weather conditions have been unfavourable for this crop owing to the prolonged drought which prevailed from the end of September till the middle of January. The rainfall in January, however, has improved the situation to some extent but has come too late to ensure a normal crop.

Area sown.—The total area under wheat, according to the estimates of District Officers, amounts to 110,600 acres, against 124,200 acres and 124,000 acres shown in the second and final forecasts, respectively, of last year.

Outturn.—According to the estimates of District Officers the Provincial outturn works out at 52 per cent. of the normal, against 70 per cent. reported in the corresponding forecast and 69 per cent. in the final forecast of last year. As stated above, the low outturn is due to lack of soil moisture at sowing time and subsequent drought.

Director of Agriculture, Bengal.

APPENDIX I.

Second Forecast of the Wheat Crop of Bengal, 1918-19.

District.	Approximate normal area under the wheat crop in acres.	Approximate area under wheat last year (1917-18).	Estimated area under wheat this year (1918-19).	Taking 100 to represent the normal, what would be the average outturn per acre cropped.		Date by which the sowing generally commenced this year and whether that date was early, normal or late.	Remarks by District Officers.
				Last year.	This year.
	Acres.	Acres.	Acres.
Nadia	23,100	13,800	9,400	67	25	Last part of October to end of November, Generally late.	The decrease in area as compared with the area of last year was due to want of rain at sowing time. The weather has not been favourable. Considerable damage has been caused by drought especially in Ranaghat subdivision and Nakashipara thana. The outturn is likely to be much below the normal.
Murshidabad ...	69,300	31,200	23,600	67	42	October to November. Late in Jangipur and Kandi.	The decrease in area compared with last year is due to unfavourable weather conditions. About half the crop has been damaged by continued drought, but the recent rain has improved the prospects. The outturn is anticipated to be 42 per cent.
Jessore ...	2,200	1,100*	1,100*	75	58	October. Normal	The weather has not been favourable. About 42 per cent. of the crop has been damaged by continued drought.
Burdwan ...	2,000	2,000*	2,000*	83	58	End of October to end of November.	The weather was unfavourable up to middle of January owing to drought. The recent rain has done some good to the crop and has improved the condition of the crop.
Birbhum ...	5,000	4,100	4,100	83	67	November. Normal.	The weather conditions have not been favourable owing to continued drought since sowing time. About 33 per cent. of the crop has been damaged by drought. But since the rainfall in January, the prospects have improved.
Bankura ...	3,600	3,600*	3,600*	83	75	Last week of November. Normal.	Owing to prolonged drought, the crop suffered till January. Since then the prospects have improved owing to rainfall.
Midnapore ...	1,200	1,200*	1,200*	100	70	November. Normal.	The crop has suffered much for want of rain, but the recent rains, however, have proved beneficial. The outturn is expected to be much below the normal for want of timely rain.
Hooghly ...	2,400	1 700*	1,700*	50	50	November. Late	The weather has not been favourable for want of timely rain. About half the crop has been damaged by drought.
Rajshahi ...	8,500	7,800*	6,500	70	60	End of November. Normal.	The decrease in area was due to want of rain at sowing time which injuriously affected the crop The outturn is also therefore anticipated to be much below the normal.
Dinajpur ...	1,000	1,400*	1,300	52	41·4	By the end of October. Normal.	The weather has not been favourable owing to want of rain since sowing time, but the recent rain has improved the prospects to some extent. The outturn is therefore expected to be much below the normal.
Jalpaiguri ...	800	500	500	75	85	By the end of November. Normal.	The weather has not been favourable. Owing to continued drought the crops in many places are in poor condition, but the rainfall at the end of January has improved the prospects.
Darjeeling ...	4,500	2,500	2,500	100	100	Last week of September.	The weather has been favourable and a normal outturn is anticipated.
Rangpur ...	8,000	3,400*	3,400*	100	80	November. Normal.	The weather has been fair. The outturn is expected to fall below the normal owing to want of rain in September and October.
Pabna ...	16,000	12,000	12,000	70	50	Middle of November. Normal.	The weather was favourable for cultivation but defective rainfall since October retarded the growth of the crop. About half the crop has been damaged by drought. Since the submission of the first forecast the weather has been favourable.
Malda ...	60,000	35,000	35,000	60	50	End of October. Normal.	The prolonged drought up to the middle of January had a very injurious effect on the crop and considerable damage in the shape of poor yield is likely to be caused. The falling off in outturn below the normal is due to stunted growth brought on by drought and unfavourable weather. There has been a slight rain since the submission of the first forecast which has improved the condition of the crop to some extent.
Faridpur ...	2,700	2,700*	2,700*	82	89	Beginning of November. Normal.	The weather has not been favourable. The outturn is expected to fall below the normal owing to want of rain
Total ...	205,400	124,000	110,600	6	52

Second Forecast of the Spring Oilseed crops of Bengal, 1918-19.

(Note.—On an average of the five years ending 1916-17 the area under linseed in Bengal has represented some 5·2 per cent. and that under rape and mustard 20·5 per cent. of the total area under these crops in British India.)

Area sown.—Oilseeds are grown chiefly in the Rajshahi, Dacca and Presidency Divisions. In the other two divisions, the area is small. The estimated area under these crops (excepting sesamum for which separate forecasts are issued) for this year amounts to 1,301,100 acres, against 1,328,300 acres and 1,333,500 acres reported, respectively, in the corresponding and final forecasts of last year.

Character of the season.—As reported in the First Forecast, although the weather was favourable for preparatory tillage, there was a general deficiency of soil moisture at sowing time. The continued absence of rain in the months October-December has thus been badly felt in most districts. The January rainfall, although beneficial, has come too late to ensure a normal outturn, the deficiency all over being roughly about one-third.

Outturn.—According to the estimates of District Officers the Provincial outturn of the different oilseed crops works out at 66 per cent. of the normal, against 82 per cent. in the corresponding forecast of last year.

Director of Agriculture, Bengal.

APPENDIX I.

Second Forecast of the Spring Oilseed Crops of Bengal, 1918-19.

District.	Name of spring oilseed crops.	Estimated normal area under spring oilseeds.	Estimated area under spring oilseeds.		Taking 100 to represent the normal, what would be the average outturn per acre cropped.		Date by which the harvesting generally commenced this year, and whether that date was early, normal or late.	Remarks by District Officers.
			Last year (1917-18).	This year (1918-19).	Last year.	This year.
		Acres.	Acres.	Acres.
24-Parganas ...	Linseed	1,600	600*	600*	100	83
	Rape and mustard	1,500	800*	800*	108	75	December to February. Normal.	The weather has not been favourable for want of timely rain which has caused some damage and the outturn is therefore anticipated to be below the normal.
	Other oilseeds (excepting til).	300	300	300	83	83
	Total ...	3,400	1,700	1,700	101	79

	Rape and mustard	23,500	14,600	14,400	42	33	January to February.	The decrease in area as compared with last year was due to drought at the time of sowing and the increase as compared with the first forecast is due to revision. The weather has not been favourable Damage has been caused by drought which has reduced the outturn considerably.
	Other oilseeds (excepting til).	18,900	3,500	3,300	50	33
	Total ...	98,100	52,800	49,900	48	33
Murshidabad	Linseed	20,800	14,700	13,000	67	50	Harvesting not yet commenced except mustard in Lalbag at the end of January.	The decrease in area under linseed and other oilseeds as compared with the first forecast is due to revision of figures. The weather has not been favourable owing to continued drought, which has caused damage to the crops by about 49 per cent.
	Rape and mustard	18,900	13,200	12,300	75	50
	Other oilseeds (excepting til).	8,700	3,500	3,100	75	58

	Rape and mustard	49,600	19,600	18,000	58	67	January. Normal	The weather has not been favourable. The outturn has fallen below the normal owing to damage caused by drought. This year's area under different crops has been revised after careful checking.
	Other oilseeds (excepting til).	3,300	1,600	1,900	50	50
	Total ...	76,900	30,800	29,300	63	68
Khulna ...	Linseed	900	200	100	92	81	End of January. Normal.	The weather has not been favourable. The outturn is expected to fall below the normal for want of timely rain.
	Rape and mustard	29,700	19,500	18,700	100	92	End of December. Normal.
	Other oilseeds (excepting til).	100	500	500	100	100	Not yet commenced.
	Total ...	30,700	20,200	19,300	100	92
Burdwan ...	Linseed	22,500	11,200	7,700	83	67	Not yet begun ...	The decrease in area as compared with last year is due to drought. The weather has not been favourable. The drought has affected the growth of the crops and has caused some damage. The outturn is likely to be much below the normal.
	Rape and mustard	21,100	14,700	8,100	75	58	End of January.
	Other oilseeds (excepting til).	1,500	800	100	75	42	Not yet commenced.

RESOLUTION No. 348Edn.

READ—

Letter No. 526, dated the 21st December 1917, from the Director of Public Instruction, Bengal, forwarding a copy of the report of the sub-committee of the Governing Body of the Civil Engineering College, Sibpur, on the training of mechanical engineers in Bengal.

(1) Letter No. 543, dated the 25th April 1918, from the Agent, East Indian Railway.
(2) Letter No. 4381C., dated the 22nd August 1918, from the Agent, Eastern Bengal Railway.
(3) Letter No. 11561, dated the 27th August 1918, from the Agent, Bengal-Nagpur Railway.

THE question of improving the present method of training mechanical engineers in Bengal has for some time been under the consideration of the Governing Body of the Civil Engineering College, Sibpur, which in 1917 appointed a sub-committee to consider the whole question. The sub-committee submitted a report in which it was pointed out that at present there are two different systems of training. Under one a youth enters Sibpur college at the age of 16 or 17 and studies there for four years after which he undergoes a year's practical training in the college workshops. Under the other system a youth at the age of 15 or 18 becomes apprenticed for five years to a railway or other workshop, during which period he obtains a somewhat meagre amount of theoretical instruction in part-time classes. "The one system", they remark, "turns out a college product with little practical experience, while the second turns out a practical man with insufficient theoretical education." The sub-committee proposed that the advantages of the two systems should be combined by selecting the best boys from the workshops after four years' training and sending them to Sibpur for a two years' course. The sub-committee's proposal briefly was to co-ordinate the work of the Sibpur College with the schemes for the training of apprentices now to be found in connection with railway and other workshops. It was suggested that a definite educational standard should be laid down as a condition of admission to apprenticeship, that an admission examination, should be held twice yearly by the Principal of the Sibpur college, and in order that the education of the apprentices might be maintained during apprenticeship, that the technical institutes attached to railway workshops should be utilised and developed. Other questions which received consideration were the revision of the college courses, the reorganisation of the teaching staff, the provision of hostels for apprentices in railway workshops. the establishment of mechanical institutes and the grant of stipends to apprentices in recognised workshops.

2. As the scheme of the sub-committee depended upon the co-operation of the railway companies, the Governor in Council consulted the agents of the East Indian, Bengal-Nagpur and Eastern Bengal Railways on the proposals contained in the report. The replies received show that the agents are divided in their views as to the merits of the scheme, and at present the Eastern Bengal Railway alone is prepared to co-operate in it.

In these circumstances, before passing orders on the scheme, the Governor in Council has decided to refer it for consideration to a Committee consisting of the following gentlemen :—

1. The Hon'ble Sir R. N. Mukerji, K.C.I.E., President.
2. The Hon'ble Sir Nilratan Sarkar, Kt.
3. Mr. C. D. M. Hindley, Deputy Agent of the East Indian Railway.
4. Mr. H. H. Spalding of the Eastern Bengal Railway.
5. Mr. W. H. Everett, Superintendent of Industries and Inspector of Technical and Industrial Institutions, Bengal.
6. Mr. B. Heaton, Principal of the Civil Engineering College, Sibpur, Secretary.

3. The Committee will consider and advise Government as to the arrangements that should be made to afford selected mechanical apprentices in the Eastern Bengal Railway workshops an opportunity of taking advantage of the courses at Sibpur College in order to obtain a higher specialised training in subjects bearing on their work, the arrangements being based on the general lines of the recommendations contained in the report of the sub-committee. The scheme recommended should, if possible, be such that it may be directly applicable also to other workshops, the authorities of which may desire to participate in it, and it should have regard to the requirements of Indian as well as European apprentices.

ORDER.—Ordered that the resolution be published in the Calcutta Gazette, that copies with copies of the report of the sub-committee, and of the replies received from the agents of the railways consulted, be forwarded to the President and members of the Committee, and to the Director of Public Instruction, Bengal, for information.

By order of the Governor in Council,

L. S. S. O'MALLEY,

Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

DISTRICT REPORTS ON WEATHER AND CROPS.

For the week ending on the 27th February 1919.

Summary.—During the week light rainfall in some places. Ploughing of fields and harvesting of spring crops continue. Sowing of jute and autumn paddy has commenced in the Eastern Bengal districts. The prospects of standing crops are generally reported to be unfavourable. The average price of common rice for the province has risen by about 0·28 per cent. as compared with that of the previous week. Distress prevails in Bankura and in the Brahmanbaria subdivision of Tippera. In Bankura agricultural loans are being distributed and gratuitous relief is being given to 1,305 persons. The number of persons attending test-works in Bankura and Tippera amounts to 2,005 and 449, respectively.

DEPARTMENT OF STATISTICS, INDIA.

CALCUTTA TRADE FLUCTUATIONS.

The following tables are intended to show the trade by all routes, i.e., by rail, river, canal, road, and sea, of the Calcutta Block* in certain selected articles during the months of April to December, 1918, as compared with the corresponding period of 1917 and 1916. The statistics have been compiled from returns furnished by the Collector of Customs, Calcutta, Railway Audit Offices, Steamer Companies, the Commissioners for the Port of Calcutta, the Collectors of the 24-Parganas and Howrah, and the Assistant Engineer, Calcutta Canals.

General Summary.

Imports.—The imports of rice, including paddy†, into Calcutta* by rail, river, canal, road, and sea (coastwise) during the months of April to December, 1918, amounted to 10,902,000 maunds as against 9,031,000 maunds in the corresponding period of the preceding year,—an increase of 21 per cent. There was an increase (11 per cent) in the imports of coal and coke (63,798,000 maunds as against 57,671,000 maunds last year). The value of the imports by rail, river, road, and sea (coastwise) of Indian cotton piece goods showed an increase of 53 per cent, the total value amounting to Rs. 4,37,00,000 as against Rs. 2,86,37,000 in 1917. The quantity of indigo imported during the months of April to December, 1918, decreased by 3,100 maunds, or 18 per cent, to 14,000 maunds. The imports of raw jute amounted to 4,005,000 bales as against 3,286,000 bales,—an increase of 22 per cent. The importations of gunny bags also showed an increase of 11 per cent (351 million bags as against 315 millions in the preceding year). The total imports of oilseeds (linseed and rape and mustard seed) increased by 77 per cent from 3,360,000 maunds to 5,956,000 maunds. The imports of tea decreased by 9 per cent from 2,851,000 maunds to 2,579,000 maunds.

Exports.—The exports of cotton piecegoods, foreign, from Calcutta* by all routes during the months of April to December, 1918, decreased by 2 per cent (Rs. 17,88,73,000 as against Rs. 18,22,56,000 last year). The exports of gunny bags (including the exports by sea to foreign countries) decreased from 1,053 million bags to 999 million bags, but the shipments of gunny bags to other Indian ports increased from 17 millions to 27 millions in number in the period under review. The quantity of kerosene oil despatched from Calcutta and Budge-Budge by internal routes and by sea (coastwise) decreased from 4,278,000 maunds to 3,693,000 maunds, or by 14 per cent.

* The Calcutta block consists of the town of Calcutta with Howrah and Kidderpore Docks.
† One maund of paddy is equivalent to 25 seers of rice.

NOTIFICATION.

No. 1109J.—The following draft of the additions to and modifications of the existing by-laws of the District Board of Dacca (vide this office Notification No. , dated the 4th May 1914, at pages 911-915 of the Calcutta Gazette), which have been made by the District Board under sections 139 and 140 of the Bengal Local Self-Government Act of 1885 (Bengal Act III of 1885), and which the Commissioner of the Dacca Division proposes to confirm under clause (2) of section 139, is published for the information of persons likely to be affected thereby.

2. The draft will be taken into consideration on the 15th of April 1919 and any objection or suggestion received by the undersigned, through the District Magistrate of Dacca, before that date, will be considered.

Draft Additional By-laws.

Definition.

1. (5) A public khal includes a water channel in which the public have a right to navigate during the whole or any part of the year.

Obstruction in a public khal.

31A. No person shall set up any obstruction in any public khal so as to interfere with navigation therein whether by erecting any fence or other structure or in any other way.

Explanation.—The spreading of fishing nets fixed on bamboo structures leaving sufficient space on either side for passage of boats is not included in in the word "obstruction" as used in this by-law.

Disposal of water hyacinth.

31B. Any person having possession of or control over any land or water on or in which there exists any water hyacinth shall, if so required by a notice in writing signed by the Chairman or Vice-Chairman of the District Board, a Local Board or a Union Committee or by the District Engineer, destroy or remove such water hyacinth within the period mentioned in such notice.

Provided that such notices—(a) shall be issued simultaneously for the whole of an area to be defined by the District Board, a Local Board or a Union Committee and bounded by rivers or large khals; and (b) shall not be issued oftener than once a year.

Fouling water of reserved public khal.

31C. No person shall steep hides, jute or any offensive matter in any public khal or in any part thereof which has been reserved for the supply of water for drinking, culinary or bathing purposes, by a notification signed by the Chairman or Vice-Chairman of the District Board or a Local Board or a Union Committee and published in the locality by a beat of drum, nor foul the water of the same in any other manner.

Draft amendments to existing by-laws.

By-law 1.—In sub-clause (2) for the sentence "which the District Board has set apart under section 90" substitute the sentence "which has been set apart under section 90 or section 118A (3)" of the Bengal Local Self-Government Act of 1885 and in sub-clause (4), after the words "District Board or Local Board" in the two places where they occur insert the words "or Union Committee."

By-law 4.—After the word "road" insert the words "or any public khal" and after the words "District Board or a Local Board" insert the words "or a Union Committee."

By-law 14.—After the words "District Board or a Local Board" insert the words "or a Union Committee."

By-law 34.—After the words "vested in" add the words "or under the control of" and after the words "District Board" insert the words "or a Local Board or a Union Committee" and also after the words "Dak Bungalow" add the words "or any School or other house" and after the words "District Board or a Local Board" insert the words "or a Union Committee."

By-laws 35, 38 and 39.—Insert the words "or a Union Committee" after the words "District Board or a Local Board."

By-law 37.—Substitute the following "Explanation" for the "Explanation" contained in the existing by-laws:—

"Explanation.—Steeping hide, jute, bamboo or any offensive matter in a reserved tank or well is on offence against this by-law."

By-law 42.—After the words "section 90" insert the words "section 118A (3)."

By-law 44 (1).—To the by-laws, breach of which is punishable with a maximum fine of ten rupees, add by-laws No. 31A, 31B and 31C.

By-law 44 (2).—Substitute the following for the existing by-law:—

"(2) A continuing breach of by-laws 2 (2), 4, 5 (2), 7 (2), 8, 9, 10, 28, 31A or 31C shall be punished with a further fine which may extend to two rupees in the case of breach of by-laws 31A or 31C or to five rupees in other cases, for every day during which the breach is continued after the offender has been convicted of such breac! ."

TELEGRAPHS.

The 1st March 1919.

No. 1931-D.—In exercise of the powers conferred by section 7 of the Indian Telegraph Act, 1885 (XIII of 1885), the Governor General in Council is pleased to direct that the following amendments shall be made in the rules published with the notification of the Government of India in the Department of Commerce and Industry No. 6975-137, dated the 16th September 1909, as subsequently amended, namely:—

1. For rule 18 the following rule shall be substituted, namely:—

"18. Language, etc.—The text of private telegrams may be in plain language, in code language, or in cipher or partly in one and partly in the other:—

(a) Plain Language is that which offers an intelligible sense in English, or in any foreign language, or in any of the vernacular languages subject to the conditions of rule 17.

(b) By "Telegrams in Plain Language" is understood those of which the text is written entirely in plain language. Nevertheless, the presence of code addresses, exchange quotations, commercial marks, letters representing the signals of the International Code of Signals employed in maritime telegrams, of abbreviated expressions currently used in ordinary or commercial correspondence such as rsvp, fob, cfi, cif, caf, svp, c-o, b-l, mo, vpp, am, pm, % or any other analogous expressions, the meaning of which is understood at the office of origin, does not alter the character of a telegram in plain language.

(c) If in telegrams in which the text is written entirely in plain language, any single word or authorised compound contains more than 15 characters according to the Morse alphabet, the excess is counted separately as one word.

(d) Code Language is that which is composed of words which do not form intelligible phrases in one or more of the languages authorised for telegraphic correspondence in plain language. The words, whether genuine or artificial, must be formed of syllables capable of pronunciation according to the current usage of one of the following languages:—

English, French, German, Italian, Dutch, Spanish, Portuguese or Latin. Artificial words must not contain the accented letters ä, á, a, é, ñ, ö ü. Genuine vernacular words are also admissible.

(e) Words in code language must not contain more than 10 characters according to the Morse alphabet (Rule 17), the combinations ae, aa, ao. oe, ue, being counted as two letters each. The combination "ch" is also counted as two letters in artificial words.

(f) Combinations, which do not fulfil the conditions of clauses (d) and (e), are considered as belonging to letter cipher language [clause (g)] and charged accordingly. Compounds composed of two or more words in plain language, combined contrary to the usage of the language are not admitted. (See also rule 51 et seq.)

(g) Cipher language is that which is composed—

(1) Either of Arabic figures or groups or series of Arabic figures having a secret meaning, or of letters (excluding the accented letters ä, á, a, é, ñ, ö, ü), groups or series of letters having a secret meaning.

(2) Of words, names, expressions or combinations of letters not fulfilling the conditions of plain language [clauses (a), (b) and (c) or of code language [clauses (d) and (e)].

(h) The employment in one group of figures and letters having a secret meaning is not admitted. It is desirable to avoid the use of letter cipher, as far as possible, as it is less easy to transmit than pronounceable groups of letters, and is, therefore, more liable to error. In cases where it is necessary to employ letter cipher it should be arranged in groups of five letters in order to facilitate transmission.

(i) The groups referred to in clause (b) are not considered as letter cipher, i e., as letters having a secret meaning.

(j) Words in plain language inserted in the text of a mixed telegram, i.e., a telegram composed of words in plain language and words in code language, must not contain more than ten characters according to the Morse alphabet, and any excess is counted separately as one word in each case.

(k) If the mixed telegram contains, in addition, cipher language, the passages in cipher are counted according to the stipulations of rule 55.

(l) If the mixed telegram is composed only of passages in plain language and of passages in cipher language, the passages in plain language are counted according to the stipulations of clause (c) and the passages in cipher language according to those of rule 55.

(m) The address or sender's name in telegrams of which the text is written wholly or partly in code language is charged according to the stipulations of rule 53 and clause (c).

(n) Registered abbreviated addresses are treated as plain language [clause (c)] when occurring in the address or as the sender's name in both plain and code language telegrams and also in the text as plain language telegrams. When in the text of a code language telegram, they are treated according to clause (j).

2. For rule 37 the following rule shall be substituted, namely :—

"37. Language.—The text of State telegrams may in all cases be composed of secret language (i.e., code and cipher), but a combination in the same telegram of figures and letters, having a secret meaning, is not admitted."

NOTE.—The receipt side of the account should show ordinary revenue separately from extraordinary receipts. Receipts from loan or deposit or the investments of sinking funds, as well as items of an abnormal character, e.g., large grants (other than ordinary for schemes of local improvements, should be shown separately from ordinary revenue. On the expenditure side interest on debt and any payment to a sinking fund should be included in ordinary expenditure, but all expenditure from loan funds and repayment of advances, and deposits as well as expenditure from large grants (other than ordinary) for schemes of local improvements should be shown separately. In column 21 a full explanation should be given of all important variations, if any, in the amount of revenue and expenditure. Further details should be given as required on reverse.

In addition to the details required on the reverse clear information should be given below under the following heads :—

(a) If the ordinary surplus is insufficient to meet the charges of the proposed loan, the particular steps which the municipality has taken, or has agreed to take, in order to make good the difficiency.	(a) Rupees 3,000 invested in war loan payable in 1922 is sufficient to make good the deficiency.
(b) The reserve of taxation or other possible means of increase in the revenues of the municipality.	(b) Revenue may be increased by giving makrari settlement of some municipal lands.
(c) A statement of all outstanding loans, specifying in respect of each loan, the date when taken, the purpose (very briefly), the amount, the annual charges involved, and the amount still payable.	(c) Nil.
(d) Any explanations in regard to receipts and expenditure to show the true financial position of the municipality when such position is otherwise than the ordinary surplus would indicate.	(d) Normal surplus shows the true financial position of the municipality.

CALCUTTA UNIVERSITY.

NOTICE.

THE undermentioned subject is fixed for the theses for the Onauthnauth Deb Research Prize in Law for the year 1921 :—

Scope and Purpose of Sociological Jurisprudence.

The prize which is annually awarded for the promotion of research in law consists of a gold medal worth Rs. 250 and Rs. 750 in cash. The medal is presented to the recipient at the Annual Convocation.

Each candidate for the prize for the year 1921 is required to submit, not later than the 30th of November 1920, a thesis or record of original work in the subject specified above and to send three typewritten or printed copies of his thesis or record of work to the Registrar under a distinguishing motto. The name of the candidate must also be forwarded at the same time in a sealed envelope with the motto outside.

Every candidate is further required to indicate generally in a preface to his thesis, and specially in notes, the sources from which his information is taken, the extent to which he availed himself of the work of others, and the portions of the thesis he claims as original. He is also required to state whether his research has been conducted independently, under advice, or in collaboration with others, and in what respects his investigations appear to him to tend to the advancement of knowledge.

The competition for the prize is open to all persons who have at any time been admitted to a degree in the University.

Chittagong, the 30th January 1919.

A. H. CLAYTON, Collector.

Advertisement of Sale.

NOTICE is hereby given that the undermentioned plot of land, no longer required by Government, situated along the Eastern Bengal Railway, in the district of Nadia, will be put up to sale at 12 o'clock on the 28th March 1919, corresponding with the 14th Chaitra 1325 B. S., at the Magistrate's Office, Nadia.

The purchasers of the plot of land will be subject to the following conditions :—

1st.—The purchasers will have no power to make any excavations on the land nearer than fifteen feet from the railway boundary, or to plough the land nearer than three feet from the same.

2nd.—If the amount of purchase-money does not exceed Rs. 100, the whole amount must be paid down at once.

3rd—If the amount of purchase-money exceed Rs. 100, one-fourth of the amount must be immediately deposited. If the balance be not paid by noon of the fifteenth day after the sale, reckoning the day of sale as one, or if that day be a close holiday, then by noon of the first succeeding office day, the sale shall be cancelled, the sum deposited being forfeited to Government, and the lot again put up for sale at the risk of the defaulting purchaser, after issue of advertisement, as in the case of original sale.

4th.—The plot of land will be sold revenue-free to the highest bidder.

5th.—The sale will become final on receipt by the Collector of the orders of the Commissioner confirming it, and a regular conveyance will then be granted to the purchaser.

Consecutive lot number.	Name of district.	Pargana and mauza.	Number of mile on which land is situated.	Situated on which side of the railway.	Approximate area of lot in acres and decimals.	Boundary of the lot.

Notice.

THE Bengal and Madras Service Family Pension Fund which is provisionally managed and assisted by Government has for its object the provision of monthly pensions for the maintenance of the widows and children of subscribers and is open, with certain exceptions, to all active and pensioned members of the Uncovenanted Service of Government (except those serving under the Government of Bombay), and to Local Fund servants earning pensions from Government. Some of the special features of the Fund are—(1) that widowed daughters incapable of remarriage or children labouring under such mental or bodily infirmities as incapacitate them from earning their livelihood or preclude the possibility of marriage (in case of a daughter) are admitted to its benefits; and (2) that subscribers to the Widows' and Daughters' branches are entitled to a refund of 30 per cent. of the premia paid, should the nominees predecease them after five years of admission. The Fund is now of ten years' standing and has a balance of over three and-a-half lakhs with Government on four per cent. interest. For forms of applications and rules of the Fund apply to the Comptroller, India Treasuries. Imperial Secretariat Buildings, Calcutta.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

LIST OF BUSINESS—ITEM No. 2.

The following questions which had been starred were put and answered :—

By the Hon'ble Babu Ambika Charan Mazumdar:—

(a) Is it a fact that an Assistant Master in the Faridpur Zila School has been continuously officiating for five years without being confirmed in his appointment, although several vacancies occurred during this period? The case of an Assistant Master of the Faridpur Zila School.

(b) Is it a fact that on two or three occasions this Assistant Master was recommended by the Headmaster, by the managing committee of the school and its Magistrate-President, as well as by the Divisional Inspector of schools, but a Muhammadan was selected?

(c) Is it a fact—

(i) that the Muhammadan gentleman so appointed did not stick to the post or did not join at all; and

(ii) that on the last occasion, although the officiating Assistant Master was again recommended, another Muhammadan gentleman who is an outsider, was appointed, but has not yet joined the post or given the school authorities any information as to his intentions?

(d) Do the Government propose to confirm the Assistant Master in his officiating appointment?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. O'MALLEY :—

" (a) Babu Satyapada Lahiri, to whom the question apparently refers, has been officiating in temporary and permanent vacancies since 1914. He has not yet been confirmed in any post.

(b) On two occasions, in 1915 and 1917, he was recommended for appointment to two permanent vacancies in the school, but as the number of Muhammadan teachers in the school was disproportionately small (only 2 out of 15), the appointment of Muhammadans to these vacancies was considered proper.

(c) (i) It is not a fact so far as the vacancy in 1915 is concerned.

(ii) Two Muhammadans were successively appointed to the vacancy caused in 1917, both of whom failed to join.

(d) Babu Satyapada Lahiri is now officiating in place of a permanent teacher who has been deputed for training. His permanent appointment in connection with the vacancy last mentioned is under the consideration of the Director of Public Instruction."

Congregation of sadhus and sannyasis at Jagannath Ghât

(a) For what length of time since the establishment of British rule in Calcutta have the sadhu and sannyasi mendicants been congregating at Jagannath Ghât on the bank of the river Hooghly in the town of Calcutta, and especially during the season of Poush Sankranti, with a view to a pilgrimage to Gangasagar?

(b) Is it a fact that these people are considered holy by the generality of the Hindu community?

(c) Were any complaints made to the police, regarding the behaviour of these persons, by any Hindu who had occasion to use this bathing ghât on the 3rd or 4th January, 1919?

(d) Is it a fact that alms are freely given to these people on such occasions and that no objections have ever been made to their congregating on the top platform of the ghât?

(e) Did Sub-Inspector Galloway of the Port police on or about the 4th instant arrest about a hundred sadhus, including female sannyasinis, at this ghât where they had been waiting for boats to carry them to their place of pilgrimage in Saugor Island?

(f) Were these pilgrims prosecuted before a magistrate on charges of obstructing a public thoroughfare and of begging for alms and was the prosecution subsequently withdrawn?

(g) Is it true that some of these sadhus were slapped and kicked, and had their cooked food spoilt and that the idols of sadhus—Damodar Giri, Kishenji and Harihar Giri—had been maimed and broken?

(h) Are the Government considering the desirability of placing a Hindu police-officer on duty at such pilgrim ghâts?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. KERR:—

"(a) The practice has prevailed for many years.

(b) Yes.

(c) No

(d) Alms are freely given to these people. No objections to their congregating on the top platform of the ghât have been brought to the notice of Government.

(e) The arrests were made, not at the ghât, but on the Port Commissioners' land above the ghât. The number of pilgrims proceeding to Saugor Island was unusually large this year, and on the occasion referred to, the Port police had to deal with over 25,000 persons who had congregated at the Jagannath Ghât and on the Port Commissioners' land above it and refused to obey any orders, with the result that traffic was practically suspended. In order to restore order, a certain number of arrests were then made at the urgent request of the Port Commissioners.

(f) No. The Deputy Commissioner, Port police, discharged the accused.

(g) The Deputy Commissioner, Port police, was present throughout, but no complaints of this nature were made to him.

(h) A Hindu officer is now in charge of the section which includes the Jagannath Ghât."

111.

(a) With reference to the communiqué issued by the Controller of Cotton Cloth from Bombay on the 30th January, 1919, and published in the Calcutta papers on the following day, will the Government be pleased to state whether the prices of dhoties, saris and shirtings now ruling in Bengal are not higher than what the poorer class of people in this province can afford to pay? High price of cloths.

(b) What are the rates at which such articles of clothing are being sold in this cold season to the poorer class of people in Calcutta and in the interior of the province?

(c) Do the Government get periodical statistics from district officers as to the ruling prices of such goods, as in the case of rice? If not, why not?

(d) Have the Government of Bengal drawn the attention of the Government of India during the past six months to the state of the Calcutta cloth-market in this respect and moved that Government to put the provisions of the Cotton Cloth Act, 1918, into operation for the benefit of Bengal and for supplies of standard cloth in this province, as the Governments of Bihar and Orissa, the United Provinces and the Punjab have done?

(e) When can this province expect supplies of such standard cloth and at rates similar to those fixed by the Controller for the other provinces?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. DONALD :—

"(a) The prices of dhoties, saris and shirtings are undoubtedly high compared with pre-war prices, and the poorer classes must be feeling the effects. It is to be noted, however, that the prevalence of abnormally high prices is common to most parts of the world, as the result of the war, the consequent decrease of production, difficulties of freight and the diminished purchasing value of money.

(b) A statement showing retail prices in Calcutta for the month of January is laid upon the table. The prices in the interior vary from place to place.

(c) Government get weekly statistics of the prices of various cloths from all district officers.

(d) Government have been in communication with the Government of India and the Controller of Cotton Cloth on the subject. For the answers to the latter part of (d) and (e) the Hon'ble Member is referred to the statement which will be made in connection with the resolution on the same subject which will be moved at the present Council meeting."

Statement referred to in the answer by the Hon'ble MR. DONALD to question No. III (Starred), asked by the Hon'ble RAI DEBENDER CHUNDER GHOSE BAHADUR at the Council meeting of the 18th February, 1919, showing the retail prices in Calcutta for certain classes of cloth in common use.

Municipal Administration of Serampore and Bansberia.

(a) With reference to Bengal Government Resolution No. 287 M., dated the 27th January, 1919, will the Government be pleased to state—

(i) what measures, if any, are proposed to be taken to set right the present municipal administration of Serampore and Bansberia in the Hooghly district; and

(ii) whether Government asked the several District Magistrates of the Dacca and Chittagong Divisions for explanations regarding their negligence in not making the usual inspections of the several municipal institutions in their districts?

(b) If so, will the Government be pleased to lay on the table the several explanations as rendered by them?

(c) If no explanations have been asked for, can the Government give any reason for such remissness on the part of the district officers?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. O'MALLEY :—

"(a) (i) It is the duty of the municipal commissioners to reform the administration. A reference on the subject is being made to them.

(ii) The answer is in the negative.

(b) This question does not arise.

(c) In the absence of explanations, Government are not in a position to ascribe reasons."

High Court decision in the case of the Secretary of State vs. the Maharajadhiraja Bahadur of Burdwan.

(a) Has the attention of Government been drawn to the recent decision of the Calcutta High Court in the case of the Secretary of State vs. the Maharajadhiraja Bahadur of Burdwan, reported in 22 C. W. N., p. 872, that chars formed in non-navigable rivers are not resumable under Bengal Regulation XI of 1825?

Questions and Answers.

(b) Are the Government aware that in many small and non-navigable rivers in the Mymensingh district such chars formed after the survey settlements of 1851-52 are being resumed and assessed?

(c) If so, are the Government considering the desirability, in view of the above decision, of stopping further proceedings in these resumption cases and of releasing those lands which have already been resumed?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. McALPIN :—

" (a) The decision of the Calcutta High Court referred to by the Hon'ble Member is under appeal before the Privy Council. The effect of the decision has not however been correctly stated in the question.

(b) Government have no definite information, but understand that revenue is being assessed on such accretions as are resumable under the Bengal Regulations.

(c) No."

By the Hon'ble Rai Mahendra Chandra Mitra Bahadur:—

VI.

Industrial surveys and improvement of industries.

(a) Is it a fact that industrial surveys were undertaken by the Government of Bengal at various times?

(b) If so, has anything definite resulted from any of these surveys?

(c) Is it a fact that none of these surveys was made by officers with a technical knowledge of industry?

(d) Is there any appropriate organization of specialised experts for the improvement of the industries of Bengal?

(e) Has any substantial advance been made to remedy the deficiencies, if any, after the appointment of the Director of Industries, Bengal, and what definite progress has been made in the development of industries after this appointment?

(f) What steps, if any, are the Government contemplating to improve the local industries?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. DONALD :—

" (a) Yes, noticeably by Messrs. Collin, Cumming, J. N. Gupta, Swan and Ascoli.

(b) The general improvement of technical education and particularly the appointments of a Superintendent of Industries and of a Government School of Weaving (with an expert as its Principal) may be taken as definite results of these surveys, while action was also taken towards the provision and extension of State scholarships for industrial education.

(c) Yes.

(d) Except the organisation provided by the Indian Munitions Board, of which the encouragement of local industries is a prominent object, there is no organisation of specialised experts. There is however an expert at the head of the Government School of Weaving, and there are experts in the Forest and Agricultural Departments, while an expert has been engaged as chemist to the research tannery now being established in Calcutta.

Questions and Answers.

(e) The Director of Industries, almost as soon as he was appointed, was made Controller of Munitions for Bengal, and his activities have been largely directed to the fostering of such local industries as were of immediate value in relieving the war situation. Much has been done in that way as explained in a speech delivered by His Excellency on the 15th November last. A further and fuller account of some of the results achieved can be found in the Indian Munitions Board hand-book, a new edition of which is shortly to be published.

(f) Government are awaiting a pronouncement from the Government of India on the Report of the Industrial Commission before undertaking the development of the Department of Industries, but such development is regarded as one of the important needs of the province at the present time."

VII.

Expenditure on irrigation works.

(a) Will the Government be pleased to state the amount of money spent this year in each of the various districts of Bengal on irrigation works and the nature of the work done in each district?

(b) Are the Government considering the advisability of spending more money on irrigation for the benefit of the raiyats from the next year?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. COWLEY :—

" (a) The irrigation works in Bengal are—

(i) The Midnapore Canal,
(ii) The Eden Canal, from which areas in the districts of Midnapore, Burdwan and Hooghly are irrigated.

The amount provided for expenditure in the revised budget of the year 1918-19 is as follows :—

	Rs.
Extensions and improvements	1,600
Maintenance and repairs (The nature of these works are such as are found necessary for maintaining the canals in an efficient con ition for purposes of navigation and irrigation)	87,000
Revenue establishment, which is necessary to be maintained for collection of irrigation water-rates and navigation tolls	33,000
Engineering establishment	19,000
Tools and plant and Refunds	17,200
The total expenditure will amount in the year 1918-19 to ...	1,57,800

On the Eden Canal—

	Rs.
Minor improvements	8,500
Maintenance and repairs	19,800
Revenue establishment	3,676
Engineering establishment	6,024
Tools and plant	350
Total ...	38,350

Questions and Answers.

(b) The only new irrigation work now under consideration by this Government is the Damodar Canal Project. The project was submitted to the Government of India in the year 1915 and was received back with a note by the Inspector-General of Irrigation in 1917 for further consideration. In 1917-18 further surveys were taken up and continued in 1918-19. All the necessary data have now been collected and the project is being revised in accordance with the more recent instructions by the Inspector-General of Irrigation. During the year a provision of Rs. 4,430 has been made for expenditure on necessary surveys and this amount will be spent during the current year. In regard to future expenditure, this will depend on the sanction by the Secretary of State. As far as can be foreseen at present, the cost will be sixty lakhs."

Are the Government considering the advisability of observing the day of Saraswati Puja as a closed holiday in the Bengal Secretariat and its attached offices, so far as the attendance of Hindu assistants is concerned? Saraswati Puja holiday.

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. DONALD :—

" The day of the Saraswati Puja is a public holiday under the Negotiable Instruments Act. The Bengal Secretariat and its attached offices are therefore closed for that day. Such urgent work as the exigencies of Government service make imperative is done as far as possible with non-Hindu assistants."

UNSTARRED QUESTIONS.

(Answers to which were laid on the table.)

By the Hon'ble Khan Sahib Aman Ali:—

(a) Are the Government aware that in the month of February, 1918, a general election was held in the Kalna subdivision for the constitution of the Kalna Local Board? General election for the constitution of the Kalna Local Board.

(b) Is it a fact that a list of voters was prepared by Babu Ashutosh De, Circle Officer of Kalna?

(c) Is it a fact that the list of 1914 prepared by the same officer contained electors whose number was nearly double of those in the list of 1918 and that a large number of qualified electors was deprived of their franchise?

(d) Is it a fact that the circle officer struck off about half the number of names of electors sent to him by the President of the panchayat without giving any reason?

(e) Is it a fact that in the case of the Purbasthali chaukidari union, and especially the village Chopi, a large number of new names was put in the current list?

(f) Is it a fact that a large number of qualified electors applied to the District Magistrate for the inclusion of their names in the list, and that the applications were sent to the circle officer for disposal, who rejected nearly 90 per cent. of the petitions without inquiry?

(g) Is it a fact that in the Manteswar thana the circle officer is alleged to have used undue influence with some of the applicants who insisted on their right to exercise their franchise?

Questions and Answers.

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. O'MALLEY :—

" (a) The answer is in the affirmative.

(b) The officer's name is Babu Ashutosh Deb.

(c) There were 7,796 voters on the register in 1914 and 4,411 on the revised register prepared in 1918. A special inquiry has been made in four unions and it has been found that a considerable number of persons qualified to vote were omitted from the register in the latter year.

(d) It is reported that no names were sent up by the President Panchayat.

(e) The number of persons entered in the register fell from 286 to 201 in Purbasthali union and from 72 to 51 in Chopi village.

(f) Five petitions asking for the entry of 57 persons on the register were presented to the District Magistrate. They were sent to the Circle Officer not for disposal but for inquiry and report, and the District Magistrate himself passed orders on receipt of his report.

(g) Government have no information as to the allegations."

(a) Are the Government aware that the forest officers of the Chittagong Hill-tracts require an entry fee (double if not paid at the time of entering) from every person, including those serving there, who take forest produce, etc., for domestic use?

(b) Is it a fact that the forest rules require that entry passes need only be obtained in the case of persons wishing to enter the forest for the purpose of cutting or purchasing forest produce for export?

(c) If so, are the Government considering the desirability of directing the Divisional Forest Officer not to insist on entry passes except in the case of persons who are dealers in the above produce?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. McALPIN :—

" (a) The rule is as follows :—

'Persons wishing to enter the Chittagong Hill-tracts either for the purpose of cutting forest produce in the reserved or unclassed State forests (except those who go to cut sunn grass in the Government kholas) or for the purpose of purchasing from the hillmen forest produce, for export to the Chittagong Collectorate, must apply for an entry pass at one of the Forest Department toll-stations, and pay the prescribed fee of 8 annas per head.'

If this rule is infringed an offence is committed. Double entry-permit fees are not demanded, but offenders generally prefer to compound their offence by paying an additional 8 annas rather than go to Court.

Local residents of the Hill-tracts are not however required to take out entry-permits.

(b) The correct rule has been quoted above.

(c) No change in the existing rules regarding entry-permits is at present under the consideration of Government. The fact that entry fees have to be paid was taken into consideration when the existing schedule of rates for forest produce in the Hill-tracts was drawn up."

(a) Will the Government be pleased to state whether it is the practice in the divisional offices of the Public Works Department and in the various district boards and municipalities to confine the call for tenders among only a limited number of contractors? Call for tenders by the Public Works Department, district boards and municipalities.

(b) Is it a fact that the late Executive Engineer of the Dacca Division made a departure from this practice by openly advertising, in newspapers and otherwise, for tenders from any contractor who satisfied certain conditions, including the making of a deposit?

(c) Is it a fact that the construction of large public buildings, such as the Mitford Hospital, has been undertaken by contractors at rates much below the Public Works rates?

(d) If the answer to clauses (b) and (c) above be in the affirmative, will the Government be pleased to state whether the works were satisfactorily done by these outside contractors?

(e) Are the Government considering the desirability of directing that all tenders of the Public Works Department and local bodies should henceforth be openly advertised for in newspapers and otherwise?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. COWLEY :—

"(a) The Hon'ble Member is referred to the reply given by the Hon'ble Mr. O'Malley to a question on the same subject at the meeting of this Council held on the 26th November, 1918, from which it will be seen that the general practice of the Public Works Department and of local bodies is to call for tenders publicly, the degree of publicity varying with the importance of the work.

(b) and (c) The Executive Engineer, Dacca Division, followed the general practice and in the particular case referred to, viz., the reconstruction of the Mitford Hospital, received tenders at rates varying from $2\frac{1}{2}$ to $7\frac{3}{4}$ per cent. below the estimated rates. Such a result occurs frequently.

(d) Works in the Dacca Division are being satisfactorily carried out under the supervision of the officers of the Department by contractors who reside in the neighbourhood.

(e) As a result of certain recommendations contained in the Report of 1917 of the Public Works Department Reorganization Committee and in accordance with the conclusions thereon arrived at by the Government of India, the attention of all Public Works Department officers has again been drawn to the desirability of widely advertising for tenders with a view to the further encouragement of private enterprise in regard to the execution of Public Works."

(a) With regard to the method of distribution of the seed of Kakya Bombai jute and Indrasail paddy, referred to in paragraph 13 of the last annual report on Agriculture, will the Government be pleased to state how far the expectations of the Department have been realised in this matter? Supply of seeds of jute and paddy to cultivators.

Questions and Answers.

(b) What arrangements are there to ensure that the growers, to whom the packets and bags of seed are ultimately supplied, follow the directions given by the Department for reserving the resulting crop for seed next year?

(c) How many cultivators have been so supplied with seeds, and in what areas?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. MCALPIN :—

" (a) The system of distribution has proved an effective method of distributing new varieties in the districts and has rendered it possible to give the cultivators of all the districts in East and North Bengal an equal chance of growing the seed instead of only those who live near the Central Farms.

(b) This depends on the people themselves; but every endeavour is made by the district staffs of the Department to see that the people understand the principles underlying the seed distribution.

(c) A statement is laid on the Library table. 165,076 cultivators have been supplied with Kakya Bombai jute seed and 25,688 with Indrasail paddy."

1	Adequate waterway for the District Board road and railway across the river Banar.	5th August, 1914	Accepted ...	By a Notification No. 10 (Irrigation Department) of the 9th August, 1915, the Bengal Irrigation Act, 1876 (III of 1876), was extended to take effect in the district of Mymensingh. By a subsequent Notification No. 12 (Irrigation Department) of the 16th August, 1915, the Governor in Council was pleased, in exercise of the power conferred by section 40 of the Bengal Irrigation Act, 1876 (Bengal Act III of 1876), to prohibit the formation of any bund or other obstruction to free passage of drainage water within that portion of the river Banar about 2 miles in length, lying within the villages of Joyrampur, Hamidpur and Syampur in thana Jamalpur, pargana Pukharia, in the district of Mymensingh. By a Notification No. 16 (Irrigation Department) of the 12th October, 1915, the Governor in Council was pleased to declare that the Chairman of the District Board of Mymensingh shall ex-officio exercise the powers and perform the duties of a Canal Officer under sections 41 and 42 of the said Act, within the limits of that portion of the Banar river in the district of Mymensingh which was declared as a drainage course under section 40 of the said Act by Notification No. 12. The District Board of Mymensingh undertook to remove the District Board road which had been constructed across the river near its intake from the old Brahmaputra and to clear the obstructions in the river-bed in that portion of the river which had been declared a drainage course and to construct a bridge to carry the road over the river. This work was completed in May, 1916. Similarly the India General Navigation and Railway Company's railway line which is worked by the Eastern Benga Railway was opened up and a bridge constructed to carry the railway line across the river ; this work was completed in January, 1916.

2	Connecting Barisal with Calcutta by rail.	5th August, 1914	Accepted ...	After the acceptance of the resolution in Council, the construction of a broad gauge railway between Khulna and Barisal was recommended to the Government of India; but, when detailed project had been examined, the Governor in Council came to the conclusion that there were serious objections to the scheme as it would interfere with the natural drainage and sanitary conditions of the country. The Government of India accepted the considered views of the Government of Bengal and the scheme was abandoned. This fact was intimated to the Hon'ble Babu Kishori Mohan Chaudhuri in reply to the question put by him in the Legislative Council on the 26th November, 1918.
3	Improvement of the Port of Chittagong.	Ditto ...	Ditto ...	Since the acceptance of these two resolutions, the Government of India (Railway Board), at the instance of this Government, appointed Sir George Buchanan, K.C.I.E., to advise on the engineering works and improvements necessary to make the Chittagong Port suitable for accommodating ships of the largest class and to outline the expenditure the provision of these works would involve. The Report by Sir George Buchanan has been received by this Government and the Commissioners for the Port of Chittagong have now been asked to prepare a comprehensive and detailed programme of works (including the purchase of any dredger or dredgers). This programme will show the total expenditure required, the number of years over which the expenditure should be spread and the amount the Port Commissioners hope to be able to finance from their own resources, in order to enable this Government to decide on the share of financial burden which it can properly undertake and to press on the Government of India the claims of the Port for adequate financial assistance. During the current year, 1918-19, the Port Commissioners have received a Government grant of Rs. 2,50,000, and the Government of India have promised a grant of Rs. 4 lakhs for the next year, 1919-20, for the construction of revetments which are immediately required. Effect has been given to the suggestion in the resolution (No. 3) regarding the improvement of railway communication between the Port of Chittagong and the Eastern districts of Bengal, made by the Hon'ble Babu U. L. Roy, particularly in reference to the construction of a line between Bhairab and Netrakona; for the Mymensingh-Bhairab Bazar Railway (including the Bhairab-Netrokona section) has since been constructed and opened for traffic.

5	Encouragement of small home industries in Bengal.	3rd March, 1915	Accepted ...	Government had at that time before them Mr. Swan's report on which such action was taken as is described in the next item Mr. Ascoli was later deputed to report more particularly on cottage industries. Since the resolution was accepted 128 industrial co-operative societies have been created. As soon as the provincial department of industries is organised as a result of the Indian Industrial Commission's Report the encouragement of home industries will be one of the early subjects which the Director of Industries will investigate.
6	Establishment of Industrial Co-operative Societies in various districts.	Ditto ...	Ditto ...	The Co-operative Department has been stimulating the formation of industrial societies throughout the Presidency as much as possible. A Deputy Collector has been placed on special duty and five inspectors have been appointed in connection with these societies. The number of such societies has risen to 124.
7	Dissemination of agricultural and economic knowledge.	Ditto ...	Ditto ...	The Agricultural Department are sparing no pains to further the object of the Resolutions as far as practicable.
8	Encouragement of agricultural farming, dairy farming, fruit farming and fruit preserving as a profession in life.	Ditto ...	Ditto ...
9	Establishment of a City Civil Court in Calcutta.	7th April, 1915	Carried by a division.	This resolution was passed by a narrow majority, non-officials only voting. His Excellency in Council took opinions in the matter from the High Court and public bodies and, in view of the divergence of opinions as to the need of such a Court, has determined to take no further action at present.
10	Industrial development of Bengal	26th July, 1915	Accepted.	In addition to the steps already taken as described in the Hon'ble Mr. Beatson Bell's speech of the 26th July, 1915, Government have appointed a Director of Industries through whose activities as Controller of Munitions considerable impetus has been given to certain of the industries of Bengal. Further, Government have sanctioned industrial co-operative societies and have encouraged and helped the Bengal Home Industries Association. The factors which prevented Government from giving effect to some of Mr. Swan's recommendations were first the war and secondly the appointment of the Industrial Commission, the report of which was then awaited.

11	Amendment of Court of Wards Act, 1879.	27th March, 1916	Accepted ...	The resolution recommended that early steps might be taken to obtain official and non-official opinion on the advisability of amending the Court of Wards Act, 1879, with a view to extend its provisions to protect and bring under the direct management of the Court the properties of minor children of deceased tenure-holders and other disqualified members among such tenure-holders. The Board of Revenue was asked to consult Commissioners of Divisions, experienced district officers and managers under the Court of Wards and to furnish Government with an expression of opinions in the matter. Thirteen private gentlemen and eight associations were also asked to express their opinion. Their opinions were received and considered by Government. No action was considered necessary.
12	Provision for kanungos discharged for stoppage of survey and settlement operations.	7th August, 1916	Ditto ...	The resolution recommended that steps might be taken to make provisions as far as possible for kanungos who had been thrown out of employment owing to the stoppage of fresh survey and settlement operations in Bengal A list of the kanungos thrown out of employment was forwarded to all Departments of the Secretariat, to all Commissioners of Divisions and to all heads of Departments with the request that applications from the kanungos might receive careful consideration in connection with all classes of appointments for which they might be qualified. A list of such of the kanungos as were considered suitable for employment as Civil Court Commissioners was forwarded to all District Judges. A list of such of the kanungos as were considered suitable for employment as collectorate kanungos was forwarded to the Commissioners of Divisions. 77 kanungos were thrown out of employment altogether. As the result of the steps taken by Government on the resolution— 7 kanungos got permanent appointments as Sub-Inspectors of Police. 1 kanungo as Sub-Registrar. 1 kanungo as Inspector, Co-operative Societies. 2 kanungos as collectorate kanungos. 56 came back to the Department, when it was decided not to wait till the end of the war before taking up the Bankura and Jessore settlements. Of these about 15 had been found temporary miscellaneous posts in various offices during the interval.

15	Damage by floods in certain areas in Burdwan district.	13th December, 1916.	Accepted ...	In accepting the resolution the Hon'ble Sir Nicholas Beatson Bell briefly drew attention to the methods which Government had decided to adopt in dealing with the question of the floods of the Damodar river; as regards the Ajai the Hon'ble Member stated that Government have not at present got a complete programme. Since 1917-18 the programme of works for disposal of the Damodar floods has been in progress and out of the five items of work in the main programme four have been started, viz.— (i) the improvement of the Hoorhoora Khal; (ii) the retirement of the Baxi Khal embankment at the Rupnarain end and the widening of the Khal; (iii) the construction of a channel from Kharia on the Gaighatta Khal to join with the Ghesapatty Khal; (iv) the declaration of certain areas under section 6 of the Embankment Act. Of these (iii) and (iv) have been completed and (i) and (ii) are in progress; there still remains one project to be taken up, viz., the excavation of an escape channel from the 38th mile of the Chetua Circuit Embankment to the 5th mile of the Rupnarain Embankment. The field work of this project has not yet been finally completed, but it will be ready when money is available for carrying it out. In regard to the protection of the area lying between the Ajai and Kunur, the embankments on the south of the Ajai have been strengthened and raised, and one large breach at Sagarputul at the junction of the Schedule D Embankment with the Zamindari Embankment is now being closed. The expenditure incurred on these works and other works for the mitigation of the effects of the floods in these rivers has been as follows :— Rs. In 1917-18 ... 2,36,338 In 1918-19 up to 31st January, 1919 ... 1,08,824 The total probable expenditure of the year is estimated at „ 2,50,000 A sum of Rs. 3,16,000 has been provisionally provided in the budget estimate of 1919-20 for the continuation of these works. Investigations for a proposed flood controlling reservoir in the valley of the Barakar river have been completed and designs and estimates for the work are under preparation. A copy of a note on the preliminary stage investigations was placed on the table in the Library at the meeting of the Legislative Council held on the 3rd July, 1918. A sum of Rs. 20,000 has been provisionally provided in the budget estimates of 1919-20 for a continuation of similar investigations in the basin of the Damodar river.

16	Gumti floods	23rd January, 1917.	Accepted ...	In February, 1917, the Government addressed the Commissioner of the Chittagong Division requesting him to ascertain if His Highness the Raja of Hill Tippera is willing to have a modification of the agreement of 1878, so that in future Government may undertake direct responsibility for the embankments which have hitherto been maintained by him. In November, 1917, the Commissioner of the Chittagong Division was requested to instruct the Collector of Tippera to take action under section 7(1) of the Bengal Embankment Act, II of 1882, with respect to the embankments on either side of the Gumti river within the estate of the Raja of Hill Tippera. The report of the Commissioner of the Chittagong Division under section 14 of the Act is awaited. Further action will be taken on receipt of his reply.

21	Enactment of an Impartible or Inalienable Estates Act for Bengal or of an amendment of the Bengal Settled Estates Act.	19th February, 1918.	Accepted ...	The resolution recommended that early steps might be taken to obtain official and non-official opinion on the advisability of an enactment of an Impartible or Inalienable Estates Act for Bengal or of an amendment of the Bengal Settled Estates Act, so as to make it more attractive to the classes for whose benefit the Act was intended. Commissioners of Divisions were asked to ascertain what important families in their Division were subject to the law of primogeniture, to ascertain from the heads of those families as to the need for legislation, to obtain general public opinion on the subject, to make specific recommendations for new legislation or the amendment of the Bengal Settled Estates Act and to submit a report through the Board of Revenue. Eighteen private gentlemen and eight associations were also asked to express opinion. Replies have been received and are under consideration.

23	The formation of a new Public Works Department division to be called "the Damodar Embankment and Drainage Division."	Ditto ...	Accepted ...	The Hon'ble Member in charge of the Public Works Department portfolio pointed out that it must be made clear that it is not possible, owing to the insufficiency of staff, to say that the division will be formed at the beginning of the next official year or even during the currency of the war. The insufficiency of staff still exists, and it is not known when the Department will be restored to its full strength, but proposals have been formulated and worked out for the establishment of a new Irrigation division and a redistribution of the work in the two divisions now styled the Northern Drainage and Embankment Division and the Circular and Eastern Canals Division. These proposals will require the sanction of the Government of India. It is at present intended that the new division will have its head-quarters at Khulna, and the present Northern Drainage and Embankment Division will then be reconstituted as the "Damodar Embankment and Drainage Division".

Sanitary measures at Saugor mêla and outbreak of epidemics.

(a) Will the Government be pleased to state what sanitary measures, if any, were adopted at the last Saugor mela so as to prevent the outbreak of epidemics among the pilgrims?

(b) When did the Government first come to know of the outbreak of cholera among the pilgrims of the last Saugor mela, and what precautionary measures have since been taken by the Government to check the spread of the disease?

(c) Will the Government be pleased to state the number of deaths from cholera—

(i) at Saugor Island during the recent Saugor mela; and (ii) at Calcutta, amongst the pilgrims who returned therefrom?

(d) Will the Government be pleased to state—

(i) what arrangements for drinking water were made by the steamer companies on board the steamers carrying the passengers to Saugor Island, and also by Government at the said island;

(ii) the precautions that were taken against the contamination of such supplies of drinking water; and

(iii) the medical arrangements made at Saugor Island, as also on board the steamers plying between Calcutta and that island?

(e) Are the Government considering the advisability of instituting an inquiry into the circumstances of this outbreak at an early date?

(f) Will the Government be pleased to state what steps they propose to take to prevent a recurrence of similar outbreaks on future occasions?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. O'MALLEY :—

" (a) The control of the Saugor mêla is in the hands of the District Board of the 24-Parganas, which sent three of their Sanitary Inspectors under the Vice-Chairman of the Board (who was also present) to supervise the sanitary arrangements. Latrine accommodation comprised 250 to 300 seats; 39 sweepers were engaged for latrine work. The water-supply was derived from two tanks which were fenced with bamboo and reserved for drinking purposes under a police guard; 221 constables were on duty at the mêla. Two other tanks were set aside for bathing and washing utensils, etc. In addition to water from the reserved tanks, some 200 to 300 large jars of water were taken to the mêla for the use of the police and others. The mêla site was laid out on a definite plan with thoroughfares marked on the ground; temporary quarters were erected for the Police and other supervising officers. The whole area was lighted with incandescent lamps. Some temporary sheds were erected for the treatment and segregation of the sick, and a supply of bamboo bedsteads and blankets provided. Hospital work was placed under the charge of a Sub-Assistant Surgeon. For the disposal of the dead, four Doms were provided. In addition to the medical staff provided by the District Board, the Ram Krishna Mission sent three or four medical men, who were also assisted by a number of volunteers. This voluntary organisation did excellent work during the mêla.

(b) The Sanitary Commissioner received intimation on the 17th and at once took action. Telegrams were sent to the Civil Surgeons and District Magistrates of districts through which the main pilgrim routes pass, warning them to take measures against the spread of cholera by returning pilgrims; the Sanitary Commissioners of adjacent provinces were also informed. A Deputy Sanitary Commissioner was deputed to Diamond Harbour and another was sent to consult with the Magistrate of Midnapore with a view to arranging for measures of prevention at Contai and the vicinity. The Railway Companies were addressed and asked to take precautions. Chairmen of municipalities were also communicated with and asked to take immediate steps in case cholera was introduced by returning pilgrims.

(c) (i) and (ii) 9 deaths from cholera occurred at Saugor Island and the Health Officer of Calcutta reports that up to 21st January 217 deaths took place among returned pilgrims in Calcutta.

(d) (i) The attached statement gives the names of the steamers and flats which conveyed pilgrims to and from Saugor Island together with the capacity of the water tanks carried by them. As stated in answer to question (a), there are four tanks on Saugor Island in the vicinity of the mêla ground, and two of these were fenced in with bamboo railings and reserved for drinking purposes, being guarded by police. In addition to this, large jars of water numbering 200 to 300 were taken for the use of the police and others at the mêla.

(ii) The two tanks reserved for drinking purposes were fenced and guarded, as already stated.

(iii) The District Board arranged for a temporary dispensary and hospital in charge of a Sub-Assistant Surgeon and a compounder was arranged for by the District Board. Besides this the Ram Krishna Mission and the Marwari Association sent three or four doctors and a volunteer staff.

As regards medical assistance on board the steamers, those belonging to the India General Steam Navigation Company and Rivers Steam Navigation Company employed three medical graduates and three officers of the Sub-Assistant Surgeon class. The steamers of Messrs. Hoare, Miller & Co. carried three doctors of the Sub-Assistant Surgeon class supplied by the Marwari Association.

(e) Government have called for and are awaiting a detailed report on the outbreak from the Sanitary Commissioner.

(f) No detailed statement as to the measures advisable to prevent a recurrence of similar outbreaks can be given until the report referred to has been received and considered."

(ii) whether agricultural lands in the khas possession of zamindars or talukdars, are being assessed on a basis higher than the prevailing rates of rent in the village;

(iii) whether in the case of such khas lands when let out in barga to others, the value of the produce (which is higher than the prevailing rate of rent) has been adopted as the basis for assessment;

(iv) whether in the case of lands, in respect of which the entries in the record-of-rights show either that no rent is paid by the tenant and accepted by the landlord, or that no rent has been fixed, the valuation for the purpose of assessment of cesses has been generally made much higher than the prevailing rates of rent in the village;

(vi) whether any cesses are being assessed on nullas and halats, which though included in the landlord's khas khatian are used by the public in general?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. MCALPIN :—

" (a) Cess revaluation proceedings are at present in progress in the districts of Bakarganj, Midnapore, Mymensingh, Noakhali, Rajshahi and a part of the 24-Parganas.

(b) (i) Yes, except where the sub-letting is of a temporary nature. The practice referred to is in accordance with the provisions of the Cess Act of 1880.

(a) Have the Government received any representation or scheme from the people of Jessore or from the District Board of Jessore, suggesting the improvement of the water-course of the river Bhairab? Improvement of the water-course of the Bhairab.

(b) If so, have the Government inquired into the possibilities of the proposals contained therein being carried into effect?

(c) What action, if any, do the Government propose to take in regard thereto, and when approximately?

(d) Will the Government be pleased to state whether suggestions for the improvement of water-ways have been received from the people of any other district? If so, what action, if any, do the Government propose to take thereon?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. COWLEY :—

" (a) and (b) Suggestions for the improvement of the water-course of the river Bhairab have been received at intervals during the last half century from the District Board of Jessore and from persons, both official and non-official, interested in the question of the improvement of the rivers of that district. The problem is extremely difficult and complex. Various schemes were submitted by officers of Government between 1865 and 1906 for effecting improvements in the condition of the river. A scheme was worked out in 1906 for draining the bils lying on each side of the river into the main river, and for deepening and straightening the channel of the river below Jessore.

Questions and Answers.

The cost of this scheme was estimated to be ten and a half lakhs.

(c) Government do not propose to take any action on the schemes previously prepared, as it was found that they did not entirely meet all the conditions of the problem. As an outcome of the investigations in the Jessore Drainage Division, a new scheme for the improvement of the river, including the admission of water for flushing from the rivers Matabhanga and Navaganga, is now under preparation, and it is hoped that a portion of the whole scheme will be ready for the consideration of Government in the course of the year 1919-1920. A sum of half a lakh has been included in the budget of 1919-1920 for making a commencement on the project, if it be found practicable as an engineering proposition.

(d) As regards other districts in the Presidency, suggestions for the improvement of waterways therein have been received from various sources. Action has been taken by Government to investigate problems of this nature from the points of view of navigation, sanitation, drainage or agricultural improvement in the districts of the 24-Parganas, Nadia, Khulna, Dacca, Faridpur and Bakarganj; but it is not practicable within the limits of an answer to the present question to give complete information on the subject."

Official and non-official chairmen of district boards.

(a) Have the Government addressed any communication to the different district boards for the purpose of ascertaining which among them desire to have non-official chairmen, and which are desirous of having official chairmen as heretofore?

(c) If the answer to either clause (a) or (b) be in the affirmative, will the Government be pleased to lay on the table the letters which may have been received from the district boards on the subject?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. O'MALLEY :—

" (a) Government are considering the question of extending to other district boards the right of electing non-official chairmen. They have not yet addressed district boards on the subject.

(b) The answer is in the negative.

(c) The question does not arise."

(a) Are there any inequalities in the rates of pay of the ministerial officers of the civil and criminal courts, as between the Eastern and Western Bengal districts? Rates of pay of ministerial officers of civil and criminal courts in Eastern and Western Bengal.

(b) If so, will the Government be pleased to make a statement showing these rates of pay in all the different grades, as obtaining in the two parts of Bengal?

(c) If the answer to (a) be in the affirmative, what are the reasons for this inequality, and are there any proposals for its removal?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. DONALD :—

"(a) Yes.

(b) As to the lower division, the following statement represents the percentage of clerks in different grades. With regard to ministerial officers on pay above Rs. 50 each office is provided for on its own merits.

For District offices in Western Bengal	Rs.	For Judicial Courts in Western Bengal.	Rs.
5 on	50	5 on	50
10 on	45	10 on	45
20 on	40	15 on	40
21 on	35	20 on	35
22 on	30	22 on	30
22 on	25	28 on	25
100		100

For District offices in Eastern Bengal.	Rs.	For Judicial Courts in Eastern Bengal.	Rs.

10 on	45	30 on	40
22 on	40	60 on	30
30 on	35
33 on	30

(c) The principal reason for this inequality is the fact that the scales for Eastern Bengal and Western Bengal were laid down separately while these areas formed parts of different provinces. The question of the revision of pay of all ministerial officers in order to bring the Eastern Bengal districts and the Western Bengal districts into uniformity was considered in 1915, but financial consideration precluded Government from then giving effect to the scheme."

(a) What are the terms and conditions on which probationers are employed in the offices of civil and criminal courts in Eastern and Western Bengal? Employment of probationers in the civil and criminal courts in Eastern and Western Bengal.

(b) Is it a fact that unless the probationers succeed in being appointed to a permanent position within a certain period, they are removed from office?

Questions and Answers.

(c) Is it also a fact that outsiders or officers from other offices are sometimes appointed to permanent positions over the heads of probationers; and that the inability of the latter to secure permanent appointments within the period fixed is sometimes due to such supersessions?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. DONALD :—

" (a) Candidates as probationers must possess certain educational qualifications, must not be over 22 years of age and must produce a certificate of good moral character. Candidates are frequently selected after examination. The pay of probationers in Eastern Bengal is Rs. 15, and in Western Bengal Rs. 10.

(b) The period of probation is ordinarily limited to two years which may be extended to three years at the discretion of the head of the office. This rule is not strictly enforced.

(c) Probationers have the first claim to officiating vacancies in the office to which they are attached, but for permanent vacancies the head of the office has the power of introducing outsiders who satisfy the rules. As a matter of practice, it is believed to be seldom that other than probationers are given permanent vacancies which arise."

Method of touring of certain Government officers of Bankura.

(a) Is it a fact—

(i) that the District Magistrate, the Sadar Subdivisional Officer and the Superintendent of Police of Bankura are in the habit of touring together in the interior of the district in the same motor car;

(ii) that they tour together regardless of the question whether their concerted action is necessary on any particular occasion or not; and

(iii) that in many districts touring on the part of officials consists more in driving than in actual camping?

(b) Are the Government considering the desirability of instituting an inquiry as to how touring on the part of district officials can be attended with a maximum of advantage to the people and with a minimum of cost to the Government?

(c) Will the Government be pleased to lay on the table a comparative statement showing, district by district and year by year, the amount of travelling allowances drawn by District Magistrates and Superintendents of Police in Bengal during the last five years?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. KERR :—

" (a) (i) and (ii) No. The officers named have travelled together in the same motor car only on four occasions since the 1st April, 1918, and on each occasion, reasons of a public nature necessitated their doing so.

(iii) The allegation which is here inferred is of too general a character to permit of an answer as to its accuracy.

(b) The whole question was examined three years ago in connection with the report of the District Administration Committee. The Hon'ble Member is referred to the orders contained in Resolution No. 176 A., dated the 10th January, 1916, which was published in the Calcutta Gazette of the 12th January, 1916. Government do not think it necessary to issue any further orders on the subject at present.

(c) A statement is laid on the table."

Raising of a fund in Bankura for the reception of His Excellency the Governor.

Is it a fact—

(a) that the Sub-Registrar of Bankura realized a subscription for every document presented for registration before him to raise a fund for the reception of His Excellency the Governor of Bengal on the occasion of His Excellency's last visit to Bankura;

(b) that he was asked by the District Magistrate of Bankura to raise subscriptions for the above-mentioned purpose and that he realized subscriptions under his orders; and

(c) that the Munsifs and the Subordinate Judge of Bankura were similarly asked to raise subscriptions from the litigants?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. KERR :—

" The facts are as follows :—

When intimation was received of His Excellency's proposed visit to Bankura, a largely attended public meeting was held and a general reception committee of about 150 members was appointed, including all the leading officials and non-officials. The District Magistrate was elected President of the committee and the sub-registrar was one of the members. One of the resolutions of the meeting was that ' the members of the general committee be requested to raise subscriptions and to send the same to the Honorary Treasurer.' In pursuance of this resolution letters were issued in identical terms by the President of the reception committee to a number of members including the sub-registrar, the secretaries of Bar libraries, the Principal of the College, zamindars, panchayats and others. The subordinate judge and the munsifs were not asked to raise subscriptions. The sub-registrar invited the public with whom he came in contact to subscribe. Out of 95 persons who registered documents while the subscription list was open, 66 subscribed and 29 did not subscribe.

Under the standing orders regarding the participation of Government officers in arrangements for the reception of His Excellency the Governor, they are at liberty to co-operate with non-officials and to preside over or serve on committees formed for the purpose, but they are prohibited from soliciting subscriptions. It has further been laid down that the collection of funds should be left to non-officials to whom it should be made clear that it is entirely optional for the people to subscribe or not. The District Magistrate of Bankura has been informed that his action in issuing an appeal for subscriptions is disapproved by Government."

Apprehended famine in the Bankura district.

Is it a fact that there has been a failure of crops in the district of Bankura, and that there is likely to be a famine in that district?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. MCALPIN :—

" The Hon'ble Member is referred to the Press Communiqué of the 12th February, 1919, which gives the information required relating to the Bankura district. Copies of the same have been sent to the Hon'ble Member and placed on the Library table."

22.

(a) Has the attention of Government been drawn to a certain anonymous correspondence published in the Epiphany (a paper published in Calcutta) of the 18th January, 1919, under the heading " A Conjecture " in which the writer said :— Publication of certain anonymous correspondence on the Epiphany.

" Muhammad himself seems to have been a voluptuous man "?

(b) Are the Government aware that the above writing has wounded the feelings and religious susceptibilities of the Moslem Community?

(c) What action, if any, have the Government taken against the writer and the Editor of the Epiphany in this connection?

(d) If no action has been taken, are the Government considering the desirability of taking such action?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. KERR :—

" The Hon'ble Member is referred to the communiqué issued on the 30th January."

By the Hon'ble Mr. Arun Chandra Singha:—

23.

(a) Are the Government aware that Lord Carmichael, while Governor of Bengal, visited the island of Sandwip, and that His Excellency was pleased to promise that steps would be taken to connect it by telegraphic communication with the mainland? Telegraphic communication with the island of Sandwip.

(b) Will the Government be pleased to state what steps (if any) they have taken to fulfil the promise held out by His Excellency to the people of this island?

(c) If nothing has hitherto been done, will the Government be pleased to state whether they are considering the desirability of establishing a telegraphic communication between this island and the mainland?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. DONALD :—

" (a) Government are not aware that His Excellency Lord Carmichael promised that steps would be taken to connect the island of Sandwip by telegraph with the mainland.

(b) The question does not arise.

(c) As explained by His Excellency the Governor on 6th August, 1918, in response to the addresses presented to him at Noakhali, during the war there were large restrictions on the use of telegraph material. As the situation in this respect has now presumably improved this Government will examine further the merits of a connection between Sandwip and Hatiya and the mainland."

24.

(a) Is it a fact that Civil Assistant Surgeons in Bengal are first taken temporarily and afterwards made permanent in continuation of their temporary services? Temporary services of Civil Assistant Surgeons.

(b) If so, does the temporary period count towards their pensi[on] and promotion?

(c) If not, are the Government considering the advisability of making such temporary service count towards their pension?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. DONALD :—

"In normal times the answer to (a) is in the negative and so questions (b) and (c) do not arise. During the war, however, a certain number of Civil Assistant Surgeons has been recruited temporarily to fill the places of those deputed to military duty Some of these have been confirmed on the occurrence of permanent vacancies, but in respect of their temporary service the answers to questions (b) and (c) are in the negative."

Relief measures in flood-stricken areas.

Will the Government be pleased to state—

(a) what steps have been, or are being, taken in order to give effect to the relief measures foreshadowed in His Excellency the Governor's reply to the memorial presented on the 6th February, 1918, by the inhabitants of the flood-stricken area—

(i) by widening the Rohra khal,

(ii) by connecting the Kana Nadi with the Sarda khal by means of a channel, and

(iii) by widening the Gopimohunpur khal, with a view to drain away the spill of the Damuda;

(b) the nature and extent of the investigations carried on during the last flood season by the Public Works officer placed on the Damuda right embankment at Baikantapur; and

(c) whether, in the event of such investigations proving of considerable value, Government are considering the advisability of undertaking similar trial investigations at some such important centres as Khanakul in the Arambagh sub-division of the Hooghly district?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. COWLEY :—

"(a) (i) The Rohra khal is being surveyed: it is understood that the survey is approaching completion.

(ii) and (iii) The questions of connecting the Kana Nadi with the Sarda khal by means of a channel and of improvement by widening of the Gopimohunpur khal were investigated by Mr. Addams-Williams in April, 1918. As it is not anticipated that any good or stable results will follow the execution of either of these works, the proposals have been dropped.

(b) The inquiries made by the Public Works Department officer posted on the right bank of the Damodar at Baikantapur are confined to the embankment itself. As there was no flood of any magnitude during the year 1918, no observations could be made.

(c) No; Government do not consider any further observations are required at present, beyond those now being made in connection with the Rohra khal."

(a) Is it a fact—

(i) that, in connection with the festival of St. Andrew's Day, the Rev. W. Thomson in the course of a sermon at St. Andrew's Church spoke as follows:— Offending sermon at St. Andrew's Church.

"A low type of religion may simply drive a man into unspeakable mire. An imperfect and incomplete religion, like Islam, may destroy the hope of full intimate personal communion with God, so great and paralysing is the gulf between Allah and the creature He has made, so far is the devotee from the assurance and joy of the Christian, comforted by the spirit 'bearing inward witness that he is God's Son;'"

(ii) that His Excellency the Governor was present when the sermon was delivered; and (iii) that the Reverend gentleman in question receives a salary from public revenues?

(b) (i) Will the Government be pleased to state whether the Press Censor brought this matter to the notice of Government?

(ii) If so, when? and

(iii) What action, if any, have the Government taken in the matter?

(c) If no action has been taken in the matter, are the Government considering the desirability of taking some action in connection with this matter?

(d) If no action is proposed to be taken, will the Government be pleased to state the reasons for not taking any action?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. KERR:—

"(a) (i) This passage appears in the reports of the sermon published in the newspapers, and Government have no reason to believe that they are incorrect.

(ii) and (iii) Yes.

(b), (c) and (d) The Press Censor brought the matter to the notice of Government on the 7th December, but in the opinion of the Local Government there was no occasion for interference on their part, and to that opinion they adhere."

By the Hon'ble Maulvi A. K. Fazl-ul-Haq:—

(a) Has the attention of Government been drawn to a letter published in the Epiphany of the 18th January under the heading "A conjecture" containing the following passage:— Publication of an objectionable letter in the Epiphany.

"Muhammadan world has been no philosopher in the true sense of the word nor has any freethinker born in them. Its founder Muhammad himself seems to have been a voluptuous man and as such he has established such a bad institution. We find not any such attribute in him that were possessed by the two latter. He had no touch of philosophy, and the Quran is but the translation of the Bible, only something altered."?

Questions and Answers.

(b) (i) Has the Press Censor drawn the attention of the Government to this passage?

(ii) If so, when? and

(iii) What action, if any, are the Government taking in the matter?

(c) Are the Government considering the desirability of taking action against the paper under the Indian Press Act, 1910, or the Defence of India Criminal Law (Amendment) Act, 1915, or in any other manner that the Government might be advised?

(d) If no action is proposed to be taken, will the Government be pleased to indicate why writings such as those which have been put in the Epiphany are allowed to pass with impunity?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. KERR :—

" The Press Censor brought the matter to the notice of Government on the 23rd January. For an answer to the rest of the question, the Hon'ble Member is referred to the communiqué which was issued on the 30th January."

Institution of legal proceedings against the Editor of the Epiphany.

Will the Government be pleased to state—

(a) the names of the lawyers who were consulted by the Government for ascertaining whether action under the Indian Press Act, 1910, could not be taken against the Editor of the Epiphany with respect to the matter which appeared in the columns of the paper recently; and

(b) whether the question of taking action against the said Editor under the Defence of India Criminal Law (Amendment) Act, 1915, and the rules made thereunder had been considered by Government; if so, will the Government be pleased to state the decision arrived at together with the reasons for such decision?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. KERR :—

" The Legal Remembrancer and the Advocate-General were consulted. They advised that the publication of the letter would not justify action under the Press Act or under any other Act, or under the Defence of India (Consolidation) Rules, 1915."

By the Hon'ble Maulvi A. K. Fazl-ul-Haq:—

29.

Publication of papers re action taken against the Epiphany.

Will the Government be pleased to lay on the table the papers in connection with the action that they have taken with regard to the writings appearing in the Epiphany containing offensive references to the Hindu and Mussalman religions?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. KERR :—

" The action of Government has been fully explained in the communiqué which was issued on the 30th January, and it is not proposed to lay any further papers on the table."

By the Hon'ble Mr. W. H. H. Arden-Wood:—

30.

(a) Will the Government be pleased to say if anything has been done to give effect to the recommendations of the Board of Management of the Calcutta Commercial Institute regarding the appointment of a Principal? Appointment of a Principal for the Calcutta Commercial Institute.

(b) Has any attempt been made to secure a Principal in India?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. O'MALLEY :—

"(a) and (b) In pursuance of the recommendation of the Advisory Board of the Commercial Institute that a highly qualified Principal should be appointed at once and the post advertised for in India, the Government of India have been requested to move the Secretary of State to sanction the creation of a post for the Principal in the Indian Education Service and to grant permission to this Government to advertise for the appointment in India. No orders have yet been passed on this Government's proposal."

31.

(a) (i) Has the attention of Government been drawn to a letter published in the Epiphany of the 18th January, 1919, headed "A Conjecture"? Publication of an objectionable letter in the Epiphany.

(ii) Are the Government aware that the whole letter as well as some of its passages are offensive to the Muhammadans and insulting to the religion of Islam and its Prophet?

(b) Are the Government considering the desirability of taking some action in the matter?

(c) Will the Government be pleased to consider the desirability of taking action against the publishers of the paper under the Indian Press Act?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. KERR :—

"The Hon'ble Member is referred to the communiqué which was issued on the 30th January regarding this matter."

By the Hon'ble Maulvi Abul Kasem:—

32.

Will the Government be pleased to state— Promotion and appointment of certain officers of the Calcutta Police.

(i) how many officers of the Calcutta Police have been promoted to the rank of Assistant Commissioner in 1918, and how many of them are Muhammadans, Hindus and Christians, respectively;

(ii) the total number of Assistant Commissioners and Superintendents in the Calcutta Police, and how many of them are Muhammadans, Hindus and Christians, respectively;

(iii) how many subordinate officers have been promoted to the rank of Inspector in the Calcutta Police in 1918, and how many of them are Hindus, Muhammadans and Christians, respectively; and

(iv) the total number of Inspectors in the Calcutta Police, and how many of them are Muhammadans and how many of the latter are special officers brought from the Frontier Province for Kabuli guard duty?

Questions and Answers.

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. KERR :—

"(i) Two Inspectors were promoted to the rank of Assistant Commissioner in 1918. One of them was a Hindu and the other a Christian.

(ii) There are ten Assistant Commissioners in the Calcutta Police. Four of them are Hindus and six are Christians. There are now no officers of the rank of Superintendent.

(iii) Four officers were permanently promoted to the rank of Inspector during 1918. Two of them were Hindus and two Christians.

(iv) There are 31 permanent and substantive pro tempore Inspectors in the Calcutta Police. Of these 15 are Christians, 14 are Hindus and 2 are Muhammadans. One of the Muhammadans is a special officer from the North-West Frontier Province, employed on duty in connection with Kabuli emigrants."

By the Hon'ble Maulvi Abul Kasem:—

33.

Promotion of Babu Narayan Chandra Chatarji of the Calcutta Police.

(a) Is it a fact that Babu Narayan Chandra Chatarji, a Sub-Inspector in the Calcutta Police, has recently been promoted to an Inspectorship and that there are Muhammadan officers who are senior to him?

(b) If so, will the Government be pleased to state the educational qualifications of Babu Narayan Chandra Chatarji and of the Muhammadan officers whom he has superseded with the reasons for such supersession?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. KERR :—

"(a) Babu Narayan Chandra Chatarji has recently been temporarily promoted to be Inspector to fill a special appointment as Court Inspector for which special training is necessary. There is one Muhammadan Sub-Inspector who is senior to Sub-Inspector Narayan Chandra Chatarji.

(b) Officiating Inspector Narayan Chandra Chatarji has read up to the B.A. Standard of the Calcutta University, and the Muhammadan officer above him is a graduate (B.A.) of the Allahabad University. Babu Narayan Chandra Chatarji has been promoted temporarily to fill a special appointment for which he has had special training and has shown special aptitude. The Muhammadan officer has, as a matter of fact, not been superseded so far as permanent promotions are concerned, and will ordinarily resume his position above Babu Narayan Chandra Chatarji when both come to be confirmed as Inspectors."

34.

Minimum qualifications for appointment in the Calcutta Police.

(a) Is it a fact that the B.A. degree has been prescribed as the minimum qualification for appointment in the Calcutta Police?

(b) If so, will the Government be pleased to state whether this rule is followed?

Questions and Answers.

(c) Will the Government be pleased to state—

(i) the total number of Sub-Inspectors appointed directly in 1916, 1917 and 1918,

(ii) how many of them were Muhammadans,

(iii) how many of these Sub-Inspectors so appointed were not graduates, and

(iv) how many of these non-graduate Sub-Inspectors are relatives of high officers of the Calcutta Police?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. KERR :—

"(a) The B.A. degree has been prescribed as the minimum qualification for appointment as Sub-Inspector in the Calcutta Police.

(b) Yes.

(c) (i) Twenty-three.

(ii) Five were Muhammadans. In addition, two Muhammadan Sub-Inspectors were appointed on transfer, one from the Bihar and Orissa Police and one from the Army. Other Muhammadan candidates were selected for appointment but failed to pass the medical examination.

(iii) Three of the 23 Sub-Inspectors appointed direct are under-graduates; but they were appointed before the B.A. degree was fixed as the minimum qualification for appointment as Sub-Inspector in the Calcutta Police.

(iv) None of these three under-graduates are related to high officials of the Calcutta Police, but one, a Muhammadan, is a brother of a Sub-Inspector in the Calcutta Police."

By the Hon'ble Maulvi Abul Kasem:—

35.

(a) Is it a fact that a Muhammadan Inspector, Khan Sahib Abdur Rahim, was refused extension of service at a time when the post of Assistant Commissioner was first created, and that he stood first in seniority among all his contemporary Inspectors?

Extension of service of Khan Sahib Abdur Rahim of the Calcutta Police.

(b) Is it also a fact that a Hindu Inspector, Rai Sahib Baidya Nath Mukherji, was promoted to the post of Assistant Commissioner when he was already on extension and that since then he has received further extensions?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. KERR :—

"(a) Khan Sahib Abdur Rahim retired in September 1915 on superannuation pension after he had received three extensions of service. His retirement took place some months before the rank of Assistant Commissioners was first created.

He stood tenth in seniority among the Inspectors at the time of his retirement.

(b) Rai Sahib Baidya Nath Mukharji was promoted to the post of Assistant Commissioner in March 1918. He attained the age of 55 years on the 1st July, 1916, and was given extensions of service for 2½ years in all. He finally retired on the 1st January, 1919."

THE BENGAL VILLAGE SELF-GOVERNMENT BILL, 1919.

The Hon'ble Sir Henry Wheeler moved that the Report of the Select Committee on the Bengal Village Self-Government Bill, 1919, be taken into consideration.

LIST OF BUSINESS—ITEM No. 4.

The Hon'ble Maulvi A. K. Fazl-ul-Haq moved, by way of amendment, that the Bill, as amended by the Select Committee, with the Report of the Select Committee, be republished.

He said :—

"My Lord, in bringing forward this motion, I beg to assure this Council that it is not my intention to delay by even a single day the introduction of a measure which, I can well foresee, augurs well for great improvements in the condition of the rural population of this Presidency. We are all agreed that so far as lessons in self-government are concerned, it is in the villages that the elementary principles must first be learned and that it is by experience in the lowest rungs of the ladder that we can aspire to a higher and higher measure of self-government in this country. It is because, my Lord, I feel the importance of this question that I have ventured to bring forward this motion in order that the public at large may have the fullest opportunity, not merely to discuss the provisions of the Bill. as they now stand, but also in the light of experience and of local knowledge to place before your Excellency's Government such recommendations as will ultimately conduce to the success of this measure. It will be within the recollection of this Council that the Bill was originally introduced on the 4th April, 1918, and, in accordance with the rules, the Bill was duly published and circulated to various public bodies including District Boards, and to various leaders of public life and political thought in this country. A large volume of opinions has been collected when the Bill went into the Select Committee, and there are indications that all these opinions were very carefully considered, and I must say that the Select Committee devoted a good deal of time and labour in order to bring the provisions of the Bill in conformity with the opinions that had been expressed. But when all is said and done, it will at once appear from the list of amendments in the agenda paper that although substantial amendments have been made, the provisions as they stand are far from being satisfactory. There is one matter, for instance, to which I should like to draw the attention of this Council. There was a proposal at first to have a system of circle boards, which would have authority over what was originally thought to be village Committees, and these circle boards to work under the directions of the district boards. The Select Committee has done away with this proposal for having circle boards, the idea being that the work that was proposed to be made over to the circle boards would continue to be done by the present system of local boards. Whether the proposal for having circle boards or whether the suggestion of the Select Committee that it will be better to stick to the present system of having local boards—whether either of these two suggestions represents the considered opinion of the leaders of public thought in this country is a question which I need not discuss. But the fact remains that as soon as we get out of the very narrow area of operations as represented by the village committees, or the union boards, there are difficult and complicated problems which ought to be solved and solved in such a manner that the introduction of a system of self-government may be something like a real substantial measure. Having considered this question from the point of view which I am now submitting before this Council, I find, my Lord, that there are certain difficulties in the way—difficulties which in my opinion can hardly be ignored and which in some respects appear to me to be of a somewhat insurmountable character. I have read some of the opinions, and one comes from a gentleman who occupies the position of a non-official chairman of a district board in this presidency, who thinks that taken all in all the Bill itself is a retrograde measure and ought not to be introduced in this Council. So far as that opinion is concerned, I beg to differ from him: I do not consider this to be a retrograde measure, provided only some amendments perhaps of some substantial nature are made in the provisions of the Bill. But when all these matters are considered it will be seen that the Bill after it has emerged out of the Select Committee has been so thoroughly recast that it is necessary in the interests of all concerned that the public should once again have an opportunity of expressing their views on the provisions of the Bill. It may be said that with all these amendments before us, this Council will have the fullest opportunity of discussing them, and after these discussions it will be time enough to consider whether the law as it stands or as it will stand after the amendments are accepted by this Council, or at least some of them have been accepted, will or will not satisfy the requirements of the case. But, my Lord, it is one thing for Hon'ble Members here in taking part in the debate, which will be more or less of a formal, nature, to suggest amendments, and it is quite another thing for the public at large, who have more time and leisure at their disposal and who have got not only experience but local knowledge to guide them, to put forward suggestions and amendments. Here an amendment will be discussed on the motion of a particular member, and according to the rules of discussion in this Council we will have an opportunity of expressing our views on it, but after all, the suggestions in that case will come from a small number of say 30 to 40 persons, whereas if the Bill is republished the whole country at large or at any rate a large section of the intelligent public who take an interest in public affairs will have an opportunity of considering the provisions of the Bill and of expressing their opinions once more upon it. It may be said that a course like this will entail some delay. I have no doubt that there will be some delay, but I venture to ask, is there any merit in an important measure like this being passed in a hurry? Is there any merit in a measure like this being passed on the 18th February, 1919, or after two or three months? If the country could wait so long, surely it could wait a few months more, particularly when changes of a far-reaching nature are in contemplation. Would it not be better to wait for some time more and find out the trend of public opinion and ascertain in what way the public opinion expresses itself in laying the foundations of a system of self-government in the rural areas of this Presidency? The publication or republication of the Bill is a suggestion which, as far so I have been able to ascertain from the recorded proceedings of this Government, is of a somewhat novel character. It is provided for in the rules—I am referring to rule 46, which provides that any member may move that a Bill which has been amended by the Council, or by a Select Committee, be republished or be recommitted to the Select Committee.

The Bengal Village Self-Government Bill.

Maulvi A. K. Fazl-ul-Haq.

There are precedents for recommitment to a Select Committee, but I have not been able to find any precedent for the republication of a Bill, but if my suggestion is of a somewhat novel character, I seek justification in the fact that the Bill itself is one of the most important that have yet come up before this Council. It is something more important than the Food Adulteration or the Ghee Adulteration Bill—it is even more important than the Hackney Carriage Bill, or I may say so, it is more important than the Hon'ble Babu Surendra Nath Ray's Primary Education Bill. Education may be a matter of very great importance—no doubt it is. But the Bill in its provisions touches the life of the people, and if I may say so, it impinges on the activities of their every day life. There are provisions which will have far-reaching effects on the life of the villagers in the mufassal; there are provisions for village courts, village benches, and although the Select Committee have not made any substantial amendments, it may be that the Select Committee have not been able, I say so with the utmost respect to the members, to take into consideration some of the outstanding features of village life in this Presidency. If, at the present moment, I submit for the consideration of this Council that the Bill be republished, it is solely from a desire that the provisions of the Bill may have another consideration at the hands of the public who take an intelligent interest in public affairs and who have so far manifested a desire to express their opinion on public questions. I may say, although I say so with some respect, that there is a little defect in the Indian character to postpone things as indefinitely as possible. There are some very important measures which when introduced arouse tremendous opposition in the country. Government announces its intention of making legislation on these lines, and at that time the leaders keep quiet; but as soon as the thing is entirely ready and has taken some shape, a storm of opposition is raised which it is very difficult to ignore: that is due to that trait in the Indian character which I have submitted. Even when there was this proposal of introducing a system of self-government, there are many of us who thought perhaps it was only a pious wish and that it would not come soon and did not go seriously into it, unless and until the Bill was committed to the Select Committee, and when the Select Committee sat over it, deliberating over the provisions and then submitted their Report to this Council, then and then only we woke up to the responsibilities of our position, and within the 14 days at our disposal we managed to send in notices of our amendments which came up to about 283 in number. I say all this because I feel that the country at large has now realised that Government is in earnest in introducing a measure of this kind, and whether they express their opinion or not, if they have got ultimately to complain, they will have themselves to blame, and judgment will go against them by default. The people do realise it now; and therefore I venture to hope that if this Bill is republished, your Excellency's Government will find suggestions of a very important character coming from unexpected sources.

The Bengal Village Self-Government Bill.

Sir Henry Wheeler.

I do not wish to take up the time of this Council, because, shortly put, my reason is that in view of the very great importance of the provisions of the Bill and in view of the importance of the measure itself, it is necessary that the matter should be considered and reconsidered; and, if possible, considered again before it is put on the Statute Book. There is nothing to be lost in a little delay, there may be much for which we may have to regret by hurry, and since there is no great urgency in the measure I beg respectfully to submit that the public should be given another opportunity, in view particularly of the fact that the Select Committee have made substantial amendments and that the Bill as it has emerged out of the Select Committee is in many respects a totally different measure from the one on which public opinion had been collected before the commitment of the Bill to the Select Committee.

With these few words, I beg to commend this motion for the acceptance of your Excellency's Government and of this Council."

The Hon'ble Sir Henry Wheeler said :—

"My Lord, I am unable to advise the Council to accept the amendment which has been moved. When I received notice of it. I was at some loss to imagine the reasons which the Hon'ble Member would put forward in its favour; and I must say that, even now, after having heard his speech, I am still not clear, beyond the generalities with which he has favoured us, why precisely we should take the course which he now desires: neither does his argument seem to me to be always consistent. He begins by saying that he has no desire to delay a measure which, he admits, augurs well for the future of village self-government, and he is himself conscious of the importance of the development of that side of the administration. Then he proceeds to argue that as we have gone on so far without these changes, we may as well go on a little longer, and finally he holds out the prospect that even if we republish the Bill for general consideration now we might, even on receipt of the replies, advantageously do so a third time. Surely the disclaimer with which he opened his speech and the statement with which he closed it are hardly consistent.

Apart from this, as far as I followed him, his theory is that the Select Committee has materially recast the Bill and made changes of principle in it which render it, in fact, a different measure from what it was when Sir S. P. Sinha introduced it in April, 1918. That contention, Sir, I do not think is valid, nor will it be borne out by a study of the amendments proposed by the Select Committee. The one main amendment of substance which we made in the Select Committee was to drop circle boards; but even that was not a proposal which sprang from the heads of the members of the Select Committee, having no basis anywhere else. It was merely action taken after consideration of the opinions that were received and the criticisms that were urged by those whom we consulted. Assuming that the circle boards be dropped, it cannot be said that we have made any further radical departure, because we have fallen back on the existing system of local boards, and we have not, therefore, materially changed the lines of the present Local Self-Government Act. I think I remarked at a previous meeting that we discarded the idea of doing away with local boards, leaving the whole administration to be run by district boards, working possibly through the medium of standing committees, which might have been described as a revolutionary change in the Bill as originally framed. Apart from that, I think it can be shown that our amendments are largely verbal and consequential, following, for instance, from the dropping of circle boards, and our changes in nomenclature by the adoption of the words 'union board', 'union bench' and 'union court'; other verbal changes were designed to render various sections more clear, or to embody what seemed to us to be improvements. But, in substance, the Bill as it emerged from the Select Committee remains what it was when it was sent to the Select Committee: that is to say, the Bill is designed to set up small local authorities in groups of villages called unions; to put in the hands of those local authorities the old functions of chaukidari panchayats and the duties of the local self-government union committees; to give them extended powers in matters of sanitation and the like, so that they may exercise a greater influence for good, and to give them slightly wider powers of taxation so that they can finance these improvements; finally the Bill attaches to selected members of union boards certain minor criminal and civil powers. That is what the Bill started with and that is what the Bill has ended with, at its present stage, and it cannot correctly be said that it is substantially different from what it was originally. If that is so, I maintain that it cuts away most of the grounds of the hon'ble mover's proposal; and it is also curious that he can only tell us in very general terms that the provisions are still far from satisfactory. That is a generalisation which it is perfectly easy to make, but we surely may ask for a little more detail. The only specific point he mentioned was the abolition of circle boards, with which I have already dealt, although I am not clear whether the hon'ble member himself approves or disapproves of that change. It is noticeable that it has not been challenged in any amendment. Otherwise, he tells us vaguely that the question is full of problems and difficulties, but that does not carry us much further. It brings us, however, to another curious proposition of the hon'ble member, namely that this Council is not fit to make amendments as it has not got the requisite knowledge, and that we must refer to public opinion at large. If we accept that argument, we may just as well dissolve ourselves entirely, as evidently we are absolutely incompetent to discharge our functions, but it is obviously a far-reaching generalisation which will carry us into rather an unacceptable conclusion.

The Bengal Village Self-Government Bill.

Sir Henry Wheeler.

It is a fact that a great many amendments have been tabled; but although the list is rather appalling at first sight, I think on analysis it will be found that there are not so many defects in the Bill as might be assumed. Many of the amendments overlap; many of them are consequential to one another, and if we look at the main points which have been raised by them, they reduce themselves very much to the following. There are a certain number of amendments dealing with the position of circle officers, whom some hon'ble members would apparently like to see eliminated. We have rather more amendments dealing with the relative position of the district board and the district magistrate respecting the superintendence of these union boards. Apparently, some hon'ble members have taken a blue pencil and have substituted the words 'district board' for 'district magistrate' wherever the latter occur, and have so tabled a large number of amendments of that class. Then, we have a certain number of amendments touching the qualifications of voters for these union boards. That, however, is a matter of detail, and nobody has challenged the general principle of election. Then, we come to a considerable number of amendments connected with the control over dafadars and chaukidars which, as I think we all know, is a subject of a very longstanding in Bengal. Whenever a Bill of this kind is brought forward, whether it is referred to the country two times or three times, I prognosticate that we will have the same old arguments in Council about the proper position of chaukidars vis à vis the village on the one side and the police on the other, which have been brought forward continuously for many years. Then, we have amendments dealing with the functions of union boards, but not in any sense challenging the main principles of the Bill, and amendments made with a desire to make it obligatory on Government and district boards to make statutory grants to these smaller bodies ; that again is a question of detail which can be discussed in Council, and it does not interfere with the fundamental character of the Bill. Lastly, we have minor amendments with regard to the procedure of union benches and courts.

The Bengal Village Self-Government Bill.

Maulvi A. K. Fazl-ul-Haq.

That, Sir, is the general nature of the amendments suggested, and I submit that we are perfectly competent now to discuss them and to arrive at decisions. I would again point out to the Council that this is in no sense a new measure : it traces its origin at least to the Police Commission in Lord Curzon's time : from there we can trace it to the Decentralization Commission in 1907-09, and so to the District Administration Committee of 1913-14. Can anybody under these circumstances say that this subject is a new one on which the province has not had sufficient time to make up its mind ? It is not a new one ; it is almost grey with age. I submit that a further expression of public opinion would not help matters much, as singularly little interest has so far been taken in the matter, although, within the last two days, two prominent Calcutta papers have had articles on the subject. It is noticeable that one of these papers specifically approved of the abolition of circle boards.

Therefore, Sir, on all these grounds I submit that we should not be well advised to adopt the procedure which has been urged."

The Hon'ble Maulvi A. K. Fazl-ul-Haq said :—

"My Lord, there is always much to be said against slackness and in favour of despatch. I indicated at the very outset that the proposal that I made would entail some delay, but I sought to justify my suggestion on the ground of the importance of the measure which we are now discussing. It is true that I have confined myself more or less to making general remarks, because, on a motion of this character, I thought that it would not be open to me to go very much into details, having regard to the fact that my substantial proposal is that the provisions of the Bill may be again reconsidered by the general public. If this motion is defeated and if I am to move the next amendment, perhaps I will be able to go into somewhat fuller details. I never intended to convey the idea that this Council is not competent to deal with this Bill on the ground that we have not got the requisite local knowledge or experience. What I wanted to say was this—that we are here about 50 of us who would have to express opinions on the provisions of the Bill in a debate of a more or less formal character. We had just a fortnight under the rules to read the Bill as amended by the Select Committee, to go through the various opinions that had been expressed on the provisions of the Bill as it originally stood, and then formulate our amendments within this brief period of a fortnight. I hope the Hon'ble Members, on my left, who are members of the public service, will be pleased to recollect that the members on my right are not wholetime servants of this Council, that they have got other businesses to attend to, that their time is not their own and it is only by little snatches from amidst various engagements that they can find time to consider the subjects that come up for discussion in this

The Bengal Village Self-Government Bill.

Maulvi A. K. Fazl-ul-Haq.

Council, and in matters like this to make proposals or amendments as regards important legislative enactments : a fortnight is much too brief a period, I beg respectfully to submit, for a study of two big volumes like these, my Lord, to compare how far the opinions have become obsolete by reason of the amendments that have been made by the Select Committee and then consider the Bill as amended by the Select Committee and suggest amendments. I can say that if I am given a few days more. I can bring forward half a dozen more amendments of a very important character. I know some have escaped from my memory, and it even struck me last night that I could have suggested them. I am extremely sorry that I had not time to suggest them. So it is no use saying that we can certainly deal with amendments : we have got the jurisdiction to do so, and as a matter of fact we can dispose of the amendments after discussion one way or the other. But can it be said that this formal discussion will be sufficient for the consideration of the problem in all its aspects, and is it not somewhat different for a man who can read at leisure to consider it in all its bearings and take some time to make suggestions and amendments ? As a matter of fact, the amendments that we have got now before the Council are the amendments which the Hon'ble Members have been able to suggest in the briefest period of time, after having studied the collections of opinions in the two volumes which we have got. Therefore what I meant to say was that although we are certainly able to discuss the provisions of the Bill or to make whatever amendments which seemed to us to be necessary, it is something quite different for the Bill to be before the public once again, so that they might have time and leisure to formulate their opinions. I do not wish to repeat my arguments. I once again press this motion before the Council in the hope that the proposal will be accepted."

The motion was then put and a division was taken with the following result :—

LIST OF BUSINESS—ITEM No. 5

The Hon'ble Maulvi A. K. Fazl-ul-Haq moved, by way of amendment, that the Bill be recommitted to the Select Committee.

He said :—

"In bringing forward this motion I do not wish to go over the ground traversed in the discussions on the previous motion, but I will put forward my reasons very briefly. The Bill as amended by the Select Committee was introduced in this Council on the 18th January, and under the rules the 3rd of February was the last date for sending notice of amendments. Fourteen days is the time allowed under the rules for giving notice of amendments, and although fourteen days may be quite sufficient for studying a Bill of ordinary importance, it is certainly not sufficient for the study of so important a measure. The information that was collated and compiled by the Legislative Department came up to two big volumes, the bare study of which would take several weeks. Over and above that, we had not merely to consider the opinions that had been collected, but also to consider the various provisions of the Bill with reference to the opinions that had been expressed, and after we had done all that we are called upon to formulate our proposals by way of amendments to the provisions of the Bill. I submit that the time at our disposal was much too short for discharging business of so important and onerous a character. Along with this, I would respectfully ask your Excellency's Government to consider what I have already submitted before this Council that most of us on this side of the House have got other important duties to attend to, and we have really very little time at our disposal to devote for consideration of important questions like this. The Select Committee has no doubt made some important amendments to the original Bill, but even then there are certain matters which the Select Committee has not taken into consideration. I say 'has not taken into consideration' because I find that on the matters to which I now refer, there seems to be an almost unanimity of opinion that the provisions of the Bill ought to be changed. One of these is as regards the question of finance of the union board. I am surprised, and I say it with some regret, that there were Indian members in

The Bengal Village Self-Government Bill.

Maulvi A. K. Fazl-ul-Haq

the Select Committee, and they did not realise the importance of this question from the point of view of making this experiment a success. We all know that the people in the rural areas are poor, but I do not know if the members of the Select Committee have really any adequate idea of the appalling poverty of the people in the rural areas. The District Boards in Bengal have got an aggregate average income of Rs. 3,88,125, and if we take the number of villages in a district on the average to be 3,000, that works out to about Rs. 125 as the amount that can be collected from the village by way of taxes and in the shape of road cess and public works cess. Now it may be that in grouping, these village union boards would consist of from 8 to 10 villages, and they would give us about Rs. 1,000 a year from road cess and public works cess, if the whole of that money goes into the hands of the union board. Possibly the District Boards will not agree to that, but they will make some grant. Let us say that the union board gets a grant which, together with the amount which they can raise by taxation in the village union, gives the union board an income of Rs. 1,000 a year. With this income they have got to pay the dafadars and chaukidars and to meet other expenses incidental to the union benches and union courts, and over and above that they will be called upon to undertake schemes of great importance, sanitary schemes, schemes for the improvements of the sanitation of the village, village roads, and some amount of money must be spent on elementary education, and so on. The question of funds, therefore, becomes of very great importance, and unless the union boards are substantially helped by grants from provincial revenues, I can say with the utmost confidence that any experiment in this direction is bound to end in failure. It is no use calling upon the villagers to form themselves into union boards, to tell them to improve the sanitation of the village, to teach them all kinds of things about improved hygiene and sanitation and at the same time to leave them to cope with their work with the slender resources at their disposal. We all know that some of the municipalities in this province have been condemned for inefficiency. I notice that there is at least one District Magistrate who attributed this inefficiency to the lack of public spirit on the part of the people of this country. I do not know whether that charge is well founded or not, because I have no experience of that portion of the country which is in charge of that particular magistrate, but I can say this much that the failure of the municipalities to produce better results is due not to the want of enthusiasm on the part of Indians, not for the want of capacity of the Indians to take upon themselves responsible tasks in the direction of self-government, but because of the lack of funds; and if the union boards are also called upon to undertake duties of such a responsible character with such slender resources at their disposal, the result will be a lamentable failure, which will be put to the discredit of the people of the country. I protest most strongly, my Lord, and I protest with all the emphasis that I can command, against the inauguration of a system of self-government in villages and leaving the people in the lurch and say—'you had better find funds for yourself'. The people are poor, and as will appear from even published Government reports, poor far below the standard in Europe or any other country. This is a matter which the Select Committee has not considered, and what will be the result? On that matter some mistakes have been made. Supposing I press that the whole of the money should come from local funds, that matter will be discussed in this Council, and there will be a division, and having regard to the fact that some of the non-official members from this side of the House are absent to-day, I know what the result of the division will be, and we will lose the motion. The result will be that the suggestion of such an important character, which has the unanimous voice of the country behind it, will be lost, simply because some of the members have not considered it their duty to come and attend the Council. My Lord, if this matter be committed to Select Committee, you will find that there is a large volume of opinion behind it, and if the members of the Select Committee take up this question, there will be no further necessity of discussing this matter in this Council. Then, my Lord, there are the amendments which are proposed that the District Magistrate should not be given all the powers that the Bill proposes to give them, and that in place of the District Magistrates, the appellate authority should be the District Board This is by way of amendments which we have been able to put forward before this Council, and can't I see what the result of these amendments will be? Votes on my right are given solid, but votes on my right are divided, and there are also members who do not attend, and the result is that although we are a majority of non-officials in this Council, it is only an illusory majority. I do not wish to leave any amendment to be decided by a division of votes in this Council, but would rather appeal to the Hon'ble Member in charge to consider the suggestions in accordance with their importance and on their merits, and I would also, failing that, like these matters to be considered coolly and calmly by a Select Committee, where we can have a more informal discussion, rather than in a discussion which partakes of the nature of a formal debate. I have already indicated that the time at our disposal is too short. Having regard to the fact that this Bill is of such an important character, I beg to submit that the Bill, in view of the suggestions that have been made, be recommitted to the Select Committee so that we may have a further opportunity of discussing the Bill and proposing further amendments for the Select Committee who may choose to accept the suggestion which we put forward. My only reason is, I confess, that 14 days is not sufficient, and if a little more time is given, perhaps we would be able to make important and substantial suggestions. My formal motion might have meant delay which the Hon'ble Members perhaps were not prepared to accept, but this motion will not entail a delay of more than a few months, I think, or even a few weeks. If it is recommended by the Select Committee perhaps the Bill might be passed into law during this session of this Council."

The Bengal Village Self-Government Bill.

Mr. P. C. Mitter.

The Hon'ble Mr. P. C. Mitter said :—

"My Lord, I am in favour of this resolution, but my reasons are entirely different from those of the hon'ble mover. One reason why I support this resolution is that I find 283 amendments still before us, and I dare say that many of these amendments must be worth considering, and I for one believe that the Select Committee is a much better place for considering many of these amendments than this Council. In the Select Committee, when matters are discussed across the table, reasons in favour and reasons against can be much better threshed out.

Then, my Lord, I find that the Hon'ble Member in charge of the Bill has brought forward at least two amendments, No. 5 amendment to clause 1A, and No. 7 to clause 1B. That at any rate indicates that after the matter was gone through in the Select Committee, the Hon'ble Member in charge thought that it was necessary to have these amendments. There are also various important questions which require consideration. For example, there is the question about the residence clause of the voters, and the residence clause of the members. It has been suggested in the Bill that although a certain person may be tax-payer, if he is not ordinarily a resident in the village he should not be a voter even. Some of us think that if he is not ordinarily a resident in the village, he does not take sufficient interest to enable him to sit as a member of a village union board, but so long as he is a tax-payer, he ought to be a voter. There are various other important questions of principle upon which amendments have been brought forward. For instance, my Lord, there is the question of finance of these village boards. I do not agree with my Hon'ble friend Maulvi Fazl-ul-Haq that the district board or the village boards will not be able to find sufficient money to carry on the duties which will be entrusted to these unions. If they are not able to find the money, then I would say that it is no good having an Act on paper if money cannot be found to carry out the provisions of the Act. To start with, my Hon'ble friend Maulvi Fazl-ul-Haq is not right when he says that the total income of the district boards is 78 lakhs of rupees—it is over a crore of rupees, and there are 24 district boards, and their total income is about a crore and 7 lakhs of rupees. I do not expect that the district boards will pay all their income to the union boards, but I do expect that the district boards will pay some portion of their income as contributions to the village union boards, if not for any other reason, for the simple reason that the village boards will take up some of the responsibilities of the district boards. So far as the contribution of the district boards is concerned, the Select Committee has decided that the matter should be left to the discretion of the district board. There may be a good deal to be said in favour of that decision. Another view has been put forward, that a certain portion of the total expense of the union boards should be met by the district boards. There may be a good deal in that also, but these are points which can perhaps be better discussed in Select Committee, and I suggest, my Lord, that the matter may be referred to the Select Committee, with all these 283 amendments, so that when the whole thing comes back to the Council, I hope it may be possible for the Council to deal with this matter within the course of this official year, but even if it is not possible to do so, I hope it will be possible to finish the matter at the Dacca sitting of the Council, and when the time for discussion comes, perhaps the official members may be in a position to accept some of the amendments. If they are not, perhaps they will be able to give full consideration in the presence of non-official members in Select Committee and discuss matters fully with them, so that ultimately when the matter comes back to the Council, much time will be saved. For these reasons I support the amendment."

The Bengal Village Self-Government Bill.

Maulvi Abul Kasem; Rai Radha Charan Pal Bahadur.

The Hon'ble Maulvi Abul Kasem said :—

"I rise to support the motion of my hon'ble friend to my left and I do so on the simple ground that, even after the 3rd February, the last day for sending in amendments, I, and many of my hon'ble friends, have received communications from our constituents suggesting various amendments, and I think it is desirable that the Bill should be recommitted to the Select Committee for the consideration of these 283 amendments and of many other suggestions which we had not the time nor the opportunity to make. Besides that, the real grievance of my hon'ble friend appears to be that the time at the disposal of the members of this Council was not sufficient, not only to consider the provisions of the Bill but also to consult their constituents, and I hope, my Lord, that Your Excellency's Government will accept this resolution and allow us to have further time to make our suggestions and let the whole question be again considered in the Select Committee, who might be able to put the Bill in the form which will be acceptable by the non-official members of the Council and by the people at large. When this Bill was introduced Your Excellency was pleased to observe that this Bill was the Bengal Government's contribution to the constitutional building, and I may add that this may prove to be the foundation of the building, and I hope that it will be well and truly laid so that the edifice may be strong. I hope that the Hon'ble Member in charge will accept this amendment."

The Hon'ble Rai Radha Charan Pal Bahadur said :—

"My Lord, after all the speeches that have been made I should like to say only a few words. I have in the first place listened to the arguments of the Hon'ble Maulvi Fazl-ul-Haq and the Hon'ble Mr. P. C. Mitter. I think if you weigh the arguments on both sides you will find, specially after what has fallen from the Hon'ble Maulvi Fazl-ul-Haq and the Hon'ble Maulvi Abul Kasem, that the main contention on behalf of the non-official members is this: This measure emerged from the Select Committee on the 18th January last. It has been in our hands only for fifteen days, which is the usual time allowed in connection with all Bills that emerge from the Select Committee. In this brief interval we are expected to digest the report of the Select Committee, and the voluminous collection of opinions which we have here in two volumes, to discuss the matter with our friends who are better acquainted with mufassal life, and to formulate our suggestions and submit them to the Council. This is too short an interval, particularly for people who have also other business to attend to. Even to those members of Council who are in a position to devote more time to public affairs a period of fifteen days is quite inadequate for the consideration of such an important measure as this, which, as has been observed by the Hon'ble Maulvi Abul Kasem, will form the foundation of the edifice of self-government in Bengal. My Lord, what is primarily intended, notwithstanding the wording of the motion, is to gain more time in order to consider the matter more fully and discuss it among ourselves both in this Council and outside it, and to find out if there are any important matters which have not occurred to any of us and to prepare additional amendments on them and submit them for the consideration of the Council. If I may be permitted to move an amendment, I would move that the consideration of the report of the Select Committee be postponed for a month and be taken up by the Council thereafter here or at Dacca, though I would prefer the matter to be taken up in Calcutta. My hon'ble friend has commented upon the absence of certain non-official members to-day. It is not compliment to the public spirit or the patriotism of the non-official members who are the chosen representatives of the people to be absent to-day. I, therefore, cannot help thinking that if this measure is referred to the Dacca meeting of the Council, as has been suggested by the Hon'ble Mr. P. C. Mitter, the position will be worse. I am afraid the attendance there will be such that my hon'ble friend will wish that he had never moved for the postponement of this measure. Having regard to these facts I am still of opinion that if Your Excellency can see your way to extend the time for at least a month it will meet the situation. I am not in favour of referring the Bill back to the Select Committee, for after all the Select Committee will consist of more or less the same gentlemen as before. They have already considered these very points in the Select Committee and also the suggestions and objections which have been urged by public bodies and individuals, and therefore it is no good referring the Bill back to the Select Committee. But as I have said, in order to gain time we will vote for whatever motion is before us. The main thing we want is more time, which I submit is not a very unreasonable request. I think that, having regard to the importance of the subject and to the fact that the attention of the whole country is fixed on this Bill, I hope Your Excellency will see your way to grant this request."

The Bengal Village Self-Government Bill.

Mr. Aminur Rahman.

The Hon'ble Mr. Aminur Rahman said :—

"My Lord, in his previous motion the Hon'ble Maulvi Fazl-ul-Haq wanted us to accept a doctrine which if adopted would throw the whole system, by which legislative enactments are made, into absolute confusion. He told us that an important Bill should be referred over and over again for public criticism till someone somewhere is satisfied that all possible criticisms have come in and have been considered. That motion has been disposed of and I see that my hon'ble friend has cut down his demand considerably in his second speech. He has said that we ought to have more time to consider the alterations that have been made by the Select Committee. And now he is putting forward another motion on the same principle as the first one. He says, if you do not refer it back to the public refer it back to the Select Committee. The public had nearly a year to think over the whole Bill. In the Select Committee we considered all the criticisms that have been made by various public bodies and by distinguished men, public officers and public men in this province. It is in the light of these criticisms that the Select Committee made the alterations. If the public were indifferent to the Bill for one whole year what guarantee can my hon'ble friend give that when it is referred back to the public the public will take more interest in it? If the public had about a year to send in their criticisms we can safely assume that the public has sent in all the criticisms that could be made upon the Bill. A perusal of the amendments that have been put before us for consideration to-day would show that amendments have been made on the lines of the criticisms that have already been made by public bodies and public men. If the Bill is now sent back to the Select Committee we shall have to consider the same points over again, going through the same process of reasoning and probably coming to the same conclusion. The Hon'ble Maulvi Fazl-ul-Haq has brought forward one point, and in that connection he has accused the Select Committee of indifference and also of ignorance. He has said that the Bill as altered by the Select Committee has not made any provision for the financing of important projects by the union boards. Clause 46 distinctly says that the district board may make to the union board such grants-in-aid from the district fund as they may think fit in order to enable the union board to carry out any of the purposes of this Act, and may attach to such grants any conditions that may appear to the district board to be reasonable. Assuming that the district boards only undertake such work as their funds permit, and assuming also that the union boards will not be able to initiate any kind of work which they are not able to undertake themselves, we must come to the conclusion that the district boards would not saddle the union boards with the responsibility of any important work unless they could provide funds forthwith. The union boards also will have other means of income, as indicated in clause 47. Now considering that this clause was inserted in the Bill I cannot see how my hon'ble friend Maulvi Fazl-ul-Haq can accuse the original authors of the Bill or the members of the Select Committee of indifference or ignorance. I do not see what purpose will be fulfilled by referring the Bill as altered by the Select Committee with the amendments that have come before us to the Select Committee again. I think my hon'ble friend will agree with me that this House should ultimately decide what should be the form and contents of the Bill, and if that be so, then I think that this is the proper place where alterations made by the Select Committee and also amendments made by the members of this House should be jointly considered. The effect of my hon'ble friend's motion would be that the final acceptance of the Bill would be delayed to a considerable extent, and if my Hon'ble friend Rai Radha Charan Pal Bahadur's suggestion is adopted probably it will be indefinitely postponed, and another effect will be that probably in a discussion of the Bill in this House, then again in the Select Committee, the larger issues of the Bill would be lost sight of and we shall simply raise issues of ordinary importance which will make the Bill much worse than what it is. Therefore, I cannot agree with my hon'ble friend's motion that the Bill should be referred to the Select Committee again."

The Bengal Village Self-Government Bill.

Mr. Crum.

The Hon'ble Mr. Crum said :—

"My Lord, I am not going to vote in favour of this amendment if it is not acceptable to the Government, but I would like to suggest that Government should consider the suggestion, though from rather a different point of view to what has already been put forward. There are before us some 300 amendments and they are sure to take up the time of this House for 3 or 4 days. I admit that I have not studied these amendments very carefully and that I have not read through all the opinions which have been given since the Bill was first published. But I would like Government to consider whether by referring the Bill back to the Select Committee for the discussion of these amendments it would not be possible to accelerate matters. In the Council when a subject is discussed—as for instance the resolutions on the reform proposals—we take up a tremendous lot of time and everybody likes to make a formal speech. But in an informal committee the work can be got through very much quicker. It may be, as the Hon'ble Mr. Aminur Rahman has said, that all these points have already been discussed in the Select Committee and that they are not prepared to go through them again. for they have done the best. If that be the case, I have nothing to say. But if in any way the work can be accelerated by the Bill being referred back to the Select Committee for the discussion of the amendments then I think Government should consider the suggestion."

The Hon'ble Mr. Irwin said :—

"My Lord, in view of the extreme importance of the Bill I beg to support what the Hon'ble Mr. Crum has said on the subject. I think it would be in the public interest that more time should be given to the consideration of this Bill."

The Hon'ble Mr. Phelps said :—

"My Lord, I feel some hesitation in addressing the house so soon after my initiation. But there is one aspect of this Bill which does not seem to have occurred to the Select Committee. The Bill, as I understand, refers solely to villages in existence. I have travelled through Eastern Bengal several times recently and I have been impressed with the fact that villages and townships have arisen where there were none before. What happens is this. In the jute district a Calcutta firm wishes to establish a new agency. They choose a spot on a waterway suitable for the purpose and they secure, say, one hundred or two hundred yards of land (or whatever they may want) on the foreshore for the erection of their godowns and model bungalows for their manager and his assistants. To this nucleus of a new town is attracted all those people in the vicinity who are interested in jute; but it appears to me that these people are allowed to establish a village or township without any regard to roads. The huts and godowns even extend down to the water's edge in a higgledy-piggledy manner so that there is no 'strand road' and no place where the inhabitants can assemble and enjoy social amenities and discuss their affairs. The roads seem to be non-existent between these corrugated iron sheds and godowns. But if this Bill goes back to the Select Committee, I would like to suggest that some provision be made in the Bill for the regulation of the lay-out of new villages and townships. I am not one for advocating delay; but if the Bill is going back to the Select Committee, I would suggest that they should take up this question."

The Hon'ble Babu Mahendra Nath Ray said :—

'My Lord, I had no desire to speak on this motion, and I wanted simply to vote in support of this motion, but for what the members of the Select Committee have just stated. We worked very hard under the presidency of the Hon'ble Sir Henry Wheeler and we did our best; but we are not infallible: and when I find 283 motions in the shape of amendments before the Council, of which 20, not 2, come from the Hon'ble Sir Henry Wheeler himself, representing more than his proper share of the whole number, there is to my mind no doubt that the matter is one for re-consideration, and I shall therefore support this motion."

The Bengal Village Self-Government Bill.

The Hon'ble Sir Henry Wheeler.

The Hon'ble Sir Henry Wheeler said :—

"My Lord, I am not prepared to advise the Council to accept this amendment, largely on the ground that it is proposing a particular course, although the speakers who have advocated it admit that they do not really want that course to be taken but that they want to achieve another purpose.

"May I draw the attention of the Council to the Rules of Business, especially to rule 41, which says that every report by a Select Committee shall be presented to the Council, and shall be taken into consideration by the Council as soon as conveniently may be. That is what we have done in this particular instance. We were instructed, I might remind the Council, to submit our report by a particular date; and we did so. After this presentation a convenient date was suggested on which we should deal with the report of the Select Committee. The next relevant rule is rule 46, which contemplates that any member may move that the Bill which has been amended by the Select Committee, be republished or be recommitted to the Select Committee. We have already had a motion for republication which has been lost, and about that I propose to say nothing more. We have now a second amendment for recommitting the Bill to the Select Committee. What is the object of so doing? And to understand the suggestion, we should see what the Council Rules enjoin us to do. Under our ordinary procedure, we introduce Bills in Council and circulate them for opinion : we then usually receive a number of opinions. In this case, we had a fairly large mass of opinions; and the system of Select Committees is designed to avoid the worrying of Council with voluminous papers by delegating the task of examining them and making proposals regarding them to some of its members. The recent Select Committee accordingly did so, and presented its report to the Council; and under the recognised procedure, the Council should now proceed with the Bill with the assistance of having had this preliminary examination done by a smaller body from among its members. That being our procedure, a recommitment to the Select Committee must mean that the Select Committee has not in some way or other done its functions properly; but that argument is entirely cut away by the admission of the Hon'ble Maulvi Fazl-ul Haq in the first speech which he made, to the effect that we had done our work—I do not remember whether he said very well—but at least fairly well. He seemed to admit that we had done our best to consider the opinions and to amend the Bill in the way that we thought best in the light of them. But if the Select Committee has already done its duty, which is that of the examination of these opinions, what else new is there that we should recommit this Bill to the Select Committee for?

"Now, we have been told by one or two members that there are certain points in the Bill with which they do not agree. Mr. Mitter has raised the question of residential qualification of voters which, I submit, we can discuss when that point comes up. The Hon'ble Maulvi Fazl-ul-Haq has expressed grave doubts about the financing of these union boards—a matter relating to which various amendments have been moved—which in due time we can also discuss. The Hon'ble Mr. Phelps has suggested that there should be some provision for the inclusion in unions of new villages and enabling them to lay out proper roads, especially on the riversides. Possibly the Hon'ble Member is under a misapprehension, as, when a village of sufficient importance springs up, there is nothing in the Act to prevent its inclusion in a union, and in clause 31 considerable powers are given to union boards to make alignment of streets. Well, Sir, if there is no new matter which can be recommitted to the Select Committee for reconsideration, the whole thing boils itself down to certain points on which some Hon'ble Members do not agree with the conclusions of the Select Committee, and on which they are at liberty to move amendments, a liberty of which they have already taken full advantage. If this is so I would again ask, what is the Select Committee to do, as it is admitted that it has fulfilled the purpose for which it was created ?

The Bengal Village Self-Government Bill.

The Hon'ble Sir Henry Wheeler.

"The only answer we have is contained in the arguments of the Hon'ble Messrs. Crum and Mitter, that as there are numerous amendments to the Bill, it might save time by making the Select Committee examine them. But I submit, Sir, that such a step will place the Select Committee in a position which is not contemplated by our rules of procedure, under which it is not the duty of a Select Committee to go through a list of amendments, even if they do happen to be numerous. If we adopt a procedure of that kind, I do not know where the process will stop, and it might go on perpetually, since whatever the Select Committee reports it is not likely to be acceptable to all. Therefore, on the merits of the proposal to recommit the Bill to the Select Committee, I submit that a case has not been made out.

"I then come to the real argument which has been adduced by the Hon'ble Rai Radha Charan Pal Bahadur. He has admitted quite frankly that he wants a little more time to consider these amendments and the opinions received on the Bill. I may remind Hon'ble Members that the first collection of these opinions was sent out in September 1918, and we are now in February 1919, which has already given a fair amount of time to Hon'ble Members to read the papers : and although the second collection went out on the 26th November 1918, owing to their late receipt, Hon'ble Members have even then had an interval of two months if they cared to avail themselves of it. Moreover, the duty of a minute analysis of the opinions is particularly the function which the Council entrusts to the Select Committee to discharge. Therefore, when we are asked for more time and for a further postponement, the Local Government are not prepared to take the responsibility of recommending it. The extent of the delay, if the Bill is not proceeded with on this occasion, might be considerable. We are coming on to the Budget, and its discussion will occupy most of the rest of time available this cold weather. We have already been told by the Hon'ble Rai Radha Charan Pal Bahadur that it will be impossible, without considerable inconvenience, to take the Bill up at Dacca, and it may mean, therefore, that the Bill may not come up before next cold weather ; or in other words, it will be delayed for a year. Of course, if Hon'ble Members choose to vote that this should be done, it will be done : but I would disassociate the Local Government from any advice to that effect. I have already explained that this is not a new proposal—it dates back to the early days of this century : and the Local Government has perpetually been told that it has been remiss in not previously pushing on with this reform. The recommendations of the Bill have practically been before the country since 1913-14, and on a previous occasion I mentioned that the present Government of His Excellency would have been only too glad to have seen the Bill passed by our predecessors. That having not been done, it was one of the first tasks to which His Excellency applied himself to push through the recommendations of the District Administration Committee ; we have done our best to do so, at considerable personal inconvenience, and we have placed the result of our deliberations before the Council for discussion : if the Council thinks that we may wait for another year, the responsibility for doing so, as far as the Local Government is concerned, will lie upon the non-official members of the Council.

"There is only one other point to which I would like to make reference. The Hon'ble Babu Mahendra Nath Ray says that the work of the Committee could obviously not have been very well done, because certain amendments are down in my name. It is true that there are ; but if Hon'ble Members look at them, they will find that most are of a verbal character, and those of importance in substance were inserted with the object of meeting and improving some of the amendments which have been put forward. It does not necessarily follow that amendments which are drafted by non-official members are always put in the best shape, and it is a normal procedure that, if Government sees its way to move some way in the direction of an amendment, it should place the amendment in a more acceptable form, which is the reason why some amendments of substance stand against my name.

"Well, Sir, that is the position which the Local Government would take in this matter. First, there is no justification on its merits for the motion as it stands, and secondly, in respect of the delay which the acceptance of the amendment would involve, it would be deprecated by the Local Government in the light of all that has been said (much of it by Hon'ble Members of this Council) in favour of the urgency of effecting a reform in this portion of the administration of the province."

The Hon'ble Maulvi Fazl-ul Haq said :—

"My Lord, I will be very brief in my remarks because I feel that the question has already been discussed at a very great length, and it is time that we should decide and make up our minds one way or the other. I wish to make one or two points clear before I proceed to make a few remarks on the suggestions that have been made by some of the Hon'ble Members who have spoken in support of my motion. The Hon'ble Member in charge seems to think that the acceptance of my motion would mean a sort of reflection on the Select Committee. I do not know if that would really be the interpretation which could reasonably be put on a motion of this character. But I wish to make it clear that it is absolutely far from my mind to cast any reflection on the work that has been done by the Select Committee. I find, as I also said in the course of my speech on the first motion, that a recommitment of a Bill to a Select Committee is not without precedent. I find that in the proceedings of the Legislative Council of the 25th August, 1909, reported at page 226 of the Council Proceedings, there was a recommitment of a Bill to a Select Committee : later, on the 4th January, 1910, the proceedings recorded at page 4, there was a similar recommitment, and even in this present Council, on the 1st September, 1913, at page 728 we find that a Bill was recommitted to Select Committee. It is not for the purpose of saying that the Select Committee has done its work perfunctorily that I make a suggestion of this character. I have already made it clear, and the Hon'ble Members who have spoken in support of my motion have also made it clear, that it is because the matter is of extreme importance and that the time at our disposal was not sufficient that it would be better, in order to pass the Bill in a manner which would be of an absolutely non-contentious character, that the matter should be again reconsidered in Select Committee. I do not wish to make any reference to the speech of my hon'ble friend Mr. P. C. Mitter beyond this, that he slightly misunderstood me when he said that I spoke of the total income of district boards amounting to about 78 lakhs. I wanted to say something about the total income, but what I really said was about the average income of district boards which works out to something like Rs. 3,88,000 and odd, then I worked out that on an average the income that would be derived from local funds would be about Rs. 125. I may not be quite correct in this calculation, because I have made a rough calculation ; but what I meant to convey was that the income that could be derived from local rates in the villages would be very small indeed, and unless substantial grants are given by the district board or by the Local Government the union boards would have to depend upon local taxation for raising the funds that will be required to carry out the scheme. I say that the people are poor and it would be expecting too much that they would be able to tax themselves to raise the requisite funds. I proceeded to say that if the funds at the disposal of union boards were not sufficient, the experiment would be bound to end in a failure. However, I need not labour upon that point. I do not wish also to refer to the other speeches that have been made; but I wish to say just a few words with reference to the remarks that have been made by my hon'ble friend Mr. Aminur Rahman; and I do with as much liberty as I can command, because I find that he has declared himself against me. I am not apprehensive of losing his vote, because he has already told me that he is not going to vote in favour of my motion. My friend remarked that the public had one full year to send in their suggestions. As an Indian he ought not to forget that there is a little failing in the Indian character which induces us to postpone matters up to the very last moment. I am saying so with the utmost deference, that if he has somehow or other got over the innate lethargy which is the characteristic trait of Indian character, he has no right to expect that all Indians generally have come up to that standard which teaches them to lose as little time as possible in the discharge of their duties. Now, supposing for a moment that the public had one full year, what about the Members of this Council? Surely, we were not expected to send in amendments before the Bill had been considered by the Select Committee and had been presented to the Council. The position therefore is this: it does not matter whether the Bill had been before the country for one year or even for five years or 15 or 20 years. So far as the Hon'ble Members of this Council are concerned, they had only 14 days and nothing further. Before the 18th January last we had no jurisdiction to send in our amendments. It was on the 18th January that the Bill emerged out of the Select Committee and was presented to this Council when the members had an opportunity of considering the Bill and the opinions and sending notices of amendments. It is no use telling us that the Bill had been before the country for about a year; it may be so. We were waiting to see how the Bill would be amended by the Select Committee. So, after all, his argument that we had the Bill before us for one year is beside the point, as it does not touch the very important question which we raise that we had not sufficient time to consider the provisions of the Bill. My hon'ble friend also seems to think that if this Bill is recommitted to the Select Committee, all these matters will be considered over again. True but the Select Committee will find that some of the amendments that have been proposed represent not merely the opinions of the public at large, but these opinions have got behind them the considered opinion of the Members of this Council, and although it may be that the Select Committee at the first sitting did not consider it of importance to accept the opinions that had been received from various sources, it may be that the Members will find that the opinions, which have come from various sources and have been endorsed by Hon'ble members, are entitled to sufficient consideration and due weight, and should be accepted. That changes the whole situation—283 amendments change the entire aspect of the case. It shows that the Hon'ble Members of this Council have also accepted some of the suggestions that have been put forward in the opinions, and although the suggestions may have been rejected by the Select Committee, they may be accepted in view of the fact that the opinions are endorsed by the Hon'ble Members of this Council.

The Bengal Village Self-Government Bill.

Moulvi Fazl-ul Haq.

"There is another important matter on which I wish to say a few words. The Hon'ble Sir Henry Wheeler seems to think that a recommitment of the Bill to the Select Committee would entail a year's delay—absolutely nothing of the kind. It may be recommitted to the Select Committee: the rules are not very strict on that point: a time-limit may be laid down within which the Select Committee will be able to finish their deliberations and present the Bill before the Council before it breaks up at the end of this session. I may say this that if the Bill is recommitted to the Select Committee, the Bill will be presented before the Council in an absolutely non-contentious form, and this will save time instead of going on with the consideration of these 283 amendments with all the speeches for and against. I submit that it would be an economy of time, if nothing else, to allow this Bill to go back to the Select Committee, so that it may emerge in a form for which there will be no necessity for sending notices of amendments.

"I do not wish to say anything further about district boards being saddled with grants to union boards. My hon'ble friend, Mr. Aminur Rahman, has pointed out to me that there is a provision in the Bill for district boards making some grants to union boards. I did not lose sight of that provision and if he will look at the amendments he will find that I have given notice of an amendment so far as that particular provision is concerned. But what I say is this, that there is a provision for using discretion as regards the levy of fees and if that discretion is exercised in favour of union boards there will be lack of funds. However, I do not wish to discuss the subject because it will be taking up the time of the Council quite unnecessarily.

"Before I sit down, I would submit that this Bill touches us—the Indian members—on the most vital points of our daily life in villages. So far as the European members are concerned, I wish to make one earnest appeal. I ask them to remember that this system of self-government is one of the greates boons that the beneficence of England can confer on the people of India, and if that is so, let it be a reality, and if it is sought to be made a reality, let us not hurry this measure through the Council in this form. My first motion might be considered to be unreasonable in the sense that it would entail a long delay, but this is a more modest proposal, and I have already indicated that matters may be so arranged that the recommitment and the final consideration of this Bill may all be finished before we break up at the end of this session. Therefore, my Lord, once again I commend this motion to the Council and I hope that it will be accepted."

The motion was then put and a division was taken with the following results :—

THE BENGAL PREVENTION OF ADULTERATION BILL, 1918.

The Hon'ble Sir Bijay Chand Mahtab, Maharajadhiraja Bahadur of Burdwan, moved that the Bengal Prevention of Adulteration Bill, 1918, be referred to a Select Committee consisting of the Hon'ble Major-General Robinson, the Hon'ble Mr. O'Malley, the Hon'ble Mr. Duval, the Hon'ble Sir Nilratan Sarkar, the Hon'ble Raja Hrishikesh Laha, the Hon'ble Mr. Phelps, the Hon'ble Khan Sahib Aman Ali and the mover, with instructions to circulate their report in time for its consideration in Council at the meeting to be held on the 27th March, 1919.

The Hon'ble Rai Debender Chunder Ghose Bahadur said :—

"My Lord, I may be pardoned if I make a suggestion for the addition of one name to this Select Committee. As your Lordship knows this Bill is a Bill which affects not only the mufassal, but also the town of Calcutta. Food-stuffs which come to this town are supplied by the country generally, and those representing the Corporation of Calcutta in this Council are interested not only as members of this Council, but also as members of the Corporation of Calcutta, to see that the right measures are enacted for the prevention of adulteration of food. The Bill excludes Calcutta from its operation, but Calcutta is vitally interested in this Bill, and, with the leave of the Council, I would suggest that my colleague the Hon'ble Rai Radha Charan Pal Bahadur, who has great experience in the working of the Corporation of Calcutta, should be associated with this Select Committee, so that he may have an opportunity of utilising this experience in the passing of this Bill through the Select Committee."

The Hon'ble Maharajadhiraja Bahadur of Burdwan said :—

"My Lord, I think the Hon'ble Member is under some misapprehension, because so far as Calcutta is concerned the question will come up when the Calcutta Municipal Bill is brought before the Council and really this Bill, as he must have already seen when it was originally introduced, is going to affect the areas outside Calcutta, and that was made very clear in the Statement of Objects and Reasons. I therefore am sorry at not being able to accept the proposal made by the Hon'ble gentleman. I may further point out that so far as the Calcutta Corporation is concerned, I do not think that on the Select Committee there could be a better advocate than the Hon'ble Mr. Phelps whose name we have already included."

The Hon'ble Rai Radha Charan Pal Bahadur said :—

"My Lord, I wish to say one or two words. When a motion is made for the appointment of a Select Committee, although our votes are required to carry that motion, we have practically no voice, but simply have to say 'ditto' to the Hon'ble Member who moved for the appointment of the Select Committee. I thank my Hon'ble friend to my right for moving my name, but I am not very anxious to serve on the Committee, because the Hon'ble Member in charge apparently does not desire my services. The constitution of the Select Committee does not commend itself to a considerable number of the members on this side of the House. Now, my Lord, if it is a mufassal measure affecting mufassal municipalities only, I do not know why some of the experienced and prominent chairmen of some of these municipalities have been left out. Why have not the Hon'ble Rai Mahendra Chandra Mitra Bahadur and the Hon'ble Babu Mahendra Nath Ray been included in this Select Committee? Then, my Lord, I should have liked to see the Hon'ble Mr. P. C. Mitter on the Select Committee, but what I find is that none of the un-official members proposed are connected with any mufassal municipality. I do not know if the Hon'ble Khan Sahib Aman Ali is connected with any municipality—(A voice—'He is the Chairman of the Chittagong Municipality'). I am glad the Hon'ble Member in charge has selected one eminent member from distant Chittagong, although he has overlooked places nearer Calcutta. If I am permitted, I would move that the Hon'ble Babu Mahendra Nath Ray be included in the Select Committee."

The Hon'ble Babu Mahendra Nath Ray said :—

The Hon'ble Rai Radha Charan Pal Bahadur said :—

"Then I would move that the Hon'ble Rai Mahendra Chandra Mitra Bahadur be included."

The Hon'ble Maharajadhiraja Bahadur of Burdwan said :—

"My Lord, I think it is always a great danger to go into the personal question in a matter of this kind. All the other members of the Council will have ample opportunity to discuss the provisions of the Bill when the report of the Select Committee is submitted. Moreover, we have put in gentlemen in the Select Committee who have got special knowledge and concern with a measure of this kind, so far as it relates to trade and commerce. Then we have got Sir Nilratan Sarkar who takes great interest in such matters to advise us; we have also the Chairman of a mufassal municipality. I really, therefore, do not think that by the addition of any more names to the Select Committee we shall really attain any great object, and I therefore recommend the Council to accept the motion which I have just moved."

The President said :—

The Hon'ble Rai Radha Charan Pal Bahadur said : "Yes, my Lord."

The President said : "Will the Hon'ble Member who is concerned tell us whether he is prepared to serve on the Committee or not?"

The Hon'ble Rai Mahendra Chandra Mitra Bahadur said : "My Lord, I am much obliged for the amendment which has been moved, but I consider that my services will be of no use, and I would not like to accept."

The President said : "In view of the disinclination of the Hon'ble Member to serve on this Committee, does the Hon'ble Rai Radha Charan Pal Bahadur still desire to move his amendment?"

The Hon'ble Rai Radha Charan Pal Bahadur said : "My Lord, I have no other alternative but to give up my motion, when the two hon'ble gentlemen have been scared away by the Hon'ble Maharajadhiraja."

The motion was then put and agreed to.

LIST OF BUSINESS—ITEM No. 11.

The Hon'ble Babu Surendra Nath Ray moved that the clauses of the Bill be considered for settlement in the form recommended by the Select Committee.

AMENDMENT No. 1.

The Hon'ble Babu Ambika Charan Mazumdar moved that for the word "rural" in line 2 of the long title and in line 3 of the preamble the word "other" be substituted.

He said :—

"My Lord, the amendment which I have to move refers to the preamble. I submit that for the word 'rural' the words 'other areas in Bengal' be substituted, because the word 'rural' might put us into some difficulty. The word 'rural' is often understood as opposed to 'urban'. We do not know yet whether we shall not have to introduce this Bill to urban areas also, because the distinction between 'urban' and 'rural' has not yet been decided. We do not know what the Reforms Committee will do in connection with municipal or non-municipal areas, so that by including 'rural' areas only we restrict the scope of this enactment, whereas by substituting the words I have suggested, we make the scope of the Bill wider."

The Hon'ble Babu Surendra Nath Ray said : "My Lord, I have pleasure in accepting this amendment."

The motion was put and agreed to.

AMENDMENT No. 2.

The Hon'ble Babu Surendra Nath Ray moved that after the word "modifications" in line 3 of the proviso to sub-clause (2) of clause 1 the words "for the purposes of adaptation" be inserted.

He said :—

"My Lord, the reason why I move this amendment is that you cannot change the spirit of an Act. It must be merely for the purpose of extending the provisions of the Act, and for the purposes of such extension to make such purely formal alterations as may be necessary."

The motion was put and agreed to.

AMENDMENT No. 3.

The Hon'ble Babu Ambika Charan Mazumdar moved that after the words "to any" in line 4 of the proviso to sub-clause (2) of clause 1 the words "other town or any" be inserted.

He said :—

"I would draw attention to the provision of clause 1, sub-clause (2), where it is said 'with such modifications as they may deem fit to any area in a union constituted under this Act'. But I would substitute the words 'other town or any' for the word 'to any', simply to bring in the very next stage in the development of primary education and make it more obligatory. First of all, we shall have the municipal towns, and then after that we shall have to deal with the subdivisional headquarters and other important centres where there are no municipalities, but which are all the same quite important urban areas. I should therefore like to have any other town, not simply a municipal town, but also any town municipal or non-municipal introduced, and that is why I propose this amendment. It follows exactly the line I proposed in the preamble."

The Hon'ble Babu Surendra Nath Ray said :—

"My Lord, I am sorry I cannot accept this amendment, and the reason is that there may be towns without any public bodies, and this Bill when it is passed will have to be worked by public bodies, so if there be any towns, without any public bodies, the Act will be neugatory.

The Hon'ble Mr. O'Malley said :—

"My Lord, on behalf of Government I beg to support the Hon'ble Member in charge. The object of the amendment is obviously to allow this Bill, when it becomes law, to be extended to places which are not under the Bengal Municipal Act or under the Bengal Local Self-Government Act And if it is said that there are many places which are of an urban character, though they have no form of municipal law, then I venture to submit, Sir, that if a town is not advanced enough for local self-government it is not advanced enough for the system of education contemplated by this Bill. In such places, the Act would be unworkable without any public local organisation, such as a Union Committee or Municipal Board. It would be extremely difficult, for instance, to arrange for such bodies as school committees and it would be very hard to make the necessary adaptations in extending the Act."

The Bengal Primary Education Bill.

Babu A C. Muzumdar ; The President.

The Hon'ble Babu Ambika Charan Mazumdar said :—

"I wish to disabuse my hon'ble freind's mind. He is apprehensive that if we were to use the words 'any other town', there may be no public body or local authority to give effect to the provisions of this Act. What I mean is this. The Bill should be extended to any other town or area in a union constituted under this Act. My Lord, I shall be borne out by the Hon'ble Members to your right that many of these towns have been amalgamated and formed into unions. There are many subdivisions where there are no municipalities, but they are also united. Secondly, there would not be any want of proper authority to give effect to the provisions of the Act if the word 'town' is introduced. On the other hand, we shall be giving a very good opportunity for extending the provisions of the Act, or of introducing primary education on a larger scale simultaneously with such introduction within municipal areas."

The motion was then put and lost.

AMENDMENT No. 4.

The following motion stood in the name of the Hon'ble Babu Ambika Charan Mazumdar.

"That after the figures '1885' in line 6 of the proviso to sub-clause (2) of clause 1 the words and figures 'or under the Bengal Village Self-Government Act, 1919' be inserted."

He said :—

"My Lord, I ask permission to withdraw this amendment because the Village Self-Government Bill has been postponed and not yet been passed. If Your Excellency will permit me I will put it in this way—'or any other enactment to that effect', otherwise it may be dropped."

The President said :—

"I think the Hon'ble Member must necessarily withdraw the amendment in its present form because it refers to an Act which does not exist, and which, in view of what happened this morning, may never exist. It is out of order for the Hon'ble Member to move the amendment in this form, but if he alter the wording of the amendment, without altering it in substance, I am quite ready to accept that, and I am sure the Hon'ble Member in charge of the Bill will be ready to consider any proposal he wishes to make. If the Hon'ble Member will suggest other words for his amendment, I will consider it."

The Hon'ble Babu Ambika Charan Mazumdar said : "I think I had better withdraw the amendment altogether."

The motion was then, by leave of the President, withdrawn.

AMENDMENT No. 5.

The Hon'ble Babu Ambika Charan Mazumdar moved that for the words "the School Committee for such school" in lines 4 and 5 of sub-clause (1) of clause 2 the words "the Commissioners, the Union Committee or the Union Board concerned" be substituted.

He said :—

"My Lord, my object is clear enough. I want to give some power to the Commissioners, to union boards and union committees, and not to leave everything to the school committee. It is very necessary that when you ask the Commissioners to extend this Act and to impose a cess and so forth, they ought to have a word to say about the attendance of the boys and not leave everything to the Select Committee. Therefore I propose this amendment."

The Bengal Primary Education Bill.

Babu S. N. Ray; Mr. O'Malley; Babu A. C. Mazumdar.

The Hon'ble Babu Surendra Nath Ray said :—

"My Lord, I am sorry I cannot accept this amendment because it is unnecessary, regard being had to the proviso of clause 1, sub-clause (2). This is covered by the proviso in the case of union committees and union boards. What good would delegation of part of the function to the Commissioners do. It is the function of the School Committee."

The Hon'ble Mr. O'Malley said :—

"My Lord, I also beg to oppose the amendment on the same ground as has been mentioned by the Hon'ble Babu Surendra Nath Ray, namely, that the School Committee is in fact a better machinery for fixing the days and times in which schools will work than the Municipal Commissioners at a meeting. I also beg to state a second objection. The amendment as worded mentions the union board, whereas there is no such body in existence. It depends upon the Village Self-Government Bill and that has not yet become law."

The Hon'ble Babu Ambika Charan Mazumdar said :—

"I think the Hon'ble Members are under a misapprehension. The word proposed to be left out stands part of the clause. I understand that was the sense of the Council."

The motion was then put and lost.

After lunch.

AMENDMENT No. 6.

The Hon'ble Babu Ambika Charan Mazumdar moved that after the words "elementary education" in lines 1 and 2 of sub-clause (6) of clause 2 the following be inserted, namely :—

> "in reading, writing and arithmetic together with such elementary rules of hygiene, sanitation, agriculture and other industrial pursuits as are suited to local conditions and requirements".

He said :—

"My Lord, the object for the amendment of the definition of primary education is this. As the clause now stands, it is left entirely to the Education Department to lay down what the primary education should be. I want to indicate the line on which you want to impart primary education through the Education Department; and therefore I propose that after the words 'elementary education' may be added not only reading, writing and arithmetic but also rules of hygiene, sanitation, agriculture, etc. My Lord, why primary education has not made much progress in this province by this time is, I think, because this education—purely literary education—has not been very attractive to the people for whom such education is primarily intended. People, particularly the cultivating and the labouring classes, ought to know that the primary education which we are going to impart will not be purely of a literary character but of such a nature as may help their children in their ordinary avocations of life. Of course, it may be said that the Education Department will do so, but, my Lord, the Education Department have not up to this time done anything of that nature. I want to give the little boys some training in elementary rules of agriculture, hygiene, etc., and I therefore wish to indicate by this definition to the Education Department the line on which they should proceed. By the inclusion of my amendment, the Act itself will prove an attraction to the labouring and agricultural classes to send their boys to schools more readily than they are disposed to do at present."

The Bengal Primary Education Bill.

Raja Hrishikesh Laha.

The Hon'ble Raja Hrishikesh Laha said :—

"My Lord, I have a similar motion standing in my name. If my hon'ble friend accepts the insertion of the words 'civic and manual training' I shall be glad to support his motion.

My reason is that exclusive instruction in reading, writing, and arithmetic will, I am afraid, render a boy unfit for the work of their parents and guardians and they very probably will look down upon it with contempt. In the words of the Resolution on Indian Educational Policy as issued by the Governor General in Council on the 11th March, 1904, 'the aims of the rural schools should be not to impart definite agricultural teaching, but to give to children a preliminary training which will make them intelligent cultivators, will train them to be observers, thinkers and experimenters in however humble a manner, and will protect them in their business transactions with the landlords to whom they pay rent and the grain dealers to whom they dispose of their corps' The policy laid down here should be a proper guide for imparting primary education to children with a view to make them useful members of their family and of society when they shall be called upon to perform the practical duties of life. My Hon'ble friend, Mr. Cumming, from his place in Council, in reply to a resolution, expressed an opposite opinion to the declared policy of the Government of India by stating that "the attempt to teach agriculture in primary schools should be definitely abandoned' as 'the obvious difficulty lies in the provisions of suitable teachers" (see Calcutta Gazette, 6th February, 1918, page 210). This difficulty may no doubt at the present moment be great, but not insuperable; but as Government is in full sympathy with the education of the boys of the cultivating class, this difficulty should not stand in the way of what I consider to be an obvious duty of the Government. And the undertaking of such duty by the State, I presume, has been foreshadowed by the august authors of the report on Indian Constitutional Reforms. They say in paragraph 185 that 'the spread of education among the lower classes is also attended by peculiar difficulties. India is a predominantly agricultural country, and an agricultural population is always and everywhere suspicious of the effect of education upon rural children. Here again is the need—a need realised equally in Europe and America—of making rural education more practical, and ensuring that the school shall make the average boy who does not aspire to university education a more practical farmer instead of transforming him into an indifferent clerk.' It is simply a question of time, and if Government is bent upon it, trained teachers would become available within a reasonable period. What I have said regarding agriculture would apply mutatis mutandis to other subjects which are necessary for the education of the masses. Hitherto the primary schools have not been attractive, as the instructions given in them are too theoretical and have no reference to the condition of employment and livelihood of the people. Indeed it is the total divorce of education from the needs and possibilities of the life of the masses that has made education unpopular and barren and the same evils will become more intense and widespread if the present system continues to lay emphasis on an over-literary education,—what is wanted, is practical education. Instructions in handicrafts and agriculture should go hand in hand with vocational guidance which would secure a better preparation for life's occupation and avoid aimless drifting of the choice of unsuitable employments. I would like also that a course of civics embodying imperial ideas should form a permanent curriculum in our school. They are sure to help our youths to render themselves better citizens and I need hardly remind this Council that the study of civics in elementary schools has worked most satisfactorily in Japan, United States, etc. Let us take an example out of their books."

The Hon'ble Babu Ambika Charan Mazumdar said :—

"My Lord, I beg to enquire where my freind wants to introduce these words."

The Hon'ble Raja Hrishikesh Laha said :—

"After the word 'agriculture.,"

The Hon'ble Babu Ambika Charan Mazumdar said :—

"I have no objection."

The President said :—

"Might I suggest that if the Hon'ble Babu Ambika Charan Mazumdar is prepared to accept the inclusion of the words 'civic and manual training' after the word 'agriculture' he should move the deletion of the words 'rules of' and insert 'instruction in' in their place, as it would read better."

The Hon'ble Babu Ambica Charan Mazumdar said :—

"I have no objection. my Lord."

The Hon'ble Mr. W. H. H. Arden-Wood said :—

"My Lord, I am very anxious that the nature of primary education should not be too specifically laid down in clause 2 of the Bill, because I feel very strongly that the most important thing of all is the character of the education that is to be given under the denomination of elementary education, if it is to be really effective in the way we want. I do not think that we know at present either in England or in India what the best form—certainly not what the final form —of elementary education will prove to be.

Now I notice that there is a good deal of apprehension expressed in the criticisms upon the Bill, lest this new elementary education should be too literary—too much the same kind of education as that now being given in existing schools of higher grade, so that it would be possible to regard the higher form of education as a continuation of it : so that this elementary education might come to be regarded as preparatory to another grade of education, instead of being self-contained—a thing of itself, which is really what we want it to be. It is thought, not I understand without reason, that a good deal of what is now given as primary education has an unsettling effect, making its recipients discontented with the ways of life that their fathers follow. and tending to make them swell the number of those who do not want to work on the land. I submit that it would be disastrous to do anything to increase that tendency. Therefore we must be particularly careful what kind of education the new elementary education is. We are really confronted with a very great problem. I think the future welfare and happiness of India will very largely depend upon the solution of it. There can be no doubt that one of the things that has to be faced in the future is the problem of increasing the material welfare of the masses of the people. This is a crowded country, and it is in consequence even more true here than elsewhere that that man is a great benefactor who makes two blades of grass grow where only one grew before or, what comes to the same thing, makes the soil produce what is of twice the value. India, we hope, has a considerable industrial future before it, but for all that agriculture must remain all important, and therefore the education given to the agricultural classes should be such as to fit them to get more out of the land rather than to drive them away from it. This means that their education should have the effect of making them interested in the processes of agriculture by making them capable of understanding them better, and of practising them with intelligence. We want them to adopt improved methods in place of their ancestral methods. Now I venture to think that we shall not succeed in doing this by prescribing such special courses in hygiene, civics, agriculture, etc., as are advocated in the two motions before us. I really feel tempted to ask the Hon'ble Members if they really know what boys of six to ten are—what mere children they are. What we really want to do in the very short time available, in addition to giving them such instruction in the 'three R's' as will develop their general intelligence and enable them to protect their own interests, is to alter their mentality in a way that will persist after they leave school, and that will not be attained, I submit, by such a course as is here proposed. It seems to me that we want something to develop such a sense of necessary causal connexion among familiar natural phenomena as will prepare the ground for profitable vocational instruction at a later stage—I should say something of the kind we call nature study. But I hesitate even to say that, because here again so much depends upon how a subject is taught, and that raises the old problem of getting proper teachers, which is one of the problems that this Bill has to solve. If it is to be a success, we have to solve the problem of getting proper teachers. I trust, therefore, that the Council will not accept these two motions. This Bill is very largely experimental, and we have got to give those who are concerned with the administration of it as free a hand as possible."

The Bengal Primary Education Bill.

Babu S. N. Ray; Mr. O'Malley.

The Hon'ble Babu Surendra Nath Ray said :—

"My Lord, I am sorry I cannot accept this amendment. Unless the Education Department chooses to include all these subjects, how can the curriculum suggested by my hon'ble friends be given effect to? The Bill leaves the programme of primary education to be developed according to the wishes of the Education Department alone. Then, the curriculum ought to be different in different localities. How can you teach practical agriculture or agriculture in any shape in the town of Calcutta, because the Bill extends also to the town of Calcutta? Then, as my hon'ble friend Mr. Arden-Wood has said, a boy of ten is a mere child, and how can you give instructions in all these subjects—in civics, in manual training and sanitation in a primary school? So we ought to leave these subjects entirely to the Education Department: they are the best authority on these points and we ought not to interfere."

The Hon'ble Mr. O'Malley said :—

"My Lord, speaking on behalf of the Education Department, I am afraid that I cannot advise the Council to accept this amendment. The reasons are two, and they have already been mentioned by the previous speakers. In the first place, the interpretation of elementary education and its curriculum must vary from time to time. A Bill like this is not a place for a definition of education, which should not be stereotyped by legislative enactment. The section, as drafted, gives some latitude and permits of variation to meet the development of ideas about education and its objects, and education is a subject about which ideas are constantly developing. The second reason is that the subjects proposed are in some respects too advanced for the minds of small children; and those who have children themselves must admit that it is not altogether desirable that young minds should be overloaded."

The Bengal Primary Education Bill.

Babu A. C. Mazumdar.

The Hon'ble Babu Ambika Charan Mazumdar said :—

"My Lord, I have already said that I accept the small verbal amendment proposed by the Hon'ble Raja Hrishikesh Laha, so that my amendment with Your Excellency's suggestion will read thus :

'in reading, writing and arithmetic together with such elementary instruction in hygiene, santitation, agriculture, civics, manual training and other industrial pursuits as is suited to local conditions and requirements.'

The Hon'ble Mr. Arden-Wood, though in full sympathy with the object of this amendment, thinks that the age of boys being fixed at ten, they will be mere children and that it will be impossible to teach them these subjects. With reference to that remark I would simply say that by this amendment I do not mean to suggest that rules of hygiene and higher sanitation should be taught to them ; but I do not think it will be at all difficult to satisfy the requirements of this amendment by simply teaching a boy of ten that he ought to have dirty water boiled before using it for drinking purposes or to tell him that he ought to remain neat and clean. These are the ordinary elementary rules which should be imparted to them. I do not suppose that a boy of ten in this country will be found wanting in appreciating such lessons.

Then as regards agriculture and other manual training, I may inform the Council that at the age of ten the boys or children, as you would call them, of labourers, artisans and agriculturists do assist their fathers in tilling the soil, in helping in the work of carpenters and they would easily understand these lessons ; but if you keep it still confined to literary education, I am afraid you will find that the primary education which you seek to give to these children will be very very problematical and the result will be very doubtful. I have therefore entered these amended words for elementary rules. My Hon'ble friend, the Member in charge, has taken the safest position of leaving everything to the Education Department and he seems to think—'let the responsibility rest on their shoulders—we have nothing to do with it'. I am not going to endorse a view like that. I do not want to take away from the hands of the Education Department any power which they possess for the purpose of fixing the curriculum or regulating the studies, but we want to indicate the line in which the Education Department ought to move. It has not moved on that line for the last 20 years : and my earnest request to the Hon'ble Members present is—let them by this enactment make it attractive ; let the people understand that this education which is meant to be given to them is of an useful character. If we are to leave everything to the Education Department, I do not think it is necessary at all to do anything more than to say that the people will pay an education cess and the Education Department will prescribe the course. For the purpose of spreading primary education we should indicate the proper line and let them give elementary lessons in sanitation and so forth along that line.

Then, my Hon'ble friend has started a serious objection and has asked how this could be done in Calcutta, but Calcutta is not the whole world. I may point out that I have guarded myself against such a contention by saying

The Bengal Primary Education Bill.

Babu A. C. Mazumdar.

'suited to local conditions and requirements': there the Education Department will be able to suggest modification for Calcutta. As this Bill will be for Calcutta and the outlying districts, I do not understand why this simple amendment has been opposed. In fact, I am perfectly certain that unless we declare what sort of education we are going to give to children, we will fail altogether. It is not simply my view, but in the voluminous report I find that many district officers and other important persons have also suggested that there should be some sort of education which might be useful to the people for whom it is intended."

The motion was then put in the following amended form :—

"That after the words 'elementary education' in lines 1 and 2 of sub-clause (b) of clause (2) the following be inserted, namely :—

'in reading, writing and arithmetic together with such elementary instruction in hygiene, sanitation, agriculture, civics, manual training and other industrial pursuits as is suited to local conditions and requirements.'"

AMENDMENT No. 7.

Amendment No. 6 being lost the following motion which stood in the name of the Hon'ble Raja Hrishikesh Laha was deemed to have been withdrawn :—

"That at the end of sub-clause (6) of clause 2 the following be added, namely :—

'including vocational guidance, elementary instruction in civics, agriculture, manual training and sanitation.'"

AMENDMENT No. 8.

The Hon'ble Babu Kishori Mohan Chaudhuri moved that for the word "children" in line 1 of sub-clause (a) (i) of clause 2A the word "girls" be substituted.

He said :—

My Lord, by this amendment I propose to substitute the word 'girls' in place of 'children' in clause 2(1)(i) of section 2A. As the Act is intended to provide first for voluntary education and if it is successful, then only to think of compulsory education, and as we have to provide for education of the boys to be made compulsory up to the age of 10, why should it be children, I mean both boys and girls ? In arranging for voluntary education in the first instance I, therefore, think that as in the next clause it is provided that necessary enquiries should be made for the boys only, so in this clause also if we are to enquire into the requirements for the girls only, that will serve the purpose. The difficulty which I feel in moving this amendment is that there is in section 21B that whatever cess may be imposed may be spent for voluntary or compulsory education, so if a larger sum is spent for making provision for voluntary education it will be very difficult to make provision for funds for the compulsory purpose. If we are satisfied with making arrangements for compulsory education for boys up to the age of 10, why should we be anxious for making arrangements for voluntary education for boys up to the age of 11, I really fail to understand, and that may stand in our way of successfully dealing with the provisions of the Act. The cess, whatever cess we may impose, should not be very excessive, and if a greater portion is spent for persons for whom compulsory education is not provided, we may be satisfied with making provision in that case for the girls only. There is another amendment which I will deal with hereafter, but in this amendment, I move for the word 'girls' in place of 'children.'"

The Bengal Primary Education Bill.

Babu S. N. Ray; Mr. Wordsworth; Babu Kishori Mohan Chaudhuri.

The Hon'ble Babu Surendra Nath Ray said: –

"My Lord, I am sorry I cannot accept this amendment of my Hon'ble friend. The effect of this amendment would be to make the scheme of voluntary private education applicable only in the case of girls between the ages of 6 to 10, so that if provision is made for the education of girls between 6 and 10 who are willing to attend primary schools voluntarily, a municipality would be entitled to make primary education compulsory in the case of boys between 6 and 10 under Part III. This supposes that there would be compulsory education for boys as soon as voluntary education for girls is provided. It does not provide for primary education for boys on a voluntary basis. There would be no obligation to provide for compulsory education under the voluntary system in the case of boys. Many municipalities may not for some time to come take advantage of Part III of the Bill. In that case there would be no impetus to primary education for boys. The effect of the acceptance of the amendment would be practically to exclude boys, which was never the intention of any one who has the extension of primary education in the country at heart, and for which object this Bill has been introduced."

The Hon'ble Mr. Wordsworth said:

"My Lord, on behalf of Government I have to recommend the Council to accept the point of view of the Hon'ble Member in charge of the Bill, and not to support the amendment. The Bill aims first at the development of all the possibilities of a voluntary system of education, and secondly at the application of compulsion to a certain limited number of boys. It is reasonable that the number of children proposed to be affected under the voluntary system, should be larger than that proposed to be affected under the compulsory system, and the Select Committee in modifying the Bill deliberately proposed that it should be regarded as the duty of a Municipality adopting the Bill to provide voluntary education for all boys and girls up to the age of 11 before they proceed further. Having done that, they may proceed to apply compulsion to all boys between 6 and 10 not yet affected by the provisions of the Bill. The amendment appears to be based on a misunderstanding of the situation, and I would call the attention of the members of the Council to paragraph 4 of the report of the Select Committee. I think that puts the matter clearly, and indicates why Government is unable to accept the amendment."

The Hon'ble Babu Kishori Mohan Chaudhuri said:—

"My Lord, I am sorry that my amendment was not made clear to the Hon'ble Member in charge of the Bill By clause 2A it is provided that a statement should be prepared showing the number of children not being less than six or more than eleven years of age, and the number of boys up to ten years of age, so by substituting the word 'girls' for 'children' it is not proposed that the case of the boys should be excluded altogether. The only difference is, as I have explained, that we should be concerned with the boys up to the age of ten in every case not only for voluntary education, but also for compulsory education, otherwise, it may be that whatever cess may be imposed according to the circumstances of the municipality of the locality, the greater portion or the entire portion will be spent for making provision for voluntary education. To avoid that difficulty, we are making provision for compulsory education up to the age of ten in the case of boys, and similar provision should be made in the case of girls too. There will be no exclusion in the case of boys under clause 2A. There is a provision for the preparation of a statement for boys as well, Of course I have read paragraph 4 of the report of the Select Committee. There it is stated that voluntary education will be provided first up to the age of ten. There are of course various objections to it, and I say it should not be done. In that view I still hope that my amendment should be accepted.

The Bengal Primary Education Bill.

Babu K. M. Chaudhuri; Babu S. N. Ray; Mr. Wordsworth.

The motion was then put and lost.

AMENDMENT No. 9.

The Hon'ble Babu Kishori Mohan Chaudhuri moved that for the words "eleven years" in line 2 of sub-clause (a) (i) of clause 2A the words "ten years" be substituted.

He said :—

"This motion, as I have already explained, is for voluntary education. We should make provision for boys up to the age of ten years and not eleven years. The same arrangement should be made for valuntary education as well as for compulsory education. That is all I propose by this amendment; it is not necessary to speak in detail."

The Hon'ble Babu Surendra Nath Ray said :—

"My Lord. I am sorry to have to oppose this amendment. My Hon'ble friend has already referred to the report of the Select Committee, and we have raised the age from ten to eleven years in the case of education on the voluntary basis, and the reasons given by the Select Committee are as follows: "Compulsion is to apply to all boys between the ages of six and ten and to them only, whereas the obligations under Part II of the Bill have relation to both boys and girls between the ages of six and eleven. Briefly the effect of the Bill will be to ensure proper provision in the first place for the primary education of all children between six and eleven desirous of attending schools under the voluntary system, and subsequently if and when due provision has been made for their education under the voluntary system for the primary education of all boys between six and ten under the cumpulsory system." We accepted this recommendation of the Select Committee, and I therefore cannot accept the amendment of my Hon'ble friend."

The Hon'ble Mr. Wordsworth said :—

"My Lord, on behalf of Government I beg to support the Hon'ble Member in charge of the Bill. It was the feeling of the Select Committee, and Government concurred with it, that municipalities may reasonably be called upon to provide education for all boys and girls who wish it, between the ages of six and eleven, before they proceed to apply the principle of compulsion between the ages of six and ten. For this reason, the acceptance of this amendment would be a serious and unaceptable modification of the principles of the Bill."

The Bengal Primary Education Bill.

Babu K. M. Chaudhuri; Rai R. C. Pal Bahadur.

The Hon'ble Babu Kishori Mohan Chaudhuri said :—

"I have already stated my reasons; I do not think it is necessary to say anything more. If it is not the pleasure of the House to accept the amendment, I have nothing more to say."

The motion was then put and lost.

AMENDMENT No. 10.

The following motion which stood in the name of Babu Kishori Mohan Chaudhuri was, by leave of the President, withdrawn :—

If motion No. 8 be carried, also to move that for the word "children" in line 1 of sub-clause (c) (i) of clause 2A the word "girls" be substituted.

AMENDMENT No. 11.

The Hon'ble Rai Radha Charan Pal Bahadur moved that the words "including the receipts from any education cess under clause 21B" in lines 2 and 3 of sub-clause (f) of clause 2A be omitted.

He said :—

"The Bill has undergone a remarkable transformation in Select Committee. The Bill as introduced by my hon'ble friend took power to introduce an education cess with the consent of the municipality concerned, such consent being given by a majority of not less than two-thirds of the Commissioners for the purpose of the imposition of an education cess, in addition to such other receipts, including Government assessment, which the municipality may receive. So it was originally quite optional on the part of the municipality to impose an education cess, and there was such a safeguard as a two-third majority. Reading the collection of opinions which we have received we find that not an inconsiderable number of municipalities have suggested that the number should be increased to three-fourths, and not a few of them have opposed the education cess. Now, my Lord, in Part II of this Bill, the heading is 'Voluntary primary education.' In this clause it will be found that in the statement to be furnished to the Local Government the amount of income and receipts already available as well as the income from any education cess under Section 21B which may become available to meet such expenses should be shown. Now, my Lord, there was a condition precedent in the original Bill that it should be compulsory primary education, and it was furthermore compulsory free primary education. That is now all deleted, and we are offered compulsory or voluntary education and it appears that an education cess is required to be levied upon the ratepayers of the municipalities concerned. Now, my Lord, having regard to the consensus of opinion expressed on this Bill, I think that this should be omitted, and unless it is so omitted, it will defeat the very object of the Bill. As regards voluntary education, I think the Government and the municipalities concerned with their existing resources should be able to carry on the work as best they can. If they are unable to do so, I think the Government ought to come forward and assist them. But if they choose to have compulsory education, they will certainly have to impose an education cess to which I believe the Council has, in a manner, agreed, and therefore I think that this clause ought to be modified by deleting the words which I have moved to be deleted from sub clause (f) of clause 2A. Further, I may point out that in the Punjab, in Assam and the Central Provinces and other places, it is not enacted in the Bills that they have passed that an education cess shall be levied by the municipalities concerned for the purposes of carrying out voluntary education. I believe, my Lord, I am correct. Although I have not got the papers before me now, I am quoting the substance and I also believe that your Government is prepared to make substantial contribution for the promotion of primary education in Bengal. Looking at the figures which have been published, I find that the Government spends in Bengal Rs. 2,29,000. with a population of 23 millions. Bombay with a population of 10 millions, spends 30 lakhs and Madras spends a little over 17 lakhs. It will be seen, therefore, that the Government contribution to primary education in Bengal is certainly, I would not say niggardly, but certainly very, very small, and I think Your Excellency's Government is sincerely anxious that this Bill should be welcomed by the people, and that definite steps should be taken for the promotion of primary education in Bengal; therefore, I think that this clause should be modified by deleting the lines which I have indicated."

The Bengal Primary Education Bill.

Mr. P. C. Mitter.

The Hon'ble Mr. P. C. Mitter said :—

"My Lord, I am sorry I have to oppose my Hon'ble friend Rai Radha Charan Pal. My friend's motion really ought to be taken as a part of the motion which is tabled as item No. 34 where, with regard to clause 21B, my friend says, in effect, that there should not be any education cess so long as the voluntary system is in existence. But if my Hon'ble friend will turn to clause 21B he will see that what is proposed there is that if the existing resources of the municipality including any grant from the Government are not sufficient to cover the expenses, the Commissioners may, with the previous sanction of the local Government, impose a tax called the education cess. My friend's motion seems to be that so long as education is carried on on the voluntary basis, there ought not to be any education cess. With that I emphatically disagree, but at the same time I say that it is as much the duty of the municipality as of the Government, so far as resources are available to help the cause of primary education. This is amply provided for in section 21B. It is only when the resources of the municipality and the Government are not enough, it is then only that power is given to the municipality to raise money by an education cess. Now, if the power be not reserved to the municipality then the whole scheme of the Bill will be rendered nugatory; as I understand the idea underlying the Bill is this: try to do your best under the voluntary system, and it will then be time to come to Part III. Now, if you do your best to promote the voluntary system it must be admitted that it will be possible to educate more boys. Over and above municipal funds and Government grants, more funds may be necessary. There is however one matter which I should like to mention in this connection, and that is about the contribution of the Government. I drew the attention of the Council to that point some time ago. I do not think it will be out of place if I again refer to it. In Bengal in the year 1916-17, it may be 1915-16, I speak subject to correction, altogether about Rs. 37,40,000 were spent on primary education, out of which only about Rs. 2,21,000 was spent directly from provincial revenues. Thirteen lakhs and 15,000 were contributed by district and local funds, and only Rs. 66,087 were contributed by municipal funds, Rs. 17,56,000 were contributed from the Moshin fund and fees, and two lakhs in all were contributed by private individuals, from private sources, so that out of a total expenditure of about 37 lakhs, the direct contribution from Government from provincial revenues was only about Rs. 2,21,000. In Bombay out of a total expenditure of 54 lakhs, 30 lakhs were contributed from provincial revenues. The district board and local boards contributed six lakhs as against our 13 lakhs. Municipal funds there contributed Rs. 7,81,000 as against our Rs. 66,000 and odd, and the reason is obvious, because in Bombay there are rich mufassal municipalities full of industrial enterprises. Now, as regards fees, we contribute Rs. 17,95,000 as against Bombay's Rs. 4,42,000 and from private sources the contribution in Bombay is Rs. 4,87,000 as against our 3 lakhs in all. We find that the contribution of the district boards in fees and by private individuals is far more satisfactory than what it is in Bombay, and that the direct contribution from provincial revenues is far less than what it is in Bombay. But I ought to point out in all fairness to the Government that the contribution of 15 lakhs and odd from the district boards is largely lent by the Government. But my point is that it may have been difficult in war times to find more money for primary education so far as Provincial revenues are concerned, but it ought to be possible, at any rate, I hope it will be possible in the future, to spend more from Provincial revenues, and from what Your Excellency and the Government have said in the past, I have every expectation that my hope will be realised. As clause 21B provides for Government contribution and also income from the municipalities, and it is only when such income is insufficient that the municipalities will be allowed to impose an education cess, there are ample safeguards, therefore I am of opinion that the clause as provided ought to stand."

The Bengal Primary Education Bill.

Babu S. N. Ray.

The Hon'ble Babu Surendra Nath Ray said :—

"My Lord, I think I ought to accept this amendment. The Bill as introduced contemplates an education cess only when primary education has been made compulsory and made the imposition of such a cess a concomitant of making primary education entirely free. It appears to be quite reasonable that the second condition, namely, of making primary education free as a condition of the imposition of an education cess, should not be insisted upon. But the amended Bill permits an education cess to be imposed for the purpose of financing primary education even on a voluntary basis.

The statement to be submitted to Government under clause 2A, sub-clause (f), will comprise an estimate of receipts already available and other probable income, including receipts from any education cess. After this statement is submitted, Government will determine the amount of financial assistance to be given by them for enabling the Commissioners to provide for an extension of primary education on a voluntary basis under Part II. There is therefore some ground of apprehension that Government may not be willing to make any adequate contribution unless the Commissioners are ready and willing to impose an education cess. Education cess in that event becomes the rule, and may be made in practice a condition precedent to Government aid. The Government may not have any such idea but the Bill leads itself to such construction in the public mind.

Education cess should not be thought of, except as an optional concomitant to the introduction of compulsion. Such a cess may not be imposed even if primary education is made compulsory by a certain municipality, but it should never be capable of imposition unless such education is made compulsory. This seems to be in accord with public opinion. The capacity of our people for paying taxes is limited and no fresh impost can be justified except in very special circumstances—compulsory primary education may be considered to be such justifying circumstances by certain municipalities, it may not be considered in that light by others. A perusal of the opinions of the municipalities on this Bill will convince anyone that an education cess will be quite unpopular and in certain cases unbearable to the people.

Mr. Blackwood, the District Magistrate of Bakarganj, says :—

'The problem is mainly one of expense, and it will be observed that while all the opinions given are in favour of the Bill, a number express the hope that Government will contribute such a sum as will render the imposition of an education cess unnecessary.'

The Bengal Primary Education Bill.

Babu A. C. Mazumdar.

The District Magistrate of Burdwan says :—

'In my opinion the question of cost precludes the introduction of such a measure at present. Municipalities are at present unwilling to spend enough money on essential services, such as roads, water-supply and sanitation, and it would be unwise to saddle them with a heavy additional burden.'

The Chairman of the Noakhali Municipality says :—

'None of the Commissioners raised any objection to the Bill to be legislated for the extension of the primary education in all municipalities in Bengal. But the necessary expenditure which will be incurred on this account will hardly be met with from the insufficient fund of this municipality. Most of the ratepayers of this municipality are very poor, and this will be a heavy burden on them if the education cess as laid down in the Bill is imposed on them for the purpose. In such a case, contribution from Government will essentially be necessary to give effect to the Bill, if passed.'

The Chairman of the Midnapore Municipality says :—

'This Municipality, however, earnestly hopes that the State will, as soon as normal conditions are restored after the conclusion of a general European peace, continue to bear the entire cost of giving primary education to the people of this country or at any rate bear a major portion of it.'

There are other municipalities and public bodies which have given expression to similar views.

It must be remembered that these opinions are based on the Bill as it originally stood, which contemplated an education cess only after the introduction of compulsion and as making primary education free. How much more unpopular will the present provision be which permits such a cess even without the introduction of compulsion. If the provision is retained in its present shape, the inclination of the muncipalities will be to give the measure a wide berth. The Bill as amended invests Government with authority to exercise some sort of compulsion on municipalities in the circumstances set down in clause 2B for the purpose of expanding education on a voluntary basis. But it is to be doubted whether Government can compel any municipality to take advantage of the Bill if it means the imposition of an education cess which the municipality may be unwilling to impose.

Government must be prepared to make liberal contribution, and at the same time relax the high standard they have set up for buildings and equipment of the primary schools. And education cess should be excluded from calculation while considering the question of expansion of education on a voluntary basis under Part II."

The Hon'ble Babu Ambika Charan Mazumdar said :—

"My Lord, when the Bill was originally published it received a hearty welcome from the people. But I may say now that since the Bill has emerged in this form out of the Select Committee, there is a considerable volume of opinion opposed to this measure, and the reason is simply this : that a cess is going to be imposed even when education is voluntary. If it is to be compulsory, the people are prepared to make a sacrifice, but if it is to be voluntary and they have to pay a cess, I would like to know, as many people whom I have consulted are desirous of knowing, if there is any country or province where education cess is imposed when education is carried on only on a voluntary system. As far as I am aware this is a novel provision. We shall have elementary education on a voluntary basis and at the same time pay a tax for the same. I do not know how many municipalities will be encouraged under these provisions to come forward to introduce this measure within their jurisdiction, and there could not be a surer way of making this Bill, if not altogether a dead-letter, I say almost an unqualified failure than to provide an education cess even on a voluntary basis."

The Bengal Primary Education Bill.

Rai M. C. Mitra Bahadur; Sir Nilratan Sarkar.

The Hon'ble Rai Mahendra Chandra Mitra Bahadur said :—

"My Lord, having been connected with many municipalities and having had charge of many primary schools, I venture to offer a few observations in support of the amendment that has been made by my Hon'ble friend. I may here also add that I have had the opportunity to discuss this subject with responsible people who can advise on the subject. My Lord, the municipalities will not welcome such an education cess on a voluntary basis and neither in my humble opinion is it proper that education cess should be given on a voluntary basis. Before the Bill was talked of the gurumahasyas used to get their wages in the shape of mangoes and other gifts which the students distributed to them. The people were not in a position to pay them adequately till we find from the history of education that Government took up the question in right earnest. The result is that there are various complaints in many quarters as to the proposed imposition of an education cess on a voluntary basis. The question is quite different if compulsory education is imparted, but, my Lord, I venture again to submit to Your Excellency and to the Council that the proposition will be considered very hard if such an imposition of education cess is to be made when education will be given on a voluntary basis. My Lord, I do heartily support the amendment which has been made by my Hon'ble friend".

The Hon'ble Sir Nilratan Sarkar said :—

"My Lord, I would not like to give a silent vote in connection with this resolution. I am, I might be excused for mentioning, unconnected with any municipality except as a tax-payer. We have heard what the opinion of most of the municipalities would be because we have so many representatives of municipalities on this Council. But I am afraid the municipalities have a duty to do in this connection. Much has been made of the idea that the proposal is one for the spread of education on a voluntary basis. I suppose none present here thinks that it should be voluntary for any of the municipalities to impart or not to impart education to the children living within its jurisdiction. By the word 'voluntary' as used there, I understand voluntary on the part of the parents of the children. But suppose in this city of Calcutta we find after ascertaining the facts carefully that there are one lakh of children who would come forward voluntarily to place themselves under tuition. Now, how are we to train them? Are we expected to make bricks without straw? How much can we expect from Government? Government can spend a large sum, but the question of primary education can be solved from the financial point of view only after spending a much larger sum. Do we expect that the Government from the public exchequer should bear the whole cost of primary education. And even if they are disposed to do so, how should they manage the other departments? Then there is the other question. There are the local bodies, the students and their guardians. Do we expect a very large sum from the guardians of these students of the lower classes, or a very large contributions from the local bodies? My Hon'ble friend Mr. Mitter has already given us an idea of how the sum of 38 lakhs in Bengal is made up. I do not think that if the present system is allowed to continue, the sum could be stretched to a much larger figure—it might come up to 40 or 50 lakhs in five or ten years. Then, what is the use of this Bill? If we are not prepared to vote for a cess. Directly the Bill would be useless, or indirectly, the money must come from the people. If Government has to pay, Government has to collect that in the shape of taxation or in some other shape. Why not do it directly? I do not say that much importance can be attached to the matter of spreading education on a voluntary basis. This, of course, will only make the way smooth. Compulsory education was the thing aimed at in the original Bill; but the Select Committee found that to be an impossibiltiy in the present conditions, especially on financial grounds. If we could have a very large sum at present we should certainly adopt education on a compulsory basis at once. Of course, by introducing it on a voluntary basis. we considerably reduce the number of students who are likely to join schools; but, on the other hand, we gradually train ourselves to defray the educational expenses of our children. By taking up the lighter burden first and gradually taking up the heavier burden we can in course of time meet the difficulties and solve the problem. If we want primary education, which is not a luxury but a necessity, which we must have, we must spend our money for it, and the municipalities must agree to introduce cesses in their jurisdiction, and other local bodies must also try to raise funds from local sources: otherwise. it would be just as well to give up the measures."

The Bengal Primary Education Bill.

Mr. Wordsworth.

The Hon'ble Mr. Wordsworth said :—

"My Lord, I am unable, on behalf of Government, to advise the Council to accept this amendment. It is, in my opinion, the most important amendment on the paper and it cuts at one of the fundamental principles, if not the most important principle, of the Bill. As the Bill was originally introduced in Council a cess was made a concomitant only of free and compulsory education. This aspect of the Bill was considered at great length and with great care in the Select Committee. The opinions which had been received on the Bill, including those quoted to us by the Hon'ble Member in charge of the Bill, were then carefully considered; and the Bill, as now amended, was finally decided on without a dissentient voice by the Select Committee. The Hon'ble Member who has moved the amendment and the Hon'ble Member in charge of the Bill were members of the Select Committee; and they have signed the report of the Select Committee and accepted the new principle without a word of dissent, and the Hon'ble Member who has moved the amendment has not clearly explained the reasons for his change of front. The view of the Select Committee—and this is the view that commends itself to Government—was that the inclination of the people towards education should be fully utilised before municipalities were allowed to have recourse to the principle of compulsion. Compulsion in education is new to Bengal: it might prove in practice to be an unwelcome principle, and we think that any advance against opposition should be guarded against by utilising the wishes of the people as fully as possible before recourse was had to it. It was therefore felt to be fitting that the Municipal Commissioners should be given every facility for developing education on a voluntary basis. Those facilities included facilities for increased resources. I am afraid that it has been suggested to the Council, or if not suggested, I am afraid some members of Council may have assumed, that the imposition of this cess is an obligation provided for by the Bill. If they will refer to the clause in question, they will find that the cess may be imposed at the instance of the Commissioners. The imposition of the cess is therefore an optional matter: presumably no cess would be imposed unless local opinion was reasonably favourable to its imposition. The Hon'ble Member's motion would limit the facilities offered to the Commissioners for the development of education within their areas. The imposition of a cess would be in itself a definite act, but this act would be the culmination of a long process of development, and the act itself might reasonably be regarded as a part of that process of development, since its consequences would be inseparably merged in all the consequences of that continued development. It is not to be supposed that if compulsion were applied to any area, there would be separate schools established for the benefit of boys brought to school under that act of compulsion. When the Bill is fully adopted in any municipality, there will be three kinds of children at school. There will be all boys between the ages of six and ten, who must go to school : there will be all boys between the ages of ten and eleven who may wish to go to school ; and there will be all girls between six and ten who may wish to go to school. There may be other classes of boys and girls of other ages, for the Bill does not limit the powers of the Municipal Commissioners in that respect. But these three classes of children will not be provided for in separate classes of schools. The Municipal Commissioners will naturally consult the question of finance, of organization, and of economy, and children brought to school under the act of compulsion will presumably be distributed amongst the schools that already exist under the voluntary system. It is not clear, therefore, how and with what justice the Commissioners should be debarred from imposing this education cess at any part of the process. They cannot keep separate accounts for the children brought to school under the act of compulsion and say that this money comes from an education cess and therefore shall be devoted only to the children who attend under compulsion. On the other hand, if this education cess is to be devoted to the welfare of education within the municipality, it is not clear why the process, which may be a long process lasting for many years, should not be financed by additional resources until the Commissioners are in a position to impose compulsion and so obtain the cess. For these reasons, Government lay great stress upon the fundamental principles of the Bill and consider that if the Bill is to have any effect, the Commissioners should be enabled to do all that they can and this cess is one of the means by which they will be enabled to develop their resources for this purpose. There need be no apprehension that the imposition of a cess and its utilisation for education under voluntary conditions will impair the hope or prospect of adequate Government assistance. This is nowhere contemplated in the Bill. It is impossible for anyone to say now what resources Government may be able to contribute for this purpose in future years ; but enabling the Commissioners to impose a cess will not impair their hope of assistance from Government. If we take a municipality in which say 65 per cent.—not an reasonable figure for some municipalities—of the children go to school, it is difficult to see why the Commissioners should not be empowered to add to their resources unless they force the other 35 per cent. to school. If the Commissioners care to assume responsibility for the efficient education of the 65 per cent., surely they should be enabled to provide ways and means. The amendment, if accepted, would give considerable advantages to municipalities which are very backward in education as compared with those which have made considerable progress and will make considerable progress under the voluntary principle. I think that we all agree that progress under the voluntary system will be more valuable than progress under the application of compulsion. For these reasons, I am unable to recommend to the Council the acceptance of this motion.'

The Bengal Primary Education Bill.

Rai R. C. Pal Bahadur.

The Hon'ble Rai Radha Charan Pal Bahadur said :—

"My Lord, in the first place I should briefly reply to the points that have been raised by the Hon'ble Mr. Wordsworth, that I as a member of the

The Bengal Primary Education Bill.

Rai R. C. Pal Bahadur.

Select Committee I did not record any note of dissent, but I was moving this amendment here. I do not know whether Mr. Wordsworth is aware that I signed this report of the Select Committee subject to the right of moving amendments; this proviso has not appeared in the report. I do not know whether it is usual for it to be printed or not, but I was told that I had the right of moving amendments. However, that is one point, and then Mr. Wordsworth might refresh his memory that in the Select Committee this Bill underwent a wonderful transformation beyond recognition. So many amendments and such drastic changes were made—I say some with my concurrence—and the drafting was hurriedly done and changed the next day in pencil first and then it was typed—that one could not always keep in mind w at particular wordings of the clauses were accepted by the Select Committee. I make a frank confession. my Lord, if that is a fault on my part, I plead guilty to it. That is one of the reasons why I claim a right of moving the amendments.

Then, my Lord, with reference to the argument adduced by the Hon'ble Mr. Wordsworth, and I think it covers the arguments that have been adduced by other speakers, that the municipalities are not bound to impose an education cess, I know very well that they are not, but what I say is this—that under clause 2A for the promotion of voluntary education the Local Government may call upon the municipalities concerned to submit a statement of receipts and expenditure and the receipts should include the amount recoverable from education cess and then the subsequent clause is that the Local Government will. after considering that statement, determine the amount of contribution that is to be given from the Government Exchequer, and will then issue directions. My apprehension and that of the outside public is that you will be taking away by the left hand what you give by the right hand. I submit that this should not be the position of Government with reference to a matter like education. My friend, the Hon'ble Mr. Mitra, who has opposed this amendment, has shown that out of a total expenditure of 37 lakhs of rupees, the Government contribution is Rs. 2,28,000. Having regard to the opinions that have been expressed by the municipalities, and having regard to the conservative nature of the country, I think that a great advance has been made in that the municipalities have consented to the imposition of an education cess, if education is made compulsory in their areas and provided a substantial grant is made by Government. Mr. Mitter says—perhaps he has forgotten in his enthusiasm that it is not so—that there are ample safeguards. I emphatically say that there is absolutely no safeguard, but there was a safeguard in the original Bill—two-thirds majority at a special meeting of the municipality—which has been removed altogether. As there is no safeguard and having regard to the volume of public opinion in this matter and the poverty of the municipalities. I think it would be better not to impose an education cess for the promotion of elementary education. Government ought to be liberal with them and ought to show that they were doing their best to promote voluntary education. and it was now the turn of the Municipalities to come forward and make it a compulsory one and tax themselves for the purpose. Education and public opinion have so far advanced that you will find that there will be ready response to that request of Government. I submit that Mr. Mitter sitting comfortably in his house within the four corners of Calcutta can say anything he likes, but I can lay a wager with my Hon'ble friend that if the Bill which is now materially modified in the Select Committee is published again, there will be a considerable volume of public opinion against it The education cess will affect the rich and the poor alike and therefore what I beg to submit is this—let Government show its utmost generosity and give tangible proof that it is willing to promote voluntary education by giving them sufficient funds and thus lead them on the onward path. Let them then say to the Municipality now it is your turn to make your foot steady and proceed with a cheerful heart and attain your goal.—That is the reason that has prompted me to move this amendment".

(At this stage a division was called for.)

The motion was then put—

The Hon'ble Rai Radha Charan Pal Bahadur said :—

"May I be permitted to draw Your Excellency's attention to one matter. There is a misapprehension in our quarter whether we ought to vote 'aye' or 'no'. The question has been put in a way which is rather confusing to us."

The President said :—

"I am sorry if I have confused some Hon'ble Members. The question has been put in the ordinary way in which an amendment is put in the House of Commons. If an Hon'ble Member wishes to vote for the clause as it stands, as it appears in the Bill, then he will vote 'aye'. On the other hand, if they wish to see the clause changed in the way suggested by the Hon'ble Rai Radha Charan Pal, then they vote 'no.'

AMENDMENT No. 12.

The Hon'ble Babu Ambika Charan Mazumdar moved that in clause 2A, the word "and" at the end of sub-clause (e) be omitted, and after sub-clause (f) the following be inserted, namely :—

"and (g) the amount of grant or assistance from the Government which the Commissioners consider would be necessary to enable them to provide for primary education within the municipality, or any part thereof."

He said :—

"My Lord, in clause 2A it is proposed that the municipalities concerned should submit a statement showing certain particulars which are enumerated as (a), (b), (c), (d) and so forth, and in clause 2B it is provided that the Government after considering that statement and also after determining the amount of financial assistance from the Government may direct the Commissioners to assume any management and control. I submit that in sub-clause (f) we have given all the details that may be required by Government, but I think an opportunity should be given, at the very earliest opportunity, to the municipality concerned, to say what amount of grant it should require from the Government, and therefore I propose to insert a sub-clause (g) after sub-clause (f); so that, in the statement to be given by the municipality, it ought to be allowed to state what amount of assistance would require and then the Government under section 2B would be in a position to determine the amount of assistance. I think this is very reasonable, and the amendment should be accepted."

The Hon'ble Babu Surendra Nath Ray said :—

"My Lord. I have great pleasure in accepting this amendment."

The Hon'ble Mr. O'Malley said :—

"My Lord, Government also are prepared to accept the amendment."

The motion was then put and agreed to.

AMENDMENT No. 13.

The following motion which stood in the name of the Hon'ble Babu Kishori Mohan Chaudhuri was, by leave of the President, withdrawn :—

That for the words "eleven years" in line 11 of clause 2B the words "ten years" be substituted.

AMENDMENTS Nos. 14 AND 15.

The Hon'ble Babu Ambika Charan Mazumdar moved that at the end of clause 2B the following be added, namely :—

"Provided that the amount of financial assistance from the Government mentioned in this section shall not be less than 30 per cent. or more than 50 per cent. of the total expenditure involved in each case."

He said :—

"My Lord, much that I have to say in regard to this amendment has already been said by many of the members of this Council. Clause 2B provides that the Government will determine the amount of assistance. My proposition is that the amount of financial assistance from the Government mentioned in this clause shall not be less than 30 per cent. or more than 50 per cent. of the total expenditure involved in each case. It is the sacred duty of Government to provide for the education of the poor, and I think the figures that have been placed before this Council by my friend the Hon'ble Mr. P. C. Mitter are very striking. He has shown that the Government of Bengal spends much less than the Government of Bombay for the purpose of primary education. I know Government contemplate the provision of as much as they can for primary education to help the municipalities in extending the provisions of this enactment, but I think Government ought to have courage and generosity enough to come forward to announce to the public that the Government donot keep it entirely at its sweet pleasure, but that it is prepared to make substantial grants for the purpose of extending primary education in the country, and therefore I think that the least they can do is to say that Government is not going to pay less than 30 per cent. and it may go up to more than 50 per cent. But, my Lord, having regard to the trend of these grants which we have seen from time to time with regard to education, I have not been bold enough to rise to the top of my courage in this matter, and therefore I have kept it between 30 and 50 per cent. My Hon'ble friend on my right was just telling me that it is 50 per cent. in England, but I know India, and for the matter of that Bengal, is not England, and if we can get substantial assistance from the Government, namely, not less than 30 per cent. it will be some encouragement to the municipalities to come forward to extend the provisions of this Act; but if they are left entirely in the dark as to what amount Government will grant, probably many will not venture to come forward with a prayer for extending the provisions of this enactment within their jurisdiction. Therefore I think that Government ought readily to say that they shall grant at least 30 per cent. And in order that the people may also tax themselves, I have not gone beyond 50 per cent. It is for the purpose of making this enactment operative that I propose that Government should readily come forward with substantial help, and if it is not prepared even to grant 30 per cent., what the fate of this enactment may be, may easily be conceived."

The Hon'ble Babu Surendra Nath Ray said :—

"My Lord, I leave this amendment to Government to decide, but I should like to say a few words with reference to the Government contribution. The success of this measure, I mean the extension of primary education in the country, must depend on the share which the Government is prepared to bear of the cost. Mr. Gokhale in introducing his Primary Education Bill in the Imperial Legislative Council, said that in England the Parliamentary grant covers about two-thirds of the total expenditure on elementary schools. In Scotland it amounts to more than that proportion, whereas in Ireland it meets practically the whole cost. I think we are entitled to ask that in India at least two-thirds of the new expenditure should be borne by the State. The resources of the public bodies of this Province are limited. In Bombay the municipalities as a general rule get very substantial contribution from Government. While there is a general desire in this country for extension of primary education, people are afraid of the cost. I have already placed a few of the remarks on the question of Government aid and imposition of an educational cess while speaking on the amendment of my Hon'ble friend Rai Radha Charan Pal, so I would not like to say anything more on the subject."

The Hon'ble Mr. P. C. Mitter said :—

"My Lord, I would also leave this amendment to the Government, but in doing so, I desire to point out one aspect of the question which seems to have been overlooked. I mean the question of taxable limit, whether it be by the Municipality or the Government. Some of us may think that so long as we say that Government should contribute more, we are really serving the people. Others again may take too narrow a view of things, and think that it is possible for municipalities to raise large sums of money. but what are the facts? The municipalities in Bengal, at least most of them, excepting Calcutta and perhaps Howrah, are very poor. If you compare the condition of municipalities in Bengal with Bombay, or for the matter of that with Madras and the United Provinces, you find that the Bengal municipalities are poor. What are the conditions of municipalities in general? Only a collection of houses, where pleaders and officials live, and perhaps a few zemindars. Without manufactures, without industries, it is not possible for municipalities to find large sums of money, and therefore it is not possible for the municipalities to incur large expenditure for the cost of primary education whether it be voluntary or compulsory, so it is a question of the Government augmenting the resources of the municipality, and not of the municipality augmenting the available resources of the Government. If the Government on the one hand merely admits that 30 or 50 per cent. must be paid by the Government and so long as that percentage is not paid, work should remained at standstill, then who suffers? The people who live in the jurisdiction of the municipality suffer. At the same time, if the Government takes up the attitude that so long as municipalities do not help themselves, they will not help them, then as a question of abstract principle it is all right, but in the result perhaps the interest of the Government and the municipality in the matter of education will suffer. Therefore I am inclined to think that perhaps the best course would be to leave matters as they are. If we fix a percentage of 30 or 50 per cent. perhaps those who have the interest of primary education at heart may be confronted with the hard-and-fast rule laid down in the statute. With these remarks I leave the matter to the Government."

The Hon'ble Mr. O'Malley said :—

"This is the first of three amendments designed to impose financial liability on Government. In each case a minimum is to be fixed for the Government contribution. Under this amendment the minimum is to be 30 per cent. and under amendments Nos. 15 and 30 it is to be 50 per cent. From the point of view of Government all the amendments are open to the same objection. It is arguable in the first instance whether it is right to impose a financial obligation on Government in perpetuity by a legislative enactment. The amount which Government can give in any one year must depend on the amount available as well as the other needs of the administration. This is a familiar principle on which the budget is generally framed. I may further point out that Government already makes considerable grants to local bodies for purposes of education, although admittedly only a portion of the grants is derived from provincial revenues. Recently I had occasion to refer to the figures and I find the following result. In 1917-18 local bodies in Bengal spent 14½ lakhs on education. Of this sum nearly 11½ lakhs consisted of Government grants made over to local bodies. This was in addition to direct expenditure by Government of 82½ lakhs on education. I would invite special attention to these figures, and I may say in explanation that I am here not making a distinction between Provincial and Imperial revenues, but have lumped both together as showing State expenditure. In the last year, as in other years, the Government grants to municipalities were much smaller than those made to district boards, but still they represented a little over one-third of the amounts found by the municipalities themselves. Government intend to continue to make grants to local bodies for education. Government is in entire sympathy with the object of the Bill which is to stimulate the extension of primary education, but the actual amount given by Government each year must depend on the amount at its disposal, and the share municipalities get must depend on the other demands for education. For instance, Government can scarcely be expected to starve district boards, with their vast areas and great population, for the sake of municipalities which after all only account for a small portion of the population. The needs of both district boards and municipalities have to be considered and a fair and equitable distribution made of the money available. Another objection to the amendment is that we do not know what will be the total amount necessary for a proper system of primary education in municipalities, or how much can be met from different sources, such as fees, education cess, endowments and so on. Without definite knowledge on this point, it is impossible to say what grant would be required from Government. In some places it is possible that a Government grant would not be required, and if so, the amendment would merely transfer to public revenues a charge which could be met from other sources. Government cannot accept a liability of an indefinite kind such as this amendment contemplates now that the financial future is dark and uncertain. The Council are aware that a new system of provincial finance is contemplated under the Reform scheme. A scheme of settlement has been proposed which aims at the separation of

The Bengal Primary Education Bill.

Rai D. C. Ghose Bahadur.

Imperial and Provincial resources and responsibilities in the matter of finance. The present system of Imperial subventions will cease, and it would be unwise, to say the least, for the local Government to entertain expectations of assistance beyond that which it can afford from provincial resources. The report on the Reform Scheme gives an estimate of the provincial revenue as 734 lakhs and of the expenditure as 675 lakhs; the contribution to the Government of India, however, is put down at 69 lakhs and the provincial surplus is therefore only 10 lakhs. It is at present impossible to say what will be the demand on the provincial surplus, but as things are at present, the Government is obliged to decline to be bound by law to a liability of an indefinite amount as proposed in the amendment which I must therefore oppose on behalf of Government."

The Hon'ble Rai Debender Chunder Ghose Bahadur said : —

"My Lord, after what has fallen from the Hon'ble Mr. O'Malley it gives grounds for distrust that the Government do not mean to devote any appreciable part of their revenues for the promotion of mass education. Otherwise, such a modest proposal as this—as the Hon'ble Babu Ambika Charan Mazumdar says, the Government contribution should not be less than 30 per cent. of the total cost and not more than 50 per cent. of that cost—should find a place in the statute-book instead of being opposed by a pronouncement on behalf of Government. This leads me to refer to a little ancient history. When the East Indian Company came to sovereignty and after the Government became settled, the land revenue of the country was secured by a wise act of the British Government. When the President of the Board of Control was Mr. Dundas, and the Prime Minister Mr. Pitt, their instructions for a permanent settlement of the land revenue were carried out by Lord Cornwallis in this country; after that the Government gradually found time to consider the question of education in this country and during the time of Lord Bentick the idea of fostering western education was taken up. Mass education was not thought of at that time. The reason of course was clear. In England there was no mass education at that time and in England it was not till the year 1870 that any serious effort was made to introduce primary education in that country. The East India Company by their despatch of 1854 broached this idea and though their despatch did not exactly result in the introduction of mass education, a great impetus was given to education in the country. The East India Company were composed of commercial men—not men of broad views—and they could be excused if they did not take a very high view of their duties of sovereignty. Then came the transfer of the sovereignty from the East India Company to the Crown, and it appears that mass education was not very seriously considered for some considerable time. The attitude of Government was this: they must spend some money for education: otherwise it would look very disreputable. That was how matters stood. In 1870 when mass education was introduced in England and by the Act of 1870 and the Act of 1876 education was made compulsory there, we find that England having recognised that the duty of the State was to see that every child in the land got education, it slowly dawned upon the horizon of this country that similar things should be done here also. But there was not a proper conception of the duties of sovereignty in this respect in this land for a considerable time. I take it that the primary duties of the State are the preservation of peace and order, the administration of justice and the giving of education to every child in the land. The third duty has very slowly dawned upon the Government of this country. It is said that the revenues are not sufficient and my Hon'ble friend on my right, Mr. Mitter, considers that the purse-strings of Government should be kept tight when any demand for education is made. He says that if Government were to allow so much as 30 or 50 per cent. for mass education, it is your money going in a shape, and therefore the best thing is to leave things as they are. I want to leave no room for Government hereafter to get away and say 'Oh, you are able to provide for your education and we will not allow you any grant from Government.' That is our suspicion and the answer of the Hon'ble Mr. O'Malley supports that suspicion. When it is said that the revenues of Government are not sufficient, it is meant that the allotments made by the Government of India to the Government of Bengal for purposes of administration will not be sufficient if we are to make such grants for mass education. The Government of Bengal has only to apply to the Government of India and to move that Government to make a larger allotment. I think I am not far wrong that taking the revenues of Bengal, without the Government of India having the lion's share of it, they are amply sufficient for giving free and compulsory education to the masses of the soil. The proportion of literates in the population in this land is exceedingly low. I have forgotten, Sir, the figure which my Hon'ble friend Mr. Mitter has furnished us—I think it is 6 per cent., but still it is very low. If the members feel that India may be made more prosperous and a boon to the rest of the world, for this purpose every sou must be given to education. If India has to contribute to the general intelligence of the world, and to the better advancement of scientific truth and industry there should be no shirking of duty as regards the promotion of education amongst the masses. If there be a statutory provision for the grant, that will be some security for that. I may be permitted to mention—and I may also correct the Hon'ble Mr. Mazumdar—that the state of things in England is this: I am not aware that there is a statutory provision in England for the proportion of State-grant, but I recently requested, in view of what Mr. Gokhale said some eight years ago in the Imperial Legislative Council that the State in England provided ⅔rd of the cost, a proper person to look into the matter for me and I found what the figures are for the year just preceding the war (1913-14); the contribution of the State for primary education in England and Wales was about one-half of the total cost, and that is the state of things which, I believe, has been going on for some time. I do not know what the state of things in Ireland and Scotland is as I have not got the figures with me. Therefore we are entitled to say that if in England the local bodies are helped to the extent of one-half of the cost of primary education by the State, may we not venture to ask for some thing here. and I should not have asked for a statutory provision if my suspicion as regards the future attitude had not been confirmed by the observations of the Hon'ble Mr. O'Malley. I think, my Lord, there is a feeling amongst our people that Government is not doing fairly with us as regards the promotion of mass education. Do we forget that some ten years ago, when Mr. Gokhale moved in the matter for the introduction of mass education in India, the local Governments opposed him and the Bill was opposed by the Government in the Council and was defeated. That shows, Sir, the reason for a statutory obligation on the Government that they must provide a substantial portion of the cost."

The Hon'ble Rai Radha Charan Pal Bahadur said :—

"My Lord, just following the motion of my Hon'ble friend Babu Ambika Charan Mazumdar the next motion is mine. I do not know whether I shall be in order to move my motion at this stage."

The President said :—

"It depends entirely on whether the motion which is before the House is accepted or not. If the motion is not carried, then the Hon'ble Member will not be in order."

The Bengal Primary Education Bill.

Rai R. C. Pal Bahadur; the President.

The Hon'ble Rai Radha Charan Pal Bahadur said :—

"My motion is that the financial assistance from the Government shall not be less than half the total amount of expenditure. Therefore, I submit, that my motion precedes that of my friend the Hon'ble Mr. Mazumdar."

The President said :—

"The question in the two amendments is the same, the only difference being in the figures. The most convenient way will be for the Hon'ble Members to discuss both amendments now and they can vote for one when it is put from the Chair. I must take them in the order in which they appear on the agenda paper."

The Hon'ble Rai Radha Charan Pal Bahadur said :—

"My Lord, the matter has been very fully discussed and I do not wish to say much on the subject because I can well understand the fate of this motion. The Hon'ble Members who were members of the Select Committee will perhaps remember that I was one of those who wanted that some statutory proportion should be fixed in the Bill. I am not prepared to accept the motion of my Hon'ble friend Babu Ambika Charan Mazumdar, because he fixes the minimum of 30 and maximum of 50 per cent. I have tried to follow him in the speech he has made, but I do not quite understand on what grounds he limits the maximum to 50 per cent. This matter had been fully discussed in the Corporation and the Corporation, it will be found, recommended that for voluntary education Government should pay half and for compulsory primary education an amount not less than double the amount set apart by the municipality for primary education. This was unanimously accepted by the Corporation which is composed of all sections of the community. Then, my Lord, my Hon'ble friend, Mr. Mazumdar, is the President of an Association which is well known in the city—the Indian Association (The Hon'ble Babu Ambika Charan Mazumdar—Not now), and that Association I find have made out a strong case for a contribution from Government, and they say that a clear provision should be made in the Bill about the contribution by the Local Government towards the cost of compulsory primary education within a given area and the proportion of such contribution should be fixed at two-thirds of the entire cost. Then, my Lord, they conclude by stating the proportions that prevail in England, in Scotland and Ireland and they give figures which show that in Ireland practically the whole cost of elementary education is borne by the State. Surely, my Lord, the Hon'ble Mr. O'Malley would not grudge at least half the amount to his fellow citizens, brethern, under the same sovereignty in India, when he and his own countrymen get practically the whole cost from the State in their country. My Lord, my friend the Hon'ble Rai Debendra Chandra Ghosh Bahadur has said very forcibly that there is an impression in the public mind that what the Government will do upon the passing of this Act is simply to get the education cess realised, and then when the time comes for contribution, however much we may go down on our knees and pray with folded hands, they will compel the people to submit to it. If the Government is sincerely anxious to foster and stimulate primary education in this country, I think Government should at least consent to the provision that they will contribute half the cost from the public revenues. The Hon'ble Mr. O'Malley has said that Government have got many other items of expenditure to provide for and that there is also the Reform Scheme coming. I do not remember all the items, but I submit that the promotion of primary education should be one of the main duties of the State supplemented by local resources.

The Bengal Primary Education Bill.

Rai D. C. Ghose Bahadur; Rai R. C. Pal Bahadur; The President; Sir Henry Wheeler.

As regards the argument of my Hon'ble friend Mr. P. C. Mitter that in this matter we shall tax ourselves, I admit that it is quite true, but it is a local taxation by which the poorest of the people in the far outlying municipalities in the mufassal will be taxed. Therefore there is a difference between this taxation and other general taxations such as the tax on jute. So we need not be carried away by the eloquence of my Hon'ble friend Mr. Mitter. On these grounds I support the general principle of my friend's amendment. I will not however make another speech when I shall move my own amendment."

The Hon'ble Rai Debender Chunder Ghose Bahadur said :—

"There is a third amendment, in which I ask for 50 per cent. contribution (Item No. 30)."

The Hon'ble Rai Radha Charan Pal Bahadur said :—

"I pray that my motion may be put first."

The President said :—

"The position will be this : I should put the motion of the Hon'ble Babu Ambica Charan Mazumdar first. All those Hon'ble Members who prefer the motion of the Hon'ble Rai Radha Charan Pal Bahadur will vote against the first motion. After it is voted on I should put the motion of the Hon'ble Rai Radha Charan Pal Bahadur."

The Hon'ble Rai Radha Charan Pal Bahadur said :—

"My Lord, there may be some of my colleagues who might be, if the larger piece is lost, content with the smaller crum."

The President said :—

"If the Hon'ble Members have no objection, I will put No. 15 first and then if it is not carried I will put No. 14. Is that the Hon'ble Members' wish?"

The Hon'ble Members agreed.

The Hon'ble Sir Henry Wheeler said :—

"MY LORD, I had hoped to escape the obligation of speaking on this motion because it seemed to me that the objections to it were so patent that they would commend themselves without much discussion in Council, but in view of the two speeches that we have just heard, and as I am particularly concerned with the financial side of the Local Government, it is perhaps desirable that I should add a few words. The speech of the Hon'ble Rai Debender Chunder Ghose Bahadur, on his own showing, is based on suspicion and distrust, but I am not concerned with the workings of the Hon'ble Member's mind and I find it difficult to cope with them. If he is filled with distrust and suspicion I can only regret the morbidity of his point of view and take it from him that his mental attitude is as stated. But on the other hand I am entitled to put it to the Council that on the grounds upon which he bases his suspicions there is little to justify his conclusions. He says that he is confirmed in them after hearing the speech of the Hon'ble Mr. O'Malley, though I should have thought that he would have been more confirmed in a suspicion as to our financial competence if we accepted the amendment. But, even taking the speech of the Hon'ble Mr. O'Malley, what are the three propositions that he laid down? First, Government, as a matter of fact, in comparison with the contributions of local bodies, does at present contribute in a liberal proportion towards education : secondly, that Government is in sympathy with the object of this Bill and hopes, after the Bill is passed into law, to assist its fulfilment, and thirdly that it is not possible for Government to accept an indefinite liability, in the face of an absolute indefiniteness as to its future resources. These are the three points which the Hon'ble Mr. O'Malley has emphasised.

The Bengal Primary Education Bill.

The President.

"As to the first, I submit that there can be no question, since the figures he has given speak for themselves. As to the second, the attitude of Government towards this Bill, and its attitude towards education in general, have been frequently explained, and are borne out by the action which has been taken in the past and which it is hoped to take in the future. As to the third point, it is a simple matter of fact. We do not know what the financial liability may be, if effect is given to the provisions of the Bill either in whole or in part. That is not a matter of conjecture but of fact. The expenditure likely to be involved under the scheme of the Bill has still to be ascertained, and it is not defined by the mere insertion of an arithmetical fraction in the Bill. As to the indefiniteness of our resources, it is also a fact that we do not know what our financial position will be under the Reforms Scheme, but I think I have on a previous occasion mentioned in Council that we are not likely to find ourselves in any too affluent circumstances. When the Hon'ble Rai Debendra Chandra Ghosh Bahadur tells that we simply have to ask the Government of India for more money, he seems to betray an entire ignorance of what future relations are likely to be. Are Hon'ble Members of this Council not aware of various criticisms which are made against the financial proposals of the Reforms Scheme? It is held strongly, for instance, in the Punjab, Madras and Burma, that Bengal is going to be extremely well treated under the financial scheme which has been outlined in the Reforms proposals in comparison with other provinces, and these provinces are likely to represent that their contributions to the Central Government will be too heavy and ours too small. In the face of that contention is it likely that, merely for the asking, we shall be able to extract from the Government of India whatever sums we may require? But, apart from that, we do not know at present what the actual figure of our future income is likely to be, though if, so far as we can foresee, we are not likely to have a wide margin over obligatory expenditure, there is all the more reason that we should not rashly accept vague liabilities. When this scheme of provincialisation of local finance comes into force, surely we shall have to consider in respect of each specific demand whether it will be wise to admit it, and if we decide to admit it, it may even necessitate the imposition of further taxation. In view of these two factors,—the desirability of each scheme as weighed against the available resources and the possibility of fresh taxation—our successors will have to come to a conclusion. But, in the state of uncertainty which exists at present, I submit that it would be absolutely unreasonable to expect the Local Government now to accept an arithmetical obligation."

The President said :—

"I am sorry that I confused Hon'ble Members by the way in which I put some of the amendments this morning. If they prefer it, I will put the amendments as far as possible in the form in which they appear on the agenda paper so as to avoid any confusion. If the Hon'ble Member wishes to vote for the amendment, that is to add certain words to the Bill, he must vote 'aye'.

Now I shall put No. 15 to the vote."

The Bengal Primary Education Bill.

Babu A. C. Mazumdar; The President.

The Hon'ble Babu Ambica Charan Mazumdar said :—

"May I say a few words in reply?"

The President said :—

"Does the Hon'ble Member wish to make any further remarks upon No. 14?"

The Hon'ble Babu Ambika Charan Mazumdar said :—

"Yes, my Lord. I have listened to the debate on my motion with some degree of disappointment. The Hon'ble Member in charge of the Bill has left it to Government; my Hon'ble friend Mr. P. C. Mitter has also left it to Government, but the Government, through the Hon'ble Mr. O'Malley, has given us practically a curt refusal. He says that the Government cannot commit itself to any grant. The word 'distrust' may be a strong word, but certainly it is disappointing. I was under the impression when this Bill was introduced by my Hon'ble friend to my left that it was a great act for which we ought to be grateful not only to him, but also to the Government which received it. But it now comes to this, that while we asked for bread, we are simply going to get stones. We were proud to think that we were going to participate in the passing of this Bill, but now it comes to this, that there will be an education cess, the burden of which may not be felt by my Hon'ble friend Mr. P. C. Mitter or my Hon'ble friend Babu Surendra Nath Ray, but which will fall upon the public in general very heavily without any adequate return for this cess. We shall have an education cess, and then we shall have an education department to extend our primary education. That is all and nothing more. Now referring to the opinion which has been expressed by the Hon'ble Director of Public Instruction in his published opinion, I find that he has drawn up a statement showing the immense disparity in the number of persons receiving education in municipalities and under the district boards. While there are 2 per cent. of the people receiving education under the district boards, the percentage in municipalities now is 10 and sometimes 12, and he has expressed regret that such has been the state of things in municipalities. Why? He falls back on the old story of efficiency and inefficiency; he says they have not provided good school buildings, furniture and so on, so that it shows inefficient education. We can now very well understand what the Education Department will do when this Bill becomes law. They will go upon efficiency, although we know at present we would rather prefer to give education to our agriculturists and labourers sitting under a banian tree rather than in commodious houses. Many of us (belonging to the bhadralok classes) received our education sitting under a tree and writing our letters on plantain leaves. However, this may not be tasteful to the men who now lead our society, and who want everything to be left to the tender mercies of Government, but I submit if Government do not come forward to spend even 30 per cent. on education, it is as good as saying Government declines to contribute anything. If, my Lord, I have not succeeded in doing anything, I have at all events succeeded in drawing some one out of the bag, and to show that Government is not disposed to pledge itself to any grant. The Hon'ble Mr. O'Malley has referred to the Reform Scheme which is coming on. Yes, I am aware of it, but is the Reform scheme going to swallow up primary education? I ought not to make any unpleasant remark, but I can scarcely resist the temptation of saying that money is forthcoming for police buildings, and other things, but when primary education is concerned for which Government has shown so much solicitation in accepting the Bill which has been presented to us this day, then of course Government cannot commit themselves to any undertaking, not even a bare 30 per cent. of the cost. This raises a very gloomy aspect before me at all events: when I came to the Council, it was with the satisfaction that I was going to be a party to an enactment which was intended to relieve the ignorance of my poorer countrymen, but I do think that if you reject even this modest proposal of mine, that many of us will go back with sad reflections that we have been a party to a measure which threatens only taxation and taxation and nothing but taxation."

The following motion (Amendment No. 15) which stood in the name of the Hon'ble Rai Radha Charan Pal Bahadur was then put, namely:—

"That at the end of clause 2B the following be added, namely :—

'Provided that the financial assistance from the Government shall not be less than half the total amount of expenditure to be incurred by the municipality in carrying out the direction of the Local Government under this section.'"

The Bengal Primary Education Bill,

Kumar Shib Shekhareswar Ray; Babu S. N. Ray.

AMENDMENT No. 16.

The Hon'ble Kumar Shib Shekhareswar Ray moved that for the words "the Commissioners" in lines 2 and 3 of sub-clause (1) of clause 2D the words "three-fourths of the total number of Commissioners" be substituted.

He said :—

"What I want is that instead of the application being made by a bare majority, it should be made by three-fourths of the total number of Commissioners. My Lord, the introduction of compulsory primary education in the mufassal is a matter of far reaching consequences. Many important side issues are involved in it. Whether local conditions will permit a large number of boys to be spared from agricultural and domestic necessities, and whether it will be desirable for the children of certain communities to be associated with the bulk of the people at a certain school, and whether it would be possible for the majority of the population to bear an education cess and to pay the necessary school fees, are all very important issues which require careful consideration before compulsory education is introduced in any municipality. The clause now lays down that at any meeting of the municipality the Commissioners may decide that compulsory education should be introduced within its area. Now, my Lord, there are impatient idialists everywhere who in their enthusiasm often overlook the practical difficulties that will stand in their way. If such a person be in authority, it would not be very difficult for him at one of the meetings to have his own idea regarding the introduction of the compulsory education system carried even if the bulk of the ratepayers do not want it. My Lord, rule by majority is now an accepted principle in all self-governing institutions, but if successful administration is the aim this principle would however have to be qualified according to different existing conditions in different institutions. As I know something about the condition of our mufassal municipalities, and union committees, I cannot but hold that it would be dangerous to allow municipalities to decide the fate of such an important matter by a bare majority. I therefore suggest that effect should be given to the recommendations on this subject only when at least 75 per cent. of the total number of the Commissioners be of opinion that compulsory education should be introduced within their municipality. I hope my colleagues will realise the anxiety which I feel for the simple ratepayers of our mufassal municipalities and support my amendment. I find that the Hon'ble Raja Hrishikesh Laha who has extensive experience of our rural areas is also anxious for a somewhat similar provision, but I want to meet the difficulty just at the beginning before the definite proposal is sent up to the Government."

The Hon'ble Babu Surendra Nath Ray said :—

"My Lord, I am sorry I cannot accept this amendment. It is impossible that 75 per cent. of the members should be present. My Hon'ble friend knows very well—he must have read some of the Acts by which the meetings of public bodies are regulated, such as the Bengal Municipal Act and the Local Self-Government Act—and in these cases we find that at an extraordinary meeting the number fixed is two-thirds and not three-fourths. My Hon'ble friend has spoken of impatient idealists, but if there are impatient idealists in the mufassal towns, there are also retrograde reactionaries there too. We thought that it was necessary that the number should be fixed, and we found in other Acts of a similar nature that the number was two-thirds and not three-fourths."

The Hon'ble Kumar Shib Shekheswar Ray said:—

"Sir, no number has been fixed at all. The Hon'ble Babu Surendra Nath Ray says two-thirds. But nothing has been mentioned here."

The Bengal Primary Education Bill.

Babu S. N. Ray; Raja Hrishikesh Laha; Babu A. C. Mazumdar.

The Hon'ble Babu Surendra Nath Ray said :—

"I beg your pardon. I meant a bare majority was sufficient."

The motion was then put and lost.

AMENDMENT No. 17.

The Hon'ble Babu Surendra Nath Ray moved that the words "if any" in line 4 of sub-clause (3) of clause 2D be transposed so as to come after the word "newspapers" in line 3 of that sub-clause.

He said :—

"This is a verbal amendment and I think it may be accepted."

The motion was put and agreed to.

AMENDMENT No. 18.

The Hon'ble Raja Hrishikesh Laha moved that at the end of sub-clause (4) of clause 2D the following be added, namely :—

"and at which not less than two-thirds of the total number of Commissioners are present."

He said :—

"As primary education is to be made compulsory, it is necessary that the notification should have the support of a majority of the representatives of the people who are supposed to know the educational needs as well as the willingness of the people of the area in which such compulsory education is to be enforced, specially as they will have to bear the burden of educational expenses if imposed upon them under clause 21(b) of the Bill."

The Hon'ble Babu Surendra Nath Ray said :—

I have much pleasure in accepting this amendment.

The motion was put and agreed to.

AMENDMENT No. 19.

The Hon'ble Babu Ambika Charan Mazumdar moved that after the words "of Schools" in line 2 of the proviso to clause 7 the words "at least one Commissioner" be inserted.

He said :—

This motion refers to the constitution of the School Committee.

"I fully realise that this clause does not make the list exhaustive, but I wish to add that at least one of the Commissioners should also be on the Committee; there may be more, but things may so happen that only the Deputy-Inspectors and the Sub-Inspectors and one or more residents of the municipality may constitute the Committee. I think the municipality which will levy the tax and realise it, should have at least one member. It may well be argued that the Commissioners may have no room at all, but if you want to have one or more residents of the municipality, and the Deputy Inspector and a Sub-Inspector, there should be at least one Commissioner as well."

The Bengal Primary Education Bill.

Babu S. N. Ray ; Raja Hrishikesh Laha ; Mr. P. C. Mitter.

The Hon'ble Babu Surendra Nath Ray said :—

"I accept the amendment, although I think it unnecessary as the Commissioners themselves will appoint the Committee, but still I accept it."

The motion was put and agreed to.

AMENDMENT No. 20.

The Hon'ble Raja Hrishikesh Laha moved that for the words "ten years" in line 4 of sub-clause (1) of clause 8 the words "twelve years" be substituted.

He said :—

"A course of education for four years only from the age of six to ten is not expected to confer any appreciable benefit to the boys or to be of any material service to them in after-years. Moreover, their attendance would vary according to seasonal demands, and hence their presence in the school would be only half-time. Their power of comprehension must necessarily be in a very undeveloped state. for which due allowance ought to be made, and I, therefore, suggest that the period of training should be extended to two years more and the age-limit be raised from ten to twelve. This, of course, presupposes a further expenditure on the boy for two years more, but I would not grudge it having regard to the fact that the object of the Bill is to make the boy more practical and a better citizen—an object for which no sacrifice is too great.

In support of my amendment I beg leave to quote from the Cyclopedia of Education, Volume I, page 287, the following passage :—

'Parents or guardians of children from five to fourteen (originally five to thirteen) were put under obligations to send them to a certified school every day that such school is in session. In case children are sent to an uncertified (inspected and approved) school, the burden rests on tho parent to prove the competency of the school. Five to thirteen is still admitted as the compulsory age in certain rural districts.

'A considerable list of exemptions, however, existed. At twelve children could be examined, and if found proficient, could be excused from further attendance. A system of part-time attendance could also be permitted by local authorities, that is for children from twelve to fourteen (eleven to fourteen in agricultural areas) if they have attained a certain standard of proficiency or made during five years a required number of attendances.'

Moreover on humanitarian grounds the age-limis should be raised to twelve, namely, the necessity of protecting the boy from labour beyond his physical capacity, as the poverty of the parents may induce them to get him into an employment, which, on account of excessive labour, would very likely tend to deteriorate his health."

The Hon'ble Mr. P. C. Mitter said :—

"I think, my Lord, the proposition of my Hon'ble friend Raja Hrishikesh Laha is to have a six years' course from six to twelve. If we increase the period of compulsion by two years more it will add very considerably to the expenses incurred. I have tried to work out the figures and I have very grave doubts as to whether we will be able to find the money for providing compulsory education for a period of four years, and if we make it six years it will be well nigh impossible."

The Bengal Primary Education Bill.

Rai R. C. Pal Bahadur; Babu S. N. Ray; Mr. Wordsworth; Raja Hrishikesh Laha.

The Hon'ble Rai Radha Charan Pal Bahadur said :—

"I support, my Lord, the amendment of the Hon'ble Raja Hrishikesh Laha. I was of the same opinion in the Select Committee. I think, quite apart from the question of expense, if the object is to give some training to the boys, the age-limit ought to be increased to twelve years, especially in a country like India, because the period between eight to ten is the period when boys begin to understand things and pick up knowledge. To fix the maximum age at ten years under the period of compulsion will, I believe, having regard to the development of the boys in this country, be too low. When we are trying to give them some sort of education it is better to increase the age to twelve years; although it will involve some additional expense I think it will be in the long run to the benefit of the country. I therefore most cordially support the motion."

The Hon'ble Babu Surendra Nath Ray said : –

"My Lord, I am sorry that I cannot accept this amendment. Your Lordship will be pleased to see that in Bombay where the Bill has been passed into Act the age is fixed at ten. In the Punjab where the Bill has recently been passed it is also fixed at ten, and in the Bihar and the United Provinces Bills, the age is also fixed at ten. I have therefore followed the lines of these Bills. Moreover, I think a four years' training in the vernacular will be quite sufficient to impart to the boys some sort of education which is the object of primary education. In fact, I myself left the vernacular school at the age of nine. For these reasons I oppose the amendment."

The Hon'ble Mr. Wordsworth said :—

"My Lord, on behalf of Government I am unable to recommend the Council to accept this amendment. The Bill provides that municipalities shall if they so wish, make arrangements for the provision of education under a voluntary system for all children who wish it up to the age of ten. It will obviously lead to confusion if the Commissioners proceeded to apply the compulsion to all boys up to the age of twelve. It is obviously desirable that education should be extended as far as possible, but here in this particular section we are dealing with compulsion—a new principle in Bengal—and the Select Committee considered and Government considers that the age of six to ten is as much as we can reasonably expect to bring under compulsion in the first instance. After experience of compulsion, if it is found that compulsion is welcomed, it will be possible to modify the Bill, but as a first essay Government feels that the age of six to ten is sufficient."

The Hon'ble Raja Hrishikesh Laha said :—

"My Lord, I have heard what has been said by my Hon'ble friend Babu Surendra Nath Ray, but I do not think the cultivating classes are so very intelligent as to learn everything in nine years. He says that he left the primary school at the age of nine. From my personal experience of lower and upper primary school, I do not think any benefit will be derived if the period is not extended by two years. Now, after only four years' training the boys will go back to their work and will forget everything and will forget even to sign their name. That is the result of four years' training, and if you do not extend it by two years more, it will be better not to give primary education at all."

AMENDMENT No. 21.

The Hon'ble Raja Hrishikesh Laha moved that the word "or" in line 3 of sub-clause (2) (b) of clause 8 be omitted and that at the end of that sub-clause the words "or of his being the sole bread-winner of his family" be added.

The Bengal Primary Education Bill.

Babu S. N. Ray; Kumar Shib Shekhareswar Ray; Rai R. C. Pal Bahadur.

He said :—

"My Lord, as compulsory primary education is intended for the mass of the people who live from hand to mouth, precaution should be taken that compulsion does not act with great hardship upon them. The words 'domestic necessity' in this clause are indeed intended to cover such cases as the amendment proposes, but they are too vague to be given effect to in the practical administration of the law. It is better, therefore, that the circumstance implied by the amendment should be more clearly defined than left to be interpreted according to the uncertain comprehension of those who are authorised to administer the law. It is needless to say that the deletion of the words "or the" in the third line is necessitated by reason of the amendment I have submitted for your consideration."

The Hon'ble Babu Surendra Nath Ray said :—

"My Lord, I accept this, though I do not understand how a little boy can be the sole bread-winner of his family."

The motion was put and agreed to.

AMENDMENT No. 22.

The Hon'ble Kumar Shib Shekhareswar Ray moved that at the end of sub-clause (2) of clause 8 the following be added, namely :—

"(d) that the boy is not likely to stay within the Municipality for more than six months."

He said:—

"My Lord, sub-clause (2) of clause 8 makes several exceptions where a boy should be exempted from attending a school under compulsion. To them I propose to add that if a boy comes on a short visit to a place where compulsory education is in force, he too should be exempted from attending the local school. The object of this amendment is obvious : if the boy is going to stay there for a short while, it will do him no good if he is got hold of and put into the school. On the other hand it might interfere with the system of education which he might be undergoing at his permanent place of residence. There is also every possibility of this procedure being resented by his guardians. Now, take, for instance, a boy goes on a short visit to his uncle : it might not be always that a suitable teacher goes along with the boy. In this case if he is forced to take admission in the local municipal school, I am sure this action will be strongly resented by his guardian. I therefore hope that my amendment will be accepted."

The Hon'ble Babu Surendra Nath Ray said :—

"My Lord, I am sorry I cannot accede to the request of the Hon'ble Kumar. Under this excuse the boy will be kept out of school for an indefinite period. The School Committee will be fully competent to deal with these and other cases by virtue of the discretion vested in them by clause 8, subsection (1). Sub-clause (2) does not give an exhaustive list of 'reasonable excuses.' I am sorry I must oppose this amendment."

The Hon'ble Rai Radha Sharan Pal Bahadur said :—

"My Lord, this question was raised in the Select Committee, if I remember aright ; and I must say that the existing section gives sufficient grounds why the boy should not be admitted to the school in a place where he has gone temporarily. The School Committee will consider all these grounds. Further, we are all interested in the promotion of primary education. I think that there should be a little compulsion as we know our countrymen; otherwise all sorts of excuses will be put forward. The Act will keep many openings or loopholes and there will be no end of excuses and the Act will be made nugatory and no one will come to these schools."

The Bengal Primary Education Bill.

Kumar Shib Shekhareswar Ray; Raja Hrishikesh Laha; Babu S. N. Ray.

The Hon'ble Kumar Shib Shekhareswar Ray said :—

"My Lord, I find that my friends are not opposed to the spirit of my resolution. I do not see any reason why they should not make it explicit in the Act and exempt those boys."

The motion was then put and lost.

AMENDMENT No. 23.

The Hon'ble Raja Hrishikesh Laha moved that at the end of sub-clause (2) of clause 10 the following be inserted, namely :—"or may adjourn such hearing for adequate arrangements to be made for the efficient elementary education of the boy otherwise".

He said :—

"My Lord, there may be circumstances by reason of which it may not be possible for a guardian to willingly comply with the magisterial order when made. As, for instance, when the guardian should, for the time being, happen to be an illiterate and uneducated woman as is common in this country without any male member of the family at hand to advise and guide her or she may be arranging with some other individual, better circumstanced, for the proper education of the boy. It is to provide against such contingency and against any unnecessary hardship being inflicted on the guardian that I propose to confer upon the enquiring magistrate a discretion which I have no doubt he will always exercise with care and deliberation."

The Hon'ble Babu Surendra Nath Ray said :—

"My Lord, I am sorry I cannot accept this amendment. This amendment contemplates an alternative system of primary education which is not recognised by the Education Department to be permissive."

The motion was then put and lost.

AMENDMENT No. 24.

The Hon'ble Raja Hrishikesh Laha moved that after the words "section 10" in line 2 of sub-clause (1) of clause 11 the words "without any reasonable excuse" be inserted.

He said :—

"My Lord, in order to enable a guardian to submit a reasonable explanation why he has failed to comply with the order of the magistrate, I think the words 'without any reasonable excuse' should be inserted between 'section 10' and 'shall'. If the guardian has made proper arrangement for the education of the child in a village other than his own I think he should be allowed to submit a proper explanation and exempted from the payment of any fine."

The Bengal Primary Education Bill.

Babu S. N. Ray ; Mr. P. C. Mitter ; Maharajadhiraja Bahadur of Burdwan.

He said :—

"In order to protect the employer from deception, I move this amendment. It may happen that a boy really ten years of age, but fairly developed in physique so as to pass for a boy of twelve or thirteen years, is taken over to an employer for an employment. He is engaged under the bona-fide belief that he is twelve or thirteen—an age stated by the needy guardian of the boy. It may occur that on detection of the under-age of the boy engaged, the innocent employer is punished in spite of his bona-fide action based upon an apparently honest representation. Moreover, in my opinion, the limit of the fine is too high for the work-a-day man in Bengal. I would, therefore, reduce it to five rupees. This would be in consonance with what is inflicted upon the guardian under clause 11. There is no reason why the employer should be punished more heavily than the guardian himself."

The Hon'ble Babu Surendra Nath Ray said :—

"My Lord, I am sorry I cannot accept this amendment. This is only a maximum fine, which is fixed at Rs. 20, so that it will be within the discretion of the Court either to impose the maximum or any other fine that was necessary. That was the amount fixed in the original Bill, and the Select Committee saw no reason to reduce the amount, and for this reason I oppose the amendment."

The Hon'ble Mr. P. C. Mitter said :—

"My Lord, I beg to support the Hon'ble Raja Hrishikesh Laha. We are going to have a new system, and I think we ought to accept the amendment. As it is, I think, the Bill will be unpopular, and if it is unpopular, it will be difficult to make it a success. On that ground I support the Hon'ble Raja Hrishikesh Laha."

The Hon'ble Maharajadhiraja Bahadur of Burdwan said :—

AMENDMENT Nos. 28 AND 29.

The Hon'ble Knmar Shib Shekhareswar Ray moved (1) that for the word "satisfies" in line 5 of clause 18 the words "applies to" be substituted, and, (2) that for the words "the School Committee may determine" in line 9 of clause 18 the words "applied for by him" be substituted.

He said :—

"Amendments Nos. 28 and 29 stand in my name. They both refer to the same clause and are interdependent, and I therefore beg permission to move them together.

In my opinion compulsory education ought to be free for those whose guardians cannot afford to pay the cost of such education. An education cess is going to be imposed. On that account, it would be rather hard on he poor people if they have to pay the expenses of compulsory education of their boys in addition to the education cess. No self-respecting person would like to receive charity if he can afford to do without it. Whenever a man applies for a remission of the fee or any part thereof, it should be granted to him. I consider it rather humiliating to a person if he has to satisfy the School Committee by producing his account books that he is unable to pay the fees. A poor man's lot is bitter, why make it worse by adding humiliation to it. I would ask my colleagues to consider how distastefui the whole thing is likely to be, and I hope that my amendment will be accepted by the House."

The Bengal Primary Education Bill.

Babu S. N. Ray; Mr. O'Malley; The President; Rai R. C. Pal Bahadur.

The Hon'ble Babu Surendra Nath Ray said :—

"I do not know whether my Hon'ble friend has seriously considered the effect of his amendment. The amendment would make it obligatory on the School Committee to reduce the rate whenever his guardian wishes to make an application. Simply putting in an application would be quite sufficient and then the effect of clause 23 would be that effect would have to be given to whatever the guardian says, and this would mean a reduction in fees. My Hon'ble friend says the guardian would feel it humiliating to produce account books, etc., to show his circumstances. It is sufficient for him to submit an application and make out a case for exemption of fees. As President of a School Committee I have to deal with applications once or twice a month, and specially in the month of January, when boys take their admission into school, and I find that those who can afford to pay either the whole amount or at least half the fee, generally come up with a prayer for total exemption and we have in many cases to reject these applications, and we find that these people do eventually pay half the fee. So I have some experience of these applications, and under the circumstances I cannot accede to my Hon'ble friend's request."

The Hon'ble Mr. O'Malley said :—

"My Lord, on behalf of Government I beg to support the Hon'ble Member in charge of the Bill both on the ground which he has stated and also on perhaps what may be called a formal ground, that the amendments are not very good English. The Hon'ble mover of the amendment wishes to have 'applies to the School Committee that he is unable to pay the fees' and again further down he would have 'at such reduced fees as applied for by him.' I think the amendments are open to serious objection. The power of determining in the case of free education and reduction of fees discretion must remain with the Committee. These amendments would take away that power and it would be sufficient merely for the parent or guardian to say 'I am a poor man'. He should be obliged to prove his poverty.

The motions were then put and lost.

AMENDMENTS Nos. 30 AND 31.

The following motions stood in the name of the Hon'ble Rai Debender Chunder Ghose Bahadur :—

To move that before clause 21B in Part IV of the Bill the following be inserted, namely :—

"21AA. The Local Government shall contribute every year from the provincial revenues for the purposes of primary education within a municipality, not less than one-half of the cost budgetted for such expenditure by the commissioners."

If motion No. 30 be carried, also to move that for the words "any grant" in line 2 of sub-clause (1) of clause 21B the words "the grant" be substituted.

The President said :—

"Amendments 30 and 31. These two amendments are covered by the decisions already reached."

The motions were then, by leave of the President, withdrawn.

AMENDMENT No. 32.

The Hon'ble Rai Radha Charan Pal Bahadur moved that after the words "cost of" in line 3 of sub-clause (1) of clause 21B the word "compulsory" be inserted.

The Bengal Presidency Education Bill.

Babu S. N. Ray ; Mr. Wordsworth ; Babu Ambica Charan Mazumdar ; Mr. O'Malley.

He said :—

"What I propose, my Lord, is this : educational cess should be levied for the cost of compulsory primary education. I need not reiterate what I have said. It is not necessary for me to speak at length on this subject. I have already said what I wished to say about this on a previous amendment."

The Hon'ble Babu Surendra Nath Ray said :—

"Speaking for myself, I have no objection, my Lord, to accepting this amendment."

The Hon'ble Mr. Wordsworth said :—

"I am unable on behalf of Government to recommend the acceptance of this amendment. We have already discussed the whole matter in relation to amendment No. 11 on the paper, and I have there indicated Government's inability to accept the proposal that an educational cess if levied, shall be applied only to expenditure on compulsory education."

The motion was then put and lost.

AMENDMENT No. 33.

The Hon'ble Babu Ambika Charan Mazumdar moved that after the words "education cess" in line 6 of sub-clause (1) of clause 21B the following be inserted, namely :—

"and to be assessed according to the means and circumstances of the people residing or carrying on any business within the Municipality."

He said :—

"My Lord, this amendment refers to the assessment of the education cess, and I wish to indicate that the assessment should be according to the means and circumstances of the people residing or carrying on business within the municipality. The word 'occupation' used in the Municipal Act has become the source of many questions and difficulties, but here we may steer clear of all these difficulties, and I say that the assessment should be according to the means and circumstances of the people not only residing in the municipality, but also persons not actually residing in the municipality, but carrying on business within it. There are many people, well-to-do people, who do not generally reside within the limits of the municipality or near their business but just outside them ; they do their business within the municipality and reside on their own property just outside, and I think it is only fair that these persons should be taxed and should be made responsible for this education cess. There are many people of this description, and they are very well-to-do people."

The Hon'ble Babu Surendra Nath Ray said :—

"My Lord, I wish I could accept this amendment, but I am sorry I cannot accept an assessment on the valuation of holdings and assessment according to the circumstances at one and the same place. This would be placing both the municipalities and the rate-payers in an anomalous position, and non-residents having business connection in the place would have to pay, so I cannot accept this amendment."

The Hon'ble Mr. O'Malley said :—

"My Lord, on behalf of Government I beg to support the Hon'ble Member in charge of the Bill, owing to the practical difficulty which such a provision would make in the working of the Bill. There are two chief sources of taxation in mufassil municipalities, one being a tax on occupiers' holdings

The Bengal Primary Education Bill.

Babu Ambica Charan Mazumdar.

according to circumstances and property within the municipality, and the other a tax on buildings assessed at the rate of the annual value of the holdings. This amendment on the other hand would provide for assessment according to means and circumstances only. and I take it that where there was the rate on holdings, a personal tax would be levied and you would have to draw up an entirely different assessment which would be extremely difficult to do. You would introduce in effect another basis of taxation. Another difficulty which has occurred to me is that the form of the amendment is liable to some misinterpretation. The cess is to be assessed according to the means and circumstances of the people residing or carrying on any business within the municipality. Now, it is to be observed that this is an important innovation that the assessment must not be according to cirumstances and property within the municipality. but only according to means and circumstances. If a wealthy zemindar had a house in a town or a business firm had a small sub-agency in it, the zemindar or the firm might be liable to be assessed according to their whole income. It seems to me that it might have very serious consequences, because there is no minimum fixed, and there is no safeguard of any kind provided."

The Hon'ble Babu Ambica Charan Mazumdar said :—

"My Lord, I do not understand exactly what this Act is intended to be. There will be an education cess, and the legislature does not say a word as to how this will be levied, probably leaving it for the Government to make rules by which to impose a tax in a certain way. That, I consider, is an abdication of the functions of the legislature. To leave everything in the hands of the Government, simply requiring the Municipality to apply to Government and Government granting their application, and then the Government coming with its rules to levy the tax and to determine what form the taxation will take and upon whom it will be levied, this, I think, is a very large order upon the Government and I certainly on principle strongly oppose a measure of this kind which does not even undertake to say what would be the nature and effect of the taxation. Everything is, as I understand, left to be governed by rules. Practically therefore there are only two provisions, one for application, the other for taxation. And Government will do the rest : It can levy any taxation it pleases. If that is so, there was no necessity for coming before the legislature for a measure of this kind. Why should not the Legislature indicate even the line upon which taxation will be made?"

The motion was then put and a division was taken with the following result.

THE BENGAL PRIMARY EDUCATION BILL, 1919.

[The consideration of the amendments was resumed.]

AMENDMENT No. 35.

The Hon'ble Babu Ambica Charan Mazumdar moved that at the end of sub-clause (1) of clause 21B the following proviso be added, namely :—

"Provided that the assessment of the cess upon any person shall in no case exceed one-tenth of the aggregate amount of tax or rate levied on him by the Municipality under the Bengal Municipal Act, 1884, or the Calcutta Municipal Act, 1899."

He said :—

"I have already lost my motion about the nature of the taxation to be imposed, and the persons from whom it is to be levied.

I wish to make it clear that the object of this amendment or rather the additional provision, is to point out very clearly to this Council the incidence of taxation which will necessarily fall upon the municipal population. My Lord, in the case of municipalities the education cess will have to be borne mainly by those people who are paying municipal rates and taxes, but they are the very people who would be the least benefited by this enactment. For these people already pay for the education of their children, and I may say in every municipality there are about half a dozen schools of various grades and denominations, both for girls and boys to which these ratepayers of the municipalities already send their boys and girls, so that they do not want any new kind of school for the education of their children. They do educate their children, and they bear the burden of their education. Of course for the lower classes of people, namely, a few agriculturists, and their number is very small in a municipality, artisans and so forth, these people are prepared to make further sacrifices but we should not to run down a willing horse to death. Already the municipal ratepayers are heavily taxed, and if the bulk of the education cess is to fall upon them as it surely will, I think there ought to be a limit beyond which their resources ought not to be taxed. I have already indicated that by this Bill they are not benefited in the least, as they already educate their children. They are not willing to send their children to these schools, they are already in schools, invariably both the boys and girls, so I propose that where you assess the education cess in a municipality the assessment shall not exceed one-tenth of the aggregate amount of the tax or rate already paid by them, either under the Bengal Municipal Act in the mufassal. or under the Calcutta Municipal Act in Calcutta; otherwise the burden would be very heavy upon them, and it would be inequitable considering the fact that they do not want the application of this enactment in order to provide education for their children. If Your Excellency's Government were to take statistics, it would be found that almost the entire amount, I believe not even one per cent. of the tax already paid in the municipality, is borne by agriculturists or artisans. The entire bulk of the tax is to be paid by those for whom the tax is not intended, and who would not be benefited by the taxation. It is purely a tax on patriotism on their part to bear this burden for the benefit of the entire community, and I hope and trust that the Council will seriously consider whether it will be equitable for them to throw the bulk of this additional cess upon those very people who would be the least benefited."

The Hon'ble Mr. P. C. Mitter said :—

"My Lord, I desire to support this amendment of the Hon'ble Babu Ambika Charan Mazumdar, but my reasons for supporting the amendment are somewhat different from the reasons of the Hon'ble Mover of the amendment, The main reason why I support this amendment is that 10 per cent. would be ample, more than ample, even when we have compulsory education. The total income of the mufassal municipalities in the year 1916-17 is Rs. 56,90,000 odd, that includes income other than income from rates and taxes. The total income from rates and taxes is 46 lakhs in all, so that 10 per cent. will amount to Rs. 4,60,000. The amount spent at present on primary education in municipal areas is Rs. 91,554. This is considerably in excess of the amount which was spent in the year 1915-16 which amounted to Rs. 72,902. Now, My Lord, the present Government contribution in the year 1916-17 was Rs. 44,000 and odd out of a total amount of Rs. 91,000 and odd. The Government contribution in the year 1916-17 was Rs. 31.000 and odd, and this again has been increased to Rs. 44,000 and odd, so that at the present moment the total amount spent by all the municipalities is Rs. 91,000 and odd. Out of that Government found Rs. 44,000 and odd, or very nearly half. Now, the total number of boys whom we wish to educate in the mufassal municipalities after compulsion is introduced will be 170,000. I do not know what the Government view with regard to this amendment will be, and for that reason I may be permitted, to explain how I arrived at the figure 1,70,000. The total number of male children within the ages of 5 to 10 is 3,065,000 for the whole province. Roughly speaking, the total number of our population living in municipal areas is about 3 millions including the town of Calcutta. The income I have indicated is for the mufassal municipal towns only; the income for the town of Calcutta is considerable. Now, out of our total of 3 millions, if we take on the same proportion, we find that the total number between 5 and 10 will be 214,000 and odd. We have already settled that the ages of 6 and 10 will be the ages for compulsory education, therefore by a process of calculation, we have arrived at the figure of 170 000 whom we shall have to educate. Now the present average cost is little over Rs. 3 on each boy. We spend altogether 37 lakhs of rupees and the total number of boys we educate is a little over 11 lakhs, therefore the present average cost is a little over Rs. 3, therefore the total cost will be somewhere near 5 lakhs of rupees, and I have already stated at the beginning of my remarks that 10 per cent. means Rs. 4,60,000, and if, over and above this we take into account Rs. 91,000 already spent in these municipalities without any education cess, the figure is considerably more than 5 lakhs. Therefore it is not necessary to have more than 10 per cent. even when compulsion is introduced. Now, it is of the highest importance that we should not scare away people, that we should not leave an impression to these municipalities that they will have to pay very largely if primary education, especially compulsory primary education, is to be introduced. As I said yesterday, we must remember that these municipalities are mostly poor municipalities, and as these municipalities are mostly poor, and if 10 per cent. is enough to meet our requirements, I submit, My Lord, that we ought to be content with that limit. If we put down that limit, we shall start with greater good-will which will have a better effect upon the objects which we have all have in view whether officials or non-officials, and for that reason also I strongly support the amendment of the Hon'ble Babu Ambika Charan Mazumdar."

The Bengal Primary Education Bill.

Babu S. N. Ray; Mr. P. C. Mitter.

The Hon'ble Babu Surendra Nath Ray said :—

"I am sorry, My Lord, I cannot accept the amendment. The result of the acceptance of this amendment would be that the incidence of taxation may be heavy on the poor and light on the rich. I think these are matters to be dealt with by the rules. As I have said, it is the poor who will be taxed heavily. and I think it is a state of things which my Hon'ble friend would be the first to cry against. The figures given by the Hon'ble Mr. Mitter ought not to be a guide in a case like this. It is not proper to work out on an aggregate of income of municipalities, and to come to a figure of 4 or 5 lakhs. The rate of taxation should be according to local needs and circumstances."

The Hon'ble Mr. P. C. Mitter said :—

"My Lord, may I be permitted to make a suggestion for the consideration of the Hon'ble Member in charge.

I desire to make a suggestion, for his consideration as well as for the consideration of Government and it is this. That instead of the amendment as moved by the Hon'ble Babu Ambika Charan Mazumdar, if the resolution be amended with the leave of the Council to the effect that the total amount from each municipality will be 10 per cent. of the total amount of the rates and taxes, of that municipality it would be better. My object is this : there is some force in what the Hon'ble Babu Surendra Nath Ray has said that taxation ought not to fall on the poor heavily, so that if my suggestion be accepted, it will thus be open to make such necessary arrangements so that the rich may be taxed more than 10 per cent. and the poor may be allowed to escape with their present taxation."

The Bengal Primary Education Bill.

Mr. O'Malley.

The Hon'ble Mr. O'Malley said :—

"My Lord, I must admit that I am in some doubt as to the exact meaning of the proviso which it is proposed to add to the Bill. As I read it provides for a maximum of one-tenth of the tax on the persons or the rate of holdings in different municipalities. The Hon'ble Mr. Mitter has taken it to mean the aggregate amount of all the different taxes or rates, but I am not quite sure whether that interpretation is correct, or whether it would be possible to take into consideration such things as the tax on professions and trades, water rate, conservancy fees, hackney carriage fees and so on. If I am right in thinking that it is intended to allow one-tenth of the tax on persons or the rate on holdings, I should point out this maximum is low compared with that contained in the Bihar and Orissa Bill which allows for at least one-third of the maximum tax or rate which can be imposed on the owners and occupiers of properties under the Bengal Municipal Act. The inherent difficulty about a maximum of 10 per cent. for each and every municipality is that we do not at present know what will be the total cost of putting primary education on a proper footing, and what share of the cost will be met from other sources such as fees and the Government grant. The Hon'ble Mr. Mitter has given certain estimates which do not altogether agree with estimates that have been prepared departmentally. According to these estimates, the cost of providing proper education for boys will be a capital cost of 17 lakhs, recurring cost 9 lakhs a year. Under a cheaper scheme, the capital cost will be 10 lakhs and the recurring cost 5 lakhs. The difference is considerable. It is partly due to the style of buildings which will be necessary and partly to the scale on which teachers would be remunerated. Under the cheaper scheme, for instance, the accommodation in some of the schools will be of a cheaper type,—mud walls, thatched roof—and the teachers will be paid on an average only Rs. 8 a month. Well, that is the estimate which has been prepared, but I am not at present prepared to say that that estimate would eventually be accepted. In any case, we do not know what money would be available in each municipality. Knowledge on this point will not be available till the estimate which is provided for in Part II of the Bill is obtained. It was on this account that both in the original Bill and in the Bill as revised in the Select Committee, the method of levying the cess is left to rules. As was pointed out by the Hon'ble Mr. Arden Wood yesterday, the Bill is an experiment and those charged with its administration must be allowed a certain amount of latitude. The Hon'ble Mover is inspired by an apprehension that the incidence of the cess may be excessive, and he therefore, urges that a safeguard against a crushing impost is required. The procedure contemplated by the Bill, however, really guards against this. The Municipal Commissioners in making their estimate under Part II of the Bill will estimate the amount a cess will yield, and obviously they will consider at what rate the ratepayers can reasonably be expected to pay. A cess cannot be imposed except by the consent of the Municipal Commissioners themselves, and the Commissioners are not in the least likely to decide in favour of the cess unless they know the rate at which it will be levied and are satisfied that it is within the capacity of the ratepayers. The cess, in fact, will be a form of taxation by consent. Then again, if and when the Municipal Commissioners pass a resolution in favour of the cess, the public will have an opportunity of expressing their views, as section 21C specifically provides that the rules regulating the matter in which the cess is to be levied, shall only issue after previous publication. This means that a preliminary notification must issue, that any resident will have an opportunity of raising objections, and those objections must be considered by Government before the rules are finally issued. I can assure the Council that Government is not likely to agree to an excessive taxation both because it is the guardian of the people's interests, and also to put the case on a lower level because Government is a large ratepayer itself. This was pointed out in the municipal resolution, from which I may quote:— 'In the Presidency as a whole, altogether 5½ per cent. of the amount realized from holdings, conservancy, lighting and water rates and taxes is paid for Government buildings. The payments represent in Darjeeling, Berhampore and Chittagong approximately one-twelfth, in Dacca one-eighth, and in Rampore-Boalia nearly one-fifth of the municipal receipts from these rates, which constitute the bulk of the income from taxation. These figures serve to illustrate the fact, which is not always realized by the municipalities themselves, that, apart from its position as a controlling authority, Government has a direct interest as a ratepayer in the purity and efficiency of municipal administration."

The Bengal Primary Education Bill.

Sir Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari.

The Hon'ble Sir Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari said :—

"My Lord, I feel some difficulty in supporting this amendment. I entirely endorse what was said by the Hon'ble Mr. Arden-Wood yesterday that in embarking upon a big experiment like this, we ought not at the outset handicap those charged with the carrying it out. In opposing this amendment I desire to take exception to some of the arguments advanced by its supporters. The Hon'ble the mover of the amendment has told us that we ought to be careful in letting alone those who are already paying for the education of their children, and that the taxation ought not to be very heavy in their case. My Lord, it is not exactly for services rendered—municipal services—as in the case of conservancy or lighting or street watering, that this cess is about to be levied, but it is for ensuring better civic life, to ensure better understanding of all-round rules of hygiene and sanitation that make municipal administration easier and for ensuring better citizenship, that this experiment is being undertaken, and it is exactly upon those who appreciate the blessings of education for these and other allied purposes and whose representatives have moved in the matter that the burden must necessarily fall heavier. It is improperly to subscribe to the proposition that because some are paying for the education of their own children already and are not likely to be benefited by the new scheme they should be left alone or at all events ought to be lightly taxed. If we are to have a successful experiment, it must, for some time at least, be the other way. Then with regard to the Hon'ble Mr. P. C. Mitter's figures, figures can be made to tell any tale; I shall take the figures as he has put them and for the time being I shall not take Mr. O'Malley's explanation on them or their corrections. If his figures are correct, only 3½ rupees per head was spent on primary education and if things are to continue on that basis the state of things would be a libel on education. We may have to put up with this state of things for a long time. But that must not be the basis of future organisation if we are not with the situation. Under the proposed scheme we shall be paying Rs. 8 to our teachers; Rs. 8 is what we dare not offer to our menial servants now-a-days. My Lord, if education is to be on the basis put forward by the Hon'ble Mr. Mitter, I would much rather that we waited till we could do better and while so waiting took steps to provide teachers capable of conducting this important branch of education without which no other branch of education can possibly flourish. As has been pointed out the Municipal Commissioners who will practically be the masters of the situation are not likely to give themselves and their constituents away. Of course there is the other side to be considered. We must not scare away Municipal Commissioners, but we must realise the situation clearly and try to face it wisely yet boldly and not toy with it for the sake of name only and provide an organisation that will be a failure from the outset. If an important matter like this is to be introduced, it ought to be undertaken in all seriousness, and the Government and the municipalities for the time being ought to be left free to judge for themselves what will be the best for each locality."

"My Lord, I desire to speak a few words on this very important subject. The question that has been raised is whether there should be a limit to the incidence of taxation by statute. On the one side, it is clearly admitted that there are no materials for limiting the incidence of taxation, and on the other side, it may be contended that those who live within the municipality believe that the burden of taxation is very heavy. Indeed, My Lord, I am going to endorse the latter view, because already those who live within the limits of municipalities are groaning under heavy taxation. It appears in many mufassal municipalities that the percentage has gone up 19, 21, 23 per cent., secondly, it is a matter of serious consideration whether the education cess should be left unlimited, in scope. Therefore, is it not necessary that the Municipal Commissioners should be told that the increase ought not to be above certain limits? The figures which have been submitted by the Hon'ble Mr. Mitter show clearly what this view of the case is, and if that is so, why should it be left in its unlimited scope so that the Municipal Commissioners will be in a position to raise it as much as they like. I say this because the Council ought to consider the ability of the taxpayers in the mufassal municipalities to bear this tax. Those who live within the jurisdiction of the mufassal municipalities will certainly raise their voice in the Council against it.

Now, it is very easy to say that the ratepayers of the municipalities ought to educate their boys; but then again the question depends on their ability to do so and if they are unable to do, what should be the procedure. My Lord, having some experience in this matter I have ventured to submit a few words for the consideration of the Hon'ble Members of the Council."

The President said :—

"Does the Hon'ble mover wish to make any further remarks?"

The Hon'ble Babu Ambika Charan Mazumdar said :—

My Lord, the figures given by my Hon'ble friend, Mr. P. C. Mitter, seem to me to be quite convincing: the figures given by the Hon'ble Mr. O'Malley also support it that there will be ample funds even with 10 per cent. to provide education for the poor. I do not think I need say much about it. Everything tends to show that there will be sufficient money for primary education with 10 per cent. of the existing municipal taxes. It is not a luxury but it is a necessity, and in providing for a necessity we ought not to go upon mere ideas and sentiments, but to consider the matter from the real practical point of view. It is easy enough for those who are rolling in wealth to say that we must pay any tax. Well, quite so, but there ought to be a limit to every thing;—even to gushing sentiment and as the Hon'ble Mr. Mitter has pointed out, there will be no difficulty in carrying out this primary education even with 10 per cent. I do not see why the matter should be left indefinite and thereby create an apprehension in the minds of those who will be entrusted with the administration of the Act.

AMENDMENT No. 36.

The Hon'ble Kumar Shib Shekhareswar Ray moved that at the end of sub-clause (1) of clause 21B the following be added, namely :—

"Provided that an education cess shall be levied only upon persons occupying holdings within the Municipality and that the rate of such cess shall in no case exceed three per cent. of the annual value of such holdings, nor shall the amount assessed upon any person, in any one year, be more than twenty-four rupees."

The Bengal Primary Education Bill.

Sir R. N. Mookerjee.

He said :—

"My Lord, the Hon'ble Babu Ambika Charan Mazumdar has already dwelt on the necessity of an explicit statutory provision for the manner in which the education cess is to be assessed. There is, however, some difference between his amendment and mine in respect of a suitable rate of assessment. What he wanted is already known to the House, and what I want is that only persons occupying holdings within the municipality are to be assessed and that the maximum rate of assessment is not to exceed 3 per cent. of the annual value of a man's holdings, and in no case he is to pay more than Rs. 24 per annum as education cess. I think that my amendment makes an adequate provision for the Education Fund. What my point is—and also that of my Hon'ble friend Babu A. C. Mazumdar—that there should be some definiteness as to the amount which we might be called upon to pay to meet the expenses of primary education. I do not like that we should be left altogether at the mercy of Government as to the amounts which we might be asked to contribute. The extreme vagueness about it is sure to make us uneasy and somewhat overcautious in advocating the cause of primary education. This is not only a matter which concerns the Indian middle classes but the zamindars, the mercantile community, the Government officials and even Your Excellency. The term 'Government,' would after the Reforms mean an Education Minister. who for sometime to come will have to obey the orders of that section of the public who are now very influential in the country though not the real representative of the people. Dictated by them he may lay down a rule that the senior partners of Messrs. Bird & Co. should pay a quarter of their income as education cess : he might make a rule that the zamindars should retain a certain sum for their expenses and pay the rest for education : and it might also be laid down that Your Excellency and the other Members of Your Excellency's Council should pay half of their salaries received by them. My Lord, the vagueness in the provisions would make all this possible. I hope therefore, that this vagueness and cause of uneasiness ought to be removed for the very success of the cause of education, and I hope that my amendment, because of its liberal provision, would be acceptable to the House."

The Hon'ble Sir R. N. Mookerjee said :—

"My Lord, several resolutions have been moved to limit the rate of assessment and taxes and to restrict the power of taxation ; but I have not heard a single voice in opposition to any such resolution. It seems to me that we forget that the assessment will be made by the Municipal Commissioners elected from amongst our own people for the education of our children and also that those Commissioners will themselves have to pay the taxes. Government will only have the power to veto or sanction. I therefore cannot understand why we cannot have confidence in our own people. If we lack confidence in ourselves, i.e., our Municipal Commissioners elected from our own people, how can we in all propriety and consistency clamour for the Reform Scheme or Home Rule. Why should we take for granted that the Municipal Commissioners will not consider the circumstances of the people and their income before they fix the rate of taxation. The Bill for Primary Education has been brought forward by one of our colleagues and not by the Government and the administration of it is left to the people. I therefore fail to see the cause of this opposition thus discrediting our own people by showing want of confidence in their judgment. As regards the alleged apprehension of the Hon'ble mover in regard to the unfair assessment of European firms I can assure him that there is not a single European in this Chamber who shares his fear."

The Bengal Primary Education Bill.

Babu S. N. Ray ; Maulvi Abul Kasem ; Mr. O'Malley ; The President.

The Hon'ble Babu Surendra Nath Ray said :—

My Lord, I am sorry I cannot accept this amendment. The education cess is proposed to be levied upon occupiers of holdings, leaving the owners free. This is an amendment which cannot be accepted. Again, the minimum fixed is 3 per cent. on the annual value of holdings, subject to a total maximum of Rs. 24. The two may clash. Is the Hon'ble Member aware that in the town of Calcutta there are several people—owners of houses—who have to pay more than Rs. 10,000 as rates and taxes ? Is it proper to exempt them from the education cess, or to levy only Rs. 24 from them ? Is my Hon'ble friend aware that the Hon'ble Maharajadhiraja Bahadur of Burdwan pays nearly Rs. 35,000 in the shape of rates and taxes to the Calcutta Corporation, and will the Corporation, who will have to initiate primary education, be content to receive only Rs. 24 from the Hon'ble Maharajadhiraja Bahadur of Burdwan ? I think this is a state of things which my Honble friend will never think of. So, under these circumstances, I oppose this amendment. "

The Hon'ble Maulvi Abul Kasem said :—

" My Lord, so far as this amendment is concerned, I am sorry that I cannot agree with the Hon'ble mover. But I beg to propose, with Your Excellency's permission, that, if this amendment is not acceptable to the House, the words ' nor shall............be more than twenty-four rupees ' be deleted from the end of this proviso. "

The Hon'ble Mr. O'Malley said :—

" My Lord, on behalf of Government I am unable to recommend the Council that they should accept this amendment on the general ground that it is opposed to the system of municipal taxation in force in many of the municipalities in Bengal. In smaller towns a personal tax is imposed on the occupiers of holdings : elsewhere a rate on holdings is imposed on the owners. In Calcutta itself the consolidated rate is payable half by the owners and half by the occupiers. This amendment provides that the education cess shall be levied only upon occupiers and the owners are to be exempt ; and I imagine that one result of this would be that landlords, often a wealthy class, would escape. There seems to be no valid reason why the landlords should be a privileged class."

The President said :—

" The Hon'ble Maulvi Abul Kasem ought to have given due notice of the amendment which he now proposes. I have, however, no objection to taking the sense of the Council upon this particular proposal. Under these circumstances the amendment moved by the Hon'ble Kumar and the proposed amendment to it now moved by the Hon'ble Maulvi Abul Kasem can be discussed together. I will then put the Hon'ble Maulvi's amendment to the amendment and afterwards I will put the main amendment. "

The motion was then put in the following amended form and lost :—

That at the end of sub-clause (1) of clause 21B the following be added, namely :—

" Provided that an education cess shall be levied only upon persons occupying holdings within the municipality and that the rate of such cess shall in no case exceed three per cent. of the annual value of such holdings."

AMENDMENT No. 37.

The Hon'ble Kumar Shib Shekhereswar Roy moved that for the words "a majority" in line 4 of sub-clause (2) of clause 21B the words "three-fourths" be substituted.

He said :—

"My Lord, as it is, the clause lays down that at least one Commissioner in excess of half the total number of Commissioners should decide the matter of imposition of an education cess ; whereas I suggest that this should be done by a three-fourths majority. While I moved an amendment in respect of clause 2D yesterday, I explained to the House why I wanted a substantial majority in deciding questions of grave importance in our mufassal municipalities. I repeat again that conditions in our mufassal towns are not such as to justify decisions of far-reaching consequences by a bare majority. The conditions might change with the progress of education amongst the rate-payers, but the present is not the time when we could do without insisting on a substantial majority in such matters, especially when we are going to impose an education cess in order to finance voluntary education and not compulsory education. I, therefore, commend my amendment for the acceptance of the House."

The Hon'ble Babu Surendra Nath Ray said :—

"My Lord, I cannot accept this amendment and the reasons which I have already given in opposing my Hon'ble friend's amendment No. 16 are applicable to this case also. For these reasons, I oppose the amendment."

The Hon'ble Rai Radha Charan Pal Bahadur said :—

"My Lord, as far as I understand my friend, his amendment is that the education cess shall not be imposed unless the Commissioners, by a resolution, passed at a special general meeting convened for the purpose, and in favour of which a three-fourths majority of the total number of Commissioners have voted, shall determine to impose such a cess. I do not know why my Hon'ble friend in charge of the Bill is not agreeable to accept this amendment, because, in the Bill which was originally drafted, the two-thirds majority was inserted, but somehow or other owing to the wonderful transformation this Bill has undergone, that has escaped our attention : otherwise we would have insisted on the two-thirds majority being retained. I should personally be quite content if two-thirds majority were re-inserted here ; and therefore I support the motion of my Hon'ble friend the Kumar."

The Hon'ble Maulvi Abul Kasem said :—

"My Lord, I rise just to oppose the motion of my Hon'ble friend the Kumar Shib S. R. He proposes that no cess can be levied unless three-fourths of the total number of Municipal Commissioners vote for it or ask for it. Practically, the result will be that if only a small number, say one-fourth, of the Municipal Commissioners want to stand in the way, they will be able successfully to do it by voting against it. I would personally like to have a substantial majority of 'two-thirds' but 'three-fourths' is a very high majority, and it will be very difficult to advance primary education if such a large majority is insisted upon."

The motion was then put and lost.

The Bengal Primary Education Bill.

Babu S. N. Ray ; The President ; Mr. O'Malley ; Babu Kishori Mohan Chaudhuri.

The Hon'ble Babu Surendra Nath Ray said :—

"My Lord, if Your Excellency will allow, I have no objection to accept the two-thirds majority."

The President said :—

"The Hon'ble Member is too late : the question is already decided."

AMENDMENT No. 38.

The Hon'ble Babu Kishori Mohan Chaudhuri moved that after the word "publication" in line 2 of sub-clause (1) of clause 21C the words "and after considering the views of the Commissioners" be inserted.

He said :—

"My Lord, by this amendment I simply want to make it obligatory upon the Government to consult the views of the Commissioners in framing rules. As the clause stands, simply after previous publication the rules may be made ; but in a matter like this it is very desirable that the persons most concerned should be consulted on the proposed rules. That is the simple reason why I propose that after the word 'publication' the words 'and after considering the views of the Commissioners' should be added. This is a very simple matter and I hope on the part of Government there will be no objection."

The Hon'ble Mr. O'Malley said :—

"My Lord, I think the Hon'ble Member is under some misapprehension as to the necessity for the words which he proposes to insert. The words 'after previous publication' really make it necessary that any views which the Commissioners may express shall be considered. There is no specific provision to this effect, because it is a matter which is covered by section 24 of the General Clauses Act. That section lays down that the authority having power to make rules shall consider any objection or suggestion which may be received from any person with respect to the draft. Under the section, as it stands, therefore, there will be a preliminary notification, the views and criticisms of the public will be invited, and Government will consider any opinions received before the rules are confirmed. The words suggested by the Hon'ble mover would therefore be superfluous ; and I suggest that the motion might be withdrawn."

The Hon'ble Babu Kishori Mohan Chaudhuri said :—

"My Lord. I could not follow the Hon'ble Member as to whether it is obligatory on Government."

The Hon'ble Mr. O'Malley said :—

"It means that Government shall consider the objections : it is obligatory upon Government. The words 'after previous publication' make it quite clear that objections will be carefully considered by Government."

The motion was then, by leave of the President, withdrawn.

The Bengal Primary Education Bill.

Mr. P. C. Mitter ; Kumar Shib Shekereswar Ray.

AMENDMENT No. 29.

The Hon'ble Rai Mahendra Chandra Mitra Bahadur moved that after clause 21D the following be inserted, namely :—

"21DD. The Commissioners shall provide a separate primary school for the education of the children of the 'depressed classes', such as Mehters, Muchis, Muddaforases, Haris and Chandals."

He said :—

"My Lord, I do not wish to say anything more than this that there is a desire on the part of the boys of the depressed class to get themselves educated in the primary schools, and consequently it is necessary that some provision should be made for this when the Bill is going to be passed. On the one hand, we find that the bhadralok class object to have their boys educated with the boys of the depressed class. Now I have specified in my amendment that the Commissioners shall provide a separate primary school for the education of the children of Muchis, Chamars, etc. In order to give practical effect to the Bill it is necessary that separate classes should be established so that there will be no difficulty as was imagined by many, and at the same time to educate the boys of this class of people. Secondly, my prayer is that separate schools should be established for the purpose of educating the boys of this class. My Lord, I can say that there is a strong desire on the part of this class of the people to have their boys educated; in fact, the other day there was an election in the Serampore Municipality and we found a Chamar coming forward to sit as a Municipal Commissioner. The election was a hard contested one, but he got many votes, and the voters themselves did not place any kind of repugnance in getting their man in as a Municipal Commissioner. My Lord, three years ago there was a another election in a neighbouring municipality and a Muchi came forward as a candidate ; there was no objection at the time, and there was every chance of his being elected, but afterwards he had to retire under pressure of circumstances which I need not mention to the House. Five years ago there was another contest in a neighbouring municipality, and a Chamar was elected as a Municipal Commissioner. So far as the election went he was successful, but then he had to retire. These illustrations I submit to the Council for the purpose of showing that attempts ought to be made to educate the boys of this class, and I hope and trust that this amendment may be accepted by Government in its present form."

The Hon'ble Mr. P. C. Mitter said :—

"My Lord, I am sorry that my Hon'ble friend Rai Mahendra Chandra Mitra Bahadur was ill-advised enough to move this amendment. I hope, My Lord, if a division be taken on this motion, my friend will be the solitary voter for his amendment. My Lord, if we really want to introduce primary education, if we really believe in the future of responsible government in this country an amendment like this, makes one almost despair of success of responsible government or primary education. Whatever happens to the amendment, My Lord, I would respectfully ask your Lordship to take a division on it, if not for any other purpose, only to show that the Indian members do not share the views of the Hon'ble Member."

The Hon'ble Kumar Shib Shekereswar Ray said :—

"My Lord, I oppose the motion most strongly. I belong to a high class Brahmin family, and I may say that we have no objection to sending our boys to schools where children of the depressed classes are also admitted. As a matter of fact, My Lord, I was educated in the same school along with a Namasudra boy, and I may say that he is still one of my best friends."

The Bengal Primary Education Bill.

Maulvi Abul Kasem ; Maulvi A. K. Fazl-ul Haq ; Babu S. N. Ray.

The Hon'ble Maulvi Abul Kasem said :—

"My Lord, we have talked and heard of retrograde measures, and I am sorry that a retrograde measure like this should have been brought before the Council by one of our best friends. We have been told of the depressed classes, and it certainly looks strange that anyone should object to his children being educated in the same school, sitting on the same bench as the children of the depressed classes, in these days. It is a matter of some gratification to me, and I am sure it must be so to a large section of my countrymen, both Hindus and Muhammadans, to learn that Kumar Shib Shekhareswar Ray, a representative of one of the most aristocratic families in Bengal, is willing to send his children to a school to be educated with Chandal boys and that one of his best friends is a Namasudra. The Hon'ble mover wants to make a distinction from the very earliest of our lives in the very primary schools, and I do not know where this distinction will cease, when he admits that there is a great desire on the part of those people to receive education. That will in due time raise their aspirations and they will want to be Municipal Commissioners, and I hope that when the time comes and when they are fully educated they will come forward and claim to sit in this very Council, and I am sure everyone of us will be glad to provide seats for them in this Council if they are fit for it. I hope that the good sense of the Hon'ble mover will prevail, and that he will withdraw his amendment."

The Hon'ble Maulvi A. K. Fazl-ul-Haq said :—

"I need hardly say that I oppose this motion ; only, I am at a loss to find language strong enough in which to express my feelings. On the one hand, My Lord, I am anxious in so far as it in me lies to voice what I understand to be the general opinion of this Council, but on the other hand, my respect for the age of the Hon'ble mover of this motion, restrains me from giving vent to my feelings at the present moment. I am saying all these things, because for the last few months we have been agitating not only here but also in England for the grant of responsible Government, and one of the most formidable oppositions which we have hitherto met, is the accusation which seems sometimes to be justified, that although we claim a larger and larger share in the administration of the country, we are not yet prepared to leave aside the prejudices which divide one community from another, and which renders the task of administration in India so very difficult for those to whom the task is entrusted. If a motion like this be carried in this Council, it would at once be telegraphed to the democracy in England, and I would ask my Hon'ble friend to consider what the effect of that telegraph is likely to be. Does he not think that by trying to separate the children by these methods, he will gain an advantage, if any, which I doubt will at all compare favourably with the great disservice he will be doing to the future of the country, by creating one more formidable gulf between the communities and detering the introduction of self-government in this country. My Lord, I do not wish to waste the time of this Council, but I feel so very strongly that it is useless for me to say anything further on this subject. I only wish with my Hon'ble friend Mr. Mitter that a division be taken on this point at least to show that my Hon'ble friend in spite of the respect we have for him, will find himself in the minority of one, so far as this particular motion is concerned."

The Hon'ble Babu Surendra Nath Ray said :—

"I am sorry I cannot accept this amendment, and the unanimity with which this amendment has been opposed show the feeling on the subject. It is not clear to me as to what the Hon'ble Member exactly wishes to propose.

The Bengal Primary Education Bill.

Sir Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari.

Does he want that there should be separate schools for all the different classes for all the different castes that are generally known as the depressed classes, or only one school for what is known as the depressed classes. If it is the former, then I think it is not financially possible to start separate schools for Pods, Bagdis, Taors, Namasudras, Mehters, Doms, in every village or group of villages. If it be the latter, then I should request my friend to think if he has considered whether a Pod or even a Bagdi would drink water out of the same vessel with the son of a Mehter or a Dom. In fact, in Bengal there is no separate depressed class, except the Mehters and the Doms, and they are mostly imported from outside Bengal and their number is not sufficient to justify separate schools being formed. I may tell my Hon'ble friend that most of the so-called depressed classes have never found that the existing conditions have interfered with their education. I know there are Namasudra Deputy Magistrates and Namasudra Deputy Collectors, and even vakils of the High Court who must have read in colleges along with other boys of the higher castes. I may inform my Hon'ble friend that more than 25 years ago, in my native village of Behala where the majority of the people are Kulin Brahmins, no difficulty was found in admitting a Namasudra boy in the local English school, and that boy read along with my brothers. Every such difficult problem will have to be solved as they arise by the School Committee, by tact, by good sense and in a spirit of toleration. If this amendment be accepted, all I can say is that we are not fit for self-government."

The Hon'ble Sir Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari said :—

I had no desire, My Lord, to take part in killing of the slain. The Hon'ble Member in charge has paid the Hon'ble mover the compliment of taking his amendment seriously and has put forward arguments to show that if the amendment is accepted it would be impracticable in working. I am quite aware of the practical difficulties in our way and they have to be solved as they arise in quite a different fashion, so that all the diverging interests may be reconciled. That is not the reason of my opposing the objectionable amendment. Nor do I wish to oppose it because of the apprehension expressed by some that its success is likely to be telegraphed forthwith to the British democracy to the prejudice of the cause of Reforms that has been started of late. The Reforms are broader based than that and they would not be worth having if the British democracy, which has its own defects and weaknesses and foibles is to be allowed to dictate social reform such as it conceives to be desirable, as a seni qua non. My reasons are altogether different. I have often said elsewhere and I say it again with all the emphasis that I can command that it is a downright shortsighted policy to call really strong living useful and respectable sections of the community 'the depressed class.' If the amendment really stopped at the words about—opening schools for the depressed classes—I should have thought that my Hon'ble friend wanted separate schools for Brahmins and Kayasthas and those other classes who from a certain point of view really form the depressed classes of the day. The Hon'ble mover was also probably apprehensive of this likely and natural interpretation and that is why perhaps he has brought in qualifying words such as Chamars, Muchis, etc. My Lord, if this demand went further and if the University had to make arrangements for what is proposed in this amendment in connection with primary schools, what our difficulty would be has been already indicated. We have not attached any such consideration to stand in the way of the general advancement of the people and the enlargement of culture. But we have been foresighted enough to have teachers and professors in the University—belonging to the depressed classes—and we have made arrangements for Vedic teaching to the Muhammadans. This, My Lord, is the better mind of the country not because of the apprehension of what the democary in England might think but because of the traditions of the land. I know my Hon'ble friend is a devout Vaishnava and as such he should not have forgotten the shastric dictum about [illegible] [illegible] I He forgets the beautiful story of Satyakama who did not know who his father was. His mother told him and he repeated the story to his teacher that he did not know who his father was. The students revolted but the guru protested against such revolt and said that he must be a true Brahmin because he was truthful and he accepted Satyakama as a Brahmin. That much more that I could recount about Ramchandra and Sreekrishna represents the ancient tradition of the land that finds an echo to-day whatever may have been the intermediate lapses. This amendment will serve a useful purpose for the debate helps in bringing out the real mind of the country. The unanimous way in which the non-official members have pronounced their conviction that there is no caste rule so far as our educational institutions are concerned. I do not blame my Hon'ble friend. I fully approach the practical difficulties that he has probably in his mind and which must be surmounted. There was a time not long ago when even under the British rule neither my Hon'ble friend nor myself would have been admitted in the Sanskrit College. It did not however take long for a Kayastha to be Principal of that College. The older order thus giveth place to the new and onward progress cannot and must not be artificially retarded in the holy domains of culture and education. We have present in the Visitors' gallery to-day a distinguished educationist from the southern side of India Sir Siva Swamy Iyer. I hope he will not carry away from this Council the impression that Madras where the Panchama question is so much to the fore, is in advance of Bengal in this respect."

The Bengal Primary Education Bill.

Rai Mahendra Chandra Mitra Bahadur.

The Hon'ble Rai Mahendra Chandra Mitra Bahadur said :—

"My Lord, I wish to say a few words regarding this amendment. I find that there is a growing feeling here among the members of this Council against this amendment. My object in putting this amendment was that education should be spread to this class of the people. I limited the amendment to these words : 'such as Muchis, Mehters, etc.' It was far from my intention to exclude in this resolution other people of the depressed class. We found it difficult, My Lord, in the mufassal towns to allow Brahmin boys to be educated with Mehters and Muchis, consequently there was an idea in my mind to have separate schools for the purpose of educating boys of this class. In fact, I remember one instance when I got a Mehter boy admitted into a primary school, the result was that the Brahmins, Kayasthas and boys of other classes ran away from the place. So we find a great difficulty in the mufassal. I may say it was never my object not to limit the progress of education among boys of these castes. Far from that.

The Hon'ble Maulvi Fazl-ul-Haq was very kind to me when he stated that he could have used strong language against me but for my age. He says he has respect for me and my age. I thank him for it. He must, however, admit the difficulty which we in the mufassal feel in this matter, and I therefore thought it necessary that provision should be made for the spread of education among boys of this class, and at the same time no objection should be raised to having separate schools for boys of these depressed classes. In that view of the matter I came forward with a resolution like this.

The Bengal Primary Education Bill.

Babu Surendra Nath Ray; Rai Radha Charan Pal Bahadur; Mr. O'Malley.

It was said by the Hon'ble Maulvi Fazl-ul-Huq that if an amendment like this is allowed in the Council it will be telegraphed to the British democratic party, but I am quite sure the British democratic party would have appreciated the spirit in which we are placed here. I appreciate the spirit of spreading education amongst this class, so I wanted to have separate schools so that there could not be any difficulty in the way.

One Hon'ble member has said that he would have no objection to sending his boys to be educated amongst boys of this class. I congratulate him for this. But if he understood my object in bringing forward this amendment, he would not have accused me.

My Lord, when there is so much opposition amongst the non-official members of the Council, I think it necessary that I should withdraw this amendment, though my non-official friends can sympathise with me for putting it. I have explained the reasons which led me to come forward in the Council and move this amendment. It was with the sole reason that education may be spread amongst the depressed classes. With Your Excellency's permission, I shall withdraw the amendment."

The motion was then, by leave of the President, withdrawn.

AMENDMENT No. 40.

The Hon'ble Rai Radha Charan Pal Bahadur moved, that after the word "may" in line 4 of clause 21F the words "after reference to the Commissioners" be inserted.

He said :—

"My lord I believe this is the last amendment and I fervently hope that this will not be a contentious one and will be accepted. I think that Government ordinarily consults Municipal Commissioners in matters like this but in order to avoid any dispute—so that there may be no misapprehension with regard to this—it is better to have a reference like that proposed in my amendment in the Statute book, that after consulting the Commissioners the notification may be withdrawn. I do not think that this will put the Government in any difficulty financial or otherwise. I see the Hon'ble Member in charge is smiling and so I have great hopes that he will accept this amendment."

The Honb'le Babu Surendra Nath Ray said :—

"My Lord, I can accept my Hon'ble friend's amendment with this verbal modification—'After considering any explanation of the Commissioners.'

The Hon'ble Rai Radha Charan Pal Bahadur said :—

"I accept the modified form of my amendment."

The Hon'ble Mr. O'Malley said :—

"Government will also accept it.

The Hon'ble Rai Radha Charan Pal Bahadur said :—

My Lord, I am very glad that my amendment has been accepted though in a modified form. This was the last amendment and it has ended as we say মধুরেণ সমাপয়েৎ ।

The Bengal Primary Education Bill.

Rai Radha Charan Pal Bahadur; Babu Ambika Charan Mazumdar; President; Babu Surendra Nath Ray.

The amendment was then put in the following amended form and agreed to—

That after the word "may" in line 4 of clause 21F the words "after considering any explanation of the Commissioners."

The Hon'ble Babu Ambika Charan Mazumdar having got up to speak the President said :—

"Does the Hon'ble Member wish to rise to a point of order?"

The Hon'ble Babu Ambika Charan Mazumdar said :—

"My Lord, it is with feelings of greatest regret that I rise to move that under rule 47 (2) of the Legislative Business rules I rise to object to the passing of this bill in the form in which it has been settled here."

The President said :—

"Order, order! The Hon'ble Member must wait till the motion for passing the Bill has been made. He cannot move that motion now. There is nothing to object to till the motion for passing the Bill is before the Council."

LIST OF BUSINESS—ITEM No. 12.

The Hon'ble Babu Surendra Nath Ray to move that the Secretary be directed to renumber the clauses and sub-clauses of the Bill in consecutive order and to make corresponding alterations in all cross-references thereto.

The motion was put and agreed to.

LIST OF BUSINESS—ITEM No. 13.

The Hon'ble Babu Surendra Nath Ray moved that the Bill, as settled in Council, be passed.

He said :—

"My Lord, in moving that the Bill may be passed I should like to say a few words.

The Bill received hearty welcome from your Lordship's Government when it was first introduced in the Council by me in September 1917. I had occasion at a previous stage of the Bill to refer to the speech of His Excellency the Viceroy at the Imperial Legislative Council in February 1918. He has again referred to the subject of primary education in the Imperial Legislative Council on the 6th of this month.

He said : 'I have already mentioned in this Council the Bill introduced by the Hon'ble Mr. Patel to enable district municipalities in Bombay to adopt, with the sanction of the Local Government, compulsory elementary education for children. That Bill has now become law and I am glad to see that the Government of Bombay propose to behave in a liberal manner to any municipality which desires and is able to adopt its provisions. I have already given my assent to a Bill of a similar nature but of wider application in Bihar and Orissa, and other Bills are either awaiting introduction or have arrived at various stages in the process of legislation.' It will therefore appear that His Excellency the Viceroy views with approval the attitude of the Bombay Government towards the measure. The question of extension of primary education has been before Government for a long time. So far back as the year 1906, the Government of India (then under Lord Curzon) was considering the desirability of introducing free primary education throughout India as will be evident from the following letter of Sir Herbert Risley to the Local Governments.

The Bengal Primary Education Bill.

Babu Ambika Charan Mazumdar.

He wrote : 'If the Government of India have never declared that universal primary education is the aim in view, yet the whole spirit of their declarations has been in favour of the fullest possible provision of primary schools. To insist upon the permanent retention of fees is manifestly incompatible not only with universal school attendance but with anything that approaches to it. They would therefore desire to abolish fees as soon as the finances of the country permit Government to increase the funds available for primary education to such an extent as to counteract the loss of income which would thereby fall upon these schools. The Governor-General in Council hopes that this time has now arrived, but he desires to examine the question in the light of the replies to the inquiries made in this letter regarding the cost of the scheme.'

I believe some of the local Governments opposed free primary education and the desire of Lord Curzon to have free primary education throughout the length and breadth of the country was frustrated. Now that the Bill is about to be passed and is to be an Act, I have to state again for your Lordship's consideration that this measure of primary education will be a dead letter unless it has the full support of Government and unless the Government will aid this measure by substantial financial assistance. The other day when the Bombay municipalities wanted the Bombay Government to contribute one-third of the expenses towards the cost of primary education, His Excellency the Governor of Bombay assured them that the Government would be prepared to bear half the expenditure. The mere fact of the passing of this Bill will mean nothing. The non-official members of this Council hope that Your Excellency's Government may be pleased to make a statement as to how far Government are prepared to help local bodies financially in spreading education. It will be an index of the earnestness of the Government on the subject and will be received with satisfaction by the people of this country.

My Lord, the Bill has undergone changes in the Select Committee, and I have every reason to believe that if the provisions of the Bill be properly and strictly enforced, it will be the sure means of spreading education among the masses and of infusing a new life into them. Knowledge is power. The illiterate masses will, with the spread of education, be one day a power in the land, and the hitherto dumb-driven cattle will be heroes in the strife of social and economical development of this country."

The Hon'ble Babu Ambika Charan Mazumdar said :—

"My Lord, it is with a feeling of the deepest regret that I rise to object, under rule 47, clause 2, to the passing of the Bill in the present form. My regret is due, firstly, to the fact that I think that it is more than 20 years ago when I had been not only thinking but talking of primary education being made compulsory throughout the country. It was one of the earliest dreams of my life to see that my ignorant countrymen who are now lying low in the scale of society might be elevated and that their fortune might be brightened by education. Now to find myself somewhat disappointed in that hope is my first regret. The second reason for my regret is that I have to oppose a Bill which is a private measure and perhaps the very first of its kind; but a sense of duty compels me to raise my voice against the measure which, to my mind, does not satisfy the requirements of the people and which, I apprehend, will prove a failure in attaining the object for which it is intended.

The Bengal Primary Education Bill.

Babu Ambika Charan Mazumdar.

As regards my opposing the Bill which has been brought forward by my esteemed friend to the left, it is some consolation, though a very poor consolation, to me, to find that the Bill of which he was the father was exactly the sort of Bill which I had always wished to see in this Council, but this Bill has been 'transformed' in the words of my hon'ble friend Rai Radha Charan Pal Bahadur 'almost beyond recognition'. With these few observations, I base my objection upon the following considerations. That having regard to the fact that primary education is not made compulsory and that at the same time the Bill proposes to levy an education cess without making such education free: that having regard to the fact that the nature of education to be imparted under this Act is left entirely in the hands of the Education Department which has so far exhibited no very remarkable tendency to extend primary education in the name of supervision and efficiency: that having regard to the fact that Government is unwilling to commit itself even to a modest contribution towards the expenses of such education: that having regard to the fact that the levying of the cess, its nature and incidence, is entirely left to Government without even indicating the line on which it is to proceed—and thereby this Council has practically in my opinion abdicated its proper function; I feel constrained to object to the passing of this Bill in its present form. I know of no law passed up to this time bearing on any cess, e.g. the Municipal Act, the Local Self-Government Act, the Income-Tax Act—being so framed by the Legislature as not to indicate even the nature of a tax; and I think no Act has up to this time left it to the rules of Government to indicate the nature as well as the incidence of any tax.

My hon'ble friend Sir R. N. Mookerjee, for whom I always hold the highest estimation, tells us that we are not to distrust our own men and that we might be perfectly content with this tax being levied by our own men, namely, the Municipal Commissioners. He will pardon me if I tell him that it is not exactly so. The Municipal Commissioners will be the conduit pipe of certain rules to be framed by Government and they will have to be guided exactly by these rules. Whatever they may be, I have tried my best to indicate the line on which the tax ought to proceed, but in my attempt I have signally failed.

There is another consideration, My Lord, namely, that the Bill as settled in Council is not likely very much to expand and improve primary education, but only to burden the people with an additional tax, the weight of which may not be so much felt by those of us who are in the metropolis, but which will surely be the last straw on the camel's back on many a municipality in the mufassal. We will be quite willing to bear this burden if we could only have understood what would be the nature of this tax, what would be the incidence and how this tax would be utilised in really expanding and improving the primary education, and we would have been still more glad to know that Government was going to stretch out its helping hand in a substantial measure, but in all this we have failed. I submit that the Bill be not passed now and we may wait for better times and press for a Bill like this for which we have tried so hard and so incessantly for the last few years. The Bill was welcomed by us and we thought that it was going to be a blessing; but at the last moment it has been sprung upon us in a form and shape in which I may almost say—like prophet Balaam who was asked to bless the people—'it has come only to curse them.' With these remarks and without prolonging my argument on this point, I ask Your Excellency's ruling under clause (2) of rule 47, so that this Bill may not be passed now.

The Bengal Primary Education Bill.

The President ; Babu Ambika Charan Mazumdar ; Babu Surendra Nath Ray.

The President said :—

"I understand that the Hon'ble Member objects to the Bill being further proceeded with to-day. The arguments which he has adduced in this speech so far have been directed against the merits of the Bill and not against proceeding with it to-day. The rule to which the Hon'ble Member refers gives any Hon'ble Member of this Council the right of objecting to a Bill being further proceeded with if amendments have been made to the Bill. It also gives the President the right of rejecting the objection if he thinks fit. In considering whether an objection of this kind should be accepted or not, I should naturally be influenced by two things—firstly, whether the amendments made in the Bill were of such a character as to make any substantial change in the matter of the Bill. If the amendments made in the Bill were limited to verbal alterations, I should not regard that as sufficient reason for accepting the objection to proceeding with the Bill forthwith. The other thing by which I should be influenced would be the extent of the opposition in the Council to the measure being proceeded with. In order to ascertain that I have the right of asking any Hon'ble Member who wishes to object to the Bill being further proceeded with to-day to show me by holding up his hand. But before I ask the Hon'ble Members to do that, I should like to hear from the hon'ble mover of the Bill what he has to say in reply to the objection.

If, however, the Hon'ble Babu Ambika Charan Mazumdar wishes to put forward a further argument in favour of his objection to proceeding with the Bill I would be very glad to hear him before the Hon'ble Babu Surendra Nath Ray replies."

The Hon'ble Babu Ambika Charan Mazumdar said :—

"Your Excellency, my object in bringing forward this motion is that some time may be allowed and then some of these considerations which I have enumerated in my objection might influence the Council to consider the matter further; and at a future meeting probably they might give these points a fair consideration. I have enumerated one after another the salient points upon which I base my objection. I think that if some time were given and this matter were brought up at a future meeting, Hon'ble Members would have, under the rules, to debate on some of these points, and then probably there may be some change in this matter, and that is the reason why I have put forward this motion."

The President said :—

"I think it is right that I should point out to the Council that if the Bill is not proceeded with to-day and it comes up for further consideration at a future meeting, it will not be in order for any Hon'ble Member to move any of the amendments which have already been decided by the Council during yesterday and to-day. It would only be open to Hon'ble Members to bring forward different amendments. I think the Hon'ble Members understand that."

The Hon'ble Babu Ambika Charan Mazumdar said :—

"Yes, My Lord."

The Hon'ble Babu Surendra Nath Ray said :—

"My Lord, I am sorry I have to oppose this motion of my hon'ble and esteemed friend, Babu Ambika Charan Mazumdar. My friend, Hon'ble Maulvi Fazl-ul-Huq, said yesterday that Indians want delay in all matters.

The Bengal Primary Education Bill.

Mr. P. C. Mitter.

It is one of the traits in their character. But we all know that this question, the question of educating the masses has been before the public at least since the year 1906, if not earlier. The Congress, public men from the platform, and the Press have been incessantly crying for nearly a quarter of a century for mass education and now that the time has arrived for the passing of the Bill, my friend comes forward with a motion for the postponement of the measure. All these speeches from the platform—all these writings from the Press would be considered as cant. I can very well understand the enemies of Indian progress coming forward to make such a motion as this; but what has taken me by surprise is that an enlightened gentleman like my hon'ble and esteemed friend should come forward with such a motion. We are trying to have self-government at no distant day, but we cannot say that we are properly fit for self-government unless the masses of our people are educated. And my friend wants to put off the day when education will make a headway in the country. The country had this Bill before it for nearly 18 months and opinions have been received from public bodies, from officials and non-officials and there has been almost unanimity of feeling on the subject of primary education, viz., that steps should be taken to expand it. No doubt, there have been some changes and radical changes in the Bill in the Select Committee; but the underlying principle of the Bill is that we should take early steps to spread education among the masses. That principle has not been touched at all by the Select Committee; if that be the case, I really cannot understand the motive of my friend in making this objection. If the Bill had been passed as it was originally framed by me much of the work in connection with the Bill would have been left to the Education Department. The same powers and nothing more are now to be left by the Bill as it has now emerged from the Select Committee to the Education Department.

The Reforms Scheme may come into operation in another 18 months and primary education will be in the hands of the Ministers. The experience of the working of the Bill for these 18 months will stand us in good stead, so that if the provisions of the Bill be found to be unworkable there will be time enough to bring forward amendments."

The Ho'nble Mr. P. C. Mitter said :—

"My Lord, I am really sorry that my hon'ble friend, Babu Ambika Charan Mazumdar, has made this motion: and giving all considerations to the arguments advanced by him I fail to see any substance in those arguments. I say this with the greatest possible respect to my hon'ble friend. His main objection seems to be that primary education has not been made free and yet an education cess has been imposed. Another objection which really centres round the question of the imposition of an education cess is that there is no indication as to the limitation of taxation and that is only left to the rules of Government. It seems to me, My Lord, that his objections are really based upon some misapprehension of section 21B of this Bill. Undoubtedly clause (3) of section 21B says that the education cess shall be levied in such a manner as may be prescribed by rules made by the Local Government: but clause (1) of that section makes it abundantly clear that it is the Commissioners who, with the previous sanction of the Local Government, will be able to impose a tax called education cess, because clause (1) of 21B says that if the existing resources of any municipality, including any grant from Government, are not sufficient to cover the cost of primary education within the municipality, the Commissioners may, with the previous sanction of the Local Government, impose a tax to be called an education cess, and all amounts derived therefrom shall be devoted solely to the purpose of primary education. That makes it quite clear that the initiative must come from the Commissioners. It makes it equally clear that the whole of the amount levied as education cess must be devoted for the purpose of primary education. That being so, I fail to see the point in the Hon'ble Member's argument that primary education has not been made free and yet an education cess has been imposed. If primary education is not made free, every pice which is raised by the education cess will be spent for the benefit of primary education, and furthermore, as my Hon'ble friend Sir R. N. Mookerjee has pointed out, it will be our own countrymen—the Municipal Commissioners whose Municipalities will be affected and with whom the initiative will lie. My friend the Hon'ble Babu Ambika Charan Mazumdar's reply to that seems to me to be not convincing at any rate because that reply implies a confusion of the provisions of clause (3) of section 21B and clause (1) of section 21B. Clause (1) of section 21B, as I have already said, makes it abundantly clear that the initiative lies with the Municipal Commissioners. If the Commissioners of a particular municipality find that that municipality is too poor to take advantage of the provisions of the Bill then there is no compulsion, and if there is no compulsion how does any question of the rules of Government to be framed under clause (3) come in?—I fail to see. My Lord, we have been discussing the question of primary education for years past: other provinces have introduced Bills and should Bengal lag behind? My Lord, without the advantage of a Bill for primary education we in Bengal are more forward in the matter of education than any other province—our total number of literates is much higher than the number of literates in any other province and it is axiomatic, as the late Mr. Gokhale laid down time after time, that the proper time for introducing compulsory primary education comes when there is at least one-third literacy in the land. I am able to tell the Council that we have more than attained this standard so far as the adult male population is concerned, although if you take the female population we have not come up to that standard. Therefore, My Lord, I say the time is ripe. Here is a Bill, to which many of us—both officials and non-officials—have given our time, and our thought, and what purpose will be secured by putting it off? As the Hon'ble Member in charge of the Bill has submitted to the Council, the Reforms Scheme will certainly make primary education a department of the Minister, and it will be a gain that we shall have the advantage of the administration of the Bill by the present Government department before the Indian Minister comes in. For all these reasons, I am against the motion of my hon'ble friend. Babu Ambika Charan Mazumdar."

The Bengal Primary Education Bill.

Babu Akhil Chandra Datta.

The Hon'ble Babu Akhil Chandra Datta said :—

"My Lord, I rise to support the objection raised by the Hon'ble Babu Ambika Charan Mazumdar and my reasons are these. The prolonged debate and the hurried discussion of these two days has proved beyond doubt that there are some questions involved in the Bill which are highly controversial. One may agree or disagree with the decisions we have arrived at on the various vital questions involved in the amendments on the agenda. But in all fairness, it must be conceded by all that the matter is highly controversial—that is one fact. However, the mere fact that the matter is highly controversial is in itself not certainly a ground for asking Your Excellency not to proceed with the Bill at this meeting. There is another ground, and a very important ground, which is this; that there is a feeling that the original Bill has now been transformed almost beyond recognition. The third fact is this that these alterations are not on mere details but on substantial and material aspects of the Bill. In view of these facts, My Lord, the question arises whether it is not fair to give the public an opportunity to express their opinion upon the provisions of the Bill as they now stand."

The President ; Babu Akhil Chandra Datta ; Babu Kishori Mohan Chaudhuri.

The President said :—

"Order! Order! The Hon'ble Member is going entirely beyond rule 47. (The Hon'ble Member must resume his seat when I rise.) The arguments which the Hon'ble Member has now adduced relate to the matter of referring the Bill for public opinion. The Hon'ble Member could have moved a motion of this kind before the Bill was taken into consideration ; but as he has not done so, he can not adduce arguments in favour of such a motion now. It is now too late for him to do so."

The Hon'ble Babu Akhil Chandra Datta said :—

"My Lord, with Your Excellency's permission I am submitting arguments in support of the objection that has been raised by my hon'ble friend, Babu Ambika Charan Mazumdar under clause (2) of rule 47."

The President said :—

"The Hon'ble Member refers to the amendments passed in Select Committee. If the Hon'ble Member wished to refer the Bill back either to the Select Committee or to the public, because alterations had been made in the Select Committee, he ought to have moved his motion before the Bill was taken into consideration, in precisely the same way as the Hon'ble Maulvi Faz-ul-Huq did in the case of the Village Self-Government Bill. He cannot adduce arguments now in favour of a procedure of that kind. It is now too late. The only effect of my accepting the objection will be that instead of the Bill being passed to-day it will be passed at the next meeting of the Council. That will be the only effect."

The Hon'ble Babu Akhil Chandra Datta said :—

"My Lord, that is beside my point. I am not opposing the passing of the whole Bill ; I am not also moving for adjournment. What I simply want is that it may be adjourned to another meeting under clause 47(2). This is the whole objection ; nothing more than that."

The President said :—

"But the Hon'ble Member has not yet brought forward any argument in favour of that course which appeals to me. Has the Hon'ble Member any valid argument in favour of that course? I think perhaps it will save time if I ascertain whether there is any strong feeling against proceeding with the Bill. Will those Hon'ble Members who object to the Bill being proceeded with further to-day hold up their hands ?

* * * * *

Well, six Hon'ble Members object. Under these cirumstances I am prepared to accept the objection."

LIST OF BUSINESS—ITEM No. 14.

RESOLUTIONS.

(Under the rules for the discussion of matters of general public interest.)

The Hon'ble Babu Kishori Mohan Chaudhuri moved the following resolution :—

"This Council recommends to the Governor in Council that the recommendations of the Public Services Commission and the Government proposals thereon be discussed in this Council before they are given effect to."

Resolutions.

Sir Henry Wheeler.

He said:—

"My Lord, I do not wish to say much on this subject regarding the recommendations of the Public Services Commission. They are in the nature of proposals for reform in the various services of public administation of the country, and affect also provincial finances. It is therefore desirable that before any effect is given to the Government proposals public opinion should be invited from interested persons and public bodies would also, I hope, like to submit their opinions on these proposals. It is very desirable that these things should be discussed at a meeting which will afford the members an opportunity to see in what way these Government proposals are received by the public. Government will also have an opportunity of explaining in what way they have received public criticism. With that object in view I have brought forward this resolution for the acceptance of Your Excellency's Government, and I hope that, as in the case of other reform proposals, these proposals should also be discussed in Council before they are given effect to. Therefore I hope an opportunity will be given, and I humbly submit the resolution for the consideration of the House and for their acceptance."

The Hon'ble Sir Henry Wheeler said:—

"My Lord, before proceeding to examine exactly what the resolution asks for, I would like to remind the Council of what has transpired, previous to this date, by way of assurances given by Government regarding the consultation of public opinion on the recommendations of the Public Services Commission. After the report was published, this point—that the public should have an opportunity of making themselves heard—not unnaturally attracted attention, and it was in fact mooted in the Imperial Legislative Council on the 7th March 1917, when the Government of India were asked to make a statement, and replied that they had no doubt that Local Governments would be careful to ascertain non-official opinion (including that of representative Indians) where such consultation would be of assistance, though they thought that the occasion and method of that consultation might safely be left to each Local Government's discretion. The point was again raised by a question in this Council on the 3rd July 1917, and an answer was given to the effect that the Governor in Council had every intention of giving public opinion an opportunity of expressing itself, but had decided to defer formal reference until after a communication promised by the Government of India. That communication, as the Council will remember, was in pursuance of the original idea that, after a preliminary examination of the general principles underlying the Report, the Government of India would try and lay down broad lines upon which subsequent discussion should proceed. That is what we promised to do on behalf of the Local Government and it is on these lines that we are working. There were two courses open to us, one of which was far more helpful to the public than the other. On receipt of the report of the Public Services Commission, we could have thrown it before the public and said: 'Here are the recommendations; if you have got anything to say about them, you had better say it now.' That would have made it extremely difficult for the public to follow the various points involved, and might merely have resulted in a repetition of the evidence given before the Public Services Commission. We therefore discarded that plan, and according as views crystalized in respect of individual services, we have endeavoured to put out well-balanced and non-committal resolutions, explaining what the recommendations of the Public Services Commission in connection with with each particular service were, what the arguments are on either side, what considerations were accepted as valid in the past, and what consideration might weigh on either side in the future. That method concentrates the attention of the public on the particular service under discussion, puts them in possession of a certain amount of information about it of which, possibly, they were not previously aware, and it gets the whole thing on to a manageable basis. We have already done this in connection with the Police Service and the Subordinate Judicial Service, and in to-day's Gazette there appeared a short Resolution regarding some not very important questions relating to the Excise Department. Very shortly there will be a similar resolution about the Forest Service and the Indian Civil Service. The other services will no doubt come up hereafter for similar treatment on these lines, while the matter of the Educational Service was considered by a special committee. That is what we have done, and are doing, and it will be seen that we have afforded ample opportunity to public opinion to make itself heard, and have endeavoured to provide facilities for its formulation.

Resolutions.

Sir Henry Wheeler.

In the actual resolution which has just been moved there are really three points, and I will take them up separately. The first proposal is that the recommendations of the Public Services Commission should be discussed in this Council before they are given effect to, but such a course does not require the authority of this resolution because, even as things stand, it is open to any Hon'ble Member, providing he observes the rules, to move a resolution relative to those recommendations for discussion in Council. The matter must then come up for discussion and different views can be expressed. Therefore, to that extent, there is nothing that requires the acceptance of this particular resolution, which is superfluous. But there are two other points which the resolution raises and which, on the merits, I am not prepared to accept. The first asks that the proposals of the Local Government should be discussed in this Council. Now what is the constitutional position? We have these recommendations referred to us by the Government of India for opinion, and we, in our turn, put them before the public for opinion. We thus collect material useful to Government, and on that material we submit out views to the Government of India. They, in their turn, scrutinise them along with other opinions from other provinces, if the matter is one which concerns all India, and if a decision is beyond their competence they refer their proposals to the Secretary of State with whom, eventually, the final authority lies. That is the ordinary constitutional position, and it would be quite inappropriate that this Local Government should come before the Council and say 'Before we send this letter to the Government of India, we wish to have the opinion of the Council upon it.' The proper time for an expression of public opinion is when the matter is put before the public.

The third point is even more open to objection, and I think that even the Hon'ble Member must admit that we could not agree that the recommendations of the Public Services Commission should come up for discussion before this Council before effect is given to them. As I have just explained, all major proposals in connection with each of the public services must receive the approval of the Secretary of State or the Government of India, as the case may be, but it would be quite impossible for us, after we had got the orders of the Secretary of State, not to give effect to them till the opinion of the Council was received.

For these reasons I cannot accept this resolution, though I cannot help feeling that what is really in the Hon'ble Member's mind is that there should, at some time, be a discussion in this Council on these recommendations. But if he thinks for a moment, he will find that it is already within his compass to give notice of any resolution which he desires to move in this connection and which complies with the rules."

Resolutions.

Babu Kishori Mohan Chaudhuri; Babu Surendra Nath Ray.

The Hon'ble Babu Kishori Mohan Chaudhuri said :—

"My Lord, the only difficulty which I feel in discussing the question is that the suggestion is that any Hon'ble Member may submit his views when public opinion is invited, but there the difficulty is that we will only get individual opinion, but if it is discussed at a meeting of this Council then our views may also be submitted to the Government of India along with the views of the Local Government and also to the Secretary of State. My idea is that the result of the discussion may be communicated as was done in the case of the Reform proposals. If the question is discussed here, the advantage is that with the recommendations of the Public Services Commission, the Government proposals, as well as the opinion of public bodies and the persons most interested all will sent together and matured consideration may be given to the subject under discussion. My contention is that it is not possible for us to express an opinion simply on the recommendations of the Public Services Commission, without an explanation of the views of Government and also public bodies, and so they can only be discussed in a public meeting of this Council. I have brought forward this resolution so that we may have facilities for submitting our matured views upon those recommendations, and if Government is in sympathy with this proposal there is no difficulty about it. That will also give the Government and other members to know what the public opinion is on this matter. All I desire is that Government when submitting their opinion will also send the opinions of various public bodies as well as the discussions of this Council, and I hope that this may be accepted, and there will be no objection."

The resolution was then put and lost.

LIST OF BUSINESS—ITEM NO. 15.

The Hon'ble Babu Surendra Nath Ray moved the following resolution :—

"This Council recommends to the Governor in Council that a Committee, consisting of official and non-official members of this Council, be appointed to consider the question of the reorganization of the judicial branch of the Provincial Civil Service, in the light of—

(a) the recommendations made in this behalf by the Public Services Commission;

(b) the Government Resolution No. 6279A., dated the 19th November, 1918;

(c) the opinion of the Hon'ble High Court referred to in the Government Resolution; and (d) such expressions of opinions and resolutions as may have been received by Government on the said Government Resolution."

He said :—

"On the 20th November last Your Lordship's Government was pleased to publish a Resolution on the Report of the Public Services Commission regarding the organisation, recruitment, probation, training and the pay and prospects generally of the members of the Provincial Judicial Service and to invite opinion on those points. Your Lordship's Government was pleased to appoint a committee some time ago to consider the prospects of the members of the Education Department. I base my claim to move this resolution upon that precedent. We have not as yet Standing Committees to consider these important questions. Government have no doubt done the right thing in inviting public opinion on this question, but it would add to the weight of the decision of Your Lordship's Government, and I have every reason to expect that it would command greater confidence of the public, if a small committee were appointed by Your Lordship's Government to consider the matter. There is fundamental difference between the recommendations of the Public Services Commission, the views of Government as set out in the Government Resolution, and public opinion on the subject. It is, therefore, only meet and proper that Government should appoint a committee to consider the whole question. I do not want to anticipate the findings of the proposed committee on the various points dealt with in the Resolution, but it is necessary that I should place certain facts before Your Lordship's Government with reference to them. Various have been the suggestions as regards recruitment, probation and training of these officers. I find in one of the representations submitted to Your Excellency's Government by some of the members of the Judicial Service that they consider that the age-limit of 30 years fixed by the Public Services Commission is high, whereas they not only approve of the proposal of Your Excellency's Government that the age-limit should be 27, but generally appreciate it. They consider that the present system of enrolling a candidate before he completes the age of 27 and providing him for the first time with an officiating appointment before he completes the age of 29 has given rise to serious discontent by making the candidates wait for an unnecessarily long time. It is justly urged that a candidate who is appointed to officiate for the first time can never be appointed even substantive pro tempore before the expiry of about four years, and another year or two years has to pass before he expects to be appointed in the service. Whereas there is difference of opinion as regards age-limit and period of probation, all are of opinion that the members of the service ought to be recruited from the bar. Speaking for myself, I think some experience at the bar, some practical knowledge, should be an undoubted condition for appointments in the Judicial Service. It makes one better fitted for judicial work as it gives him an insight into the ways of the litigant public even without attaining much practice. This is the rule everywhere and we do not know why here there should be a deviation from the rule. The creation of a grade of probationers is of doubtful utility. It is unfortunate that the Resolution of the 20th November last starts with the assumption that the Provincial Judicial Service was formed to fill charges of minor responsibility in the civil judicial administration of the province. If the work of a service is to be measured by the pay attached to it, then we admit that the work of the Provincial Service is of minor importance. If, however, the work of a service is to be measured by the real work done by that service then I need hardly say that the Provincial Judicial Service is one of the most important services under the British Crown. These honest, hardworking and conscientious servants of Government are not at all very costly to Government. I have said more than once in this Council that these officers of Government have actually been minting money for Government in the remotest parts of the country and bringing home to the rich and the poor alike the idea of British justice. The usefulness of their work has been testified to not only by Government but by the highest tribunals, both here and by the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council in England. Mr. Justice Prinsep who, as a Judge of the High Court, was in charge of the Provincial Judicial Service in Bengal for a larger number of years than any other member of the Indian Civil Service, said that 'in education, in intelligence, in devotion to the public service I venture to state that the officers of the Bengal Judicial Service are not surpassed by those of any other department under the Government'.

Resolutions.

Babu Surendra Nath Ray.

Let me quote here the words of Sir Leslie Miller (a former Judge of Madras High Court) who at the Law Dinner in 1913 said of the Provincial Judicial Service in this country generally : 'Those who sit on the Bench in the mufassal, whom I specially ask your remembrance and good wishes, those who toil long hours recording interminable depositions in an atmosphere of perjury, fraud, amidst chicanery, striving against uncongenial surroundings. They work against time to get through the work and are striving hard to

Resolutions.

Babu Surendra Nath Ray.

The Public Services Commission was appointed to consider among others how far Indians, if properly qualified, should be admitted in substantial numbers and on terms of equality with Europeans to the higher as well as to the lower branches of the administration. It would, however, appear that the Commission have overlooked the very just claims of the Subordinate Judges, as they have not made any recommendations for the increase of their maximum salary or the initial pay of the District Judges recruited from them. It will be found that in case of acceptance of the recommendations of the Commission in full, the prospects of officers who are already in the service, specially Sub-Judges, are likely to become even worse than at present. Under the present arrangements a Sub-Judge of the third grade can well expect to reach the second grade, i.e., the grade of Rs. 800, within three years and the first grade of Rs. 1,000 within the next two years, but if the suggested modifications be adopted they can never expect to do so within the above periods.

I shall now say a few words about the pay of the Munsifs. It is urged by them as well as on their behalf that the initial pay, I mean their pay during the probationary period, should be Rs. 200 as recommended by the Commission, and not Rs. 175, and that when they are confirmed in their appointment they should get Rs. 300. We know that education has made rapid progress in the country and that qualified men are being turned out by the University every year by hundreds, and that we can get good men for a low salary. But we forget one thing. When you place one in a position of trust and responsibility, you ought to give him sufficient remuneration, so that he may be above temptation. This ought to be borne in mind by Government in making appointments. This is also the principle which has in a manner been recommended by the Public Services Commission. We find in the report : 'The only safe criterion is that Government should pay so much and so much only to their employés as is necessary to obtain recruits of the right stamp and to maintain them in such a degree of comfort and dignity as will shield them from temptation and keep them efficient for the term of their service." The triennial increment of Rs. 40 to the pay of Munsiffs is generally approved. The recommendation, however, of having a selection grade from Rs. 460 is one which has not been favourably received. The members of the Judicial Service have hitherto got promotion from a Munsifship to a Sub-Judgeship as a matter of course, except in rare instances, i.e., there was very little supersession. For this reason there has been very little discontent or heart-burning among them, and the civil administration of the province, which is practically in their hands, has suffered very little. But the proposal to have a selection grade or to put any bar to the Munsifs getting promoted as Sub-Judges will produce great discontent in the service. This is a matter to be taken seriously into consideration.

Resolutions.

Babu Surendra Nath Ray.

It is also urged that the increment of Rs. 40 in the case of Sub-Judges is too small and in the ordinary course a Sub-Judge will not be able to rise to the grade of Rs. 1,000, but will have to rest content on Rs. 800, and their pension will be seriously affected. It is pointed out in this connection that the number of Subordinate Judges in Bihar and Orissa being greater than that in Bengal, many of them have risen to the grade of Sub-Judges drawing pay of Rs. 600 to Rs. 800, whereas their seniors in service in Bengal are still in the grade of Munsifs drawing Rs. 300 or Rs. 400 a month. The members of the Judicial Service also pray that there should be a grade of Rs. 1,200 and that they should be allowed to serve till the age of 57.

With reference to the listed appointments, i.e., the post of District Judges, I should like to say a few words. It is proposed that four District Judgeships should be recruited from the Provincial Judicial Service instead of six District Judgeships as at present, and that four District Judgeships should be recruited from the bar. This would be if the recommendation of the Reform scheme be given effect to, i.e., 33 per cent. of these appointments should be divided between the bar and the service, and gradually, within the next ten years, 50 per cent. of the District Judgeships should be divided between them.

It is however suggested that no harm would be done if 50 per cent. of the District Judgeships be thrown open to the members of the Provincial Service and the bar, at least it would be rather disheartening if the members of the Provincial Judicial Service who had been anxiously expecting betterment of their prospects were to be told that two of the prize appointments to which they could hitherto aspire and which they had hitherto held would be taken away from them.

The Public Services Commission or the Government Resolution might say that the work of the members of the Provincial Judicial Service is of minor importance, but as a matter of fact the entire civil litigation of the province, except that of Calcutta proper, is practically disposed of by this branch of the service, as well as some work of minor importance which used to be done hitherto by District Judges. The Subordinate Judges, like the District Judges, exercise unlimited jurisdiction in the original civil cases and co-ordinate appellate jurisdiction in respect of cases tried by Munsifs. They practically do the same work as Judges sitting on the Original Side of the High Court, except Admiralty and Ecclesiastical cases. They have to try a very large portion of the most intricate civil cases. Their work is known to the public and appreciated by the public, and compares favourably with that of the District Judges who are recruited from the Indian Civil Service and who generally draw three times the salary of these Subordinate Judges. A tabular statement was submitted by Mr. A. H. Cumming, one of the most experienced of the District Judges, to the Public Services Commission in the course of his evidence with a view to show how the work of the District Judges compared with that of the Subordinate Judges. We find therein that between the years 1907-1911, 74 per cent. of the appeals preferred against the decisions of the District Judges were affirmed by the High Court whereas during the said period 83 per cent. of the appeals against the decisions of the Sub-Judges were confirmed. Again, during the said period, 68 per cent. of the miscellaneous appeals against the decisions of District Judges were affirmed by the High Court, whereas 73 per cent. of those of Sub-Judges were affirmed. This will be found in page 576 of Part III of the Report of the Public Services Commission. It will thus be seen that the quality of the judicial work of a Sub-Judge does not compare unfavourably with that of a District Judge. I need hardly say that the greater and most important portion of the civil work of the province is in the hands of the Sub-Judges,

Resolutions.

Babu Ambika Charan Mazumdar.

Much is made of the administrative work of a District Judge. But may I ask, what does it consist of? It consists of inspection by him of the Subordinate Civil Courts, viz., the court of a Munsif for a day or two in the course of one or two years, to appoint clerks or to give them promotion or to send confidential notes about the work of the subordinate judiciary. We think all this work to be of minor importance compared with the judicial work of a Sub-Judge. There is another fact which ought to be taken into consideration in this connection. When we consider that the Judges of the Calcutta Small Cause Court, most of whom are considerably inferior to most of the Sub-Judges, and we also take consideration that these Judges of the Small Cause Court begin with Rs. 1,000 as initial pay rising to Rs. 2,500, whereas the Sub-Judges end their service on a pay of Rs. 1,000, one really is surprised at the immense difference. And the surprise is enhanced when there has been recommendation in the increase of pay and prospects of members of all other departments of Government but there has been nothing as regards those of the members of the Provincial Judicial Service. There is recommendation for some increase in the pay of even District Judges in spite of their getting exchange compensation allowance and the creation of a separate grade of District Judges drawing a salary of Rs. 3,000.

We are not in possession of the letter of the Hon'ble High Court dated the 23rd March 1918.

As regards the pension and leave of these officers, I think the proposed Committee might take the same into consideration along with other questions.

My Lord, I hold no brief for the members of the Provincial Judicial Service. It is also not quite correct to suppose that the members of the Provincial Judicial Service and the non-official members of this Council have been clamouring along with them for an increase in the initial pay of the members of the Provincial Judicial Service because Government have increased the initial pay of the members of the Provincial Executive Service. This is unfortunately a wrong assumption on the part of Government. The public consider that the members of the Provincial Executive, being more in touch with Government, their claims find a ready hearing from Government. Whatever may be the case, members of both the services are hard-worked people and they have raised the tone of the administration. Members of the Provincial Judicial Service legitimately pray that their claims may be taken into sympathetic consideration now that the question has come to a head and the whole question regarding the Provincial Judicial Service is before Your Lordship's Government. In taking their claims into consideration the Government will be doing what is but right to a body of men whose meritorious services in the administration of the Government is a matter of just satisfaction to the public and also benefit to the country."

The Hon'ble Babu Ambika Charan Mazumdar said :—

"My Lord, I do not wish to give merely a silent vote on this important resolution. The question of the reorganization of the Provincial Judicial Service has been pressed on the attention of Government for several years past, and the Report of the Public Services Commission, published in January 1917, has brought the question to a head, and emphasises the necessity of solving the question without further delay. I most heartily thank the Government for having taken up this important question first of all, and that separately and independently. But, My Lord, it is a common saying that while the grass grows the sheep starves. It is to be regretted that while many of the kindred services, such as those of the Assistant

Resolutions.

Babu A. C. Mazumdar.

Surgeons, Civil Medical Officers, Provincial Engineers, Deputy Superintendents of Police and the Provincial Executive Service have been in the meantime occasionally provided with pastures new and improved, this old and attenuated service has been left in cold neglect, firmly tethered to the offside of a bleak rock, which neither grows any grass nor affords any shelter from sun and rain. The Resolution of the Government published in November last is a very important document. Although in some respects it falls short of the recommendations of the Public Services Commission, it must be admitted that in other respects it is an improvement upon them.

"My Lord, first of all there is the question of recruitment. I, for one agree with the Public Services Commission in thinking that merit alone ought to be the test of appointment in the service and that in considering the claims of candidates the results of the Law Examination should be taken into consideration. Then, my Lord, there is the next question raised by the Resolution of the Government about the probationary Munsifs. My hon'ble friend, the mover of this resolution, has preferred to adhere to the old system, or rather the existing system, of officiating appointments. But here, with due deference, I would differ from him. I consider the proposal of Government to create a probationary service to be a decided improvement upon the existing system. The rule about three years' practice at a bar is a mere delusion. I know from my experience that, as soon as a candidate enrolled in the High Court for an appointment in the Judicial Service succeeds in securing his very first officiating appointment, he begins to sell off his law books. Knowing as he does that he has hooked the fish he knows that he has simply to wait in patience. The interval between two such officiating appointments is utilised not in studying either the law or the procedure, but in following the steps of permanent officers in a station, learning how they move, how they snub the members of the bar, and so forth, and last but not the least, how to adjust their neck-ties.

"My Lord, I do think that the probationary period would be a great improvement; but how are they to be trained, that is the question? I think, Sir, that when a candidate gets a probationary appointment he ought to be attached to a District Court, but the proper ground for his training should not be simply the District Court, but the courts of Sub-Judges and also of Munsifs at the headquarters station. There they ought to learn how to frame issues, how to record evidence and also to study the circulars of the High Court. There is another important matter which ought to receive their attention and it is this: I have found that many Munsifs are perfectly helpless in the hands of the Civil Court Commissioners: an elementary knowledge of surveying—at all events a knowledge sufficient to detect the mistakes—and the ordinary rules of survey ought to be acquired by the Munsifs during this probationary period, while they are attached to the Courts of District Judges and the District Judges might depute them to watch the proceedings of one or two Civil Court Commissioners' proceedings, so that they might easily have an insight into the matter; not that they should be very efficient in drawing maps or calculating distances, but there are certain primary rules in surveying by which a Judge can detect whether the work done by a Civil Court Commissioner is accurate or liable to be questioned. This training should be given to them in the probationary period. But, my Lord, I have certain modifications to suggest to the Resolution published by Government under this head.

"Two years have been provided for this probationary period. I should think that this period should be divided into two stages—the first year of probation should be just as I have already indicated by attaching the probationer to a court of District Judge and by him deputed to a court of

Resolutions.

Babu A. C. Mazumdar.

Sub-Judge or Munsif just to learn his elementary business. In the second year of probation, he should be entrusted with light and simple judicial work, viz., say, trial of rent-suits, of bond suits and of simple possessory suits under section 9 of the Specific Relief Act: and then when he is confirmed in the third year he should be a full-fledged Munsif dealing with all questions and cases.

"Two years' time for a probationer would be, I think, a serious loss of public time and which I do not think would be quite necessary for the purpose of training an intelligent young man who has passed the B.L. degree examination to acquire the simple knowledge of how to frame issues, of how to take evidence, or how to test the map of an amin and so forth.

"Now, my Lord, the Resolution proposes to give Rs. 175 per month to these probationary Munsifs. This has caused great excitement among the officers of the service. I understand your Excellency's Government has received a representation from some of the judicial officers in which they urge that now that their officiating appointment carries a pay of Rs. 200 they ought not to get Rs. 175 to begin with as a probationer: that is their argument, and it is contended by them that it is a financial loss to them. My Lord, I have pointed out to some of them that as far as financial loss or gain is concerned, they are perfectly mistaken. An officiating Munsif gets a permanent appointment in about two or two-and-half years, and I take it that the most fortunate man gets it in two years, but what is the time during which he is so employed? The most fortunate man amongst them gets it for twelve months and some get it only for six months in two years. The rest of the time they idle away, as I have already described, in watching the movements of permanent officers and in associating with them. If they earn Rs. 200 in twelve months out of two years they get only Rs. 2,400, but my Lord, if, as probationers, they get every month Rs. 175 then in two years they would get a sum which is very much in excess of their officiating earnings. In fact, your Excellency will see the figures will be reversed almost—in place of Rs. 2,400 they will get Rs. 4,200. So the question of loss or gain is not the question here—in fact there the memorialists are mistaken. But there is another question, which has been put forward by my hon'ble friend who has moved this resolution, that these officers should be kept out of temptation and that they should be allowed to lead a decent life. That is very important. I would, therefore, suggest that, while I am not prepared to say that Rs. 175 would be a very bad pay to begin with as a probationer, the first year of probation may carry only Rs. 175, but in the second year of probation when I propose the Munsifs should be placed in charge of some judicial work—though of a minor character, namely, the trial of rent suits, bond suits, possessory suits and so forth—they ought to be given Rs. 200. I believe this will remove much of the discontent which now prevails among the members of the service.

"Then, of course, there is the next question—when they become permanent it is proposed to give them Rs. 300. That is quite good. But, my Lord, the proposal to give them an increment of Rs. 40 in three years is open to some objection. No doubt the present system of giving increments in a haphazard fashion cannot be justified, and the incremental system on a time limit proposed by Government is certainly an improvement; but I would suggest that instead of giving them Rs. 40 in three years, the system should be modified in this way, that is to say, that after the first year as a probationer carrying Rs. 175, second year Rs. 200, and in the third year, when he is made permanent and placed in the fifth grade, his pay becomes Rs. 300 and after that give them an annual increment of Rs. 20. It will have a very important advantage—it will keep them contented and at the same time it will save much time. Your Excellency will permit me here to give an outline of the present position of the service.

Resolutions.

Mr. Aminur Rahman.

"An officiating Munsif on Rs. 200 has to serve two years at least to become permanent—I say 'at least' because they generally take two and half years or even three years—however I take it as two years. Then having entered the service at the age of 27, they attain the age of 29 when they become permanent. Now let us see what time they take in getting to the top Munsifship. Government is aware that there are five grades, the 5th or the lowest grade being Rs. 200, then the 4th grade Rs. 250, the 3rd grade Rs. 300, the 2nd grade Rs. 400 and the 1st grade Rs. 500. Now in reaching the 4th grade from the 5th grade one has to pass two and half years."

[At this stage, the Hon'ble Member, having reached the time-limit, had to conclude his remarks.]

The Hon'ble Mr. Aminur Rahman said :—

"My Lord, in simple justice to the members of this branch of the Provincial Service, the public have at last taken up the question of their position and the conditions of the service. This branch of the public services is quite as important as any other branch so far as the maintenance of peace and prosperity of the country is concerned. I do not wish to enumerate, in supporting this resolution, the grievances that have been brought forward by the Munsifs and the Sub-Judges in their representations to the Government. But I wish to take up a few salient points in these representations and they seem to me to be three: the first is that they complain of low salary; the second is slow promotion; and the third is hard work. Considering the responsibilities attached to the office, the value of the services rendered by them and of the volume of work done by them, I must confess that the emoluments are far too small as compared with the emoluments drawn by members in other branches of the public services who do much less important work and get much more salary before they are constantly before the public eye. Members of their branch of the service do not get the consideration that they deserve, because they are a toiling lot; and the public and the Government think it fit to neglect them. The question of appointment is also a very important one. The question of recruitment from the lower branch to the higher branch is another point to be considered. In all these things there are always two points of view. One is that appointments and promotions should be made on the basis of seniority; and the other is that it should be made on a consideration of the merits of the officials. There, again, we find that there is a difference of opinion amongst the members of the services themselves. The men who are young and therefore new in the service naturally stand up for merit; the men who are old and have been long in the service naturally advocate the other view; but it is difficult sometimes to judge what should be the standard of variation, and how should merit be judged. It has often been said by members of the service that merit is simply judged on a consideration of the volume of work done. Now, that probably seems very sound, but on examination of the question it is seen that the volume of work, although it may be large, sometimes may be quite good; and I have often heard Munsifs to say that amongst them the man who can clear up the arrears of work very often gets promotion. In the case of a man who clears up arrears of work the kind of work that is done by him has to be kept in view. A man who clears up arrears of work generally goes through it hurriedly, and they do not receive the consideration that they deserve. Not only the volume of work but the value of work ought to be considered. Now, there we find that there is a clear difference of opinion; but I think that if we keep the efficiency of the service in view, it ought not to be difficult for a Committee to find out what should be the basis of promotion and appointment; for that reason I very strongly support the resolution.

Resolutions.

Sir Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari.

"As regards hard work there is much to be said on behalf of the members of the service. They ungrudgingly do their work; they have a feeling that the public and the Government do not care so much for them and they art quite reconciled to their lot. I have seen Munsifs sitting up to 8 o'clock at night, doing their work; and I have known of districts where a single Munsic is discharging the duties of his office ungrudgingly and laboriously. He has to deal with the files, left by his predecessor or predecessors; sometimes he has got to do the work of three men—probably two of them have gone on leave—but he finds that when he makes representations to the District Judge, his case is not very favourably considered. As a rule, these Munsifs have far more work to do than men in other departments of the public services. The amount of work that they have to do in a single case is simply enormous.

"I repeat again that, considering the value of their services and the volume of work done by them, in all justice we ought to take up the question of improving the conditions of the service seriously, and I welcome the resolution put forward by the hon'ble mover."

The Hon'ble Sir Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari said :—

"My Lord, I am sorry to have to strike a note of discord. I am afraid I do not clearly understand what is before the Council at the present moment judging by the speeches in support of the motion. With regard to the reality of the grievances of the Munsifs there can be no question, and when I strike this note of discord I do so in the confident belief that I shall not be misjudged by the Council or by those in whose interest this motion has been moved. Ever since I have been a member of this Council—and that is now many years. I have been almost year after year bringing up the question of improving the service till the younger hands have taken it up. We have had a narration of their grievances which is not new to the Council or to the Government. The question is now one entirely of ways and means. Though I am not fully convinced of the beneficent intentions of the hon'ble mover of the motion towards the members of the service I should think that this was a move for putting off the evil day as long as possible. What good a committee like this has now to do. Well, my Lord, I have some experience of committees elsewhere. Although many resolutions have been moved in this Council we have not had any committee. In connection, however, with the Public Services Commission's Report itself we had one committee referred to by Sir Henry Wheeler—that is with regard to the Educational Service. Some of my colleagues here in this Council were members of this committee—I think the Hon'ble Mr. Wordsworth and two other hon'ble members along with myself were on this committee. We had a lot of sittings, very elaborate resolutions were moved in due form, giving satisfaction to none. That would be the fate of another committee that you might appoint with regard to this very important branch of the public service. The thing now is to go ahead and the best possible way is now open to us. It is not the Council will have the last word on the subject. Full materials will have to be placed before the proper authorities and there is no lack of materials. The necessity is at present for some definite and decisive action. A scheme that may be evolved may not be perfect, but the thing is to get ahead and do something and I am afraid that the committee will not achieve that object.

"If, on the contrary, my Lord, all the materials and many of the suggestions that are advocated by different public bodies who were consulted with regard to this important question be acted upon and a definite scheme placed before the proper authorities with the request that action be taken as soon as possible, it would be doing much better service to the Subordinate Judges and Munsifs than by having a committee which would merely delay matters. I do not complain—on the other hand I am glad that the Executive Service has received a treatment that they have well earned as they are a very important branch of the public service, even if less fortunate Munsifs and Subordinate Judges have not had the treatment that was merely promised them not long ago. Then came the recommendations of the Public Services Commission. Public opinion has been collected on them, and Government is, I am sure, ready to go into the matter and do the best that can be done with the materials placed before it. Now to ask for a committee would mean further delaying matters, and would not help the interests of the services which we have so much at heart. Much detail has been gone into; probably they have not yet appointed a proper body to go into it. I do not propose to refer to them. If, however, it is necessary for this Council to go into some of the details, the best and the quickest way of getting the thing done would be by following the course that the Hon'ble Sir Henry Wheeler suggested when speaking in connection with the earlier resolution. The Resolution of the Government is now before the public in some shape, and it is open to any of us to bring forward substantive resolutions before this Council and make recommendation in that form for the consideration of the Council, and then bringing up the report of that committee for consideration. There is nothing to prevent our embodying in the form of resolutions many valuable suggestions that have been made in the course of this debate, and the sense of the Council can be taken and it will assist the Government better than the appointment of a committee and then finding that the committee has pleased neither the Government nor the public. It strikes me that no useful purpose will be served by appointing such a committee, but I would appeal to your Excellency's Government to expedite the matter which is now before them".

The Hon'ble Rai Debender Chunder Ghose Bahadur said :—

"My lord, I do not know how far the Committee suggested by my hon'ble friend Babu Surendra Nath Ray will be helpful in this matter. I quite appreciate the observations of the last speaker, the Hon'ble Sir Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari. Committees have their uses and committees have their abuses also. They make delays and that is one reason why if I support the Hon'ble Babu Surendra Nath Ray's resolution, I do so with considerable hesitation. I wish to speak a few words as regards Subordinate Judges and their pay, because from certain remarks in a Resolution of the Government of November last, and certain answers given by the Hon'ble Mr. Duval, the Judicial Secretary to the Government, to certain questions put by one of the hon'ble members in this Council, some weeks ago, it appears that the considered opinion of the Government as regards the discharge of their duties by the Subordinate Judges is based upon certain words in the report of the Public Services Commission, and they tend to put a lower value on the work of the Subordinate Judges than they are justly entitled to. When I venture to criticise the view of the Government and of the Hon'ble Mr. Duval and of the remarks of the Public Services Commission, it may be said that I am venturing too much, that I probably am not in a position to say that these remarks are unjust and that it is a great presumption on my part to do so. Well, my Lord, it may be presumption on my part, but I cannot avoid saying what I know, and what I have a right to feel. I have some little experience of the working of these courts; I have been unconnected with them for the last ten years, and I am in a detached position, but I can say what I know of the work of the Subordinate Judges extending over a period of 38 years, from 1871 to 1909. All this time I have not been a silent spectator of the performance in their courts. I can also speak of the work of the District Judges, so that I do not speak with a prejudiced mind, and am in a fair position to express my mind on the nature and responsibilities of the work of District and Subordinate Judges. I have nothing to say as regards the responsibilities of the District Judges—they are very great and very heavy, but I was certainly not prepared to hear a few weeks ago in this Council from the Hon'ble Mr. Duval who has been on the Bench for the past eight years, as a Judge, a District Judge and sometimes as Additional Judge, and who must be presumed to have as good knowledge and experience in these matters, to express an opinion as I have, and from whom a better appreciation of the work of the Subordinate Judges was expected. The Hon'ble Mr. Duval qualified his statement by saying that that was the view taken by the Public Services Commission, and that he put forward that view, and that was the view also taken by the Government in their Resolution The Government Resolution of November last speaks of Subordinate Judges as officers holding charges of minor responsibility in the sphere of judicial administration. It is felt by this class of officers that this is a remark which is adding insult to injury—I am quoting the words used before me by two of them, and I quite sympathise with their feelings. You may or may not increase their salaries or increase their prospects, but why depreciate the value of their work in this way. That is their complaint, and I think if your Lordship were to know the exact nature of the work that they have to do, your Lordship would no doubt feel that the observations made in the Resolution ought to be modified. I will not go into details in this matter, because there have been communications made to the Government and also, I believe, in the speeches of the previous speakers it has been pointed out that the work of the Subordinate Judges is certainly as heavy as in any other court, and the Hon'ble Babu Surendra Nath Ray has said that their work is the same as in the original side of the Calcutta High Court, barring the Ecclesiastical jurisdiction. In the mofussil there are less commercial cases than in the Calcutta High Court, and that makes a pretty good difference, but as regards suits involving the rights to properties, there is no difference ; there can be no distinction between the work in the original side of the Calcutta High Court and the work in the Court of the Subordinate Judge. The suits relating to rights of property are by their very nature more complicated and require more skilful handling, and consideration than in the trial of suits of a different nature, and I may say that suits of this kind are always tried, with rare exception, by the Subordinate Judge and not by the District Judge. The District Judge has his hands too full ; he has to attend to the criminal business of the district ; he has to attend to administrative matters. and he has to attend to appeals from Munsifs as well as appeals from the judgment of the Subordinate Judge, to a very limited extent, that is, up to the value of Rs. 5,000, and it would dislocate all his arrangements if he were to take up an original suit, the trial of which would last a month or so, or say even two weeks or 10 days, because in that case he would not be able to attend to other important business like this. Whatever be the reason, the fact is that all suits relating to rights to property are decided by the Subordinate Judge ; and it is not unusual, it is a very common thing, for suits involving half a crore of rupees or 10 or 20 lakhs being tried in the court of the Subordinate Judge, lasting a month or sometimes a month and-a-half or two months, while the work of the District Judge in the cases tried before him, whether original or appeal, would not take time anything like that. I do not mean to suggest that the bigger Judge should take the heaviest case, and should be weighted with the heavy responsibility of trying all these important suits. I think the arrangement which exists now is the best ; that is, the District Judge takes cases which do not last a long time, or cases disposed of in a day or two, or the trial of which does not last more than 2 or 3 days, or 2 or 3 hours ; it is good for the judicial administration of the country. What I have always regretted is that Government do not always give the requisite training to the Judge of the Civil Service before he takes his seat on the district bench. If he were made to preside in the Subordinate Judge's Court for a year or two, it would give the requisite training which he needs before taking his seat first on the district bench. However, that is a matter which is not relevant to the present case, and if I am right in my observations, then there was no occasion for saying in the resolution of the Government that the Subordinate Judges hold charges of minor responsibility in the sphere of administration. As regards the report of the Public Services Commission upon which these observations are based, I have to point out that there was a Judge, an eminent Judge of the Madras High Court, on that Commission; he was a Bengal barrister and probably it is said that the observation coming from a Commission composed amongst others of a person in such a situation............"

Resolutions.

Rai Debender Chunder Ghose Bahadur.

The Hon'ble Rai Mahendra Chandra Mitra Bahadur said :—

"My lord, I desire to speak a few words on this subject. The resolution, as far as I understand, is for the appointment of a commission of inquiry, and the question is whether such an appointment would advance the discussions which have been embodied in the speech of the hon'ble mover of the resolution. If a committee be appointed all the points raised may be successful. The starting pay of the munsifs is only Rs. 175. The increase in their pay as well as in the pay of the subordinate judges may be usefully discussed in that committee. And so I thought that I would support the resolution. But, my lord, on listening to the speech of the Hon'ble Sir Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari I think that it will be no use now to have a committee because the matter rests entirely with the Government. It is a matter of gratification to us, my lord, that your Excellency's Government have taken up the subject. It is necessary for your Excellency's Government to listen to the discussion which has been going on for a very long time. On this question representations have been made to your Excellency's Government in this matter by the subordinate judges and their representations should be listened to by Government. It would be doubted perhaps that these subordinate judges with whom I have come in close contact for many years are very useful officers, but I can say that they are very hard-working and conscientious. My lord, the claims of these subordinate judges and munsifs ought to be recognised more fully. I respectfully differ from the views of my hon'ble friend Babu Ambika Charan Mazumdar that the munsifs should get probationary work at the first instance. My view is that these munsifs should be trained at the bar; mere attendance at the District Judge's court will not give them sufficient experience and training. If they have to work with lawyers and pleaders they will get better training than they would get by merely attending the District Judge's court. I need not dilate upon this point any more. I feel that the subordinate judges should be treated in the way they deserve. The question, however, is one for the Government, and it is for Government to consider whether they consider suggestions put forward in the resolution."

The Hon'ble Maulvi Fazl-ul-Haq said:—

"My lord, several hon'ble members have already spoken on this resolution and I have listened to a fairly lengthy debate, but I feel that most of the observations that have already been made are somewhat irrelevant to the real point under issue. I thought several times of rising to a point of order, when hon'ble members were discussing the merits of a particular scheme for the purpose of reform, but I did not wish to stop that flow of eloquence with which this Council has been flooded for the last one hour and-a-half. The simple problem before the House is the recommendation that has been made in the resolution that a committee be appointed for certain purposes to advise Government about a matter regarding which we all desire that some steps ought to be taken and as to which the only difference is one of ways and means. If there are hon'ble members who are in favour of the appointment of a committee it is for them to rise and point out the reasons which in their opinion speak in favour of the advisability of the appointment of a committee. I am one of those who think that under the present circumstances the appointment of a committee is desirable, and I will briefly indicate my reasons for so thinking. I agree with the Hon'ble Sir Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari that committees are of very little practical value in solving problems of this character, but in this particular case I feel that a committee might be useful because we have already got a large mass of opinion that has been collected and the sole work for the committee would be to take into the consideration the opinion that has been elicited and to presenting all such opinion before Government with a view to work out a practicable scheme. That need not take very long and there is one particular reason which I think can weigh with Government in the matter of the appointment of the committee. I wish very humbly and respectfully to give a piece of advice to the official member who is going to speak on this resolution on behalf of Government which he may take for all it is worth. There is a well-known proverb—if you want to catch a thief set a thief after him. Whenever there is any agitation over a public question I think the best way in which the Government can act is to call upon some of the agitators to work out the very problem which gave rise to the agitation. If they succeed in working out a practicable scheme, Government can always accept it and get credit for it. If they fail, Government has only to hold the fact before the public for their satisfaction. My lord, in this particular case a committee may be appointed consisting of some of the non-official members of this Council to consider the question and they may be asked to work out a scheme for the solution of the problems which we have been discussing in this very Council for several years. It would be a simple matter so far as the committee is concerned, to go into the discussion of this problem—and there are various points of view from which this question has been discussed—and I believe that if no workable or satisfactory scheme can be suggested the fault will hardly lie with the Government. My lord, before I conclude, there is one passage in the Government resolution to which reference has already been made and to which also I wish to refer very briefly—I mean the passage referring to the nature of the work done by subordinate judges as being of a somewhat minor nature and I wish to join my voice with that of my hon'ble friend Rai Debender Chunder Ghosh Bahadur in entering a respectful, though emphatic, protest against any suggestion of this character. Subordinate judges have, we all know, not only to work very hard but the nature of their duties is hardly of a less responsible character than even, if I may be permitted to say so, those performed by High Court Judges. On the Original Side of the High Court the work that the Hon'ble Judges do is practically of the same character which subordinate judges have to do in the mufassal, with only this difference that the subordinate judges have not got the advantage of being assisted by trained lawyers of calibre and mentality which we find in the High Court, not to speak of other disadvantages under which the mufassal judges labour in the discharge of their duties.

My lord, instances are not uncommon in which cases have gone up on appeal to the Privy Council and in which the judgments of the High Court have been reversed and the judgments of subordinate judges have been restored. In view of these facts, it is hardly fair to this branch of the public service to say that they perform duties of minor importance. I say this because I have heard a complaint from subordinate judges that the proposal made by the Government in the resolution in the matter of their increment and pay is not only unsatisfactory but absolutely disadvantageous. Even compared with the present conditions I do hope that if your Excellency consents to accept this resolution and appoints a committee, these matters will be taken into consideration by that committee. The Hon'ble Sir Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari in discussing the futility generally of the labours of committees referred to the Education Committee that was appointed by Government. Sometime ago I had the privilege of being a member of that committee and I know the extreme difficulties under which the members of that committee had to work in co-ordinating opinions, sometimes widely divergent, in order to find out some solution which would be satisfactory from all points of view. But in this particular case, as I have submitted, the difficulties are not of the character which faced us in connection with our work in the Education Committee. There, one of the most important difficulties and one of the most thorny problems that we had to solve was as regards the feeling which we find very persistent regarding the differentiation between the Provincial and Indian Educational Services. No such consideration arises with reference to the consideration of the problems relating to the improvement of the pay and prospects of the members of the Judicial Service. I think that a committee appointed for the purpose of carrying out the objects mentioned in this resolution will not have much difficult work to do. In this view of the matter, my lord, I think that a committee will be useful and I therefore beg to support this resolution."

The Hon'ble Sir Henry Wheeler said :—

"My Lord, the position of the Local Government in this matter is, in the main, that which has been very clearly argued by the Hon'ble Sir Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari, and to that extent his speech has anticipated my remarks. In the speeches that we have heard to-day, we have been told a great deal about what may be called the service grievances of sub-judges and munsifs, but we have probably heard little that was not represented before the Public Services Commission, and little that is not already contained in the answers which we received to our resolution of the 19th November last. To that extent the debate, which has lasted some time to-day, has not added much to the facts which are represented on the side of the subordinate judicial service, and I do not propose now to argue these grievances on their merits except—if I may be permitted to make a digression—to notice one point which seems to me it might be useful to lay at rest. With so many other causes for difference of opinion, it does seem to me a pity that the time of this Council should be wasted in arguments which are really based on a misapprehension. In our resolution of the 19th November, we said that the Provincial Judicial Service was formed to fill charges of minor responsiblities in the civil judicial administration of the province. We subsequently explained what we meant by that in answer to a question; but still we are told to-day that the remark has added insult to injury. By way of an illustration which may explain matters, may I put the simple proposition—if I may be permitted to do so without offence—that the position of a Governor of a province is one of minor responsibility to that of the Viceroy. I hope Your Excellency will not think that by that remark I have added insult to injury. It is obvious that the position of a Governor of a province is one that calls for ability, character and energy in the highest degree : yet, as a statement of fact, the one I have made, I submit, is correct. On precisely the same lines, as compared with District Judges and High Court Judges, we said that munsifs and sub-judges occupy a position of minor responsibility, but no one infers that the performance of their duties does not require capacity, integrity and judgment. Surely the remarks of the resolution cannot reasonably be construed as insulting. I apologise, my Lord, for this digression, but it may possibly save time hereafter. I will now turn to the resolution itself.

Resolutions.

Sir Henry Wheeler.

"As I have already said, most of the speeches we have heard deal with service grievances. The resolution itself asks us that we should remit certain papers for the consideration of a committee. My objection to that, put briefly, is that it is impossible to conduct administration by unending committees. In connection with the previous resolution, I have tried to explain what the position in these matters is, namely, that the question being beyond the powers of the provincial Government, we must refer it to the Government of India, which, in their turn, will probably have to refer it to the Secretary of State, and whether we have another committee or not, this Government will, on such materials as are before them, and aided by such intelligence as Providence has given them, have at some time to make recommendations to the Government of India. Under these circumstances, I submit that all this Government can be expected to do is to base their recommendations on a fair and open enquiry in the course of which all those interested may be heard. In this particular instance, we have already had various debates in this Council; but, apart from those, we have had a fair and open enquiry by the Public Services Commission—a Commission which was representative not only of Bengal but the whole of India, and composed of men—I hesitate to say—of higher calibre—but possibly of more widely recognised standing than anybody likely to be taken from Bengal alone. They toured throughout India and they made their recomendations. However, we did not even act upon them: in our desire to do something for these sub-judges and munsifs we departed from our usual procedure, which is ordinarily that of awaiting reference from the Government of India, and in anticipation of such a letter we addressed the High Court. This was done on the 23rd March 1918, and we received the High Court's reply on the 5th September last. We then put out our resolution of the 19th November, and we got in replies which are now before us. I hold here a list of those who have replied, numbering about 116, and with particular reference to the service grievances, I may point out that we have had about 90 answers from sub-judges and munsifs, and I can assure hon'ble members that they have fully represented their grievances before the Local Government. We have also had replies from a number of pleaders, Bar Library Associations, and public bodies of importance, such as the Indian Association, the Central Muhammadan Association, the National Liberal League, the Bengal National Chamber of Commerce, and the British Indian Association. Therefore, we have received a very large and representative body of opinions in response to our invitation, and it cannot be said that in this matter we have not consulted public opinion. But in all administrative matters there must come a stage at which action succeeds consultation, and although certain of the deliberations of this Council during the last two days would lead us to imagine that, with some of its Members, that is not a very popular doctrine, still I submit that it is reasonable. What we are asked to do now is to refer all these papers again to a committee. What is that Committee to do? Is it to take evidence again and go round recording opinions and prepare a report? Obviously that would take time, and after it was done, we should only have another report of, perhaps, six or eight gentlemen of eminence. We did not even act immediately on the report of the Public Services Commission, and are we to act on this second report without publishing it? Are we to get another 116 opinions and what are we then to do with them? Obviously, the procedure may be unending, and if we adopt it we shall never come to any conclusion at all. Sooner or later we have got to come to a decision. We have arrived now at the decision stage. The file is at present lying on my table, though I have not hitherto been able to tackle it, as my time has been fully occupied in preparing for this debate. Otherwise, we would have got our letter out by this time containing our proposals. If, Sir, I wanted to delay any redress to the complaints and grievances of these munsifs and sub-judges, I would accept this resolution. There can be no more effective way of delaying it than to accept the advice which has been given us to-day. I think it was in connection with last year's Budget that my friend, the Hon'ble Mr. Kerr, said that the munsifs had had very hard luck, and that if he had not been speaking with his customary restraint, he would have used somewhat stronger language. What language would be used by these munsifs if, when proposals are on the eve of being submitted to the Government of India, we again refer them to a committee, I hesitate to imagine. As we deprecate further delay, we cannot accept the resolution. On the other hand, by going on with our proposals, we are doing what is the object of all of us, namely, to set right whatever legitimate grievances there may be.''

Resolutions.

The Hon'ble Babu Surendra Nath Ray said :—

" My Lord, after hearing the Hon'ble Sir Henry Wheeler I think it proper to withdraw the resolution."

The resolution was then, by leave of the President, withdrawn.

LIST OF BUSINESS—ITEM No. 16.

The Hon'ble Mr. H. R. A. Irwin moved the following resolution :—

" This Council recommends to the Governor in Council that provision be made in the next year's budget for the teaching of hygiene and sanitation by duly qualified teachers in all Government and State-aided schools and colleges throughout the province, thereby giving effect to the resolution on the same subject which was carried at the meeting of this Council held on the 19th February, 1918."

He said :—

" Just a year ago I had the honour of pressing the importance of education in hygiene and sanitation on the notice of Government.

It was opposed on behalf of Government by the Hon'ble Sir S. P., now Lord, Sinha, but nevertheless was carried by a substantial majority of independent members in a fairly full House.

I think, therefore, I am justified in again drawing the attention of Government to such an important subject, which, in the opinion of many influential and expert authorities, better qualified to judge than I, vitally affects the condition and welfare of the teeming millions in this country.

Lord Sinha, in opposing my resolution last year, quoted from a Government of India resolution on hygiene, which, according to the official report, he said, was dated 'the 31st February 1913.'

Time does not allow of my reading this resolution in extenso, but it starts by admitting that—'The claims of hygiene are paramount, not only in the interests of the children themselves, though these are all-important, but also as an object-lesson to the rising generation.'

Resolutions.

Mr. Irwin.

I would specially emphasise the last sentence : in my humble opinion it will be in the coming generation, when the scholars of to-day become the fathers and mothers of the future, that the effect of simple education in hygienic methods will be made evident.

The Government of India resolution goes on to say that 'want of funds and the apathy of the people have been responsible for the comparatively small attention paid to hygiene.'

My lord, do not the very words 'want of funds' exhibit 'apathy' on the part of Government? For surely, if, as stated "the claims of hygiene are paramount,' funds should be provided for such a purpose, by curtailing expenditure under some other less important head.

And if Government itself is apathetic, is it likely that 'the people' will be less so?

It is now six years since the date of that resolution : in the meantime what has been done to give effect to its recommendations?

It is true a most influential committee was appointed in this province to inquire into the whole subject and that committee recommended 'that there should be a course of hygiene and sanitation for the four upper classes of high schools,' but there the matter rested, the difficulty being 'the want of duly qualified teachers who are to carry out the teaching of hygiene in the schools;' but were any steps taken to provide those 'duly qualified teachers'?

Lord Sinha went on to say : 'Therefore with the greatest possible desire to give effect to the general demand for providing a certain amount of teaching of hygiene and sanitary science in the schools, we have not got, first of all, the teachers to do it, and secondly, we have not got the money to train the teachers.'

As regards both these difficulties, my contention is, that it is the duty of Government to provide both teachers and money, and if the second is provided there is no doubt that the first will shortly be forthcoming.

Before quitting the question of the debate on this subject last year, I should like to refer to the remarks which fell from the Hon'ble Mr. Arden-Wood in criticizing my resolution.

He quoted Mr. Jack as saying: 'The Bengali is certainly the cleanest race on earth.'

With due deference, my lord, I think this quotation is misleading. I believe my Bengali friends will agree with me when, say whilst I cordially say, agree that Bengalis, of all classes in their own persons, are as clean, if not cleaner than, any race on earth, that the environments of the dwellings of the lower classes in Bengali villages are lamentably filthy in the extreme, and this I am convinced is due to ignorance of the dangers it entails to health and not to actual want of cleanliness.

The hon'ble Member went on to recommend the medical inspection of school children in preference to the teaching of hygiene. I quite agree with the first part of the suggestion, but not as a substitute, for the teaching.

Surely it is quite a different question altogether, and were it not so, in my opinion it is of less value, as it affects the individual, for his or her life only, but does not impart valuable knowledge which can be passed on to a future generation.

He further went on to say speaking of schools, that 'They already have more subjects to teach than they can do justice to.'

Resolutions.

Mr. Irwin.

All I can say in reply to this is, of what use are all the subjects in the school category unless life and good health be granted to benefit by them? Let some other less important subject be abandoned and give place to the teaching of health before all else.

The hon'ble Member wound up by suggesting that I should withdraw my resolution on the understanding 'that Government should take up this important question' and my reply is the Government of India 'took up the question' at any rate as far back as February 1913, but what progress has been made since?

During the past year I understand that some steps are being taken in the desired direction, in this province, by the training of sanitary inspectors, and I believe courses of lectures on Hygiene are being arranged for at the central colleges; also, in certain municipalities where Health Officers are employed, similar lectures are to be given, but will those lectures be attended by an appreciable number of people or even by any of the classes which it is most desirable to get at?

Further, I believe that Government is being applied to for a grant for the purpose of treating school children already suffering from malaria, but as I said before, this, excellent as it may be, is a totally different question and is by way of a cure of disease, in individual cases, which can only be temporary, with no guarantee against re-infection, as long as the child remains in a fever-stricken locality, and cannot be of anything like the same value as education in the methods whereby disease may be prevented.

In support of the resolution I am this day proposing, I would refer, in the first place, to the speech reported to have been made by your Excellency at the annual conference of the All-India Sub-Assistant Surgeons' Association held at the Campbell College on January 23rd last, from which I regret time will only admit of a few brief quotations.

Your lordship is reported to have said :—

'We have to try to revolutionise the immemorial habits of a whole people before we can hope to vanquish that small but malevolent parasite, the hook-worm.'

Further

'Knowledge widely diffused and an ample supply of highly trained medical men and sanitarians.'

Again

'In place of knowledge we have ignorance.'

and finally

'the tremendous importance of spreading abroad knowledge of sanitation and hygiene.'

How, my lord, can 'the immemorial habits of a whole people' be better revolutionised than by the education of the rising generation in the schools? How better 'diffuse knowledge', and how better "spread abroad a knowledge of sanitation and hygiene'?

Surgeon-General Edwards in writing on the subject says :—

'I am very glad to hear that you are continuing to press for the teaching of public health in all schools and colleges. If only the people were taught how diseases like cholera, tuberculosis, dysentery, malaria and hookworm are spread, the simple means to prevent the spread and the reason why, above all the reason why, the task of the public Health Officer would be a comparatively light one. Without this knowledge measures to improve public health are met with apathy or even hostility.'

Resolutions.

Mr. Irwin.

In further support of the course I am advocating, I would quote from the opinions of two eminent authorities on the question of combatting disease.

First that of Lieutenant.-Colonel W. Glen Liston, I.M.S., President of the Medical Research Section of the Indian Science Congress held recently in Bombay. I strongly recommend his address entitled 'The Next War—Man versus Insects' to those interested in the subject.

As the title indicates, he writes on the connection of insects with the propagation of disease and says :—

'In India at least two-thirds of the preventable diseases can be attributed to their (insects') agency'. He emphasises "the need of educating people in the dangers which the multiplication of insects connote'. He further said that 'more than ten million lives have been sacrificed to plague, an easily preventable disease', requiring amongst other conditions 'the enlightenment of the people as a means of prevention'.

In referring to the teaching of hygiene in schools he says :—

'I fully approve of the recommendations'.

He further writes :—

'How are the masses to be taught that prosperity is intimately connected with sanitation? There are two ways in which this can be accomplished—first by instructing the children in schools" etc., etc.

The second authority I referred to above is Dr. Lankester, Director of the Medical and Sanitation Department, to H. E. H. the Nizam's Government. In a memorandum on the subject of 'Measures for the prevention of Tuberculosis in India' he strongly urges the identical course recommended in my resolution. He says :—

'Closely akin to the establishment of educational organisations is the question of making a vastly extended use of the educational system of the country in the direction of spreading the knowledge of health matters amongst school children and school students.'

Further—

'What is needed is that educational authorities should decide to make the subject of physical health one of the compulsory ones in the educational course at the expense of one of the present compulsory subjects'

Again he writes :—

'When we have actually in existence the machinery devised for the object of dispelling ignorance on the widest possible scale it is surely reasonable to demand that this machinery of education be applied to the most practical and fruitful of ends—that of helping the children and the students of India to grow up with some knowledge of how to keep themselves in health and how to avoid those things which cause sickness and suffering'. 'The mere fact of hygiene becoming regarded as an essential part of the training of thousands of school teachers throughout the country would in itself be a gain of the greatest importance'.

I do not wish for one moment to attempt to minimise the value of what Government has effected in the matter of public health, in fact what has already been done demonstrates the fact of what can be accomplished in that way.

Resolutions.

Mr. Wordsworth.

You, my lord, personally are justly earning the admiration of all by the noble efforts you are making in the cause of suffering humanity, and your name will certainly go down to posterity associated with such work.

But when we are told that want of funds stands in the way of sanitary teaching, and when the Education Department says that it cannot accept sanitation as a subject because it already has more subjects than it can do justice to, I suggest that the Educational Department and even Government itself as a body fails to appreciate the vast effect which hygiene and sanitation have on the prosperity and well-being of a country.

We planters on our tea gardens are just beginning to appreciate the benefit to be derived from a successful campaign against what your Excellency terms 'that small but malevolent little parasite, the hookworm'.

We reckon that it adds the equivalent of 25 per cent. to our active labour force, the value of which it is hard to overestimate in these days of scarce labour.

It is one instance of the desirability of endeavouring to educate the people and 'revolutionise their immemorial habits'.

What subject I would ask of the educational authorities is more important than health? The three R's must of course be taught, but without health, not to say life itself, no community can prosper or be happy.

My lord, it is just forty-four years since I first came to this country, as a boy of sixteen. I have spent many happy years here and have been intimately connected with the classes which this resolution is intended to benefit.

I have often watched with the greatest pain and pity poor coolies suffering and dying purely from want of a little knowledge and have felt how helpless a mere individual is.

I have seen the gradual evolution of the people as our Western ideas have been slowly assimilated.

In many ways the change has not been for the better, but in this question of sanitation there is no doubt that the West is far in advance of the East and I feel that to further and assist its progress is a duty my countrymen and I owe to the land which has given us shelter."

The Hon'ble Mr. Wordsworth said :—

"My lord, this resolution is in effect a continuation or a repetition of a resolution moved in Council at the corresponding meeting of last year; and I take it that the hon'ble mover's present purpose is to obtain from Government a statement of what has been done in consequence of the acceptance of that resolution by the Council. At least, I do not imagine that his sense of courtesy would allow him to suggest the possibility that we have forgotten the obligations which that resolution imposed upon us and that it is necessary to remind us of them. I take it, therefore, that the words in the resolution 'thereby giving effect to the resolution on the same subject which was carried at the meeting of this Council held on the 19th February 1918' do not exactly say what they contemplate. I am prepared to give the Council a brief statement of what has been done, but I would first point out that the teaching of such a subject as sanitation or health is not on a par with other subjects in the school curriculum. It may be taught in schools; it is taught in schools; but if it is intended to have good results, it must be taught in a different way from other subjects. Sanitation, so far as the education department is concerned, resolves itself into not only formal lessons in schools, lessons in theoretical knowledge, but also certain practical matters which have relation to school buildings, etc. It is useless, for instance, to teach hygiene as a subject in schools unless we can in some way ensure that the lessons shall have some practical visible effect out of school. That is one of the difficulties with which we are necessarily concerned in contemplating a subject of this kind, and it is one of the reasons way this resolution was opposed on behalf of Government last year. Since, however, the Council accepted the resolution, we have done the best we could, both in the way of formal instructions in schools, and in the way of attention to buildings, light, cleanliness, external sanitation and all the other external marks of a good school. which we endeavour to effect through our inspecting agency. In this respect we have, I believe, been far from unsuccessful. The work is difficult; it is not always appreciated; and we have often in this Council heard the Education Department attacked as a department which imagines that primary education can be carried on only in marble halls. Although not meant as a compliment I take it as a tribute to the work which our inspecting officers do in their visits to schools, a tribute to the efforts which they make to improve the sanitary and hygienic conditions of the schools under their control. With regard to formal instruction, we have during the last year made a beginning in some directions, and more than a beginning in others. I shall not weary the Council with all the details: suffice it to say that we have had an examination made of available books by a committee of experts, and that those books which find favour have been adopted, prescribed and recommended for various classes in various kinds of schools. We have hygiene taught as a formal subject in practically every kind of school, in primary schools, in middle schools, and also in the lower or vernacular classes of high schools, where we have the power, i.e., where schools are Government schools or aided schools we prescribe it as a compulsory subject. In other schools, we do what we can to have the teaching of hygiene and the fundamental principle of sanitation taught. In the higher classes of school we cannot do much in this connection, for their curricula are determined by the University and it is for the University to decide what subjects shall be included and the Council will remember that it was pointed out a year ago that the Government of India has expressed itself as opposed to the introduction of formal hygienic teaching in the upper classes of high schools, for the reason that with the lack of competent teachers it is likely to become purely theoretical and to be regarded as useful only for examinations.

Resolutions.

Mr. Wordsworth.

In addition to this we have made arrangements for lectures on hygiene to be given in all training schools and colleges. In this connection, I have to acknowledge a debt of obligation on behalf of the Education Department to the Sanitary Commissioner. He has helped us admirably. Where municipalities employ health officers or sanitary inspectors, we have been able to give competent teaching to elementary teachers under training in guru-training schools, for there are guru-training schools in a large number of these municipalities. A few municipalities have refused our terms, which were briefly, that we provided all the cost of and materials for teaching, the lanterns, the slides, and the acceptance of the municipalities meant responsibility only for breakages. Hon'ble Members will readily understand that it has been difficult in a time like this to procure the necessary materials, lanterns, etc. It was difficult also to obtain teachers, but we have made a beginning in 18 municipalities, and as more lanterns are available, we shall extend this work to a larger number of municipalities. The Sanitary Commissioner has made somewhat similar arrangements in district boards, and there is a considerable hygienic-propaganda now carried on in various district boards by lectures given by health officers or sanitary inspectors illustrated by lanterns. Further, the Sanitary Commissioner has agreed to instruct the hygiene teacher of the Sanitary Inspectors Training class to deliver courses of lectures in the two training colleges in the province, and in the normal training schools, also in the training classes at the Dow Hill School at Kurseong, where a certain number of European women are trained for the teaching profession and in the Bethune College for Indian girls in the city of Calcutta. Further, we have already provided in memory of our obligation sufficient money in the next budget to enable us to carry on the scheme and develop what we have begun. The money that the Hon'ble Mr. Irwin asks us to provide has already been provided. We have also provided money in the budget for the appointment of two officers to assist in work of this kind, a deputy sanitary commissioner and a physical adviser to the Education Department. We have already made proposals for the appointment of these officers, and when times are propitious, we expect to have them added to the cadre of the Education Department in this province. Hitherto, for advice in these matters, we have been indebted to the Sanitary Commissioner, and to a gentleman to whom I may now pay a tribute since he has recently left this country for America for good, Dr. Segard, who came out to Bengal as physical director of the Young Men's Christian Association and whose services by an arrangement between the Young Men's Christian Association and the Government were available for the use of the Education Department. For five years he has given us loyal and invaluable service in improving physical education in schools, developing drill, training drill masters and in advising and assisting schools in every way in the improvement of their internal conditions, light, ventilation and sanitation. Now that he has returned to his own land, and will not be coming back to Bengal, I take this opportunity of saying a word of appreciation on behalf of the Education Department. I trust, my Lord, that I have made it clear to the Council that what the hon'ble mover asks for has already been done. He therefore may see his way to withdraw the resolution inasmuch as, if accepted, it will pledge us to a provision which we have already made, and therefore to a double provision which we could not spend."

Resolutions.

Rai R. C. Pal Bahadur.

The Hon'ble Rai Radha Charan Pal Bahadur said :—

"My Lord, I rise to support the motion of the Hon'ble Mr. Irwin, and I do so, to thank him for again bringing up this question. When he moved this subject last year, he got the unanimous support of the non-official members, who were particularly grateful to him, coming as he does from the European community, for the great interest and persistency with which he has been advocating this question. I have been reading the proceedings of the Council of February last year, and I find that when Mr. Irwin moved in this Council for the provision for the study of hygiene and sanitation in schools, the Hon'ble, now Lord, Sinha said that the Government sympathised with the object of the resolution, and that they had taken certain steps, and in his reply to Mr. Irwan said that almost from 1911 to 1913-1914 Government had been considering this matter. I find from the proceedings that in 1913 committees were appointed by Government and after long and protracted sittings submitted their proposals recommending that the teaching of sanitation and hygiene should be made compulsory in all schools in Bengal. I find that since 1913 there has been correspondence with the Government of India. I also find that the upshot of the recommendation was that the Government of India and the Government of Bengal practically agreed that such an important subject should receive the attention of Government. The Government of India, however, did not think that it should be made compulsory, but should be optional. Since then, we find that nothing particular has been done, although Lord Sinha expressed his sympathy and the genuine sympathy of the Government last year, but said that the want of funds and trained teachers stood in the way. My Lord, this is a matter in which in this Council, no matter how much we may talk and debate, we cannot do anything. We cannot get trained teachers and funds; that is the outcome of executive energy on the part of the executive Government. I have tried to follow the speech of the hon'ble Director of Public Instruction, but I have not been able to gather how many teachers in hygiene have been trained, and in how many schools in Bengal is the study of hygiene being carried on. So far as Calcutta is concerned, my Lord, if I heard the speech of the hon'ble Director of Public Instruction right, he referred to the Bethune College. I am connected with some of the educational institutions in this city, and I do not think that Calcutta is a place where there should be any difficulty in the teaching of hygiene and sanitation. I believe it is a place where a certain number of fairly trained men are obtainable—I do not say highly trained, I say fairly trained. Therefore I say that this is a subject which ought to engage the more earnest attention of Government. You may spend money on the prevention of malaria taking steps in the direction of anti-malarial measures; you may spend money on other matters relating to sanitation, but I am strongly of opinion, my Lord, that unless a study of hygiene and sanitation is made compulsory, in all schools, and unless the boys are taught the evil effects of bad water, etc., which can best be illustrated not only by lectures but also by practical demonstration, I do not think any great advance in sanitation would be made. I think this is a matter which ought to be taken up more vigorously than has been done. Although the resolution was opposed on the last occasion by Government still I must do Government the credit that it entirely sympathised with the object of the resolution which was ultimately carried in spite of the 'noes' on the other side. I therefore earnestly hope that when that resolution is renewed as it has been with vigour by my hon'ble colleague Mr. Irwin, now the Government will kindly make due provision in the budget of the next year, and also that the Director of Public Instruction in his executive capacity will make arrangements to introduce the study of hygiene and sanitation and see that a number of trained teachers are regularly turned out every year from the guru-training schools."

Resolutions.

Mr. Irwin; The Hon'ble Maharajadhiraja Bahadur of Burdwan.

The Hon'ble Mr. Irwin said :—

"My Lord, I must confess that I am unable to altogether understand the attitude taken by the Hon'ble Mr. Wordsworth on behalf of Government in regard to this resolution. On the one hand, he says that Government has done exactly what I asked, namely, provide funds for carrying out the course I recommend, and, on the other hand, he asks me to withdraw my resolution. He says that the wording of my resolution 'thereby giving effect to the resolution carried at the meeting of this Council on 19th February, 1918' are practically unnecessary. If the hon'ble Member gives me his assurance that Government is doing or is about to do what I ask, and has every intention of continuing to do so in the future, I am quite content, and am quite willing to withdraw my resolution."

The Hon'ble Maharajadhiraja Bahadur of Burdwan said :—

"My Lord, it has been made perfectly clear by the Director of Public Instruction on behalf of Government, that Government having accepted the resolution moved by the Hon'ble Mr. Irwin last year, it has provided the funds that it thinks necessary for the present. He has given the assurance that he is going ahead with this most important question of hygiene, and I can assure the Hon'ble Mr. Irwin that Government is not likely to lose sight of the matter, and I hope that, given this assurance, he will not now press for his resolution."

Resolutions.

Rai Mahendra Chandra Mitra Bahadur.

The resolution was then, by leave of the President, withdrawn.

LIST OF BUSINESS—ITEM No. 17.

The Hon'ble Rai Mahendra Chandra Mitra Bahadur moved the following resolution :—

This Council recommends to the Governor in Council—

(a) that arrangements be made by Government at an early date for accommodating a larger number of regular students for admission into the Medical College, Calcutta, from the commencement of the next session ; and

(b) that the Belgachia Medical College be permitted by Government to take a larger number of students for the Preliminary Scientific M. B. Examination of the Calcutta University.

He said :—

"My Lord, from the printed Annual Reports of the Medical College, Calcutta, for the years 1916-17 and 1917-18, published by the Hon'ble Surgeon-General with the Government of Bengal, I understand that 707 applications for admission to this College were received at the commencement of the session in 1916. Out of these 167 were admitted to the College. Again, 830 applications for admission to this College were received at the commencement of the session in 1917. Out of these 140 were admitted to the College, the total number of new students admitted being 164, of which 18 were sent by Bihar and Orissa Government and 6 by the Assam Government. From the reply to unstarred question No. 24, asked by me at the meeting of the Council held on the 21st January last, I understand that a very large number of students has been refused admission into the Medical College from the year 1910 to 1918. The existing arrangement regarding the admission of a limited number of students into the Calcutta Medical College and Belgachia Medical College is quite insufficient to meet the growing demand for the whole o. the Presidency of Bengal, and it is high time that necessary arrangement should be made by your Excellency's Government for accommodating a larger number of regular students for admission into the Medical College, Calcutta, from the commencement of the next session.

With these few remarks, I beg to move this resolution for acceptance by your Excellency's Council.

My Lord, with reference to the second part of the resolution marked (b), regarding admission of a larger number of students into the Belgachia Medical College, I understand that provisional affiliation of this College to the University of Calcutta up to the Preliminary Scientific M. B. Examination, was granted in April 1916. The College was formally opened by your Excellency's predecessor Lord Carmichael in July 1916. At present the College was permitted to take only 48 students for the Preliminary Scientific M. B. Examination and that number was filled up from about 400 applications. Later on the College was permitted to take 60 and at present this College is permitted to take 100 students for the Preliminary Scientific M. B. Examination.

Having regard to the resources of this College, I think that the number 100 is sufficient for the present.

Resolutions.

Rai Radha Charan Pal Bahadur; The President; Sir Nilratan Sirkar; Major-General Robinson.

Under the circumstances, I beg leave to withdraw this portion of my resolution marked (b).

The Hon'ble Rai Radha Charan Pal Bahadur said :—

"My Lord, should these two resolutions be moved together?

The President said :—

"Yes, the hon'ble Member has his resolution in two halves. It is in order for him to move both together."

The Hon'ble Sir Nilratan Sirkar said :—

"My Lord, this resolution has got two most important aspects, one being financial and the other relating to the educational policy. As regards the second one, which is the more important one, I think the question is still open and it has not been definitely decided whether the number of medical graduates should be indefinitely increased or not. I confess that I am in perfect sympathy with any proposal that would seek to increase the number of medical graduates of the University.

But supposing that a large expansion of collegiate medical education is necessary, the question remains to be decided whether there should be another centre started elsewhere, or whether the present centres of higher medical education should be increased in dimensions. I would, under such circumstances be strongly in favour of having a centre in Dacca either independent of the existing centre in Calcutta or working in association with them. That question apart, there is the financial aspect also. I believe there is a misapprehension in some quarters as to the financial necessities involved in medical education. We want to add another 50 students every year to the rolls of the Medical College. That would mean an increase of 300 students in six years and if the Government were to pay Rs. 100 per year, for every student, it would be a huge sum every year. Medical education is not like ordinary education. In order to train one medical student there must be proper equipment for him in at least six different laboratories,—viz., the Chemical, Physical, Biological, Physiological, Pathological and Bacteriological laboratories, and even then the question would still remain whether there was sufficient opening in the dissecting rooms, class rooms and the hospitals. If we go on indefinitely increasing the number of students in the Medical Colleges, the result will be that our students will get an indifferent sort of training and our qualifications will not be accepted as high enough in foreign countries, and particularly in Great Britain where it is necessary, in the interests of the medical profession, that our qualifications should be elegible for registration.

Having regard to these circumstances, I think I should oppose this resolution strongly. If it be settled that the University should admit a larger number of medical students I would request my Hon'ble friend the mover to collect money and start a fresh college. I have often found that our people are quite willing to come forward with subscriptions and contributions for the extension of collegiate education in arts and sciences. Several second grade colleges are being started in the mufassal. I only wish that a portion of this money devoted to the extension of medical education.

The Hon'ble Major-General Robinson said :—

"My lord, in opposing this resolution, on behalf of Government, I would like to quote some remarks made by my predecessor, Surgeon-General Edwards, in the Annual Report of the Medical College for 1916-17. He remarked that during the year (1917-18), '56 extra students were admitted, making a total of 1,040, which is more than double the number (502), in 1907-08. The maximum is now reached. The patients will suffer if there is any further increase in the number of students.'

Resolutions.

Sir Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari.

The position has in no way changed, there are now 1,041 civil students on the rolls and 52 military pupils.

The hon'ble mover of the resolution, in spite of his having collected much information as regards medical matters, ignores the fact that medical instruction necessitates the provision of 'sufficient cases' or 'clinical material' for instructional purposes.

The Medical College consists of two institutions, the hospital where practical instruction is given in actual medicine and surgery and the allied subjects, and the Medical College where instruction is given in the preliminary subjects, as anatomy, physiology, etc.

These two branches of medical training cannot be separated. It is therefore impossible to admit more students for the 'earlier' courses than can subsequently be taught the higher subjects in the wards.

As anyone can see who wishes, the wards of the Medical College Hospital are hopelessly overcrowded with students, and to an extent that is unknown in any Western hospital. Yet we are pressed to admit more and more students.

Even as matters now stand, patients are subjected to an amount of 'handling' by the students that would be strongly resented in any other country.

It should never be forgotten that a hospital is primarily for the treatment of the sick poor and only secondarily for the instruction of students nothing can be allowed therefore to interfere with the essential functions of a hospital. It follows, therefore, that no more students can be admitted than there are at present. Naturally, therefore, no more can be admitted into the College.

Even apart from the hospital side of the question every available seat in the laboratories is always fully occupied and already 'repeat' classes of batches of students are held to cope with the huge classes for practical work. The College buildings can only be extended at enormous expense owing to their surroundings, and sites for hospital extension would be a matter of very considerable expense and considerable delay. The present Medical College and Hospital group is about as unwieldy as any such institution can well be and at present is by far the largest in the world. The present annual expenditure is somewhere about Rs. 8,00,000.

As regards the second portion of the resolution, I do not think that it is necessary for me to say anything, as the hon'ble mover has asked leave to withdraw it."

The Hon'ble Sir Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari said :—

"My Lord in a matter like this Government and the public must be entirely at the hands of experts and when two experts of the eminence of the Hon'ble Sir Nilratan Sarkar and Major-General Robinson have spoken, so far as the resolution is concerned, we cannot do anything. But the opposition that has been offered to the resolution raises some important issues to which the lay public cannot shut its eyes. I do not, for instance, understand the position of the Hon'ble Sir Nilratan Sarkar when he doubts the expediency of indefinitely adding to highly qualified medical practitioners. My Lord, a little while ago I and my friend went into the question in some detail and we found that between qualified, semi-qualified and quarter-qualified medical men Bengal has one medical man to 40 square miles and for about 15,000 to 20,000 people. My learned friend shakes his head and approves of the correctness of the figure. Can it be said that we have arrived at a stage when the non-official head of the medical profession in Calcutta can say that it is doubtful whether an indefinite expansion of the medical education should be allowed to go on or not. That is on the education side of the question. The more important financial side of the aspect should not be lost sight of, and it is more than doubtful whether the Medical College on its present site can go on indefinitely expanding. But whether some effort should be made to give some relief to the Medical College is a consideration that has suggested itself to some of us. What Major-General Robinson has said would be an excellent ground for not only reducing the number of students but for abolishing the training of students altogether, because no patient likes handling by medical students of the boisterous type, but even with the type of students that we have got now there is much of rough handling that patients are not willing to submit to. Well, that is a good consideration for abolishing the Medical College altogether, or we should find other means—a pauper hospital should not serve the purpose of instruction. I know that is a difficulty that has to be overcome because the country has by no means an adequate number of qualified men. The hon'ble mover of the resolution is in error with regard to the number of students now allowed in the Belgachia College. The number is not 48 but 72, and if the class arrangements and the hospital arrangements could be amplified further, I am sure that on the recommendation of the Medical inspector there will not be much difficulty in raising it to 100, but that, I may remind the hon'ble Member, is not a matter in which Government can help directly or indirectly by assisting the management in the matter of providing more hostel accommodation and more teachers. These are matters, my Lord, that require a little careful looking into, but even if the number can be raised to 100 it can certainly be in Belgachia. My hon'ble friend Sir Nilratan Sarkar and myself who are members of the Governing Body there, would, I am sure, be very glad to take up the question if either from the public or from the Government more assistance was to come. We cannot complain that either the public or the Government have been niggardly in their assistance in building up a non-official Medical College which I hope will be a lasting monument of the education enterprise of Bengal for a long time to come. Sir Nilratan Sarkar has suggested that we should appeal to the public for help. I do not think even he can complain as Belgachia has had a certain amount of public help, and I think that it is not likely to have less response if my friend Sir Nilratan Sarkar were to take up the matter of assisting the Belgachia management in getting more hospital accommodation and better teaching.

Resolutions.

Sir Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari.

My Lord, the question of the Dacca Medical School—although it does not arise out of the resolution—is certainly one which calls for serious consideration. Dacca has been wanting something big in the way of educational institutions, and if we can in not a very distant future give Dacca a properly equipped medical college, the strain on the Calcutta colleges will be less and the relief will be appreciable. But whatever that may be, we cannot allow efficiency to suffer at all, and irresponsible increase in the number of students in the way suggested by the resolution cannot be thought of. As I have said, the question is one which ought to engage our serious attention and cannot be brushed aside by considerations like those that have been put forward by the Hon'ble Sir Nilratan Sarkar."

Resolutions.

Sir Nilratan Sarkar; Sir Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari; Rai Radha Charan Pal Bahadur; The President.

The Hon'ble Sir Nilratan Sarkar said :—

"My Lord, may I say a few words by way of explanation. As regards the further extension of the collegiate medical education I am not at all against it—I am strongly for it. When I said that the question had not yet been decided, I referred to circumstances which I think are known to the Hon'ble Sir Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari and to myself also that the question was being discussed and decided elsewhere and Government could not do anything at this stage. I said even if it is decided that Bengal should have further extension of collegiate medical education, the other question will arise whether all the centres of such medical education should be located in Calcutta even by increasing the size of some of them indefinitely, or whether at least one centre should not be started elsewhere and preferably to Dacca."

The Hon'ble Sir Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari said :—

"I am very glad to stand corrected and should like to work shoulder to shoulder with Dr. Sarkar whatever may be decided."

The Hon'ble Rai Radha Charan Pal Bahadur said :—

"My Lord, after the speech that has been delivered by General Robinson I do not think that the resolution which my hon'ble freind Babu Mahendra Chandra Mitra has moved need be pressed, but as has been observed by Sir Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari—and that was what was exactly in my mind—I would like to say that from my personal experience the want of facilities for medical education in this country is now keenly felt, and in fact the want has been growing for some time. The figures, as compiled by my hon'ble friend, if they are correct show that out of 830 applications in 1917, 140 were admitted, and in 1916 out of 707 applications 177 were admitted in the Medical College. I want to acquaint your Excellency with the experience of some citizens who take an interest in the affairs of our country and in the well being of our community."

The President said :—

"Is the hon'ble member putting forward an argument in favour of or against the resolution? I do not quite see its bearing on the resolution."

The Hon'ble Rai Radha Charan Pal Bahadur said :—

"My Lord, what I want to say is that the want of accommodation in the Medical College has opened up the question of providing for medical education at other centres. That is a point which has been urged upon your Excellency by the two previous speakers."

The President said :—

"I did not call the other two speakers to order, but the speech of the hon'ble Member upon the question does not concern this particular resolution. If the hon'ble Member wants to give an illustration in order to support an argument either for or against the resolution which is before the Council, he may do so. But it seems to me that the hon'ble Member was not doing that: he seemed to be making a speech on the necessity of increasing colleges in Bengal, which could hardly be allowed on this resolution."

The Hon'ble Rai Radha Charan Pal Bahadur said :—

"My Lord, I do not wish to take up the time of this Council by making further observations on this subject. As I have said, the reply of the Hon'ble Major-General Robinson disposes of the question of the Medical College, but it incidentally raises the question which I wanted to submit to the Council. As I shall not be in order in doing so, I shall reserve my observations for a future occasion."

Resolutions.

Rai Mahendra Chandra Mitra Bahadur; The President.

The Hon'ble Rai Mahendra Chandra Mitra Bahadur said :—

"My lord, my resolution is in effect to allow a larger number of regular students admission into the Medical College. I have submitted my figures to the Council and they show that a larger number of students are not admitted to the college. The demand is very heavy and there ought to be a supply. In this view I am pressing this resolution for the consideration of the Council. We should not bind ourselves by side-issues but the main question is before the Council. The Hon'ble Sir Nilratan Sarkar considers that there cannot now be any further accommodation for students, but my submission is that, as the demand is very heavy, your Excellency's Government will have to consider the question whether a larger number of students should not be allowed to the Medical College and whether some means should not be found by which that can be done. That is the object of my resolution and I do press it for the consideration of the Council.

With regard to Belgachia I have already asked your Excellency's permission to withdraw it."

The President said :—

"As the Hon'ble Member wishes to withdraw the second portion of his resolution, I will put the first portion to the Council."

Clause (a) of the resolution was then put and lost, and clause (b) of the resolution was then, by leave of the President, withdrawn.

LIST OF BUSINESS—ITEM No. 18.

The Hon'ble Rai Mahendra Chandra Mitra Bahadur also moved the following resolution :—

This Council recommends to the Governor in Council that Government do take steps in connection with the high price of cloth and food-stuffs on the lines of action and policy adopted by the Government of Bihar and Orissa.

He said :—

"My lord, it is already well-known to your Excellency's Government that owing to the high price of cloth and food-stuffs the suffering of the poor raiyats and persons on small fixed incomes is evidently on the increase. The retail price of cloth in the interior of districts has again risen very high. Owing to various causes the retail price of common rice and other food-grains has risen rapidly since the middle of last year. On the other hand, a few raiyats who had surplus stocks of food-grains for disposal have benefited by the rise to some extent, but in the majority of cases their stocks have been so much depleted as not to be sufficient for themselves.

I give the substance of the speech delivered by Sir Edward Gait, the Lieutenant-Governor of Bihar and Orissa, at the meeting of the Bihar Legislative Council held on 22nd January last.

His Honour fully explained to the Council the action and policy of his Government and informed the Council of the steps which are being taken in connection with the price of cloth and food-stuffs.

Resolutions.

Mr. Crum.

His Honour has remarked as follows:—'Owing to various causes connected with the war, there has been a general and marked rise of price throughout the world, and this rise has been specially serious in India. * * For many years past, it has been the accepted policy of Government to avoid all interference with the ordinary course of trade, and it was held that any attempt to keep down prices by artificial means would be certain to lead to a greater trouble than that which it was desired to avoid. This principle, however, has frequently been departed from in England under the stress of the war and it is now realized that Government can often intervene with success, at any rate in the large class of cases where the conditions are not wholly or mainly due to economic causes. * * *'.

His Honour informed the Council of the fact that, as the dealers in the mufassal showed no disposition to bring down their rates to those prevailing in the Presidency towns, the Local Government decided to purchase cloth in the Calcutta market for sale in the various districts within His Honour's jurisdiction. Since the middle of November Mr. Reid, who as Magistrate of Patna had already done good work, purchased several million yards of cloth which were sold locally at 30 to 40 per cent. below the prevailing prices. The people in this way saved several lakhs of rupees which would otherwise have gone to the trade. The method of distribution varied according to the local conditions; in some cases cloth was sold on commission and in others voluntary agencies were appointed, but the most popular system had been the sale directed by Government at the public offices. The popularity of these sales may be gauged by the fact that cloth to the value of nearly Rs. 2,000 was sold at the Patna cutchery in a single day. A certain quantity of imported cloth purchased in Calcutta together with some standard cloth, which Mr. Reid has obtained as a voluntary basis, will certainly meet the most urgent demand pending the arrival of the standard cloth in sufficient quantity. Mr. Reid has also succeeded in obtaining some cloth of superior quality for the use of the better classes, and that also is now being placed in the market.

The war is also responsible for unprecedentedly high prices of food-stuffs, and I understand that Your Excellency's Government has taken some effective steps in connection with the transit of food-stuffs from one place to another. I may add that this system of controlling food-stuffs is still in the experimental stage; the difficulties of interfering with established trade routes are very great, and it remains to be seen whether the advantages to be gained from it outweigh the obvious difficulties. The workers in mills can afford to pay for higher prices than the ill-paid labourers in the interior of the districts, and if exports are unrestricted, the latter tracts might be denuded of their reserves of food which it would be impossible later on to replace.

With these remarks, I beg to commend this resolution for acceptance by your Excellency's Council."

The Hon'ble Mr. Crum said:—

"My lord, as a member of the committee which was appointed by Government in the middle of last year to examine the question of the prices of cotton cloth, I should like to say a few words about the present position. The Committee at that time recommended to the Government of India through the Government of Bengal that standard cloth of such pattern as will be as cheap as possible should be produced; in fact, the Committee recommended a direct interference with the trade—an interference which as the Hon'ble Member has told us in his quotation from the speech of Sir Edward Gait is only justified by abnormal and exceptional circumstances. What I should like to try to show to you is that the abnormal and exceptional circumstances did exist in July, August and September 1918, and to the same extent

Resolutions.

Mr. Crum.

they do not exist now. When we examined the position in the middle of last year, we found that the stocks of cloth in Calcutta were very considerable and that they were not going to the bazar for consumption and the reason for that was that they were being bought up by people who had no connection whatever with the cloth market. People in Calcutta and elsewhere were buying considerable number of bales and putting them into their godowns, houses and kitchen even with no intention of selling, because they were told that there was every likelihood of the prices going up and of a good prospect of profit. At the same time the prices of the Manchester cloths were rising as well as the prices of the Bombay cloth. In fact the price of cloth for India was being forced up owing to the abnormal conditions of the war. Well, at that time there were no signs of peace and we recommended that in order to stop the speculation the dealers in Calcutta should be registered and nobody else should be allowed to deal in cloth, and also recommended that standard cloth should be purchased from the Bombay Mills by Government with a view to selling it to the very poor people. Prices of ordinary dhuti had risen from about Rs. 5-3 in April to as high as Rs. 7-11 in the middle of August and it was quite evident that the people could not afford to pay for this cloth. The figures for Railway despatches and boat despatches, which were exceedingly small, showed that the cloth did not really go into consumption. The position. I maintain, has entirely changed since then. On the armistice being declared or a little before that prices began to fall, and they fell in Calcutta very rapidly indeed, till about the beginning of December they reached somewhat the level of 40 per cent. below the highest price.

Then demand began and the prices rose again gradually till the beginning of January, when they again fell with the fall in the price of cotton and the price of cloth all over the world, and the particular cloth which I quote to you as being about Rs. 7-11 in the middle of September is now down to Rs. 5-3, which is the same price as in April last year. But what is really a much more significant point with regard to the present situation is the fact that cloth is really now going into consumption, and people are buying, and I have got some figures for the deliveries from Calcutta for the last five months during 1917-18.

From September to November, which, as you all know, is the busy season of the year, I mean the Pooja season, when we expect the heaviest deliveries of goods from Calcutta, there were in 1917, 71,000 packages delivered from Calcutta, and in 1918 in the same months there were only 27,000 packages. That shows pretty clearly that the prices during that time rose to a high level, so high that the people could not afford to pay for their cloth. In December 1917 we find 12,000 packages sent away, and in 1918 13,265 packages. Prices had fallen considerably by December, and during December they were at their lowest. In January which is not ordinarily a month for very big demands, the figures of 1918 were nearly 7,500, but for 1919, this year, they were 22,000. In fact the deliveries from Calcutta during the month of January were bigger than in any month back to October 1917. They were actually bigger than any deliveries in January for the last four years and the demand is still exceedingly brisk, and the figures for February will probably exceed the figures for January.

I think that proves pretty clearly that we have got to settled prices now at which, generally speaking, the people can afford to buy the goods, and under the circumstances I very much deprecate any interference with the regular trade. You have got to remember what the dangers of this interference are. First of all India produces in normal years only about a third of her consumption of cloth, two-thirds coming from outside. During the last two years the production has been about half and half, while the stocks of piece-goods in Calcutta are not as big as they were four or five months ago; deliveries, on the whole, as far as we can make out, have exceeded the supplies. There is practically nothing to arrive in Calcutta after the end of April. If you wanted to buy any first class cloth from Manchester, you would not be able to buy for shipment before the end of April, and that means that the goods cannot arrive here much before July—towards the middle or end of July. I do not think that this is the case with every kind of cloth: some of it you might not be able to buy for even such near delivery; if you introduce at this stage anything like a standard cloth, you are not going to do a very great deal of good to a very large number of people. The price of standard cloth is not, as a matter of fact, much below that for ordinary cloth here in the bazar, and you are going to frighten trade, and the result will be that the equilibrium which is now showing signs of being established between Manchester and Calcutta will again be upset, and dealers will be frightened, and they won't buy, and in another six months' time, if no more business is done, the position here may really become rather serious, not only from actual shortage of cloth, but from other important items too. It has already happened in one or two small instances; they are unimportant, but I give you the instance of one cloth which is being still very largely sold in the bazar; it is cloth imported by Ralli Brothers with a half-inch coloured border, which is selling at 6 annas cheaper than that with a tape border, which ought to be 1 anna 6 pies cheaper than the cloth with a half-inch border. There just happens to be a shortage, and so if you go too far to force this market not to do as it wants by allowing Government to interfere too much, you may have a state of affairs which will be considerably worse than it ever has been in the past. For this reason, because the position is so entirely different now to what it was in the middle of last year, I strongly recommend that nothing is done to interfere so far as cloth is concerned."

Resolutions.

Babu Brajendra Kishore Ray Chaudhuri; Sir Henry Wheeler.

The Hon'ble Babu Brajendra Kishore Ray Chaudhuri said :—

"My lord, I desire to associate myself with this resolution which has my hearty support. The economic condition of Bengal is growing more and more serious. From the statements made in this Council from time to time it appears that the cloth problem is becoming acute and I have seen with my own eyes the distress of the poor people in the mufassal. Some energetic action on the part of Government seems to be desirable at least for the purpose of controlling the market and granting relief to the poor people. I understand that in the Presidency of Bombay Government have induced the local bodies to make arrangements for the sale of food-grains at cost price. The plucky action of the Government of Bihar and Orissa in this connection has gained popular admiration and I hope that the Government of Bengal will adopt measures on similar lines."

The Hon'ble Sir Henry Wheeler said :—

"My lord, I am sorry to take up the time of the Council, but the subject of this resolution has attracted much attention, and I should like to take the opportunity of explaining what the local Government has done and is doing in respect of it, especially since, from the wording of the resolution and the comments which we see in the press and elsewhere, it seems to be thought in some quarters that there is here in Bengal a supine local Government which has very little regard to the sufferings of the poor, whereas on our west, in Bihar and Orissa, we have an energetic local Government which is working marvels in this respect.

Resolutions.

Sir Henry Wheeler.

The resolution raises the two questions of food-stuffs and cloth, and I will deal with that of food-stuffs first; but in connection both with that and with cloth, it is well that the Council should bear in mind precisely what the agricultural conditions of the province are at this moment. These were explained in a communiqué which has only just issued and which doubtless, Hon'ble Members have read; so I can avoid repetition, but it is to be remembered that although there has been a monsoon failure and agricultural conditions are admittedly unfavourable, yet it is only in the district of Bankura and the Brahmanberia subdivision of Tippera that, at the moment, there is cause for apprehension of actual scarcity. We are in this respect a great deal better off than the United Provinces or Bombay, or even Bihar and Orissa and the Central Provinces. We know that prices both of food-stuffs and cotton cloth are everywhere abnormally high, pressing hardly both on the rich and the poor, but obviously more hardly on the poor. Such circumstances are, of course, unfortunate and regrettable, but it must be remembered that for about four years the whole world has been so suffering. We cannot bring about a revolutionary remedy, do what we will.

Turning to what has been done in the matter of food-stuffs, I would like to make it clear at the outset, that this is not solely a provincial matter; it is certainly an all-India question, and it is indeed a matter concerning the whole world, as various orders that have been passed affect exports to countries outside India. Therefore we cannot deal with it with entire disregard to other provinces, and in fact the orders applicable are binding on Bihar and Orissa equally with ourselves. In the past few months Bihar and Orissa have taken action in two directions, different from what we have done. They attempted, as far as we understand, to control the movement of grain as between districts within the province, although our information is that they got into some difficulty in so doing and withdrew their orders. Secondly, they did at one time stop the export of grain altogether from Bihar and Orissa, but that led to intervention on the part of the Government of India, to which I shall refer again in noticing briefly the orders which have been passed from time to time, and which, I would repeat, are binding on both provinces alike. When, therefore, the resolution asks us to emulate the example of Bihar and Orissa, it presumably refers to the action of that province in these two respects, but for the understanding of the possibility or desirability of our doing so, we should recall what the various orders of the Government of India have been.

When it became evident that the monsoon of 1918 was going to be a failure, and the crop prospects dangerous, the first action taken by the Secretary of State, as announced in a communiqué, dated the 7th October, was to stop all wheat purchases for export overseas except for Mesopotamia, the justification of this step being to conserve for use in the deficit provinces of India such supplies of wheat and other food-stuffs as were not immediately required for local consumption in those provinces which had a surplus. This is an instance of what I referred to as the all-world character of the question. This measure was supplemented by the Government of India by the appointment of a Food-stuffs Commissioner for all India with the object of securing the most effective distribution of the supply of wheat, rice and other food-stuffs which were not required for local consumption in the surplus provinces. To begin with, this Commissioner only dealt with wheat and rice, though apart from his direct transactions, he watched carefully the courses of events. The essential part of the system was that, on the information available to him from all India, he decided what quantities of wheat and rice might be imported to a deficit province from a surplus province, control being exercised by the requirement of a certificate to import by rail, signed by the Director of Civil Supplies, and countersigned by the corresponding Director in the province of export.

Resolutions.

Sir Henry Wheeler.

The Government of India made it clear at the outset that in respect of rice Bengal would not be allowed to close down export so as to keep all available stocks within its borders, and while shortly afterwards, first in the case of the United Provinces and the Punjab and a little later in the case of all provinces, they allowed local Governments to prohibit the export of food-grains, other than wheat and rice, from their jurisdictions except under certificate; they definitely said that they would not allow the powers thus conferred to be so exercised as to apply an absolute and uncontrolled embargo upon all exports of food-stuffs. The final say as regards inter-provincial distribution was therefore vested in the Food-stuffs Commissioner, who was intended to look at the question from the standpoint of all India. Those are the original orders which concerned the whole country. In November 1918 we attempted to take a census of rice stocks and returns were compiled, but for various incidental reasons, into which I need not go, the collection of accurate figures was very difficult, and I am afraid that the returns could not be regarded as complete. However, we took them for what they were worth, and they showed that we had surplus stocks of rice in this province. Subsequent to that date, the Food-stuffs Commissioner took over control of gram in addition to wheat and rice, so that now he deals with wheat, rice and gram. On the 25th of January the Government of India modified their policy in one material respect, and, while leaving wheat, rice and gram to be regulated by the special Commissioner, withdrew the powers of local Governments to impose restrictions on the movement of food-grains outside their provinces. In order to prevent speculation, they still required the countersignature of the local Director of Civil Supplies before food-grains could be imported, so as to endeavour to confine the trade to bona fide dealers. Some of the reasons which they gave for their action are relevant to the whole theory of control, and bear out what I have urged on another occasion in this Council, namely, that control is a very tricky panacea which may land us in unexpected difficulties. This is exemplified by the following extracts from their orders :—

'The present system of food control has been assailed on various grounds. In the first place, it is represented that its interference with the normal channels of trade has conduced to a deficiency of supplies in areas where they are most needed, and that the difficulties and delay attendant on the opening of new channels must inevitably conduce to a rise in prices. Secondly, the delay involved in the issue and countersignature of priority certificates has intensified the difficulty of obtaining supplies, while it is a frequent experience that a merchant after obtaining a priority certificate does not utilise it, and supplies which were expected have accordingly not come forward. Thirdly, and this is the ground on which the system of food control has been most seriously attacked, it is represented that an artificial shortage of supplies and an artificial high level of prices have been created by the restrictions in traffic, and particularly by those imposed by provincial Governments in respect of food-grains other than those the movements of which are directed under the control of the Government of India.'

The Government of India then go on to say :—

'They are aware that in certain areas the system of control is believed to have had good results in moderating or stabilizing prices, and they are fully alive to the probability that the removal of restrictions on the movement of food-stuffs will be followed by a rise of prices in some of the supplying areas, without perhaps a corresponding fall in the areas to which the supplies will be moved. On the other hand, they are faced with the very grave risk that, particularly in respect of those food-grains, the export of which is subject to provincial restrictions, certain areas, especially in Western India, may find themselves in a condition of serious deficit. * * * * *

Resolutions.

Sir Henry Wheeler.

They have, however, decided to retain for the present their control in respect of wheat, rice and gram, and this decision is in accordance with the views of those heads of provinces whom it was possible to consult. But in respect of other food-grains they have come to the conclusion that the dangers inherent in the restrictions imposed by provincial Governments are greater than those to be apprehended from the removal of these restrictions and they have therefore decided to remove them.'

These quotations, I think, will show the Council that control is a difficult matter, and that while it is quite easy to say 'Let us control and all will be well,' it is equally easy by ill-advised control to make things worse rather than better. That is the position. We have the Government of India with their Food-stuffs Commissioner controlling wheat, rice and gram, and we are not allowed, as a province, to impose restrictions on the movements of other grains outside our boundaries. Taking the main staple rice, we are of course interested, mainly as an exporting province, and I do not know whether the idea underlying this resolution is that we should go to the Government of India and say that in respect of rice we do not wish to export any more to other provinces. That seems to be the suggestion which the resolution embodies. But I put it to the Council that it would not be practicable for us to make out a case to the Government of India for action at the present moment on these lines, apart from the fact that it might lead to retaliation from other provinces in respect of grains which we want from them, especially in the cases of wheat and pulses in which the rise in price has been far greater than the rise in the price of rice. The Revenue Department answered a question touching the rise in the price of rice not very long ago, and I read this extract from it.

'If anything, wholesale prices (of rice) in the first fortnight of November are less than those which prevailed during the same period in the five years preceding 1917. Retail prices differ little from those prevailing at the same time in the years 1914, 1915 and 1916. They fell in 1917 and the first half of this year considerably on account of an abundant harvest last season. In July or August they began to rise again to the present level which, though it may be called high, cannot in these circumstances be termed unusual.'

This is very clearly borne out by the graph which I hold here, and from which you will see that from 1911 prices rose steadily till 1913, and kept on a fairly high level through 1914 and 1915, rising even higher between September and December of the latter year. At the end of 1915 prices came down considerably, and kept fairly steady till the end of 1916. They then fell again and steadied on approximately the same level until about October 1917. Then we have a big drop nearly down to the level of 1911, and, while recently prices have risen again, they are not yet up to the level of 1913 or 1915. In the face of that record of prices, I submit that it will be impossible to go to the Government of India and say we want to close down the export of rice from Bengal. All that we can do, we are doing. We are watching the traffic in rice, seeing how much goes out of the province, and keeping the Food-stuffs Commissioner informed of the facts. He is also watching circumstances in Bengal and other provinces, but beyond that, for the moment, we cannot very well go. That is as regards our export trade. Of course as regards our import trade, we are particularly interested in wheat, gram and pulses, the prices of which are unfortunately very high. We want to get as much as we can from other provinces, but nothing that we can do will remedy the factors making for high prices, namely, the failure of the crops due to a deficient monsoon and the decrease in the purchasing power of money. Therefore, as regards the external traffic in food-stuffs, I doubt if we can do more than we are at present doing, and I again repeat that the Bihar and Orissa Government are bound by the same orders as we are. As regards traffic within the province itself, it is extraordinarily difficult to regulate, bearing in mind the very large river traffic in Eastern Bengal, which is almost beyond control, and road traffic in Western Bengal, and at the moment no actual case of necessity has as yet arisen. Should it arise in any area, such as Bankura, where scarcity is threatened, we will take the necessary steps, but for the moment our attitude is one of watching developments.

Resolutions.

Sir Henry Wheeler.

Well, so much as regards food-stuffs. I now pass to the case of cloth. Fortunately Mr. Crum has stated various relevant facts in this connection, which I need not recapitulate, but before taking the Council through the story of cloth, I would invite attention to a communiqué from the Government of India which appeared in to-day's paper, and which bears upon the present resolution. It runs :—

'In view of certain misapprehensions which appear to be entertained as to the exact effect of the recent action taken in regard to the manufacture of standard cloth, the Government of India consider it desirable again to draw attention to the fact that standard cloth is meant for sale to the poorer classes for the relief of distress, and they have no intention of interfering with legitimate trade or of attempting to supply cloth for general consumption.'

That is relevant as indicating the limitations which affect any system of control in the matter of cloth, while no system of control can remedy the fundamental fact that we are dependent upon Manchester for a large portion of our supplies, and that Manchester rates are still materially above those prevailing in Calcutta. These are the cardinal facts. But I would like, as in the case of food-stuffs, to indicate what we have done in order to combat the idea that we have done nothing.

In February 1918, this Government first put forward the possibility of concentrating manufacture on certain standard varieties of cloth, and in July 1918 we took a census of stocks in Calcutta. I merely mention this matter as indicating that we have kept a watch on the Calcutta market during the whole of this year. It will be remembered that in July last a motion for an enquiry by a Committee was accepted in this Council, and that Committee sat. Meanwhile, the Government of India had been discussing the question in consultation with a special Bombay committee; and in their communiqué of the 24th August they announced the intention of attempting the manufacture of standardized cloth for the assistance of the very poor. We thereupon put in train detailed arrangements for local distribution and got out estimates of the quantities likely to be required. But while we were doing so, the price of cloth fell suddenly to an extent that made it impossible to put standardized cloth on the market, and action in that direction was suspended. About the same period, in order to check the speculation which was going on in the Calcutta market—to which the Hon'ble Mr. Crum has made a reference,—we decided to license wholesale transactions in Calcutta, and appointed a Cotton Advisory Committee on the 1st October, with which we have been in close touch ever since. The Committee issued some 1,700 licenses, and it was largely owing to the action so taken—though there were other contributory causes—that the market fell, in a somewhat dramatic way, to an extent which, for the moment, rendered the manufacture of standardized cloth unnecessary. Since then our attitude has been one of watching the course of trade, and of getting the best information we can as regards the probabilities of the situation so as to be able to decide from time to time whether or not to take further action. Hitherto we have not done anything further, while Hon'ble Members know from the communiqué which appeared in the papers that Bihar and Orissa, the Punjab and the United Provinces, have undertaken the supply of standard cloth. Bihar and Orissa was the first province to do so, and at the beginning what they did was to buy cheap cloth in Calcutta at the time when prices had fallen; they then attempted an experiment with standardized cloth which they have since somewhat enlarged. The United Provinces took a few bales of standardized cloth for experimental purposes, and have since taken more, as also did the Punjab, where sales are effected through the agency of municipalities and co-operative credit societies. We are not unfortunately completely posted as to the reasons why these provinces took action; but I would draw the attention of the Council to certain considerations which, as far as we know, weighed with them, as would appear from Sir Edward Gait's speech. Owing to the unfavourable agricultural conditions the price of cloth was, at least in Bihar, beyond the reach of certain of the poorer sections of the people; and owing to the absence of an efficient and independent system of supply district prices did not respond to the fall in Calcutta rates. Prices in the mufassal were higher than they ought to have been, having regard to the situation in Calcutta. That seems to have been the main reason why Bihar and Orissa thought it necessary to take the action which they did, but it is not a reason which is equally applicable to Bengal, and it is a somewhat noticeable fact that at present neither Bombay, Madras nor the Central Provinces have embarked upon the importation of standardized cloth. However, as certain other provinces have done so, Hon'ble Members naturally ask why should not Bengal do the same? To understand the reason of our inaction, we must look at the recent course of prices, regarding which the Hon'ble Mr. Crum has given particulars. Taking the imported dhuti in Calcutta, this touched its highest level about the third week of September. It then started to fall and came down to the lowest level in the beginning of December: but that was not a normal trade price, as it was largely due to outside factors, such as the forced sale by auction of consignments which had been ordered but of which delivery was not taken: in fact, at that time, there was some apprehension of the complete demoralisation of the market, though it steadied, largely owing to the action of the Bihar and Orissa Government in buying cloths which tended to put prices up. Things then recovered, and prices rose to high-water mark about the middle of January, though the level was still substantially lower than in September. Since then the market has been fairly steady. Unlike Bihar and Orissa, our mufassal prices have, as a general statement, fluctuated fairly consistently with fluctuations in Calcutta, which constitutes a marked difference between the districts of Bihar and Orissa and those of Bengal. To the best of our information, goods are not being improperly withheld from the market and there is not at present the improper speculation which there was when we took action in issuing licenses to wholesale dealers.

Resolutions.

Sir Henry Wheeler.

These being the conditions, what we have to make up our minds about is whether it is wise to trust to the ordinary developments of trade and the restoration of normal conditions, or to intervene on the lines that have been followed in three other provinces. For the present, we have thought it best not to follow the example of Bihar and Orissa, the Punjab and the United Provinces. Two other facts have largely influenced us in this conclusion. In the first place, we could not put standardized cloth from Bombay on the Calcutta market at as cheap a price as the cheapest variety which is now on sale there—the Banga Lakshmi cloth—even though the supply of that is admittedly limited and the quality, I believe, coarse. The second fact is this, that we could not put standard cloth on the market at a price that would be more than 3 to 4 annas cheaper than the cheapest kinds of imported cloth.

Resolutions.

Babu A. C. Mazumdar.

These are the important conditions which we have to remember, and having regard to the course of the market which I have endeavoured to outline, and to these facts, we have thought it best for the moment to hold our hands. The Hon'ble Mr. Crum has already drawn the attention of the Council to the possible dangers of upsetting the market, and action taken by Government does upset the market out of proportion to the actual quantities with which Government may deal. We have therefore thought it wise hitherto, as in the case of food-stuffs, rather to watch developments and keep ourselves in touch with them before following the lead of Bihar and Orissa. We propose to continue doing so and to be guided by circumstances. Should they alter materially and should it appear that owing, say, to distress in any area the poor cannot be supplied with cloth, then we may have to intervene and take action. But, for the present, we do not propose, as the resolution recommends us to do, to follow the example of Bihar and Orissa in this matter of cotton cloth. As I have said in the matter of food-stuffs, it is not a case of following their lead, because we are both governed by the same orders. It is the case that as regards cotton cloth, Bihar and Orissa has done something which we have not done, but I have tried to explain to the Council the reasons which have actuated us in our present policy."

The Hon'ble Babu Ambika Charan Mazumdar said :—

"My lord, I wish to say only a few words on this resolution. I wholeheartedly associate myself with the resolution moved by my hon'ble friend. The abnormally high prices of food-stuffs and particularly of cloth have reached a very acute stage and it is high time that Government should come to the rescue of the situation. The Hon'ble Mr. Crum has laboured to show that the prices have not risen abnormally and that there have been bigger deliveries and the market is steady. Well, I am not going to enter into discussions of that sort—export, import and so forth. If there were bigger deliveries recently, then the position taken up by my friend becomes stronger, because whatever may be the market here in Calcutta, in mufassal the market is still worse. The prices have risen, particularly of cloth as well as of rice, chillies, oil and almost every article of consumption. It rises in this way, for it is not a question of export or import. A cloth merchant will not sell his cloth for less than Rs. 6-8. The rice merchant says that if I cannot get cloth for less than Rs. 6-8, I must raise the price of my rice. The man with the chillies and oil also goes in that way ; so that the question is not exactly one of export or import or tabulating these figures and those figures, but it is a question of downright speculation among the cloth merchants who are primarily responsible for the rise in the price of food-stuffs. They take cloth from Calcutta at certain rates and then they fix a rate below which they would not sell it, and this cloth affects the rice market, the oil market and every other market. I would ask your Excellency's Government to ask the Collectors of districts just to enquire into the matter whether there is not this sort of unscrupulous speculation. If that can be stopped, possibly the present situation would not be intolerable. The Hon'ble Sir Henry Wheeler has told us—although it brings very little comfort to us—that these difficulties are not confined to Bengal, not to India, but to the whole world. We do not dispute that, but that is no reason why we should go for the regulation of the market to the Peace Conference to decide one way or the other. The simple point is whether Government can or cannot put a stop to these unscrupulous men carrying on a downright speculation for the purpose of making large profits at the expense of the poor people, and the bare question would be to ask the Collectors to enquire whether there is such a speculation or not ; and if there is, I think Government could ask the Collectors to look into these things, and thus afford considerable relief. It may not relieve the situation altogether, but considerable relief would be rendered if the Government would simply move in that direction."

The Hon'ble Rai Radha Charan Pal Bahadur said :—

"My lord, I must say that I have listened with very great interest to the lucid speech of the Hon'ble Sir Henry Wheeler. At the same time, the situation is becoming so acute that there is almost in every house in Bengal a cry that we should approach the Government to do something in this matter; but I must frankly confess that although we are making speeches, we have not been able to put any practical proposition before the Government. At the same time, I think it is our duty to bring the matter to the notice of Government, because I believe Government is in a better position to ascertain the real facts and as far as I can gather—I think the non-official Members will agree with me—Government is sincerely anxious to relieve the distress of the people. Therefore, what I want to know is this; that with regard to the price of cloth whether the speculation has been entirely stopped or whether there has been any relaxation of the licenses that have been granted, the speculation has been resumed or whether a stricter eye is still being kept on the cloth-dealers. I am a layman and I am not making any actual proposition; but I ask whether something cannot be done to fix a certain rate of profit over the initial cost of the cloth, that is to say, the price at which it is purchased in Calcutta and the price at which it is sold in other parts of the mufassal and whether Government can control the price. As regards the Banga Lakshmi Mill cloth, this is the first time that we hear about it. The outside public did not quite know whether there was a sufficient stock of the Banga Lakshmi standard or whether there was at any time as far as my information goes. Perhaps, there was not sufficient stock; but if there be a sufficient stock, I submit that a saving of four or five annas would be something to the poor people having regard to the high prices of food-stuffs. There had been some fall in the price of cloth, but unfortunately it has again begun to rise. I do not know what its price is at the present moment, but everyone coming from the mufassal and even everyone in Calcutta and specially those coming from the mufassal belonging to our community, all say,—'What are you doing, are you not acquainting the Government that we are feeling the pinch very much?' It is not merely that the price of rice but the price of wheat and other food-stuffs, such as chillies, grains, pulses, etc., have gone up to such an extent that it is very difficult for the poor middle-class to get even one meal a day. Such is the situation; and I am sure, my lord, that the situation has attracted the attention of Government and the Government is giving a sympathetic attention to the matter. At the same time, I submit whether it is not possible to take some practical steps, although I must admit that we have not been able to make any practical suggestions."

The Hon'ble Mr. Phelps said :—

"My lord, I do not think it necessary after what has fallen from the Hon'ble Mr. Crum to say anything from the retail point of view, but to put the matter more clearly from a wholesale point of view, it strikes me perhaps that my testimony as a retail dealer may inspire some confidence in his association. The actual prices of cotton and wool have gone up by 300 per cent., and I fail to see what the Government could do towards relieving the prices to the public in view of this fact. About three months ago, the price was three times of what it was four years ago, and it is still going up and we have the utmost difficulty in getting our own supplies. The same is the case with cotton—I am referring to cotton fine goods such as fine shirtings—and we have to give three times of what we had to give four years ago. There was a time when profiteering was no doubt indulged in and then only was the time for Government to do something. My friends to my left are far behindhand in asking the Government to interfere now. I do not see any possible way of regulating the prices of goods now, because profiteering has come to an end. One cannot but be struck with the touching confidence that our friends have in the power of the Government. I would only wish that Government had more power to relieve such a thing as prices; but in the case of food-stuffs and cloth, I believe it is quite impossible."

Resolutions.

Rai Mahendra Chandra Mitra Bahadur.

The Hon'ble Rai Mahendra Chandra Mitra Bahadur said :—

"My lord, I have listened to the speeches which have been delivered just now. I am thankful to the Hon'ble Sir Henry Wheeler for the lucid speech in which he gave us detailed information bearing on the subject. But there cannot be any doubt that the distress in the mufassal—I am a representative of the mufassal—is very acute. If your Excellency goes to any hamlet or to a village town, your Excellency will find that it is no exaggeration to say that the distress is very acute. The poor raiyats of Bengal live under the protective wings of Government and they are all appealing to your Excellency for redress. I am extremely sorry that under the circumstances, which have been mentioned by the Hon'ble Sir Henry Wheeler your Excellency's Government is not inclined to interfere: that disheartens me and disheartens everybody. We looked up to your Excellency for help in this matter—a matter in which our lives are concerned. Therefore, my lord, I do press my resolution for the consideration of the Council, because I cannot persuade myself to believe that Government will not be in a position at present to interfere. This, my lord, is my submission to the Council."

The resolution was then put and lost.

ADJOURNMENT.

The Council was then adjourned to Wednesday, the 5th March 1919, at 11 A.M., at Government House, Calcutta.

PART V.

Acts of the Indian Legislative Council assented to by the Governor General.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

The following Act of the Indian Legislative Council received the assent of the Governor General on the 26th February, 1919, and is hereby promulgated for general information :—

ACT NO. I OF 1919.

An Act to extend the powers of local authorities in regard to the granting of pensions and gratuities.

WHEREAS it is expedient to extend the powers of local authorities in regard to the granting of pensions and gratuities ; It is hereby enacted as follows :—

Short title and extent.

1. (1) This Act may be called the Local Authorities Pensions and Gratuities Act, 1919.

(2) It extends to the whole of British India, including the Sonthal Parganas.

Definition.

2. In this Act "officer" means any person who has undertaken the service of Government and who, immediately prior to undertaking such service, was paid and employed solely by a local authority and, but for undertaking such service, would in the ordinary course have continued in such employment.

Power to grant extraordinary pensions and gratuities.

3. Notwithstanding anything contained in any enactment or in any rule made thereunder regulating the powers of local authorities, and without prejudice to any powers conferred by or under any such enactment, a local authority may grant a pension or gratuity to any officer thereof who may, since the fourth day of August, 1914, have been wounded or otherwise incapacitated in the service of Government, and to the widow or child of any such officer who may have died in consequence of injuries received or illness contracted since the fourth day of August, 1914, in the course of such service.

Provision as to pensions and gratuities.

4. (1) Such pension or gratuity may be granted in addition to any pension or gratuity payable to the officer or his wife or child, as the case may be, under any general or special orders of His Majesty in Council or of the Governor General in Council, but shall not, save with the sanction of the Governor General in Council, exceed the amount of the pension or gratuity to which the officer or his wife or child would have been entitled under any such orders if his employment by the local authority had been service for the same time and on the same pay under Government.

(2) Any pension granted under this Act may be made to take effect from such date subsequent to the fourth day of August, 1914, and subject to such conditions as the local authority may think fit.

Procedure.

5. Subject to the provisions of this Act, the decision of a local authority to grant a pension or gratuity thereunder shall be made in such manner and shall be subject to such sanction as may be prescribed by any enactment or rule regulating the grant by such local authority of pensions and gratuities :

Provided that in every case the sanction of the Local Government shall be necessary.

PART VI.

Bills introduced in the Indian Legislative Council, Reports of Select Committees presented to the Council, and Bills published under Rule 23.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

The following Bill was introduced in the Indian Legislative Council on the 26th February, 1919:—

No. 7 OF 1919.

A Bill further to amend the Indian Electricity Act, 1910.

IX of 1910. WHEREAS it is expedient further to amend the Indian Electricity Act, 1910; It is hereby enacted as follows:—

Short title. 1. This Act may be called the Indian Electricity (Amendment) Act, 191 .

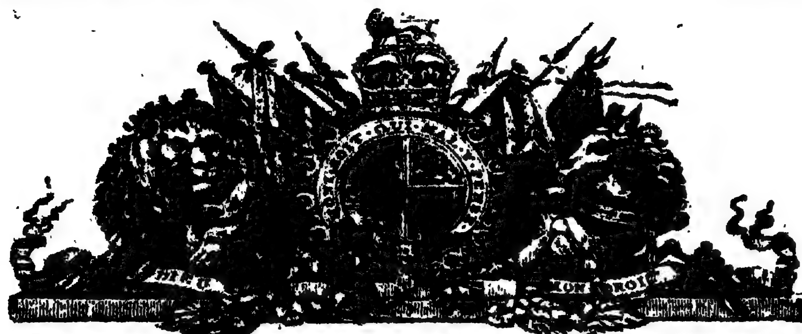
IX of 1910. Amendment of section 3, Act IX of 1910. 2. For clause (b) of sub-section (2) of section 3 of the Indian Electricity Act, 1910, the following shall be substituted, namely:—

"(b) Before granting a license under this Part, the Local Government shall consult every local authority concerned, and where such local authority advances any objection to the grant of a license, the Local Government shall take such objection into consideration, and, if in its opinion it is insufficient, it shall record in writing and communicate to such authority its reasons for such opinion:

Provided that, if such objection is based on a rival claim for such a license, the Local Government shall give preference to the application of the local authority unless there exist special circumstances which, in its opinion, render such preference inexpedient."

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

UNDER the old Indian Electricity Act, III of 1903, there was an obligation imposed on the Local Government to consult every local authority, as a preliminary measure, on the merits of an application from any person for a license. Under the new Act IX of 1910, this provision has been abolished, and a local authority is reduced to the position of a private individual, who is at liberty to raise objections against the draft application within the prescribed period. Formerly, a local authority had two opportunities of stating its case to the Local Government; now there is only one opportunity for it to raise a protest. The provisions of the old Act embodied in section 4 (1) (a) are, therefore, proposed to be enacted.



Secondly, a proviso is added that when a local authority puts up a rival claim for a license, it shall receive the first consideration inasmuch as it is the proper body entrusted with the interests of the residents of the local area. A joint stock company formed on business consideration ought to have a secondary claim for a license. A local authority has a right to purchase the undertaking under section 7 of the Act, after a certain prescribed period. It follows, therefore, as a natural corollary that if the said authority is willing and able to finance the scheme from its ordinary revenue, or by means of a loan to be raised under the Local Authorities Loans Act, there is no reason why a company of share-holders or another person should have the business from the beginning.

RESOLUTION ON THE SURVEY AND SETTLEMENT REPORTS FOR THE YEAR ENDING 30TH SEPTEMBER 1918.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT.

Land Revenue Branch.

CALCUTTA, THE 7TH MARCH 1919.

READ—

The Survey and Settlement Reports for the year ending 30th September 1918.

IN consequence of the policy enunciated by Government in the Resolution on the working of the Survey and Settlement Departments for the year 1916-17 that, although it was necessary to secure as much economy as possible during the war, it was, at the same time, incumbent on Government to provide continuous employment for the highly trained staff of the departments, survey operations were started in the year under review in the district of Nadia, and settlement operations resumed in the districts of Bankura and Jessore, in which operations had been postponed in 1915. On the other hand, in areas not under general settlement, that is to say, where district operations were not in progress, only summary resettlements of revenue extending the term of the previous settlements were made, unless a regular resettlement was likely to be immediately remunerative. In the same areas applications for the settlement of private estates were ordinarily refused, but for reasons other than economy. It is inexpedient from many points of view to deal with such estates piecemeal and preferable to wait for the advent of the district operations.

2. The main programme of traverse survey carried out by the Survey Department lay in the districts of Jessore, Nadia, Bankura and Burdwan, where an area of 2,134 square miles was dealt with by three survey parties, irrespective of 1,028 square miles in Jessore and Bankura where unidentified stations of the original traverse survey of 1914-15 were relaid. One survey party dealt with Jessore, where an area of 622 square miles falling in thanas Salkopa, Jhenida and Kaliganj, which now forms the second year's survey programme for the district, was traversed. The riverain tracts lying between the districts of Jessore and Faridpur on the east and Jessore and Khulna on the south, together with ten villages recently transferred from Jessore to Faridpur, were also traversed. Another survey party completed the traverse of 715 square miles in thanas Chakdah, Ranaghat, Santipur, Krishnagar, Nakashipara and Kaliganj in the district of Nadia. This is the survey programme for the first year in that district and excludes areas close to the Bhagirathi, where, in accordance with the ordinary procedure and because such areas are liable to change on account of fluvial action, the traverse survey is being undertaken this year, the same year as that of the cadastral or detailed survey of the area. The third survey party traversed portions of Bankura and Burdwan. The traverse survey of the Asansol subdivision in Burdwan, comprising 618 square miles, which had been subsequently included in the programme of work for the Bankura district with a view to the provision of up-to-date maps of the coal areas, was completed. In Bankura, 179 square miles in police-stations Saltora and Mejhia were surveyed. In these areas observations were also taken for the purpose of showing contour lines.

3. Comparative maps for 469 square miles of diara land falling between the districts of Rajshahi, Murshidabad and Malda were prepared. Miscellaneous work connected with the survey and mapping of Howrah and Cossipore-Chitpore Municipalities and isolated areas in various parts was also undertaken. Nearly a million and a half village maps were reproduced during the year by the Vandyke process. Some progress was also made in the production of jurisdiction maps. The Governor in Council hopes, now that a definite system for their preparation is in force, that adequate arrangements will be made to bring out these important maps as soon as it can be conveniently managed in conjunction with the different settlement officers.

4. Exclusive of ordinary students, three district kanungos and six candidates for such posts completed their course of training in the Government Survey School near Comilla. The number of students admitted into the school was 28 against 24 in the preceding year.

5. Seven major operations for cadastral survey and the preparation of a record-of-rights were in progress in Jessore, Bankura, Dacca, Mymensingh, Midnapore, Tippera and Noakhali, Rajshahi and the neighbouring riparian areas in Pabna, Malda, Nadia and Murshidabad. The area cadastrally surveyed was 2,517 square miles and preliminary records were written for 2,506 square miles, against 1,211 square miles in both cases for the previous year. Records were attested for 1,676 square miles and final records prepared for 3,142 square miles: the figures for last year were 1,891 and 3,468 square miles, respectively. In the minor operations in Hooghly, Howrah, 24-Parganas, Khulna, Murshidabad, Faridpur, Dinajpur and Malda the total outturn of cadastral survey and of final publication scarcely exceeded 18 and 57 square miles, respectively. A considerable amount of diara resumption and resettlement of land revenue was, however, accomplished in the course of these operations, both major and minor, mostly in Mymensingh, Rajshahi, Faridpur, Tippera and Noakhali. The total area of which a record-of-rights has now been completed in this Presidency is 30,203 square miles. This amounts to about 40 per cent. of the total area, exclusive of the large rivers of the Presidency. It comprises the whole of the Dacca Division, nearly the whole of the Chittagong Division, almost two districts in that of Rajshahi, practically one district in the Burdwan, but so far no district in the Presidency Division.

6. The three major operations in Dacca, Midnapore and Mymensingh had reached the closing stages, which are, ordinarily, recovery of costs, case-work—consisting mainly of the disposal of applications for the enhancement of rent under section 105, Bengal Tenancy Act—and the handing over of records to the Collector. Dacca was finished during the year under review with the disposal of the remaining applications for enhancement of rent. The Mymensingh settlement was nearly completed except for the disposal of a certain amount of case-work, some recovery and of resumption proceedings under Act IX of 1847, in particular, in the Jamuna diara for which special arrangements have been made: floods in Kishoreganj retarded recovery. Midnapore was mainly remarkable for the large number of applications for enhancement of rent. Though as many as 113,109 tenancies were dealt with, 71,163 were pending at the end of the year; this prevented the conclusion of the operations during the year.

7. The two major operations of Rajshahi and Tippera-Noakhali were in the intermediate stages. In Rajshahi, the records of the last and fifth block, comprising the diara areas of Malda and Murshidabad districts, were attested, objections were disposed of, and the final scrutiny completed. Case-work was in progress in the first block. Coercive measures for recovery were suspended in the areas where damage had been done by the abnormal floods in the Rajshahi Division.

Cadastral survey and stages up to the field-to-field verification of the map and the record were completed in all the remaining portions of Tippera district in thanas Muradnagar, Chanduria, Laksam, Comilla and Chauddagram. The progress of attestation was such that after the year's programme was finished it was found possible, with the assent of the landlords, to attest in advance of the programme the records of the area surveyed during the year. It is noteworthy that even in this settlement—previous accounts of which have tended to the conclusion that the raiyat in the districts of Tippera and Noakhali possesses an unusual power of looking after his own interests—illegal enhancements of rent on a large scale and impediments placed by landlords in the way of their tenants, when the latter were seeking to make improvements in the village water-supply, have now been discovered.

8. In the remaining two major operations of Jessore and Bankura, fresh ground has been broken by the Settlement Department. In Jessore, cadastral survey and initial record-writing were completed in 839 square miles, together with the field-to-field verification in 535 square miles, against a programme under both heads of 994 square miles. In the report satisfactory reasons have been given for the deficit, namely, the delay between the original traverse of 1914-15 and the cadastral operations of the year under review, the difficulty of replacing the lost traverse stations and the large number of plots and interests. The programme of the district has accordingly been changed under Government orders; and the traverse survey of the district will now be spread over four instead of three years altogether. In the preparation of the record other difficulties, it is reported, were also encountered. It is said that the system of land tenure in Magura thana contains many of the complications which made Faridpur the most difficult and expensive settlement yet encountered; that the people are litigious and that, therefore, much time was lost in examining bundles of Civil Court decrees which were placed into the hands of kanungos on the mere chance that they might help the case of the disputants who produced them; and that the shifting of rivers and khals was responsible for some of the most troublesome boundary disputes.

In Bankura, the whole of the first block of 971 square miles lying in the south of the district and comprised in thanas Raipur, Khatra, Simlapal and police-station Chhatna was finished up to the verification stage. Though the same necessity for the identification of the lost traverse stations of the year 1914-15 was experienced as in the case of Jessore, the circumstances were more favourable in that the country is undulating and not subject to floods, plots and interests were fewer, and the work is done under pleasanter conditions. The country comprised in the block is a continuation of the Chota Nagpur plateau and belongs to the "Jungle Mahals." The tenants are poor and conditions somewhat primitive. Produce rents are common and instances are not rare where a fowl or even a single vegetable has been recorded as the rent of an acre of land.

9. Except in Rajshahi and Midnapore expenditure has in all settlements been kept within the estimates. In Rajshahi, the excess is due to the large number of plots and interests, while in Midnapore, case-work, as distinguished from settlement work proper, is responsible for the excess reported. Nevertheless, in these settlements the net cost of the operations on account of larger receipts from court-fees, may be less than that estimated. The Governor in Council is satisfied that the financial aspect of all operations has been as steadily and jealously kept in view as in the past.

10. In paragraph 10 of last year's resolution a reference was made to the novel experiment started for the maintenance of the record-of-rights of the Fatehsingh estate belonging to the Nawab Bahadur of Murshidabad with the object of realizing arrears of rent by the certificate procedure. So far the experiment has worked smoothly and successfully. A similar scheme has been sanctioned for introduction in the Enaitpur Mahal of the Mathurapur estate in the district of Malda.

11. Survey and settlement records and maps continued to be utilised more and more in all revenue and administrative work as well as in criminal and civil matters. It is reported that district boards and municipalities and even village panchayats have not been behindhand in their use. Exclusive of copies issued on public service, over 9,000 copies of village maps and 1,000 copies of thana maps were sold. Printed records-of-rights to the extent of about four lakhs of copies were sold in addition to those freely distributed in the course of recovery of costs. These facts, in the opinion of the Governor in Council, leave little room for doubt as to the utility and popularity of the record-of-rights.

12. To the ordinary public the technical procedure of survey and settlement operations seems dry and uninteresting. With the object of making it more intelligible the Settlement Department has published, at a small price, a useful brochure entitled "Guide and Glossary to Survey and Settlement Records in Bengal," explaining in plain language the different stages of the operations together with the law involved. This was modelled on a similar publication prepared by Government in 1907 with reference to the practice in districts in Bihar.

13. His Excellency in Council regrets to have to record the death in France of Major J. C. Jack, D.S.O., M.C., from wounds received on active service. After being Assistant Settlement Officer of Bakarganj and Settlement Officer of that district and in Faridpur from 1902 onwards, he succeeded Mr. (now the Hon'ble Sir) N. D. Beatson Bell as Director of Land Records in 1912 and held charge of the department till he joined the Royal Artillery in England in 1914. He left an indelible mark on the morale and traditions of the department which he did so much to strengthen and consolidate. Unfortunately, there were several other deaths in the superior and intermediate ranks of the settlement staff, including that of Mr. S. Klingenstein, I.C.S., Settlement Officer of Jessore, during the year.

Mr. C. A. O'Donel was in charge of the Bengal Survey Department throughout the year and justified the promise he evinced when he succeeded Major Hirst. Mr. M. C. McAlpin, I.C.S., after 5½ years' efficient and tactful administration as Director of Land Records, severed his connection with the Settlement Department towards the close of the year. The Governor in Council has pleasure in acknowledging the good work done by Messrs. Sachse, Jameson, Nelson, Thompson and Pringle. The services of the other numerous officers whose names are mentioned in the concluding portions of the two reports will be noted.

ORDER.—Ordered that this Resolution be published in the Calcutta Gazette and that a copy of it, together with copies of the two reports, be submitted to the Government of India.

By order of the Governor in Council,

RESOLUTION ON THE RECOMMENDATIONS OF THE PUBLIC SERVICES COMMISSION REGARDING THE INDIAN CIVIL SERVICE.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL.

APPOINTMENT DEPARTMENT.

CALCUTTA, THE 10TH MARCH 1919.

RESOLUTION—No. 1645A.

READ—

(1) Report of the Royal Commission on the Public Services in India.

(2) Report on Indian Constitutional Reforms.

THE Governor in Council has under consideration the recommendations of the Public Services Commission relating to the Indian Civil Service which are contained in annexure X to the Commissioners' Report, and this resolution is published in order to give the public interested in the subject an opportunity of expressing their views on the various issues involved. The leading points that call for consideration are indicated below.

2. Organisation.—In paragraph 26 of their report the Commission have recommended the maintenance of the existing organisation of the civil services into a higher (Indian) and a lower (Provincial) service. The division is based on the work for the performance of which the two services are recruited, and not on any artificial distinction; the evidence recorded by the Commission disclosed no desire for any change; and Mr. Abdur Rahim, while favouring in principle the institution of a common list for purposes of promotion, accepted the conclusion that in the civil services such a list was impracticable.

The Commissioners remark that the Indian Civil Service occupies a unique position among the services in India in that its constitution is derived from various enactments of the Imperial Parliament. These enactments have been consolidated by the Government of India Act, 1915, and substantive additions to the statutory provisions affecting the service have been made by the amending Act of 1916. In the opinion of the majority of the Commission, the statutory recognition and protection of the service should be continued. Mr. Abdur Rahim dissents from this view. He argues that the "policy should be to retain a free hand for the authorities" and that the statutes should be revised with that object. His recommendation is tantamount to proposing the repeal of section 98 of, and Schedule III to, the Government of India Act, 1915, and, with the repeal of these provisions, the need for maintaining sections 99 and 100 of the Act would disappear.

The Indian Civil Service, strictly speaking, comprises only that body of civil servants which is recruited in accordance with the provisions of the Government of India Act of 1858 (reproduced in section 97 of the Government of India Act, 1915), for whom certain appointments have been reserved, principally in the older or so-called regulation provinces. The Commission draw attention to the fact that the schedule of appointments reserved for members of the Indian Civil Service is out of date and that it is anomalous that the statute should apply only to certain of the major provinces. They also feel that the power to admit Indians under section 99 of the Government of India Act, 1915, only to certain offices in the service, as distinguished from the service itself, is too restricted. They, therefore, recommend—

(i) that the statute of 1861 be made applicable to the whole of India and that its schedule be revised so as to include those appointments which they recommend should be regarded as Indian Civil Service posts;

(ii) that such further legislation should be undertaken as will, without disturbing the power conferred by the statute of 1870, make it possible to admit Indians to the Civil Service itself on exactly the same terms as the officers who have hitherto been recruited in London ; and

(iii) that other officers appointed to fill Indian Civil Service posts, though not admitted to the Civil Service itself, should none the less take rank with Civil Service officers from the date of their appointment, and should be eligible with them for all posts in the Civil Service cadre on their merits.

3. The first recommendation involves an amendment of the third schedule to the Government of India Act, 1915, so as to include in it all posts which should be regarded as reserved for the Indian Civil Service, without any distinction between regulation and non-regulation provinces. The Commission have not clearly indicated what appointments they recommend should be regarded as so reserved, but their intention appears to be that, after the various changes which they recommend have been made in the superior cadres, the schedule should be revised as to correspond with the facts then existing. The recommendation will involve the removal from the schedule of all the posts now included in it which are classed as inferior, as well as of any other posts which may, as the result of the consideration of the report, be so treated in future.

4. It remains to be decided what appointments should be regarded as superior. The present definition of a superior post as one carrying pay in excess of Rs. 1,000 a month was condemned by Mr. Abdur Rahim as unsound and was also criticised in the Imperial Legislative Council in March last during the discussion of the Hon'ble Mr. Srinivasa Sastri's resolution deprecating any increase in the cadre of the Indian Civil Service. The present line of demarcation is purely arbitrary and the Commission clearly contemplate that the term "superior posts" should be held to include only those posts of which the incumbents perform duties of independent responsibility and control. Mr. Abdur Rahim has interpreted this definition as including only collectorships, district and sessions judgeships and other posts of a like or a higher status, and, in Schedule I to his minute, he has indicated 83 posts, now classed as superior, which ought, in his opinion, to be treated as inferior.

5. The Commission's second recommendation regarding legislation involves various technical questions which need not be considered pending a decision on the methods to be adopted for increasing the recruitment of Indians, a matter which is further discussed in a later part of this resolution. An important departure is contemplated in their third recommendation that officers promoted to fill Indian Civil Service posts should take rank with Indian Civil Service officers from the date of their promotion and should be eligible with them for all posts on the Indian Civil Service cadre on their merits. The Commission deprecate the present system of promotion whereby an officer in the lower service is eligible for appointment only to a restricted class of posts in the higher service. They describe it as indefensible in principle and also point out the practical danger that, with the lower status, a lower standard may be established, and that individuals may be promoted, not so much on the ground of marked capacity as on that of general merit combined with seniority. They therefore recommend that promoted officers should in future be given the same opportunities as officers who have been directly recruited.

6. Recruitment.—The sole channel of entry to the Indian Civil Service is at present the competitive examination held in London under section 97 of the Government of India Act, 1915, which reproduces the provisions of section 32 of the Government of India Act, 1858. The examination is open to all natural-born British subjects : but the Commission were of the opinion that it had not provided a sufficient number of Indians for the service and that some supplementary system of recruitment was required. They recommend that the present competitive system should be retained and that the London examination should remain the main channel of entry to the service. It is, however, inevitable that Indians should be placed at a disadvantage in the competition with Europeans owing to the expense in which they are involved in going to England to prepare and sit for the examination in London; and it may, therefore, be necessary to look to other means to secure any considerable extension of the employment of Indians in the higher posts in the administration. The practical questions which remain for examination and decision are what the percentage of recruitment in India should be and how that percentage should be obtained.

7. The Commission take the view that the nature of British responsibility for the good governance of India requires the employment in the higher ranks of the Indian Civil Service of a preponderating proportion of British officers; and on this hypothesis they propose that provision should be made for a minimum of 25 per cent. of Indians in the superior posts of the service. This percentage they intend should include all appointments made by the promotion of officers from the Provincial Services, as well as direct appointments to superior judicial posts from the Bar, but should be exclusive of the number of Indians who may be successful at the competitive examination in London. The Commission's proposal in this matter has been received with some dissatisfaction and has been adversely criticised in the Imperial Legislative Council. Much of the criticism to which the proposal has been subjected is due to misapprehension of the Commission's intention. It is assumed that the percentage recommended is a maximum, whereas the Commission definitely state that it is a minimum, and they intend that the figure should be revised every five years in the light of the strength of the service for the time being and of the general working of the arrangement. The Commission's recommendation that the percentage of Indian recruitment should be based on the number of superior posts, and not on the whole cadre of the service, has also been misunderstood. It is true that a given percentage of the superior cadre yields a somewhat smaller percentage of the whole cadre; but the cadre for which recruitment is made, and which alone can be regarded as the proper basis of calculation, consists of superior posts only, and the size of the inferior cadre is purely dependent on the number of such posts. While, therefore, it is relevant to consider how the whole cadre will be affected, the sound method of calculation seems to be that proposed by the Commission. In principle, their proposal is in consonance with the view expressed by His Excellency the Viceroy and the Secretary of State in paragraph 316 of their Report on Indian Constitutional Reforms, that, while it may not be possible to dispense with training in Europe for some of the principal services, the present system of recruitment in England should be supplemented by fixing a definite percentage of recruitment to be made in India. They have recommended that recruitment for 33 per cent. of the superior posts should be made from Indians, and that this percentage should be increased by 1½ per cent. annually until the periodic Commission is appointed which will re-examine the whole subject.

8. Of the methods by which recruitment in Europe may be supplemented by recruitment in India, the one which finds most favour among Indians is that of simultaneous examinations in England and India, conducted in both cases by the Civil Service Commissioners, with the same examination papers and a common list embodying the results. The demand for simultaneous examinations has a long history into which it is not now proposed to enter. Various objections to the system are fully explained in the report of the Commission on the Public Services, and it is desirable, to examine other methods of increasing the recruitment of Indians.

9. Possible methods of recruitment in India are—

(i) an increase in the number of listed posts;
(ii) nomination; and
(iii) a separate examination.

The Commission have recommended a reduction in the number of listed appointments open to members of the Provincial Services, chiefly on the ground that officers selected for these posts enjoy only an inferior status and that they are promoted so late in their career that they are practically excluded from any chance of rising to the higher judicial and administrative appointments. The general force of these arguments will be recognised, but it is for consideration whether it would not be wiser for the present to defer the reduction proposed by the Commission. Several years must elapse before officers recruited at the foot of the cadre can attain to positions of trust and responsibility; and if Indians are to be placed in responsible offices in the near future, the maintenance of the present arrangements will for some years be necessary. It may even be found desirable, as a temporary arrangement, where suitable officers are available, to increase the number of listed posts, due regard being paid to the vested interests of officers already in the higher service.

10. The Public Services Commission of 1886-87 contemplated that one quarter of the listed posts would be filled by Indians who were not members of the Provincial Services, but in practice very few such appointments have been made. A source of recruitment for these appointments which has been indicated is the Bar. The Commission recommend that, in the first instance, forty posts of district and sessions judge should be filled from the Bar as soon as the present vested interests in them have been met. In their discussion of recruitment from the Bar, the Commission have not stated clearly what they had in mind in using this expression, but it seems doubtful whether they intended to confine recruitment to Barristers-at-Law, and in any case the question whether this new avenue to Government service should be thrown open to other branches of the legal profession deserves consideration.

11. It is necessary next to consider the means by which more Indians can be admitted in India to the service itself, as distinct from specified appointments in the service, on equal terms with officers recruited in England. The Commission recommended that direct recruitment should be made in India for 108 superior posts, and they calculated that this would permit the recruitment of nine officers a year. The Commission appear to have overlooked the fact that annual recruitment depends on the fluctuating annual strength of the cadre and that it may be affected by changes in the ratio fixed for leave and training reserve. The number of posts to be thrown open to direct recruitment in India will also have to be considered in the light of the decisions which may be reached in regard both to the percentage of Indian employment in the service and to the extent to which superior posts in the service should be allotted to officers promoted from the Provincial Services and to recruits from the Bar. When these questions are decided, the number of appointments to be offered annually in India will be a simple matter of calculation. The question for immediate consideration is the principle on which these appointments should be made. The Commission have examined this question in paragraph 19 of annexure X to the report, and have arrived at the conclusion that the balance of advantage lies in admitting the principle of open competition, subject to certain safeguards and reservations. They accordingly recommend that a separate examination should be conducted in India by the Civil Service Commissioners, and that recruitment through this examination should be supplemented by the nomination of a limited number of candidates, to give representation to young men of good family who are not intellectually quite in the front rank.

12. The safeguards proposed by the Commission are two in number. The more important of them is that a committee should be appointed for the area served by each university, to scrutinise the educational and other qualifications of the would be candidates and to advise the local Government as to who should be allowed to sit for the examination. To limit the total number of candidates and to afford an equal chance to the young men in each area, they suggest that twenty places should be allotted to each of the five existing universities. Should it be found that the successful candidates are coming too markedly from one particular area, they suggest, though reluctantly, that the examination should be held by groups of areas in rotation. The selection of university areas as the units from which a fixed number of candidates should be nominated for admission to the examination is open to practical objections and also to the criticism that it involves a definite departure from the principle of open competition.

13. The object in view is to secure three results: (1) that the candidates should be physically and morally as well as intellectually suitable for employment in the service; (2) that the posts should be distributed as evenly as possible among the different provinces and communities; and (3) that the number of candidates shoud be kept within reasonable limits. The first of these objects could be attained by adapting to Indian conditions the rules framed by the Secretary of State under section 97 of the Government of India Act, 1915, prescribing the qualifications to be required of candidates for admission to the service. It might be found expedient to constitute provincial committees to assist the Civil Service Commissioners by making such enquiries as to the character and antecedents of the candidates as the Commissioners deemed necessary; but such enquiries would be limited to determining whether the applicants satisfied the conditions laid down in the rules and would not extend to any comparison of their respective merits. As to the second object, the superiority in educational calibre of certain provinces is bound to make itself felt in any system that is dependent on competition. It is problematical whether the limitation the Commission propose to place on the number of candidates from each university would have any appreciable effect in reducing this disparity, and it is clearly undesirable to impose any limitations, unless these can be relied on to secure the object in view. As a means of limiting the number of candidates appearing for examination, the Commission propose that candidates should be required to possess the B.A. degree, or its equivalent. If the possession of an Honours degree were made an essential qualification, it would probably be unnecessary to impose further restrictions. Such a condition might have the effect of excluding from the competition many candidates who were generally well qualified for admission to the service, but such men would have little or no chance in any case of succeeding in the examination, and their interests would best be safeguarded by a supplementary system of nomination such as the Commission proposed. The whole problem of adapting the competitive system to present Indian conditions is in fact beset with difficulties, and the foregoing remarks are merely designed to invite attention to possible points.

14. The Commission further propose that, in order to secure for the various provinces and communities fair representation in the services, two candidates should be nominated each year by the Secretary of State, on the advice of the Government of India, from amongst graduates of the various universities, of an age similar to that of the competitors at the examination. It is desirable to limit the number of such appointments, in order not to prejudice the success of the experiment of a separate examination; but the Commission's suggestion that the number should be limited to two a year is clearly dependent on the assumption that the total number of direct appointments made annually in India will be nine. If effect is given to the recommendation of His Excellency the Viceroy and Secretary of State the number of such appointments will be greater than was contemplated by the Commission, and it will increase progressively from year to year. To render the power of nomination an effective safeguard against the monopolisation of the service by particular races and castes, it will be advisable, therefore, to provide for a similar progressive increase in the number of direct nominations. This method of appointment would in any case be purely permissive; and the extent to which it should be used could best be determined by the results of the competitive examination.

15. Systems of Examination.—The most important of the Commission's recommendations in regard to the conditions of the competitive examination in England is their proposal to fix the age for competition at 17—19. This recommendation has been strongly criticised both by Indians and by the educational authorities in the United Kingdom. It is evident that advantages and disadvantages attach to both the high and the low age limits; but it must be remembered that the latter were tried from 1878 to 1891 and were then deliberately and after long consideration discarded. The most substantial ground on which the Commission base their proposal is the admitted inadequacy of a course of probation extending over only one year to enable officers to go out to India trained in the law which they will be called on to administer in the languages which they will be required to talk, and in the history and habits of the people whose interests will be entrusted to their care. They have considered the possibility of extending the probationary period to two years, but have arrived at the conclusion that, in view of what is required of an officer of the service under modern conditions, nothing short of a three years' course is likely to be effective. Assuming, therefore, that recruitment must take place either at the school-leaving or at the graduation age, they have decided in favour of the former on the ground that it is undesirable to bring recruits out to India older than they are at present.

16. One objection which is urged to a reduction in the age limits for the examination in England is the fact that candidates recruited through examination in India would enter the service appreciably older than their colleagues appointed in England. The Commission have considered this objection solely with regard to its bearing on the arrangements proposed for the probationary course. It has, however, to be remembered that an Indian on the average ages sooner than an European : and a difference in the age of recruitment would probably operate as a handicap on Indians later in their service. The expediency of having a common age for all entrants to the service cannot, therefore, be ignored. The medical evidence before the Commission indicated that, while it was undesirable for men to go out to India before the age of 22, it was a matter of indifference at what age they went out between 22 and 25. On medical grounds, therefore, the age at which recruits now arrive in India does not seem to be too high, although it might be inadvisible to increase it. It would secure an extra year for probationary training with the minimum of disturbance of existing conditions both in this country and in England, if the examination age were reduced by approximately one year, the limit being fixed at 21—23, either on the first day of the examination, or, as was the case prior to 1906, on the 1st of the preceding January.

17. If the conclusion be accepted that the examination in England should be held at the graduation age, it is unnecessary to consider in detail the Commission's proposals for the revision of the existing scheme of the examination. The syllabus will be drawn up largely with reference to the requirements of higher education in England and will continue to be a test of general rather than specialised ability and education. The main question for consideration in the present connection is what modifications in the scheme should be demanded in the interests of Indian candidates. It is evident that candidates who have received their education in India must be at a disadvantage in any examination designed to test the results of English public school and university education as a whole ; and the only means of diminishing this handicap is the inclusion in the syllabus of the examination of subjects which are specially studied in Indian schools and universities. Sanskrit and Arabic have been included in the syllabus of the open competitive examination since the year 1855, and they are at present marked higher than any modern European language, though not so high as Greek or Latin. The Commission have not included these subjects in their draft scheme, presumably because they do not form part of the existing curricula of English schools. In March last, the Government of India, while reserving to themselves the right of making a further examination of the question, accepted a resolution moved in the Indian Legislative Council by the Hon'ble Mr. Srinivasa Sastri, recommending the inclusion among the subjects of examination, not only of Sanskrit and Arabic, but also of Persian, and Indian History. The inclusion of Sanskrit and Arabic presents no serious difficulty ; they are included in the existing syllabus ; and the standard of examination in them, if not now on the same level as that of the examination in Greek and Latin, could almost certainly be raised to the necessary standard. Persian is a living language with an extensive literature, and it should be possible to frame an examination in it on the same lines and up to the same standard as in modern European languages. The advisability of including Indian history as a subject in the competitive examination is open to doubt. It is a compulsory subject in the existing final examination; and the Commission are emphatically of opinion that all civil servants should have a grasp of Indian history in the widest sense of that term. If candidates were allowed to offer the subject in the competitive examination, those who availed themselves of the opportunity would have an undue advantage over other probationers in the final examination.

18. As regards the separate examination to be held in India, the Commission recommend that the Civil Service Commissioners, in consultation with the educational authorities in India, should devise a scheme having the same relation to the Indian educational courses as the examination in England will, under their scheme, bear to the education given in the British secondary schools. The question will have to be further examined by experts, but if the range of subjects included in the examination in England is wide enough to be adapted to all varieties of university education, there should be no insuperable difficulty in instituting an examination on similar lines in India.

19. Probation and Training.—The Commission recommended that the probationary course should provide both for the completion of a liberal education and for specific training for work in India. The age limits suggested by the Commission have been discussed above. If, as suggested, they are raised so as to enable candidates to proceed to a degree before competing, it would seem unnecessary to extend the period of probation beyond two years. The subjects of study proposed by the Commission may next be considered.

20. A sound legal training may be regarded as essential. Almost from the moment of his arrival in India the young Civilian is required to apply an elaborate system of codified law to actual facts which come before him in his capacity as a Magistrate; it is essential that his executive actions should be in accordance with legal methods, and he is frequently confronted with an experienced and highly trained Bar possessing a specialised knowledge of the law which he is required to administer. The only training which he receives under the present system to equip himself to meet these conditions consists in studying the Indian Penal Code, the Code of Criminal Procedure and the Indian Evidence Act, which, it may be argued, is inadequate. A possible remedy is to be found in reverting to the system which obtained prior to 1892, under which the probationer was required, not only to make a close study of general jurisprudence, but also to acquire practical experience of procedure by attending the Courts in England and reporting cases.

21. The Commission's recommendation that the course of law prescribed should approximate to the honours school curriculum in the subject is probably dictated at least in part by the necessity, under their scheme, of framing for the probationers an honours course to which the universities would attach a degree. It is not known how far the existing courses would supply the special requirements of the Indian Civil Service candidate, but there are obvious advantages in utilising the ordinary facilities afforded by the universities, wherever these are suitable. The Commission also consider it desirable that probationers should get called to the Bar, and make special recommendations calculated to encourage them to do so. If, however, the probationers remain in England for only two years they will be unable to obtain a call, unless they have been admitted to one of the Inns before their selection. The actual call is, however, of no great importance in itself, and what is required is to provide suitable opportunities for legal study during the period of probation and to give probationers inducements to take the fullest advantage of them.

22. Next in importance to the study of law is the study of the principal vernacular of the province to which the probationer is assigned. It is difficult to over-rate the practical value of a good, and not merely a colloquial, knowledge of the vernacular, and this will rarely be acquired unless the literary grounding is supplied in England. The Commission's recommendation that Indians posted to a province, the language of which is their mother-tongue, or is derived from the same stock as their mother tongue, should take in its place a modern European language, has not the same practical arguments to support it. The suggestions, however, put forward by Mr. Abdur Rahim in paragraph 70 of his minute that Indian candidates should study economics, European history, constitutional law, the growth and working of municipalities, county councils and other similar institutions deserve consideration. There will no doubt be difficulty in equating dissimilar subjects; but this difficulty should not prove insurmountable. Similar considerations affect the Commission's recommendation that every probationer should be taught the elements of the classical language to which the principal vernacular language of his province is most closely allied. Apart from the study of law, which must be compulsory for all, there is much to be said in favour of varying the course to meet the requirements of probationers with reference both to their previous education and to the conditions of the province to which they are to be assigned.

23. Indian History, if not included in the syllabus of the open competition, should certainly be compulsory for all candidates, and its study should, as indicated by the Commission, be both wide and thorough, embracing the constitution and the development of the administration, Indian ethnology and religions, and the origin and growth of the various social systems. It is further suggested that the subject of Political Economy should be made compulsory for all candidates. It was included in the syllabus prior to 1892, and there can be no doubt as to the value of a proper grounding in the science to officers employed in the administrative and executive branches of the service.

24. The benefits of university residence, which are admitted on all hands, lead the Commission to deprecate the creation of a special institution for the training of probationers. This view, in practice, will necessitate a selection of universities, and it is evident that only those universities would be approved, which can satisfy the Civil Service Commissioners of their ability to provide adequate instruction. It would not, however, be necessary to insist on their providing a special degree course.

25. An important point for consideration is the method by which the seniority of the candidates should be determined. If some of the candidates are recruited by examination in England and others by a separate examination in India, while yet a third class may be appointed direct without examination, a feasible plan would to be to revert to the system which obtained prior to 1892, under which there was a final examination, supplemented by periodical tests, including the reporting of cases. It has accordingly been suggested that the seniority of the candidates should be decided by the marks obtained by them in the final examination and in the reporting of cases, and that a high value should be attached to the latter.

26. The Commission's recommendations in regard to the general training of recruits in India involve no great departure from existing practice. It will, however, be desirable to make the departmental examinations more practical, particularly if officers, while in England, have received a good grounding in principles in the course of their legal studies while on probation. The test of proficiency most required is one which will be limited to an examination of a man's ability, with the acts and rules at his disposal, readily to find the law governing a particular case and to apply it intelligently.

27. While, however, the proposed change in the period and character of the probationary training of the recruits may be expected to provide a remedy for the present legal deficiencies of executive officers, it will still, as indicated by the Commission, be necessary to provide additional facilities for training in law for those officers who elect or are selected for the judicial branch. One of the most important questions in this connection is the period of service at which bifurcation between the executive and judicial branches should take place. The problem is a complicated one, but the Commission's recommendation is that the separation should be effected as soon as possible after the completion of the fourth, and, at latest, before the completion of the sixth, year of service.

28. For the subsequent training of officers who elect the judicial branch the Commission approve the existing arrangements, under which a certain number of officers of not less than five years' service are employed on civil judicial work for a period of about eighteen months. It is possible that many of the recruits who come out after two years' probation will have at any rate obtained the qualifications for a call to the Bar. To those who have not inducements may still with advantage be offered to undertake these courses of study later in their service. It is suggested that reading for examinations and attendance at lectures alone are insufficient to give an insight into the practical administration of law, and, although recruits under the proposed scheme will have acquired some knowledge of procedure by attending the Courts during their period of probation, they will still be able to profit greatly by reading in the chambers of a barrister.

29. Salary.—As regards the emoluments of the service, the Commission were satisfied that the rates of salary fixed for the superior posts in the most recently reorganized cadres were adequate in view, firstly, of the lower age at which, if their recommendations were accepted, officers would in future be appointed, and secondly, of the concessions which they recommended in the matter of leave and pension. They have, therefore, kept the range of the salaries for these posts much as at present, with the addition of exchange compensation allowance, making only such changes as are necessary to secure approximate equality of prospects as between one province and another. They recognize, however, that the graded system on which officers of the service are now paid is generally unsuitable, since, owing to blocks in promotion, legitimate expectations are in practice often disappointed. They accordingly recommend the introduction of an incremental scale of salaries on the compartment system.

30. The incremental system which the Commission advocate is framed to meet the conditions of the service, under which officers discharge for a number of years duties of minor importance, and are then promoted to charges of major responsibility, which constitute the real work of the service. Separate scales of pay are accordingly fixed for officers employed on each of these classes of duties; and it is laid down that an officer shall not be remunerated on the higher scale unless (1) he is declared fit for the more important work; and (2) a vacancy occurs in which he can be placed. The defect of the system is that, when promotion is retarded, an officer may receive no increments at all for an indefinite period, and the penalty often does not cease when he is promoted to the higher scale, but continues for the rest of his service, because he starts on the minimum of the higher scale, and until he reaches the maximum he is always drawing less than he has a reasonable claim to expect. On the other hand, if promotion is accelerated, an officer is promoted to the higher scale sooner than would normally be the case and attains the maximum too soon. The two factors to be taken into account in determining what is a fair rate of remuneration for an officer in a service constituted like the Indian Civil Service are: (1) the nature of the work he has to do; and (2) his seniority in the service. To give due recognition to both these factors, His Excellency the Viceroy and the Secretary of State have recommended in paragraph 319 of their Report that the inferior incremental scale should be continued until the superior post is actually attained, and that the higher responsibity of the superior post should be marked by the grant of an additional allowance over and above the time scale. Effect could be given to this recommendation by providing that there should be two overlapping scales of pay, the lower for the officer doing inferior work, and the higher for the officer doing superior work, so designed that the difference between the lower and the higher scales would be a constant figure. The following table will serve to illustrate this proposal :—

Year of service.			Inferior scale.	Superior scale.
1	...	...	450	......
2	...	...	500	......
3	...	...	600	......
4	...	...	650	950
5	...	...	700	1,000
6	...	..	750	1,050
7	...	...	850	1,150
8	...	...	900	1,200
9		...	1,000	1 300
10	...	..	1,100	1,400
11	...	...	1,200	1,500
12	...	...	1,300	1,600
13	...	...	1,300	1,600
14	...	...	1,400	1,700
15	...	...	1,500	1,800
16	...	...	1,600	1,900
17	...	...	1,700	2,000
18	...	...	1,800	2,100
19	...	...	1,900	2,200
20	...	...	2,000	2,300
21	...	...	2,100	2,400

The figures are given solely for the purposes of illustration and opinion on them is invited. The inferior scale should be subject to some maximum, it may be advisable to fix a minimum for the superior scale, since an officer placed in charge of a district has to incur a certain minimum expenditure in order to maintain his position.

The merits of the scheme are—

(1) that it does away with all complications in the rules regarding acting allowances and progressive pay. An officer holding an inferior appointment will draw pay according to the inferior scale, subject to an efficiency bar, which might, as suggested by the Commission, be placed at Rs. 900 a month. An officer holding a superior appointment will draw pay according to the superior scale up to the point at which selection outweighs seniority ;

(2) that it equalises as far as possible the prospects of officers of the service in different provinces and at different times ; and

(3) that an officer will never lose more than Rs. 300 a month owing to the slowness of promotion. When he is promoted, he will be restored to the pay to which he would have attained had promotion been normal.

31. For the highly paid appointments in all provinces above the grades of collector and district judge the Commission have recommended the maintenance of the existing rates of salary with the addition of exchange compensation allowance, subject only to such slight modifications as are necessary to obtain round figures. Exchange compensation allowance must for the present be left out of account, and the main question for consideration is whether the pay of any of the higher posts requires revision.

32. There remains the question of the salaries to be paid to Indians. The Commission recommend that those who join the service through the door of the open competitive examination in London, or who are directly appointed in India, and go to Europe for the probationary course, should receive the same pay as their European colleagues, and that the same rates should apply to officers recruited from the Bar ; other officers, that is, in the main, officers promoted from the provincial services, should receive incremental salaries at rates lower than those fixed for members of the Indian Civil Service until they are selected to fill posts higher in rank than that of a collector or of a district and sessions judge, 2nd grade. Equality has always prevailed as between European and Indian members of the service who have passed the open competitive examination in London, and the Commission's reasons for recommending the extension of the principle to officers directly recruited in India are doubtless those set forth in paragraph 57 of the report, namely, that it is illogical to treat statutory natives of India who are recruited in England differently from those who are recruited in India, and that such a policy must tend to retard the development of Indian education. They have assigned no reasons for their proposal to give higher pay to officers recruited from the Bar than to officers promoted from the provincial services; but some justification for the proposal may be found in the necessity of offering substantial attractions to successful members of the legal profession.

33. The principle enunciated by His Excellency the Viceroy and the Secretary of State in paragraph 322 of their report is that the standard scales of pay for all services should be those appropriate to Indians recruited in India, sufficient to attract the best men available and to give them an income appropriate to their position. To persons recruited by reason of special qualifications obtained in Europe an extra allowance should be given, to compensate them for the drawbacks and expenses of expatriation. The application of this principle to the Civil Service will present peculiar difficulties owing to the number of sources from which recruitment will be made. The principle that Indians recruited in Europe should receive the same rates as Europeans is ordinarily defended not only on the ground of the expense to which they have been put in obtaining an European education, but also because only those Indians will be successful who by every practicable test satisfy conditions designed to obtain the best class of Englishmen. While, however, lower rates may suffice to attract suitable candidates in India, it is at least possible that a differentiation in pay will be taken to indicate a difference of status and will give rise to soreness and dissatisfaction. Further a scale of salaries which in the aggregate offered sufficiently good prospects to a young man who had not yet entered any profession might be wholly insufficient to induce a capable lawyer to accept a judicial appointment. The rates of remuneration proposed by the Commission for promoted officers of the provincial service are slightly higher than those now in force for executive officers, but involve a diminution in the prospects of judicial officers in certain provinces.

34. Leave.—In the matter of leave, the Commission recommend the continuance of the present arrangements under which officers of the Indian Civil Service are subject to the general European service leave rules. The question of the revision of these rules is under separate consideration. So far as officers recruited in Europe are concerned, the Commission's recommendation seems suitable. The application of the European rules to officers directly recruited by examination or otherwise in India, is consistent with the general principles formulated in paragraph 78 of the Report, provided that the principle of equality of pay is also accepted. It appears to be unnecessary to prescribe special leave rules for judges recruited from the Bar, as they can appropriately be brought under the Indian rules It seems likely that judges recruited from the Bar will join the service at a comparatively advanced age, and the question of prescribing special pension rules for these recruits will probably have to be considered.

35. Pensions.—The Commission have considered the possibility of applying to the Indian Civil Service, with suitable modification, the general pensionary rules obtaining in other departments of Government service. They have not elaborated any definite scheme, but suggest that the scale might be fixed in eightieths instead of sixtieths, with higher maxima and special additional pensions for officers who retire after holding appointments above the rank of collector or of district and sessions judge, 2nd grade. While they express the belief that a scheme on these lines would be in the interests of the service, they admit that the evidence before them did not disclose any desire on the part of the service to give up its annuity system. It may be contended that if the Indian Civil Service is to come under the ordinary rules at all, it must do so for all purposes; and, in particular, it must surrender the privilege of obtaining the full retiring pension after 25 years' service.

36. It has been suggested both by the Commission and by His Excellency the Viceroy and the Secretary of State that the pensions of officers of the Indian Civil Service should be free of contribution, and that the 4 per cent. contributions of each individual officer should be funded for his benefit. While it is universally known that its members receive a pension of £1,000 a year, it is rarely known outside the service itself that they contribute towards it 4 per cent. of their pay throughout their service. This contribution was originally calculated to produce one-half of the pension. Before the war it was estimated that it produced only about one quarter; but, with the rise in the rate of exchange and in the rates of interest on public funds, the proportion will be considerably increased, and the amount of the pension paid by the State correspondingly diminished. This consideration affords additional support to the proposal of the Commission. The most important consideration in arriving at a decision on this question is whether the proposed concession is necessary in order to secure suitable candidates for the service in future.

37. The adequacy of the scale of invalid annuities is a subject which has frequently engaged the attention of the authorities. The scale was last revised in 1905; and the increase in the rates which was then sanctioned went some way towards relieving the hardships of officers compelled to retire on medical grounds before completing their service for annuity, particularly by raising the maximum from £450 to £700 a year. The Commission are of opinion that these rates are sufficiently liberal. There is, however, a disproportion between the full annuity and the pension admissible to an officer who is invalided after a period, and it is invalid retirements at the later stages that deserve consideration. The result of a ruling which penalises a small deficiency of service by a wholly disproportionate reduction of pension is that officers whose health has broken down struggle to the utmost to complete their full term of service; and it is not to the advantage of the State to offer strong inducements to a broken-down officer to remain in the service solely for the sake of securing his full pension. While, therefore, the existing scale may suitably be maintained for officers retiring with 19 years' or less service, the following scale has been suggested for service of 20 years and upwards:—

After 20 years' completed service	...	...	550
,, 21 ,, ,, ,,	...	...	610
,, 22 ,, ,, ,,	...	...	670
,, 23 ,, ,, ,,	...	...	730
,, 24 ,, ,, ,,	...	...	790
,, 25 ,, ,,	...	...	850

(of which less than 21 have been active service).

38. It is requested that any remarks or criticisms which any person or body of persons interested may desire to offer may be forwarded to the Chief Secretary to the Government of Bengal not later than the 30th April 1919, and it would materially facilitate their subsequent consideration of the different points involved were (to the extent to which comment upon them is contemplated) dealt with in the same order as is followed in this resolution and with reference to its paragraphs.

ORDER.—Ordered that a copy of the resolution be published in the Calcutta Gazette for general information.

By order of the Governor in Council,

J. H. KERR.

Chief Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

RESOLUTION ON THE REPORT ON PUBLIC INSTRUCTION IN BENGAL FOR 1917-18.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL.

GENERAL DEPARTMENT.

Education.

CALCUTTA, THE 10TH MARCH 1919.

RESOLUTION—No. 426Edn.

READ—

The Report on Public Instruction in Bengal for 1917-18.

THE work of the Education Department during the year under review suffered from the exigencies imposed by the war, the consequent restriction of expenditure and the paucity of superior staff. Altogether two-fifths of the European officers of the Indian Educational Service have been detached for duty in the Indian Army Reserve of Officers, in addition to officers on deputation to the Government of India or the University of Calcutta.

The growing demand for education among the people of Bengal and the natural growth of the population led to an increase in the number of educational institutions by over 2,500 and to an addition of 46,000 in the number of scholars. Nearly 2 millions were in various stages of education, there being approximately 1 girl at school to every 5 boys. The total expenditure on education amounted to nearly 255 lakhs, of which 82½ lakhs were contributed direct by Government, 14⅓ lakhs came from the funds of local bodies (nearly 11⅓ lakhs consisting of grants placed at their disposal by Government), 114 lakhs were derived from fees, and 44 lakhs were obtained from endowments, subscriptions and other sources. The expenditure on different branches of education is shown in the following statement, together with the number of scholars in the different classes of educational institutions :—

2. Collegiate education.—Owing to the establishment of the Carmichael College at Rangpur, the number of arts colleges in Bengal increased to 34, or one-fourth of the total number in British India ; and there is a persistent demand for the creation of more. Some colleges have already more students than several of the British universities. The Ripon College, for instance, had 1,874 students in the year under review, the Vidyasagar College 1847, the City College 1,683, and the Bangabasi College 1,447. The Government colleges had more modest numbers, but the Presidency College had 1035 on its rolls ; the Dacca College, with 943 students, reached the limits of possible expansion, and there were 786 students on the rolls of the Rajshahi College. The average number in private colleges was nearly 500 and rose to over 900 in Calcutta. The concentration of students in Calcutta is as noticeable as ever, the number on the rolls of colleges of all kinds being 2,375 more than in the previous year. The absence of recreation grounds is one of the disadvantages of college life in Calcutta, but when one is provided, the students do not always make good use of it. The Presidency College, for instance, has the use of a ground on the Maidan, but the Director reports: "A few enthusiasts represent the college in league matches. Practically no one plays cricket, football or hockey except those who constitute the college team." Thirty-four, however, of the students in the Presidency College, or 1 in every 30, joined the Indian Defence Force.

In view of the growing pressure in Calcutta the Governor in Council welcomes the establishment of the Carmichael College at Rangpur and takes this opportunity to express his appreciation of the spirit of the people of that district, who raised 5½ lakhs for the college in addition to large investments in the war loan and in spite of the exigencies created by the war. They were able to start the college without either assistance from Government or an assurance of assistance: and the Governor in Council desires to draw attention of other districts to this spirit of self-help.

Altogether 25,265 students were reading in the different colleges, including 191 ladies. Nearly one-third of the total number were Brahmans, while under one-tenth were Muhammadans.

3. Secondary education of Indian boys.—The increasing demand for secondary education and the unpopularity of schools in which the vernacular is the only medium of instruction are exemplified by the fact that there was an addition of 59 high and middle English schools, while the middle vernacular schools decreased by 35. The Director is of opinion that schools of the class last mentioned seem doomed to die out: the number of pupils in them is now only 18,587, or 4½ per cent. of the total attendance at secondary schools. On the other hand, during the last three years the number of high schools has advanced by 143 and in the year under review aggregated 731, the attendance at them being over 226,000. Altogether 21 schools conducted manual classes: the scheme is still in an experimental stage, but a satisfactory feature is the general keenness with which boys have taken to the work.

4. Primary education of Indian boys.—In his review of the progress of education in India for 1912—17, Mr. Sharp remarked: "The central and most unsatisfactory feature of primary education is the fact that the great majority of the children are in the lower primary classes and nearly half in the most rudimentary stage." This remark applies to Bengal as well as other provinces. The total number returned as attending boys' primary schools on 31st March 1918 was nearly 1,183,000, but all but 157,000 were reading in lower primary schools and 900,000 were in infants' classes. There was an increase in the attendance at lower primary schools by 26,000, but the number in upper primary schools fell by 3,000. The steady decrease of the latter schools during late years is attributed mainly to the unpopularity of a purely vernacular education in Bengal; in support of this explanation may be mentioned the fact that the pupils in the primary classes of secondary schools outnumber those attending upper primary schools. The growth in the number of pupils in lower primary schools was shared in by all parts of the Presidency except the Burdwan Division, where a slight decrease occurred, which is attributed to high prices and the straitened circumstances of the agricultural classes. The number of Hindu pupils in schools of both the upper and lower class fell by 1,000 and that of Muhammadans rose by 24,000. The Muhammadans under instruction outnumbered the Hindus by 35,000.

5. The training of teachers for Indian schools.—The David Hare Training College, Calcutta, and the Dacca Training College continued to do useful work in the training of English teachers for secondary schools. The students under training included not only teachers of Government and aided schools but also inspecting officers and outside candidates: the Dacca Training College had also on its rolls three officers who had been deputed for a course of training by His Exalted Highness the Nizam of Hyderabad. For the training of vernacular teachers for secondary schools and guru-training schools there were five Government training schools (one in each of the five divisions), and one aided training school maintained by the Church Missionary Society at Krishnagar. The total number of guru-training schools was 119, of which 114 were managed by Government, 4 were aided institutions and 1 was unaided. Six of these schools were reserved for the training of muallims. The present facilities for training teachers of primary schools are recognized to be entirely inadequate, and a comprehensive scheme has been prepared in order to improve the quality and increase the supply of trained teachers.

6. Professional and technical education.—The demand for men trained in mechanical, electrical and mining engineering, due to the industrial development of the country during the war, led to a large increase in the number studying those courses at the Sibpur College, while there was a falling off in the number of candidates for admission to the civil engineering classes: there were not even enough to form a first year sub-overseer class. Not only are the mining, mechanical and electrical engineering classes more popular, but they are reported to attract students of a better type and greater promise. A scheme for linking up the apprenticeship system of railway and other workshops with the mechanical and engineering classes has been prepared and is now under consideration. Applications for admission to the Government Weaving Institute at Serampore continued to be largely in excess of the accommodation, and there was an improvement in the qualifications of the candidates. There were five weaving schools at outlying centres, and a scheme of peripatetic instruction has been started to supplement the work done at them. The popularity of the Government Commercial Institute in Calcutta, where the number of students fell to 116 in 1915-16, appears to have revived, 64 pupils joining the day classes and 207 the evening classes. Law continued to be as popular as ever, the attendance in law colleges and classes rising to 3,054, or approximately one-seventh of the number studying in arts and science in arts colleges.

7. Education of Indian girls and women.—The steady though slow expansion of female education continued, the number of public institutions rising to 10,189 and the number of girls under instruction to nearly 300,000. The actual increase in the latter was 14,000, of which the Muhammadans contributed 10,000 and the Hindus 4,000. There is now one Muhammadan girl to every five Muhammadan boys at school, and the Muhammadan girls receiving education are nearly as numerous as those of the Hindu community.

The great majority of the girls and women are in the primary stage of education, and there are numerous types of schools at which elementary education is given, such as model primary schools, urban schools, panchayati union schools, peasant schools and home schools conducted by elderly zenana ladies in their own homes. In addition to this, zenana education is given by zenana teachers specially engaged for the purpose. It is interesting to observe that a scheme which aimed at giving secondary education on lines different from those followed in boys' schools was introduced on an experimental basis for three selected schools under mission management but proved popular in only one school. Needlework is said by the Director to have received "a great impetus" in Eastern Bengal owing to the popularity of the Lady Carmichael diploma examination.

The chief needs at present are the provision of adequate rates of pay for teachers, facilities for training them, the strengthening of the female inspecting agency and the improvement of the schools themselves. The majority of the girls' primary schools are inefficient and badly housed, while local bodies, with inelastic incomes and growing demands on their resources, have not the means to make them efficient or to provide proper accommodation. Many schools are unable to maintain whole-time teachers; in others the salaries of teachers are so inadequate that the profession offers little attraction. Trained female teachers are necessary to replace the old and often inefficient pandits employed in girls' schools. Few teachers, however, will undergo training unless they are assured of an adequate pay; as in the case of male teachers, improvement in teaching capacity cannot be effected till a premium is put on the services of those who are trained. Schemes for the establishment of training classes have been prepared, but want of funds has hitherto precluded their execution, and the same difficulty has prevented the introduction of other reforms. With the help, however, of the 9 lakhs grant given by the Government of India, the pay of whole-time teachers in girls' primary schools, aided by the District Boards, has been increased by Re. 1 a month, and a considerate portion of the subvention of 5½ lakhs recently given by that Government is to be devoted to the advancement of female education. This subvention enables the Government of Bengal to increase the pay of teachers in girls' schools in Municipal areas by Rs. 2 a month and in District Board areas by another rupee a month, to establish each year two model primary schools with quarters for female teachers and 30 panchayati union schools, to add to the female inspecting agency, and to establish in Calcutta, on an experimental basis, a school for training Moslem women teachers.
